

LIVELY FIGHT AT LAST SESSION OF THE HOUSE ON EMPLOYES' SALARIES

Pay of Many Clerks and Telephone Girls Given Increase.

Large Diamond Ring Presented to Speaker Flowers By House.

Agreement on Appropriations Removes Danger of Extra Session.

By a Staff Correspondent.
St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Living up to its reputation for turmoil and disorder, the house of representatives, which met today to exchange kind words and adopt resolutions of thanks, became embroiled in a lively fight over proposals to increase salaries of various employees, and turned the clock back one hour in order to evade the Constitution, which prescribes that adjournment shall be taken at noon.

After increasing the pay of telephone girls, engrossing clerks, the assistants of the chief clerk and others, the house became deadlocked over subsequent resolutions for increases and finally the matter was closed, after Representative Carmichael arose and said:

"If the house will assume its usual decorum and dignity, which has become so widely known throughout the nation, we will proceed with a few matters which, I believe, cannot call for discussion."

Diamond Ring to Speaker.
Representative Gilling then presented, on behalf of the house, a large diamond ring to Speaker Flowers, who in a brief speech thanked the house for the honor and said that he had been treated, and added:

"I especially wish to extend thanks to Mr. Gordon and his friends who have been so loyal to me throughout the session and who have supported me in the speakership contest. There has been no thread of bitterness on the part of the Gordon men nor on the part of myself during the entire session. I believe this will go down in history as the most characteristic in the state's history. We have passed several good laws, repealing a few bad ones and sounded the death knell of bills which did not appear promising."

The senate adjourned sine die at 1:10 p. m., and the house adjourned ten minutes later.

Governor Addresses House.
Governor Hammond appeared in the house shortly after 1 p. m. and addressed the members briefly, saying: "I cannot say that I regret the 1915 session is rapidly drawing to a close. We all need a rest from the trying and exacting work of the past few weeks."

"Personally, I regret to see the members of this legislature depart from our city."

"During my present term of office I shall not be able to unite and work with you again until the next session, which is an extra session, no indication of which is apparent at this time, however."

"There is no doubt that all of us have performed the best of our abilities. While there have been divergent views on various matters, we have all stood for the legislation which would improve conditions in this great state."

"It has been a long, weary journey for most of you through this trying session."

"I shall extend to you the same wish the Hon. Champ Clark has often extended under similar circumstances: 'Peace, prosperity and length of days.'"

After eulogizing former Governor Gilman, who previously had expressed the belief that he would not have the pleasure of seeing another legislature because of his advanced age, Governor Hammond concluded amid an outburst of applause.

Education Bill Agreed To.
All danger of an extra session over the appropriation bills vanished early last evening when the house, 41-41, voted down a motion to refuse to take up the education bill.

GERMAN EMBASSY MAKES INQUIRY
Asks State Department as to Disposition of Mueller Case.

Washington, April 22.—The German embassy has inquired of the state department what disposition has been made of the case of Dr. Wilhelm Mueller, German consul at Seattle, Wash., for whom a warrant for arrest was issued by the state authorities some time ago on a charge that he had conspired to obtain information through an employee of the Seattle Dry Dock & Construction company showing that the company was building submarines and shipping them in sections to Canada for use by Great Britain.

The embassy protested at the time that the consul was innocent and that he was being held in custody without any evidence. It was reported that the local authorities had decided to drop the case. The German embassy, however, has never been officially informed of the outcome.

MISSING GIRL DIED AFTER AN OPERATION.
Muskegon, Mich., April 22.—Admission that her 13-year-old step-daughter, Evelyn Steele, whose nude body was found in an alley in rear of her home this morning, died at 9 o'clock yesterday morning while she was attempting to perform a criminal operation upon her, was made at noon today by Mrs. Albert Steele, according to Coroner James F. Balbieri.

The coroner announced that Mrs. Steele confessed after she had been questioned for nearly an hour.

FOR DIRECT LEGISLATION

Initiative and Referendum to Be Submitted to Popular Vote.

Interim Commission to Study Efficiency and Economy Provided.

By a Staff Correspondent.
St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The people of Minnesota will have another chance to adopt the initiative and referendum as a part of the state Constitution if they wish.

The initiative and referendum constitutional amendment was submitted to the voters at the last election, but the voters failed to ratify it, though it had the first place on the constitutional amendment ballot. The bill as it was introduced this time made the same provision, but the senate struck it out, so that next time the amendment will have to take its regular order on the ballot, which will place it fourth or fifth.

There was no controversy over the adoption of the report of the conference committee, and the bill repeated with branches without serious opposition.

A cut in the state tax for general revenue purposes from 2.3 mills to 1.4 mills is made in the tax levy bill.

HEARING ON RAIL AND LAKE RATES
Commerce Commission Will Consider Proposed Advances June 16.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.
Washington, April 22.—Announcement was made by the interstate commerce commission today that a hearing would be held at Chicago June 16 on the proposed increases in rail and lake rates between the seaboard and Duluth and Superior and other lake ports.

This inquiry is part of the original 5 per cent case. In this decision granting increases on all rail between New York and Chicago, the commission refused to permit the carriers to put in advance rates on lakes and rail traffic. Subsequently the carriers filed specific schedules embodying the increases. These the commission suspended pending an investigation as to their reasonableness. Following the submission of evidence there will be arguments and it is probable that there will be no decision until next fall.

NOT ON PLEASURE CARS.
Wheelage Tax Cannot Be Collected By Illinois Cities, Says Court.

Springfield, Ill., April 22.—Right of cities to collect a wheel tax on automobiles and other vehicles used solely for pleasure, was denied today by the supreme court.

It was held that the annual license fee which automobile owners pay the state is a tax and that double taxation would exist should they be required to pay a municipal tax.

In Chicago, alone, it is estimated that the yearly tax has been because of the decision will reach nearly half a million dollars.

Old Generals Retired.
Paris, April 22.—Twenty-nine more French generals have been placed either on the reserve or retired lists to make way for younger or more active men. The official journal contains names of 11 generals of division and 18 generals of brigade who have been relieved from active service.

TENACIOUS FIGHTING IS CENTERED AROUND HILL 60, NEAR YPRES

Ground Taken By British Troops in Assault Last Saturday.

Counter-Attack After Counter-Attack By Germans Repulsed.

Teutons Still Disputing British Hold and End Is Not Yet.

London, April 22.—Hill No. 60, dominating an area to the southeast of Ypres, continues to be the storm center of the western front, with the British clinging tenaciously to the ground taken by assault last Saturday. Counter-attack after counter-attack has been so far successfully repulsed, but the British hold is still disputed by the Germans, and the end of the day is not yet in sight. The British losses have not been announced, but they are estimated as well over 2,000. The Germans are believed to have lost more than 4,000 men.

Floods Impede Activity.
The French drive in the direction of St. Mihiel is about the only other significant move in the west. The condition of the ground, east and west, is now being directly reflected in the local operations. The situation along the entire eastern front is for the moment apparently at a standstill, floods having impeded military activity in the Carpathians to a large extent, while movements in Poland are being hampered by the weather. The ground will become heavier daily, a condition which should cause increased activity on each side.

Largely Local Matter.
The British press concedes that the taking of Hill No. 60 is largely a local matter, but it considers this engagement an important step forward and a great relief to the town of Ypres, so long under bombardment. The Germans, in possession of this hill, were not only above the town, but they threatened the British lines in the vicinity of St. Eloi. The taking (Continued on page 10, first column.)

DECISION IN THAW CASE IS POSTPONED
Judge Not Ready to Report on Question of Trial By Jury.

New York, April 22.—The question as to whether Harry K. Thaw is entitled to have a jury determine his sanity, remained undecided today by the mind of Supreme Court Justice Hendrick. When attorneys for Thaw and the state of New York appeared in court to hear his decision, Justice Hendrick announced that he had not yet had time to complete his study of the writ of habeas corpus, were adjourned until that time.

HARMONIZING THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

ALL GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN SUBJECTS IN SWITZERLAND RECALLED BY GOVERNMENT.
Geneva, April 22, via Paris, 2:45 p. m.—All German and Austrian subjects in Switzerland, even those who never did military service, were recalled yesterday by their respective governments. News reaching Lugano this morning that the Italian government had stopped the train-Atlantic service with the United States, passengers who had been chased tickets have had their money returned to them. The Italian government, the report says, needs all the steamships.

GERMAN AND ALLIED SHIPS IN NORTH SEA

Copenhagen Hears Reports of German Warships Nearby.

British Submarines Reported By Germans in Helgoland Bay.

Copenhagen, April 22, via London.—The presence of an Anglo-French squadron in the waters to the north of Stavanger, Norway, is reported by vessels coming into Copenhagen. A Norwegian coast steamer from these waters says she was stopped and inspected by a British warship.

Reports continue to be received here of the presence of German warships in the North sea.

British Submarines Seen.
Berlin, April 22, via London.—The German admiralty today gave out a statement saying that in a certain German bay in the North sea British submarines have been repeatedly observed recently, and attacked by German forces. Such a hostile submarine was sent to the bottom April 17, and the destruction of other such vessels is considered probable.

The admiralty statement specifies Helgoland bay as the scene of the appearance of the British submarines. This bay lies between the mainland and the island of Helgoland, one of the most important German naval stations.

AMERICAN TENDERS MUST BE SENT BACK
Men Sent to England With Horses Cannot Be Left There.

London, April 22.—The board of trade has taken vigorous steps to prevent the abandonment in England by steamship companies of American mulleters and horse tenders who are coming over now in large numbers with shipments of army horses.

During the early months of the war hundreds of Americans who crossed on the horse boats were left stranded in England by the steamship lines, which advanced various debatable reasons for not returning the men to America. R. P. Skinner, American consul general in London, held the matter before the board of trade a month ago. The consulate was at once advised to refer all stranded horse and mule tenders to the board, with the result that all such Americans are being cared for. Furthermore, Mr. Skinner has been instructed to provide return passages to America, regardless of alleged contracts and other mooted questions.

Postpones Negotiations.
Peking, April 22.—Japan again postponed today completion of the negotiations with China. It is understood that the negotiations are being held in secret at Tokyo by the Japanese government as to its policy, which is being discussed by the cabinet and the elder statesmen.

COMPROMISE EXPECTED TO AVOID BIG STRIKE.
London, April 22.—A compromise in the dispute between English millers and their employees, eliminating the danger of a strike, is expected as a result of a national conference of nine owners and millers here today. The men demand a wage increase of 20 per cent. The owners offer a 10 per cent raise.

GERMANY KEEPING WATCH ON TRAFFIC.
Stockholm, April 22, via London.—A Dutch steamer, today stopped at the Gulf of Bothnia and examined her papers and cargo.

From this incident the deduction is made here that Germany in this manner intends to keep a close watch on the traffic between Sweden and Finland.

GERMAN PRIZE RULES FOR NAVY AMENDED Designed as Reprisal for Recent Decision Made By England.

Berlin, via London, April 22.—Amendments to the prize rules governing the operations of the German navy, signed by Emperor William and Admiral von Tirpitz, published in the Reichs Anzeiger, were designed as a reprisal for the decision made by England and her allies contravening the Declaration of London of Feb. 25, 1909.

Under the new order, field glasses, nautical instruments, pig lead, aeroplanes, coal and coke are made absolutely contraband. Several other commodities are added to the list of conditional contraband, including rubber, iron and several other ores.

The regulation prescribes that these articles shall be assumed contraband unless the ship can prove that they are destined for the enemy if consigned to order or to the ship's papers, or a person in the enemy's territory. In such a case it is provided that a ship shall be liable to capture even if bound for a neutral port.

The order directs also that conditions of contraband may be considered for a neutral country from which the articles of the kind in question.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The German admiralty announced today that a British submarine was sunk five days ago in Helgoland bay, which lies between the mainland and the island of Helgoland, one of the most important German naval stations. It is said British submarines have been observed and attacked repeatedly in this bay and that others probably have been destroyed.

In Petrograd it is asserted that attacks of Austrian forces on the Russians, who invaded Northern Hungary, have failed in some sections, being routed with large losses.

In France and Belgium yesterday there was a continuance of minor operations. Small successes are claimed by the Germans.

A Geneva dispatch says Austrian and German subjects in Switzerland have been recalled by their governments.

It is also reported that the Italian government has requisitioned all Italian vessels engaged in trade with the United States.

The deadlock in the negotiations between Austria and Italy has been broken and hopes of a settlement of the question of peace without resort to arms have been revived in Rome. It is not known by whom the change, those closely concerned what change has taken place to relieve the apparently hopeless situation, but Rome assumes that either Austria or Italy has made some concession. Italy has been represented previously as demanding

COUNSEL VINS BEGINS CROSS-EXAMINATION OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT

NEW PICTURE OF POLITICAL LEADER SING ROOSEVELT

WILLIAM BARNES.

FORECAST IS PESSIMISTIC
Italian Senator Says Italy and Austria Will Never Agree.

Quotes Prince Von Buelow as Authority for Statement.

Rome, April 22.—The Messaggero publishes an interview with Senator Riccardo Carafa, which gives a pessimistic forecast of the outcome of the negotiations between Italy and Austria.

The newspaper says the senator, who is a frequent caller at the house of Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Rome, makes the statement that he heard from the prince "a confession" which was substantially as follows:

"Unfortunately, the Italian-Austrian conversations are not proceeding satisfactorily. Their failure will be followed by a rupture between Rome and Vienna. This will be regretted in Germany. I am sorry to affirm that this and eventually Germany will do her duty to the end by the side of Austria."

Continuing, Senator Carafa declares that he repeated his conversation to Premier Salandra, who did not seem surprised at it. On the contrary, he said to the senator:

"Impelled by the paramount interests of our country we will proceed with our duty against all our wishes, as follows:

Italian government says that Senator Carafa asked for an interview with Premier Salandra, saying that he wished to present to the prime minister a memorandum to the foreign ministry which "perhaps appeared to the senator more important than it really was."

Premier Salandra, the statement continues, simply transcribed and submitted the memorandum to the foreign ministry. That department out of pure courtesy entertained Senator Carafa for a few minutes' conversation without making any statement.

Senator Carafa, the government communication concludes, would have acted more correctly and more patriotically if he had maintained a complete reserve regarding a conversation on such a sensitive subject requested him in consideration of his position."

A strong Turkish army is preparing to offer resistance to the land forces with which the allies expect to attack the Dardanelles fortifications from the rear. An Athen dispatch says the Turks have entrenched themselves strongly along the coast of the Gulf of Saros. It is in this vicinity, according to unofficial advices yesterday, that 20,000 British and French troops have landed. Turkish encampments along the coast are being bombarded by warships of the allies.

The determination of the German offensive and the high cost to the allies of an advance are shown again in the fighting near Ypres, as when the British took Neuve Chapelle last month. Since the capture of Hill No. 60 by the British the Germans have made one attack after another in the attempt to regain this important strategic position. The losses on both sides are believed to run into the thousands. So far as has been disclosed the British have succeeded in retaining the hill.

Petrograd reports that during the last fortnight there has been arduous fighting in Northern Russian Poland, near the East Prussian frontier. The Russians are said to have won the advantage. The check to the Russian advance is, however, a complete one. It is assumed that either Austria or Italy has made some concession. Italy has been represented previously as demanding Admits He Was Not Eligible for Governor Under the Constitution.

Colonel's Counsel Makes No Objections to Line of Questioning.

Former President Finishes His Direct Testimony in Forenoon.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 22.—During the first part of his cross-examination of Theodore Roosevelt today, William Ivins, chief counsel for William Barnes, brought from the former president the statement that he knew the Constitution of the state of New York provided that no man is eligible to the office of governor unless he has been a resident of the state for five years prior to the date of his election and that he had made an affidavit the year previous to his own election that he was and for some time had been a resident of Washington.

Col. Roosevelt's counsel made no objection whatever to the line of questioning, which resulted in these statements.

Loeb on Hand.
William Loeb, Jr., private secretary to Col. Roosevelt when he was president and later collector of the port of New York, was an early arrival at the courthouse today. Mr. Loeb is under subpoena and it was considered probable that he would be the next witness for the defense after the cross-examination of Col. Roosevelt concluded.

Delay in Opening.
There was some delay in opening court today because of a conference between attorneys and Justice Andrews in the latter's chambers. When the conference was over court was opened. A copy of the report of the committee, which investigated Albany county affairs, in so far as it related to printing, was admitted to the record. This had to do with contracts for state printing let to the Albany Journal, Mr. James C. Barnes, and other concerns, and the assignment of certain of these contracts.

Excerpts from the report were then read. The first part had to do with the payment of money to various officials for doing various things. The report of the committee was made in 1911.

The majority of the stock of the Journal company, the report pointed out, was owned by William Barnes, and contracts let to the Journal company were turned out to the Argus.

NOTHING FOR SOMETHING

Some Win But Many Are "Stung" at Express Company Sale.

One Man Draws Hair Dye and Another Some Strychnine.

One person paid 98 cents for a package that looked as if it might contain silverware or jewelry. When he opened it his face eloquently pictured his chagrin—the package was filled with old paper ice cream pails, that retail for about a dime a dozen.

Where was this, and what were you all doing?

Well, there was a sale on today on First street of unopened packages left at a certain express company. You know they have one of these blind auction sales each year; you go there and look with gazing mouths and high expectations at the eloquent auctioneers, and when they hold up a package and say, mysterious like, "Now what in the world is in this here package?" why, you say to yourself, there might be some jewelry, and the price, why only a dollar, why I guess I'll buy.

One fellow was a red, outdoor face and working clothes, paid a buck, that's a dollar, for weather-beaten suitcase. He worked himself loose from the crowd that was jammed around the auctioneer's stand, and hurried to the front of the hall. He was just crazy to unlock that suitcase and discover its contents.

All of us are curious, so a bunch of idle onlookers followed the guy with the suitcase and waited with bated breath while he fished the key in the rusty lock and then opened the suitcase.

It contained painter's overalls, all covered with paint, and a painter's cap, generously daubed.

Another person paid something like 60 cents for a package and upon opening it found it contained a bottle of strychnine. Whichever disappointed individual took the strychnine is not known at this time and going to press.

Dried Hair.—One man bid with feverish energy for a package, secured it after much competition, and then discovered that it contained hair dye that had been dried up. But, you know, you must take chances in this life.

One man purchased a pair of trousers for 50 cents and then discovered a razor in one of the pockets. Cut-price—ouch!

Another eager purchaser hauled down a dress suit case. Dress suit cases, it would seem, are one of the favorite articles of leaving in the custody of an express company. He opened it quickly, with the vivid gleam of anticipation in his eye. It was filled with old and worn clothes. But you can't always win.

There must have been more than a hundred persons in the First street store building when the auction sale was going on. A little old lady, with a funny, little, old hat stuck on the back of her gray hair, dithered in and out on the outskirts of the crowd, like a bird. Maybe she came to pass the morning; no one observed her bidding, but she took a fervid interest in everything put up and every purchaser.

There were three auctioneers and assistants to take the money. Everything from worn oyster forks to a bicycle was sold. Most of the bids ranged from 25 cents to $4.50. It was a game something like play-stud poker; you saw the outside package and wondered what the kicker was.

Most of the purchases were "unguns." One chap got a set of oyster forks for 5 cents. He figured that he was on. He said they would go great for birthday presents and anniversary gifts. Frustrated chap, this.

But the lady who bought the dress suit cases with the old clothes, and the guy who was soaked with the old paper ice cream pails, and the fellow who bought the hair dye that had dried, and the purchaser who fell for the strychnine, and the one who bought a package bound up with gilt strings and found it contained some fudge, faint and moulding signs of sentiment, no doubt—and the fellow who bought a package for a husband and upon opening it found that it contained ancient and Christian literature for the woodsman—these must have lost their enthusiasm for auction sales.

But you can't win all the time—and besides, the express companies say they don't do the business they used to.

REGALL CASE IS DROPPED

No Evidence to Warrant Conviction in Switchman's Case.

Joseph Regall, 726 Tenth avenue east, Northern Pacific switchman, who was indicted by the January grand jury jointly with Zigmund Zalk and George K. Robertson on a charge of complicity in the theft of $3,000 worth of copper anodes from a Northern Pacific box car on Nov. 3, 1914, will not be obliged to stand trial.

In district court yesterday afternoon Judge Cent, on the motion of County Attorney Warren E. Greene, dismissed the case as to Regall, who was alleged to have assisted Robertson, another switchman, in "spotting" a car at the yards of the Duluth Iron & Metal company for Zigmund Zalk, who confessed that he unloaded a quantity of copper.

The motion for dismissal was urged on the ground that the evidence obtainable was insufficient to warrant a conviction. The county attorney took this view of the matter because of the fact that Robertson was acquitted after two trials. The first jury disagreed. The second reported a verdict of "not guilty."

No disposition has yet been made by the county attorney's office as to the case against Zigmund Zalk, who confessed the theft, turned state's evidence against Robertson and told a story implicating both switchmen.

Zalk was in the employ of the metal company as a foreman.

Protests against the Commonwealth avenue pavement have been withdrawn, and the improvement will be made, just as soon as bids are received and a contract awarded.

Several weeks ago a number of Gary property owners filed a petition protesting against the paving of Commonwealth avenue to the full width of the street. The improvement had been ordered in January, but final action could not be taken by the old council because of this petition.

However, since that time the larger property owners, who are in favor of the fifty-six-foot pavement, conducted an active campaign among all the other owners and the result is that those who signed the protest, are now in favor of the improvement and the petition will be withdrawn.

The fifty-six-foot roadway will start from the Spirit Lake Transfer company's tracks where the two-mile stretch built last year terminates, and will be about six blocks in length, going to the other end of the suburb. It is planned to pave the street with concrete to a width of eighteen feet on each side leaving twenty feet in the center for the street car tracks. The curbs will be built high enough so the bricks can be laid on top of the concrete at any future time.

Commissioner Farrell proposes to advertise for bids at once, so that actual work will begin during the first part of next month.

POLICE ASKED TO KEEP EYE ON JITNEYS

Silberstein Takes Opportunity of Issuing Order at Police Meeting.

"Watch these jitneys," was the request made of policemen by Commissioner of Public Safety Silberstein yesterday afternoon. Policemen were assembled at headquarters to organize the new Duluth Police Relief Pension association, and Commissioner Silberstein took advantage of the opportunity to talk to all the officers of the law.

"While automobile owners and drivers have privileges," said the new safety department head, "the average citizen must be protected and I am told that there have been many examples of law violation and careless driving since the jitneys have come into general use."

Previous to Commissioner Silberstein's short talk, police effected a reorganization of the pension relief association to conform to the police pension law recently enacted by the state legislature.

Up to this time police pensions had included no provisions for widows and orphans. The bill passed was drafted by Chief C. H. Troyer and State Senator Charles L. Adams. Membership in the new organization is compulsory, each officer giving 1 per cent of his salary to the fund.

Chief Troyer was elected president.

Lieut. C. E. Wilcox of the West Duluth station was chosen vice president and Sergeant David Butchart was re-elected director for a five-year term. Gustav Lahti, superintendent of the police bureau of identification, is secretary of the new organization.

Most of the purchases were "unguns." One chap got a set of oyster forks for 5 cents. He figured that he was on. He said they would go great for birthday presents and anniversary gifts. Frustrated chap, this.

But the lady who bought the dress suit cases with the old clothes, and the guy who was soaked with the old paper ice cream pails, and the fellow who bought the hair dye that had dried, and the purchaser who fell for the strychnine, and the one who bought a package bound up with gilt strings and found it contained some fudge, faint and moulding signs of sentiment, no doubt—and the fellow who bought a package for a husband and upon opening it found that it contained ancient and Christian literature for the woodsman—these must have lost their enthusiasm for auction sales.

But you can't win all the time—and besides, the express companies say they don't do the business they used to.

However, since that time the larger property owners, who are in favor of the fifty-six-foot pavement, conducted an active campaign among all the other owners and the result is that those who signed the protest, are now in favor of the improvement and the petition will be withdrawn.

HORSE FRIGHTENED BY AUTOMOBILE

Driver and Wife Ask Damages From Owner of Car.

Because his horse became frightened at a passing automobile, ran away and dumped him and his wife out of the rig in which they were riding, one day last November, Jalmar Laaksonen has started suit in district court to recover $1,000 damages from Charles Sandboe, owner of the machine.

On Nov. 6 last, the Laaksonens were driving along the Long road. At a point in the road about three miles from Floodwood, Sandboe, driving an automobile, passed them. Laaksonen's horse became frightened and he lost control of the animal. As a result the vehicle in which they were riding upset and spilled the occupants.

Laaksonen claims that he was badly bruised and that two bones in his left arm were broken. He alleges that Sandboe was driving in a careless manner and in such a manner as to frighten his horse.

WATERING PLACES MAY BE ABOLISHED
Abolition of public watering places for horses, to prevent the spreading of disease, may be the result of an investigation now being made by Commissioner Silberstein.

When Robert Dixon, city veterinarian, made his annual report last January, he recommended the abolition of the public watering places in Duluth, for the protection of all the horses. Since taking office Mr. Silberstein has interested himself in this recommendation and he is now making an investigation.

In case the watering places are abolished, Mr. Silberstein plans to install fountains at all these fountains, so that each driver can draw water in a public fountain. These public fountains will be installed throughout the city and will be more widespread than the fountains are at the present time.

According to Dr. Dixon, hundreds of horses suffering from glanders, have contracted disease from fountains. The only way to check the disease, he said, is to abolish public watering places.

OLD RESIDENT CALLED.

Mrs. Caroline Kohagen Dies After Illness of Six Weeks.

Mrs. Caroline Kohagen died at 3 o'clock this morning at her home, 632 East Third street. She had been ill about six weeks, and was 62 years of age.

In 1880 Mrs. Kohagen, with her husband, who has been dead a number of years, came to Duluth. Since that time she has made her home here, and several members of the family are well known in the city.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. E. A. Schulze and Miss Dorothy; three sons, H. P. E. and Dr. J. E. Kohagen, all of whom live in Duluth. Her brother, Fred Granzow, is first assistant chief of the Duluth fire department. In addition to Mr. Granzow there is another brother, Emanuel Granzow of Prairie du Chien, Wis.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

SPRING MEDICINE
Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Great Blood Purifier, is the Best.

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, desiccated blood.

It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption. The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old reliable family medicine purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood. It is an all-the-year-round alterative and tonic, and is absolutely the best Spring medicine.

Get your blood in good condition at once—now. Delay may be dangerous. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, and insist on having it, for nothing else can take its place.

Abolished, Mr. Silberstein plans to install fountains at all these fountains, so that each driver can draw water in a public fountain. These public fountains will be installed throughout the city and will be more widespread than the fountains are at the present time.

AWAKENING OF CHINESE

President Talks of Great Future of the Celestial Republic.

Executive Delivers Address Before Presbyterians in Washington.

Washington, April 22.—President Wilson in an address at a meeting here last night of the Presbyterians of the Presbyterian church, pictured a vision of China awakened by the voice of Christ and furnishing a great momentum in future to the moral forces of the world. He declared that as soon as the unity of China was realized, its power would come in the world.

"Shall we not see that the parts are sanctified by the teachings of Christ?" he asked.

The president's address was devoted largely to incidents of his boyhood. When he said his father, a Presbyterian clergyman, he said:

"He had the risky habit of saying 'exactly what he thought,' said the president, 'a habit which I in part inherited, and of which I have had diligently to cure myself.'

"But he was the best instructor, the most inspiring companion, I venture to say, a youngster ever had, and in facing a southern proselytizer, I cannot think of myself as the president of the United States, I can only think of myself as the son of Joseph R. Wilson and I only wish I could claim some of the vital connection with the church which he could claim. Because these who stand outside of the active ministrations of the church so to say, get an illegitimate usury from it. We do not seem to add a great deal to the world."

BRITAIN HAS 750,000 SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

Place of Every Fallen Man Filled and Army Adequately Equipped.

London, April 22.—The British expeditionary force in France, which, at the beginning of the war consisted of 15 divisions, has been increased to more than thirty-six divisions, or roughly speaking, 750,000 men, according to a statement made by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons yesterday afternoon. The chancellor added that the place of every man who had fallen in battle had been filled and that the army was adequately equipped. But he reiterated the need for a greater supply of munitions, declaring that during the battle of Neuve Chapelle more ammunition was used than in the whole of the South African war, which lasted nearly three years.

The interesting information also was given that output of the ammunition factories had been increased more than nineteen-fold since the outbreak of the war, but the call was still for more, and, as Mr. Lloyd George continues to hold the opinion that consumption of liquor is interfering with the work, he promised legislation to deal with this matter.

The figures made public by the chancellor as to the size of the British army in France and the expenditure of ammunition has caused great surprise in England, where the opinion has been general that about half that number of men had reached the front, especially as there has been no sign of any decrease in the number of men training in this country.

It is likely that many of the new men have already been under fire, as the Germans are making repeated attempts to recapture hill positions near Ypres, which the British took on Sunday and have, according to Field Marshal French's report, been repulsed with great loss.

One Lost Life.

Douglas, Ill. April 22.—The police announced last night that W. E. Gorman, a structural engineer, probably lost his life in the fire which destroyed the Decker and Arcadia hotels early Wednesday morning. All others have been accounted for.

Duluth Industrial Plants Participate in Business Improvement.

National Iron Company Shows Great Activity in Structural Work.

Duluth's industrial plants are beginning to participate in a marked degree in the general business betterment reported through the country. With the high prices prevailing for wheat and other grains, the promise for business over the Northwest is regarded as the best in years, and that is leading to a better inquiry for various articles manufactured at the head of the Lakes. Marked gains are reported in building operations at points in this territory, and shipments of materials and supplies are being sent out freely.

"We are especially busy in our structural department, with a number of good contracts in hand," said H. R. Armstrong, secretary of the National Iron company. His plant, he averred, has just completed the building of a large concentrator and other machinery for shipment to the La Ruc Mining company at Newburg, Minn.

The Mesabi Iron & Manufacturing company advised that its plant has employed a good force during the last six weeks in refitting the steamers in the harbor for the opening of navigation. The volume of general work in hand at its establishment is now fully normal, and some large boiler and machinery jobs for shipment to outside points are being figured upon.

URGENT OPENING OF PAY STATIONS

Oneota and Hazelwood Club Will Ask Improvement in Near Future.

The water and light department as well as the Duluth Edison Electric company will be asked to establish a pay station at the intersection of West and Third street, according to action taken last evening by the Oneota and Hazelwood club at its meeting at the Merritt school. Residents of the district believe that such a station should be established in the district, as the place may be within a few minutes of the district.

The nearest stations to this district are on Central avenue in West Duluth, and in the business district of the West end. In order to get to the pay station, it is necessary to make an additional expense to the users of water, gas and light when passing the district.

An invitation was extended to Commissioner J. A. Farrell to attend a meeting of the club to be held on May 5. It is proposed at that time to present a petition to the city fathers for the establishment of a pay station in the district. The club also recommended that Charles Norman, present street foreman in the district, be retained by the city.

WEST END CLEAN-UP UNDER WAY

Corps of Workers From Schools Well Supplied

Prizes for Boys and Girls; Entertainment for Workers Being Planned.

The campaign for the clean-up of the West end has begun. Today the different captains in charge of their respective school districts will be each supplied with a dozen rakes in order that the campaign may be well carried out. The rakes were purchased yesterday by the committee of the West End Commercial club with money contributed by the merchants of this end of the city.

L. A. Simonsen, chairman of the committee, accompanied by K. A. Franklin and A. B. Smith, found ready support yesterday from the merchants who contributed liberally to the campaign, and as a result sufficient money was subscribed in a few minutes to purchase five dozen which were distributed to the various districts this morning.

There will be cash prizes given to each of the schools, and in addition to that there will be prizes given to individuals taking part in the campaign. The prizes in charge as well as their assistants will all strive to win these prizes.

Mr. Simonsen announced yesterday afternoon that a special prize had been decided on for the best school district in bringing every school boy and girl into active work making flower beds and beautifying the West end. At the close of the campaign, in addition to the awarding of prizes, the merchants of the West end have under consideration an entertainment for the business men during the next month.

URGENT HOUSEWIVES TO REMEMBER POOR

Old Clothing and Furniture Can Be Used By Associated Charities.

Duluth housewives, who are now engaged with their spring cleaning, are being appealed to by the Associated Charities to remember that the society is always in the market for cast-off clothing, old furniture and in fact, anything that can be put to a good use in the homes of Duluth's poor. According to Miss Edna G. Meeker, secretary of the society, the Associated Charities are in need of assistance in the way of clothing and furniture.

WAGES INCREASED AND HOURS OF WORK LESS.

Detroit, April 22.—Announcement of a sweeping advance in wages and reduction of working hours for all employees of the Ford Motor company, Ltd., of Canada, was made here by G. M. McGraw, general manager of the corporation. All employees who have been in the service of the company six months or longer are to receive a minimum wage of 50 cents an hour or $4 a day, the working hours being reduced to eight hours a day or forty-eight hours a week.

The parent Ford company in Detroit pays a minimum wage of $5 a day, based on a profit distribution system.

New Jersey to Vote on Suffrage.

Trenton, N. J., April 22.—Governor Fielder yesterday signed the bill providing for a special election on Oct. 13 for the submission of the proposed woman suffrage amendment to the voters of the state.

For Sunday School Pupils.

Officers and teachers of the Sunday school of the Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will entertain tomorrow for the ladies' aid society of the church. The social will be held for the infant class and the larger pupils will be entertained at 8 o'clock. It will take the place of a sleighride that had been planned early in the winter but was not held on account of lack of snow.

Revival Meetings.

Revival meetings are being held this week at the Ebenezer Norwegian Lutheran church, Reston and Third streets. The meetings are being conducted by Evangelist E. Postervold. Mr. Postervold arrived in this country from Norway three years ago and has been conducting similar meetings in various parts of the country. The meetings begin at 8 o'clock each evening.

West End Briefs.

Rev. Andrew Anderson of Marinette, Wis., superintendent of the Lake Superior district for Swedish M. E. churches, will conduct the quarterly conference at the Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, this evening.

Mrs. Peter Nelson, 2132 West First street, entertained this afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Norwegian Lutheran church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Peter's Episcopal church entertained last evening at a "net-together" social in the West end. The netting and library program was given.

John and Erick Lundstrom of the West end left yesterday for the River Falls, where they will spend the summer.

Plans for a card party to be held on Monday evening, May 3, were made at the meeting of the Beta council No. 2, at its meeting last evening. The committee in charge of the entertainment consists of Mesdames Grotto, Burns, Martineau and Willigan. Following the meeting the members attended a show at a local theater.

AMBASSADOR GIVEN REPLY

Count Von Bernstorff Re-proved By United States Government.

Had Recently Criticized Neutrality of This Country.

Washington, April 22.—The United States government replied yesterday to the recent memorandum in which Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, declared that "if the American people desire to observe true neutrality, they will find means to stop the exclusive exportation of arms to one side, or at least to use this export trade as a means to uphold the legitimate trade with Germany, especially the trade in foodstuffs."

The American note, which is signed by Secretary Bryan, was drafted at the state department, but was finally penned by President Wilson himself.

After pointing out that the language used by Count Von Bernstorff "is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States in the performance of its duties as a neutral," the note takes it for granted that no such suggestion was intended, and suggests that evidently the German ambassador is laboring under certain false impressions.

Cannot Be Discussed.

It is a delicate matter while the relations of the United States with any one of the belligerents "cannot wisely be made a subject of discussion with a third government, such correspondence between the United States and the allies as has been published shows the steadfast refusal of the government to acknowledge the right of any belligerent to alter the accepted rules of war at sea so far as to affect the rights and interests of neutrals."

The attitude of the United States on the question of exportation of arms is reiterated—namely, that to place any embargo on arms during the prevailing war "would be a direct violation of the neutrality of the United States."

The note refers to the spirit of friendship with the United States since always to manifest toward Germany and its people, and concludes with the declaration that the neutrality of the United States "is founded upon a firm basis of conscience and honor."

The communication was delivered by messenger to Count Von Bernstorff last night, and that, as it was a reply from the American government to a communication made by the German ambassador, no comment was made on the part of the embassy, no comment was made on the part of the embassy, no comment was made on the part of the embassy.

ASK ROYALTIES OF CITY.

Voting Machines Said to Infringe Upon Patent Rights.

Superior may become involved in a lawsuit over its voting machines, according to a letter received by city clerk R. E. McKee, yesterday. The communication is from Frank S. Appleton of Washington, D. C., who claims that the voting machines in use in the city are an infringement on a patent issued in 1912. The letter states that unless the city pays royalties for using the machines, a lawsuit will result. The city clerk says he is unable to account for the letter, as the machines in use were patented several years ago.

SHOES AS EVIDENCE.

Exhibited to Prove Arson Charge Against Verne Jones.

Several pairs of women's shoes were exhibited yesterday as indirect evidence against Verne Jones, who is being tried on a charge of arson. He is alleged to have set fire to the East End station of the Omaha railroad some time ago. The shoes are alleged to have been stolen from the warehouse adjoining the station and to have been found at the Jones home, Jones claims that the shoes were the shoes from some boys. The shoes are claimed to have been a part of a consignment to a local shoe man.

RUTH STILL MISSING.

Police and Searching Parties Unable to Find Missing Watchman.

Although a continuous search has been kept up by police and friends of the family, no trace has yet been found of Oscar Ruth, who disappeared Monday evening. The man is believed to have wandered away while ill. Searching parties scoured the neighborhood of Billings Park and along the route to the steel plant as well as the bay front. Mrs. Ruth is said to be on the verge of collapse as the result of her husband's disappearance.

Max Jager's Body Found.

A body of a man believed to be that of Max Jager, aged 62, was found yesterday afternoon by Louis Sovinski, a laborer, at the Allouez ore docks. The body is believed to have been in the water since late last fall. A paper with Jager's name, dated Nov. 8, was found on the body. It is being held at identification.

BUSY PUTTING IN GARDENS

West Duluth's Amateur "Farmers" Are Plowing and Seeding.

The "back to the farm" movement among West Duluthians will begin in earnest Saturday.

The score of more residents of West Duluth, owners of "farms" at Fond du Lac, will then begin making gardens. A. G. Macaulay, 70 North Fifty-seventh avenue, will start his preliminary work on his "farm" at the suburb that day. He claims to have one of the best strawberry gardens in the city.

Dr. C. H. Keyes, Robert Weddell and other amateur "farmers" of West Duluth are also planning to spend the week end at the suburb. Others who own small plots on Bayview Heights have made arrangements to begin plowing up their gardens.

Some of them have already finished their plowing and are ready to plant.

ALGER-SMITH MILL TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Operations Will Require About 225 Men for the Season.

The Alger-Smith sawmill, at the foot of Polk street, will resume operations for the summer next Wednesday morning. Preparations for starting the mill are nearly complete, and a few men are now at work getting the belting on and doing the preliminary work. The sawmill will employ about 225 men. The mill is one of the largest in the city, and will cut about 200,000 feet of lumber a day.

Logs from the lumber camps are arriving rapidly, and already a large stock is on hand. The quantity arriving daily will guarantee the steady run of the mill, claim officials.

CITY WORKS DUE TO BEGIN

First Street Crews Will Be Put to Work Monday.

Commissioner J. A. Farrell, head of the public works division, announced this morning that improvements on Duluth streets will be begun Monday.

Because of the warm weather the last week, work on new pavements and improvements to the various streets will begin much earlier than usual this year, he said.

Mr. Farrell is now arranging his program for the summer and among the more important jobs will be the paving of Minnesota avenue, from Twelfth to Thirty-eighth streets; Woodland avenue, from Fourth street to K. Street; and Park street, from Twelfth to Fourteenth avenues east; Sixth street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenues east; and Commonwealth avenue, from the Spirit Lake transfer line to the south end of city. In addition, the one-mile stretch of concrete roadway on this side of the pavements completed last year will be finished this coming summer.

In addition to the above pavements, Mr. Farrell plans to have the work left over from 1914, which follows:

First street, grading and paving from Nineteenth avenue west to Thirtieth avenue west; Helm street, grading from Twentieth to Twenty-eighth avenues west; Sixth street, grading and paving from Twentieth to Twenty-fifth avenues west; Michigan avenue, from Twelfth to Eighteenth avenues east; Third avenue east, grading from Seventh to Eighteenth avenues east; grading and paving from Twelfth to Twenty-fifth avenues east.

BEAUTIFYING MORGAN PARK

Crew of Men at Work Sodding Lawns and Planting Trees.

Morgan park will be truly a "model city" when the work now in progress at the park is completed. About eighty men are at work sodding trees, shrubbery, sodding and seeding lawns and in other ways making the place a beauty spot.

The work will take about a month, according to the city officials. Every thoroughfare will be planted with shade trees and every lawn will have its share of shrubbery. The beautifying of the place is part of the program of the city to make the park one of the most desirable places in the city for its employees to live in.

Preliminary work was begun this week by the Butler & Coons company, some of the streets. So far twenty-five men have been put to work at this job. It is expected that before long a crew of about 100 men will be given employment by the contractors.

Men are being slowly put to work at the steel plant. About 275 men have been put to work. Only small numbers are being given jobs at the time. Hundreds are present at the gate each morning.

Gault-Bowman.

Miss Elizabeth Mabel Gault and Sidney Herbert Bowman were married at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson of Twenty-ninth avenue west. Rev. L. Staub, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, officiated.

They were attended by Miss Ida Kindberg and Charles H. Wiener, and left last evening for Brimley, Minn., where they will spend a few days visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman will be at home after May 1 at 606 North Fifty-seventh avenue west.

Held to Grand Jury.

At the hearing held before Judge W. H. Lannan in the West Duluth court this morning, Max Lucky, 31, was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of taking and carrying away a young woman. A plea of not guilty was entered in the assault case preferred by the state. The grand jury is said to have grown out of the indecent assault case and he will be given a hearing on that charge this afternoon.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

OBITUARY

Dr. John M. Faison, former representative in congress from the North Carolina district, was found dead in the bathroom of his home at Faison, N. C., April 21. Members of his family have declined to state the cause of death. The cause of death is being investigated by the local authorities. Mr. Faison had been in the city for some time.

Adele Hugo, youngest daughter of Victor Hugo, died April 21 in Suresne, a suburb of Paris, at the age of 85 years.

Horace J. Hoffman, formerly of Milwaukee, soldier, journalist, poet, inventor and business man, died at Jersey City on April 16, aged 75 years.

PREDICTS BUMPER CROP FOR KANSAS.

Topeka, Kan., April 22.—Another bumper Kansas wheat crop in 1915 was predicted by J. G. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, in a report today. The condition of the 1915 crop he estimated at 92.8 per cent on a total acreage of 8,856,300.

A wheat crop second only to the 181,000,000-bushel yield of last year is indicated, Mr. Mohler asserted. Kansas, he said, should this year produce 155,000,000 bushels.

TWO WAGONS IN COLLISION

Edward Olson Thrown to Pavement and Seriously Injured.

After two months of injury accidents, a horse drawn vehicle came into prominence this noon when Edward Olson, 515 East Seventh street, was badly injured in a collision between two wagons.

While driving a light dray along West Superior street near Third avenue, Olson was thrown to the pavement, and sustained a severe cut on the back of his head. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital in the police emergency.

A dray belonging to the Minneapolis Brewing company and driven by J. A. Olson, 406 West Third street, attempted to pass Olson's.

HORSES NARROWLY ESCAPE CREMATION.

Several horses narrowly escaped cremation in a blaze which caused about $700 damage at 143 Sixty-first avenue east last night. The alarm was turned in at 12:23 o'clock.

The fire started in an icehouse owned by E. E. Baker, grain commission merchant, living at 2231 East Third street, and spread to a large barn near by. The barn is owned by Clifford D. Richards, salesman for the Marshall-Wellis Hardware company, who lives at 143 Sixty-first avenue east.

Assistant Chief Fred Granzow and apparatus from Hose Company No. 1 responded to the alarm.

DR. J. R. MANLEY SUCCEEDS MURPHY.

Health Director Fabry has appointed Dr. J. R. Manley to succeed Dr. J. J. Murphy, assistant health director.

Mr. Borgen has been assistant clerk of the house in the state legislature during the winter, and it was at his request that the board of city officials continued until today. The legislature did not adjourn until midnight last night, and Mr. Borgen is expected back in Duluth this evening.

Mr. Borgen has been deputy clerk under Mr. Palmer, will continue in his present office, Mr. Borgen having re-appointed him. Mr. Palmer plans to leave Sunday for Chicago, where he will attend the convention of the Royal League of America for several days.

MOORE TO PRESIDE.

Will Conduct Arbitration Conference at Lake Mohonk.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., April 22.—Announcement was made today that John Bassett Moore of Columbia university, formerly counselor of the state department, will preside over the twenty-first Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration to be held here May 18 to 21.

The announcement of the conference declares that its scope is not to be regarded as excluding consideration of the interests of neutrals of the world at large in the present European war. However, there will be no discussion of the causes and conduct of the war in the form of direct criticism of specific policies or acts of any belligerent.

Among those on the program are Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, and Andrew Carnegie.

The Promise of A Better Tire Day

Goodyear Fortified Tires came, years ago, to promise men a better tire day. And that promise was fulfilled.

They made Goodyear the largest-selling tire in the world, a place it has held ever since. Last year men bought 1,479,883—about one for each car in use.

Not Magical

Don't expect in the Goodyear a magical tire. It is not exempt from mishap and misuse.

It won't top place because it averaged best. It did that because, in five great ways, it excels every other tire. It combats in five ways, exclusive to Goodyears, these six major troubles—

Rim-Cuts Blowouts Loose Treads One way—our costs us $450,000 yearly. One comes through forming in each tire hundreds of large rubber rivets. One compels us to vulcanize in each tire base 126 braided piano wires. One comes through our double-thick All-Weather tread, with its sharp, tough, resilient grips. These things together mean a super-tire.

Lower Prices

Yet these costly-built tires, in the past two years, have been thrice reduced in price. Our last reduction—on February 1st—brings the two-year total to 45%.

TWO PERSONS HIT BY AUTO

Louis Kelly and Leonidas Gustafson Hurt; Others Narrowly Escape.

Ford Car Smashes Against Curb When Driver Loses Control.

Two persons were knocked down and injured by automobiles yesterday, and a party of four, including two women, narrowly escaped serious injury when a bus driver lost control of a new car and it skidded up over the curbing, shearing off two wheels.

Louis Kelly, 10, son of F. S. Kelly, of the F. S. Kelly Furure company, while riding a bicycle west on Fourth street near Eleventh avenue, was caught between the curbing and a jitney bus, and thrown to the pavement, sustaining a severe scalp wound.

Oscar Baker, 22, fifty-fourth avenue west, driver of the bus, took the boy to St. Mary's hospital, and then reported the accident to the police, stating that he was driving west on Fourth street at a slow rate of speed when the Kelly boy dodged in front of him. The boy is not seriously injured, but will be confined to the hospital several days.

An auto driven by J. F. Maloy, 1231 East Third street, struck Leonidas Gustafson, transient, as he was trying to cross Superior street near Gavfield avenue about 10 p. m. yesterday. In the automobile were Mrs. Maloy, Mrs. Curry and her daughter, Mabel. The car rounded the corner from Gavfield avenue and was upon Gustafson before he saw it. He was taken to police headquarters, where Dr. Harry Klein, recently appointed police surgeon, attended him. His injuries were not serious.

An inexperienced driver with a new Ford car while speeding along West Superior street yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock lost control of his machine near Nineteenth avenue. It skidded at the corner and ran up along the curb, tearing off a front wheel and badly damaging the machine.

Two women and two men, in the machine with the driver were badly shaken up and narrowly escaped serious injury. The driver was Albert Wang, 522 John street, Superior. He had had the car but a few days, according to police. At the time he lost control of the car he was going at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour, according to eye witnesses.

Change in Train Schedule.

Effective Sunday, April 25, Great Northern Train No. 35 will leave Duluth at 8 p. m. for Grand Rapids, Bemidji, Crookston and Grand Forks. Instead of at 8:10 p. m. as at present. Connections will be made at Grand Forks with the Red River Valley limited which stops at principal stations between Grand Forks and Minot, connecting at that point with coast train No. 3, for all points west.

FAREWELL BANQUET WILL BE FRIDAY

"Y" Boys Complete the Last Program to Be Given in Old Building.

Arrangements are now complete for the farewell banquet to be given by the members of the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian association Friday night, which will be the last given at the old building.

In addition to the boys' committee, there will be a women's committee, which will be assisted by high school girls in serving the banquet. A program with many humorous sketches is prepared. Thirteen members who made the Husters' club will be awarded the official emblem, and a delegate to go to Camp Miller will be chosen. Watson S. Moore will be toastmaster. The program follows:

"The Boys' Department," Edwin Scivon; "The Ideal Member," William Thorp; "A Backward Look," Charles McLennan; "A Real Boy," Dr. Hoffmann; "Camp Miller," Irving Grover; "High School Club," Gordon Regardt; "Summer Plans," Gordon Thompson; "We Welcome You," B. C. Wade; "The Ladies," Russell Duncan. The boys' department orchestra will furnish music. Other numbers on the program will be a reading by Mr. A. J. Agnes; cornet solo, Ernest Paulson; recitation, Sadahli trio; solo, J. R. Batchelor; violin duet, Erling Sadahli and Herbert Miska.

Hayley's planked Jumbo whittish—none better.

MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK IN DULUTH

Bishop Oldham Will Attend District Ministerial Association Convention.

Bishop W. F. Oldham of New York city, missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Asia for four years, will be the principal speaker at a luncheon to be held at the Commercial club next Monday noon.

The luncheon will be the opening meeting of the two days' annual convention of the Duluth District Ministerial association.

Dr. Oldham is secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was recently called from abroad to act as missionary in this country and is asked to speak from time to time at large church gatherings throughout the country.

On Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Dr. Oldham will deliver a missionary address for men and women at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church. Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third M. E. church in the morning and at the First M. E. church in the afternoon. All desiring to attend the luncheon to be given in honor of Dr. Oldham at the Commercial club Monday have been asked to make reservations not later than Saturday by notifying Rev. U. S. Villars, secretary of the district association and pastor of the Lester Park M. E. church.

The devotional and business meetings of the association will be held at the Lester Park church. Fifty-fourth avenue east and Superior street. The program for the convention was arranged by a committee consisting of Rev. W. F. Oldham, Rev. E. P. Stidd and Rev. U. S. Villars. It is as follows:

12:30—Luncheon at the Duluth Commercial club. Address by Rev. W. F.

QUICKSAND CLOGS SUBURB SEWER PIPES

Workmen Will Make Repairs Immediately on Commonwealth Avenue.

Examination yesterday of the sewer system just installed at New Duluth and Gary disclosed the fact that the pipes have sunk in quicksand at two points on Commonwealth avenue and that as a result the system is clogged.

Commissioner Farrell, who made an inspection of the sewer system yesterday with James G. Lawson, superintendent of maintenance, said this morning that workmen will begin at once to make repairs and that it is expected to have the system in good running order within a few days.

The inspection showed that the pipes on each side of Gary street on Commonwealth avenue refused to work and on investigation, it was discovered that the quicksand, which gave the workmen considerable trouble during last winter, had clogged the system.

CANADIAN SCOTS LOYAL TO EMPIRE

Rev. Dr. Fraser Addresses Clan Stewart on War Conditions.

Clan Stewart, at its regular meeting last evening at the hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, had as its guest of honor Rev. Hugh W. Fraser, D. D., of Vancouver, B. C., and listened to an address by the pastor and vocal selections by Philip Gordon Brown and J. E. Batchelor. Dr. Fraser spoke on war conditions in Canada, and commented on the great loyalty which the people of the dominion are showing to the British empire.

"Canada," said Dr. Fraser, "stands ready to furnish, if need be, 600,000 men for the British army. Canada's feeling was well expressed by a leading Canadian in New York recently when he said: 'Canada stands ready to give her last dollars and her last men for the preservation of the empire. I am glad to say that the Scots are among the most loyal and show themselves ready to enlist in response to the call to colors, to fight for the empire whose traditions are handed down to us in glory. In British Columbia alone we have already sent one Scots regiment to the front, and another is under arms and may have gone forward by now and another is being enlisted when I left Vancouver, and was rapidly filling up. There are other regiments as well, but I am speaking of Scots regiments in particular.'"

Dr. Fraser also told of a trip he made some time ago through Scotland and described in eloquent language his impressions when visiting the scenes depicted in Scott's novels and while at the haunts of Robert Burns.

The clan will have another of its "guid Scots night" entertainments next Wednesday evening, for which a program is being prepared.

Wilhelmina to Discharge Cargo.

London, April 22.—The American steamship Wilhelmina left Falmouth yesterday for Cardiff, where her cargo will be discharged. The vessel had been detained at Falmouth since Feb. 11 after putting in at that port with a cargo of foodstuffs which she was carrying from New York to Hamburg. No referee has been named as yet to estimate the damages due to the owners of the vessel or to fix the price to be paid by the British government for the seized cargo.

Mexicans Apologize.

Washington, April 22.—Gen. Funston reacted to the war department yesterday the firing on a United States army airplane at Brownsville Tuesday by Carranza troops, and added that the machine had not been beyond the border. A full apology was made by the Carranza consul at Brownsville, who assured Col. Bkoston that there would be no recurrence of the firing. The airplane made another flight yesterday.

Bodies of Aviators Found.

Berlin, via London, April 22.—The bodies of two French military aviators, one dressed in the uniform of a lieutenant and the other in that of a sergeant, have been found in the wreckage of an airplane in the forest east of Muelhausen. The bodies bore a number of wounds made by shrapnel bullets. It is believed that the aviators were members of the aerial squadron which recently attacked the maneuvers grounds at Nuremberg.

Colby Miner Killed.

Bassett, Mich., April 22.—Emil Nagel was instantly killed and a companion badly hurt by a cave-in at the Colby mine.

Society & Women's Clubs & Music & Drama

MRS. GEORGE RICHARDS, state vice president of the National Federation of Musical Clubs, has received a telegram announcing that Miss Adelaide Pierce, the St. Paul contralto, who won first honor in voice at the state contest held in St. Paul April 10, received the second honor in voice at the district contest of the National Federation of Musical Clubs that was held in Chicago Tuesday. The first honor was won by Alexander P. Gray of Evanston. In the contest there were two baritone, four contraltos and three sopranos. The winners in the piano and voice department also were residents of Illinois though it was conceded the decisions of the judges were absolutely fair. The judges were Harry Bloomfield-Zeiser, pianist; Glenn Dillard Gunn, pianist and music editor of the Chicago Tribune; Karlton Hackett, head of vocal department and vice president of the American Conservatory of Music; and Hugo Kortschak, violinist, all of Chicago, and J. C. Cory of Detroit.

St. Anthony's Guild Division of Bishop's Club Aids Unemployed Men.

At the meeting of the Bishop's club held last evening in the Bishop's club room, Miss Jean Polier, chairman of St. Anthony's guild, a department of the club, reported the club had provided a room where homeless, unemployed men might find shelter and that the room was occupied by seventy-four men last night. The chairman also stated in her report that the club had given to fifty unemployed men, two bottles of food, and that the men had been made into undergarments, $10 worth of mittens and stockings had been given away at Christmas time and the visiting committee had visited 139 families. The number of garments given to unemployed men amounted to 650.

Since October 1 every Saturday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock a room in the Christian Brothers' high school has been kept open by members of the guild, who gave assistance to the needy men who called there.

Unemployed Man. "The unemployed man is the biggest factor to be considered in relief work," Miss Polier declared last evening. "We faced an unusually hard winter, of course, in that respect. One popular feature of our welfare work has been the ticket exchange. Those who bought more tickets for entertainments than they needed, and those who were unable to use them, have turned them in for distribution, and it has been a real pleasure to apportion these where they would do the most good."

Members of the guild have been saving their newspapers which will be sold and the proceeds devoted to the relief work of the guild. The papers will be collected next Wednesday.

Talk on Canal. Miss Winifred Corcoran gave a talk on the Panama canal, telling of its history, construction, the pier and tolls and of the sanitary conditions of the canal zone. She mentioned the fact that Col. George W. Goethals spent some years in Duluth while supervising the pier and tolls. As Bishop James McGorick was out of the city, there was no explanation of the Bible reading that was given by Mrs. Fred Schuchman, a delegate from the Bishop's club to the Woman's council, gave the report of the work of the council and the report of the county farm committee. The committee provided literature for the poor farm and an entertainment once a month.

Mrs. T. J. Killen gave the report of the library committee. The musical part of the program consisted of vocal numbers by Miss Glenn Bartholomew, "The Sea" by Mrs. D. A. R. and "The Swan" by Miss Killen. The "Land of the Sky" was sung by Mrs. A. T. Rock of Superior who was her accompanist. Mrs. A. J. Munn of Superior gave the current events. Mrs. A. T. Rock of Superior was the leader of the program and Mrs. A. A. Fider was the hostess.

Mrs. Story Re-Elected D. A. R. President

Washington, April 22.—With the long-drawn-out fight for control of the national organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution over with, the faction headed by Mrs. William Cummings story of New York to direct its destiny for another two years, delegates to the annual congress again assembled today to clean up the routine business before them. The results of yesterday's balloting, announced early today, showed that Mrs. Story had been re-elected president-general and her complete ticket.

Chosen State Commander of the Lady Maccabees

MRS. C. H. STANG.

Mrs. C. H. Stang of 2203 West Second street was chosen state commander of the Lady Maccabees of the World at the convention that was held yesterday at Brainerd. Mrs. Stang, who is a member of Duluth Five No. 1, responded to the address of welcome given by Mrs. J. A. Thabes of Brainerd, that opened the meeting.

was elected to office by substantial majorities. Mrs. Story received 605 of a possible 1,156 votes, 461 going to Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey of Kansas, the opposing candidate. Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood of Washington, D. C., was re-elected chaplain-general without opposition. All other places were filled with Story candidates by large majorities. Those elected included:

Recording secretary-general, Mrs. William C. Boyle, Ohio, re-elected; corresponding secretary-general, Mrs. Julia E. Furze of Michigan, re-elected; organizing secretary-general, Mrs. William A. Smoot, Virginia; registrar-general, Miss Grace M. Pearce, Washington; treasurer-general, Mrs. Joseph E. Randall, Louisiana; re-elected; historian-general, Mrs. Willard S. Augustin, New York; librarian-general, Mrs. George M. Stenhouse, Washington; re-elected; editor of D. A. R. Magazine, Miss Natalie S. Lincoln, Connecticut.

A rousing demonstration was given by the successful candidates by the members of the congress who had met in the hall far into the night to await the announcement of the result.

Linnaea Branch Works for Charity.

The Linnaea branch will hold a home baking and cooking sale Saturday at the Duluth Floral company for the benefit of a poor family that will be forced to move unless enough money can be raised to pay the rent. The father who has tuberculosis has been bed-ridden for some time. There are three children, the oldest 6 years old, the youngest, 6 months. The Linnaea branch has furnished milk for the family all winter, and besides $25 a month for other necessities, and a number of children, subscribed to opening a sanatorium, secured a porch and provided Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners for poor families.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Be Honest Without Reward. The following incident best relates what I would make the subject of discussion, and so I quote: "Much talk has been occasioned because of the ingratitude of a woman who lost a purse containing $325 and vouchsafed merely a curt thank you to a girl who found and returned the property. The girl picked up the purse and was on the way to her employer's office to tell him about her find when the woman who lost it spied her and claimed the purse. Not even a dollar reward was offered."

"Is this the proper spirit to use? Is a person honest because one expects and looks for a reward, or is honest because something within compels him to do the right thing and endeavor by every means in his power to find the owner of the thing that he has found? Is there not reward enough for an honest person in the knowledge that he has proven himself above dishonesty and that the possession of a large sum of money or a valuable jewel has not been a temptation he could not withstand? I think so."

I do not believe that the fact that this girl was not rewarded for doing right will in the future deter her from honest dealings or have even the sus-

P. W. C. A. Protects Women at Panama-Pacific Exposition

Information Bureau, Rest Rooms and System to Protect Employes Are Features of Work.

For the first time in the history of expositions in this country women are being protected. The P. W. C. A. began work to this end in a systematic way two years ago and the result is that it has a building on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific exposition for headquarters for women, whether visitors or workers in some part of the great fair system, and an organized force of women who are willing to give their time and energy to carrying on the work.

The direction of the campaign has been largely the work of Miss Ella Schooley. It was no simple matter to get permission to have a special building on the exposition grounds and to get a suitable location, but the handsome and well equipped building near the entrance of the grounds repaid the efforts it cost.

Many women volunteered to take up the various investigations and services involved and many have agreed to organize a sort of relief corps, the members of which will be under promise to be at their homes within reach of the telephone call for definite hours of each day that in any need that arises it will be possible to call upon them.

In many cases a "molding pot" will be opened for the benefit of the campaign.

Give Luncheon for Former Members

Mrs. Elliott J. Aman and Mrs. T. F. Olsen entertained the former members of the Ladies Aid Society of Plymouth Congregational church at luncheon yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Olsen, 226 North Fifty-sixth avenue west.

Women and Typewriters.

Watchman-Examiner: The typewriter is a commonplace enough today. There is no romance in it. But in less than forty years it has wrought one of the greatest advances in the world's commercial history. It has admitted woman to an important part in business life. A soulless little machine has done more toward giving women's rights than had the argument, and agitation of centuries. It is impossible to say whether it has made a large debt to both. Together they have wrought wonders. It is difficult to realize that only thirty years ago there were no women in the

There are three things every buyer of a gas range should think about—

1st—Will it last?
2nd—Will it bake?
3rd—Will it save gas?

If you cannot be assured of these three things and be given satisfactory proofs—beware. A poor gas range is always expensive in any way you figure it.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their views on the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

CABINET OFFICERS.

To the Editor of The Herald: Will you be kind enough to answer the following question through the Open Court columns of your paper? How many members are there in the president's cabinet?

It is only a matter of dispute between A. K. and C. W. K. says there are nine, while C. W. says there are ten. Who is right?

When you answer this question, be kind to state the name of each member and his department. Thanking you in advance, I am yours respectfully, Evelth, Minn., April 20.

The cabinet officers are ten in number, as follows:

Secretary of state—William Jennings Bryan.

Secretary of treasury—William G. McAdoo.

Secretary of war—Lindley M. Garrison.

Attorney general—Thomas W. Gregory.

Postmaster general—Albert S. Burleson.

Secretary of the navy—Josephus Daniels.

Secretary of interior—Franklin K. Lane.

Secretary of agriculture—David F. Houston.

Secretary of commerce—William C. Redfield.

Secretary of labor—William B. Wilson.

—The Editor.

CONTINENTS.

To the Editor of The Herald: How many continents are there, and what are their names?

Were ever North and South America called one continent?

D. W. LAURIE.

There are six continents, generally so called. These are Europe, Asia, Africa, North America, South America and Australasia. Greenland is also called a continent at times, and some writers refer to Antarctica, the land around the South pole, as another. It is also the custom of some writers to refer to the continent of Eurasia, including Europe and Asia, and North and South America have been classed together as the New World continent.

GETS LAWS MIXED.

Copper Country Man Tells Court He Relies on Minnesota Paper.

Calumet, Mich., April 22.—Game warden Macdonald yesterday caused the arrest of John Seppala, who resides near the lake shore in Calumet township, charged with catching trout out of season. Seppala entered a plea of guilty, admitting he had taken three trout.

He gave as his excuse the fact that he reads only a Minnesota paper, and that he distinctly remembers reading a story to the effect that trout were open there. The court informed the man that the opening of the season in Minnesota did not affect the Michigan law in the least and levied a fine of $10 and costs.

PALMER MINE IS NOW SHIPPING ORE.

Negaunee, Mich., April 22.—A steam shovel has commenced work at the Richmond mine at Palmer, owned by the Consumers' Ore company, and will continue shipping until the present stock pile is cleared. The ore is being shipped out by rail to the new railway to the ore docks at Escanaba. The mine has been closed all winter, but is now running full force to maintain the stock pile. Capt. J. Huhta has charge of the property.

RED SPOTS ON BOY'S FACE

And Head, Itched Awfully. Turned Into Sore Spots. Hair Came Out. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Head Perfectly Well.

301 Vermont Ave., Kansas City, Kan.—“There appeared on my brother's face and head little red spots which itched awfully and he scratched. Always after awhile these red spots would turn gradually into bigger sore spots covering all his head. They were kind of whitish on top. The hair came out on the sore places and he was awfully cross. At first we used to save him by cutting but they seemed to do no good. I read the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They stopped the itching a little and seemed soothing so we went to drugstore and bought some more. He washed his head with Cuticura Soap and then smeared the Cuticura Ointment on and after using them for three or four weeks his head is perfectly well and he is getting nice new hair.”

The Confidential Letters

Poor, deluded womankind! How her weakness and confidence are capitalized by the sharks of the medical world! She is ever ready to believe that “a sister” or “a woman herself” with all the modesty and refinement of a true mother” is spending “thousands of dollars” for the pure pleasure of “helping suffering womanhood”—to get rid of any spare money s. w. may happen to have lying around loose.

I wonder if “my dear sister” knows that her personal letter is first read—and perhaps laughed over—by a $12 stenographer, and answered by a mere copy of form letter No. 1, 6, or 23? Does she realize that “herself a woman, etc.” is often a very round, aristocratic sort of person with a smooth shaved face and fresh creases in his trousers? Can she not have learned that, when she and her other “suffering sisters” have contributed several thousands of these personal, confidential letters, the chief clerk of “herself a woman” bundles them up neatly and sends them to a letter broker, who sells them at so much a thousand to any other shark who may wish to try his plausibility on “my dear sister”?

The cruelest fake ever worked on women is that damnable invitation to “write to me personally and in confidence” which a notorious “female” nostrum manufacturer daily offers the woman reader. In this instance the woman whose name is on the label of the disguised booze and to whom the victim writes has been under ground these many years—yet still doing business with “dear sister”!

CASHMAN LAW AMENDMENT

Senate Passes Bill as Recommended by Railroad Commission.

Minneapolis-St. Paul Common Terminal Point Clause Eliminated.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—Special to The Herald.—The senate yesterday afternoon, by a vote of 54 yeas to 18 nays, passed the house bill amending the Cashman law, and recommended by the state railroad and warehouse commission.

The bill as passed by the senate eliminates the point mandatory feature and vests limited discretion in this connection with the railroad and warehouse commission. It was for this point that the state commission contended throughout the various hearings that were held on the bill, while the Minneapolis-St. Paul common terminal point clause was the subject of the amendment.

When the bill was taken up in the Minneapolis common terminal point clause in the bill.

When the bill was taken up in the Minneapolis common terminal point clause in the bill.

Common Terminal Point.

Senator Howard Rustad of Heaton then submitted an amendment striking out all of the senate railroad and warehouse commission, growing out of which was attached to the bill for the purpose of fixing the Minneapolis-St. Paul common terminal point.

Reply by Denegre.

Senator James D. Denegre of St. Paul, replying to Senator Rustad, related various details of the action of the St. Paul Association of Commerce on the bill. He stated that the bill itself was a measure of the railroad and warehouse commission, growing out of the commission's experience with the Cashman act and that it was of the opinion that the commission's judgment should prevail. He stated that the St. Paul Association of Commerce, after considering the committee amendment for the St. Paul-Minneapolis common terminal point, had decided it to be not a proper amendment and that the St. Paul Association of Commerce was thereupon released from its agreement with the Minneapolis men. He insisted that St. Paul had acted fairly and honorably throughout the negotiations on the bill. He concluded by saying that as St. Paul goes, we and our shipper friends are anxious for enactment of this law. We believe we can trust the railroad and warehouse commission. We believe sincerely that discretion in this matter should be vested in the commission.

Bill is Passed.

Senator Rustad's amendment preventing the bill from coming into effect until the St. Paul-Minneapolis common terminal point clause was eliminated, was defeated by a vote of 18 yeas to 54 nays.

We offer $1 for the best diagnosis of this case. Readers are invited to compete for the prize. We can't understand it at all.

Dentist a Victim of Free Samples: My dentist tells me that glycerine tooth paste is the best remedy for Rieg's disease. A second dentist says the stuff is worthless but that local and vaccine treatment will offer a reasonable chance of a cure. What is your opinion?

REPLY.

That Dentist No. 1 had been presented a bundle of free samples, and that Dentist No. 2 uses his own head in his work.

Strychnine Bit Yell: If one takes strychnine in little tablets for a number of years steadily, what will the effect be? Will it poison the system? What is neuritis? Can a person be cured of it?

REPLY.

One might be made nervous and peevish, but that is all—no poisoning, no habit. Neuritis is inflammation of a nerve, and depends on the individual cause and condition.

Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered privately. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

which was passed through both houses yesterday afternoon and evening.

The bill provides for 1916 and $1,865,000 for 1917.

New Efficiency Commission.

In the closing hours of the session provision was made for an interim commission to investigate the subject of “efficiency and economy” and report to the next legislature.

Yesterday afternoon the Carley resolution providing for such a commission, which had already passed the senate, was called up in the house and after a long and heated discussion, following members voting against it: Adams, Brown, Boyd, Gordon, Greene, Haffner, Hodge, J. Johnson, Magnus Johnson, Malmberg, Tapke, Pickett, Schwanen, E. O. Teigen, H. O. Thompson, Wilkins, Wilson and Wood.

The resolution provides for a commission of eleven members, as follows: Three to be appointed by the governor, four members of the senate to be appointed by Lieutenant Governor Burquist, and four house members to be appointed by Speaker Flowers.

Nearly a Riot in the House.

The house came close to a riot yesterday afternoon when an attempt was made to reconsider the passage of the Knutson bill taxing grain and stock transfers.

The motion was made by Representative H. B. Sanborn of St. Paul, who stated that he did it by request, and seconded and supported by Representative John A. Larimore of Minneapolis.

When Mr. Larimore undertook to the senate yesterday afternoon, after a fight and by a vote of 26 for and 34 against, killed the house bill repealing the city service law that now applies in Minneapolis.

Governor Visits Legislature.

Governor Hammond yesterday afternoon visited the legislature for the first time since his inauguration. He spent a short time in each house listening to the proceedings. In the senate he occupied the seat of Senator H. C. Dunn, and in the house after sitting for a moment in Representative Kneeland's seat, he occupied a chair beside the speaker. In both houses his entrance was warmly applauded.

Governor Hammond's second veto of the season was applied to the Gordon bill abolishing the office of hotel inspector, one of the seven Gordon-Warner bills which were used to defeat the efficiency bill. This was the first of the seven to reach the governor.

ELK RIVER, MINN., HAS LARGE FIRE

Property Damaged $125,000 and Six Buildings Are Burned.

Elk River, Minn., April 22.—Losses aggregating more than $125,000 were sustained in an early morning fire today, which for a time threatened the entire town and brought out virtually every person in the place to fight the flames.

Flames from nearby towns and Minneapolis, thirty miles east of here, assisted in subduing the flames. Six business buildings and a residence were destroyed.

Gets $25,000 Inmate Bail.

Stout Falls, S. D., April 21.—After being out only twenty-two minutes, a jury in the United States court awarded Mrs. Clara T. Armour of Cherokee, S. D., damages to the amount of $25,000 against Mabel E. McGowan of Milwaukee, S. D., a widow, for alienating the affections of her husband, a suit was instituted for $50,000 damages. The trial lasted several days.

Money in the Bank is good, but a good stomach in a vigorous body is better than Dyspepsia with Wealth. Health is beyond the reach of money-bags. It is purchased with good habits and a simple, natural food.

Shredded Wheat

is a simple, elemental food that supplies all the body-building material in the whole wheat grain made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking—the maximum of nutriment with the least tax upon the digestive organs.

Made in America

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal as a toast, or a snack. Also delicious with fruit. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 25.

I Samuel, xvii, 1-54; David and Goliath.

CONNECTION.

Soon after David was anointed king he was called to Saul's court. No one knew the full meaning of what Samuel did in anointing him. His father understood it, but he was a poor shepherd and did not know the full meaning of what Samuel did in anointing him. His father understood it, but he was a poor shepherd and did not know the full meaning of what Samuel did in anointing him.

BOASTING.—It was the habit in those old days for each man to boast of what he would do to the other. It was the habit in those old days for each man to boast of what he would do to the other. It was the habit in those old days for each man to boast of what he would do to the other.

THE LESSON.

David's Preparation for Battle, 38-40. “And Saul clad David with his armor, and he put a helmet of brass upon his head, and he clad him with a coat of mail. And David girded his sword upon his apparel, and he assayed to go; for he had not proved it. And David said unto him, I cannot go with these; for I have not proved them. And David put on his armor, and he took his staff in his hand, and chose him five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in the shepherd's bag which he had, even in his wallet; and his sling was in his hand; and he drew near to the Philistine.”

CONFIDENCE. David didn't have a single moment of doubt that God would give him a victory. The Bible could be easily selected by his confidence in God was merely a matter of conviction and experience. His reliance was not blind, but intelligent; not passive, but tremendously active; not a venture, but a habit.

ARMOR. They put Saul's armor on him, but he declined it, because it didn't fit him, he being a medium-sized young man and Saul a very large man, and because he was not accustomed to it. He had not proved it, but he declined chiefly because he had to fight in the only way he was accustomed to do, with his hands in a grapple, or with a projectile instrument. He looked at it from God's point of view, Saul from another. It was not the thing he needed and it didn't dispense Saul as an abrupt refusal might have done. He declined on the ground of the size of the armor and his inexperience in its use, but he was wise in him to try on the armor, for that was the only way of finding out what it was like.

SLING.—He was not the equal of Goliath in hand to hand encounter or with armor, any how. He relied on his sling, and he was right. He knew his skill. Though trusting in God he prepares himself with the very best he has, though relying on His guidance he makes the preparation as if he were a professional soldier. He was not a professional soldier, but he was a professional fighter. He was not a professional fighter, but he was a professional fighter.

Goliath's Warning, 41-47.

“And the Philistine said to David, I defy thee to come and fight with me. And David answered and said to the Philistine, I am a poor shepherd, and thou art a giant. And the Philistine said to David, I defy thee to come and fight with me. And David answered and said to the Philistine, I am a poor shepherd, and thou art a giant.”

As sure to rise as the Sun

You can't always make everything “just so.” Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual; or make the batter a little thin; or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed; or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use

K.C. BAKING POWDER

This modern, double-raise baking powder has unusual strength and is absolutely certain to raise your biscuits, cakes and pastry light and feathery. It generates an abundance of leavening gas both in the rising bowl and in the oven. The raising is sustained until the dough is cooked through.

Housewives who use K.C. never have “bad luck” with their baking. Try K.C. at our risk. Your grocer will refund your money if you are not pleased in every way.

JESS WILLARD IS A MOST MYSTERIOUS TITLE HOLDER

New Champion Is Taken Over Roofs of Buildings to Avoid Crowds—Mrs. Fitzsimmons Thinks Well of Her Husband—What Prohibition May Do for Mike Gibbons—Sport Comment.

BY BRUCE.
DIFFERENT showmen have different ideas regarding advertising methods. Some say let the fighter or wrestler get out on the street and let the people see him; others hold that if the multitude gaze on the man of muscle they will be quite satisfied with the look.

Those behind Jess Willard are evidently of the belief that the less the people see of Willard on the street the more they will want to see him in the theater. Willard was taken from the theater through a trap door in the roof, taken over the roofs of adjoining buildings, and then down to a waiting machine through a rear stairway.

Gee, Jess! home was never like that.

The Doughty Mrs. Fitz.
IMMEDIATELY after a certain lady became Mrs. Robert J. Fitzsimmons she offered to wager $50,000 that her husband could beat the stuff of Jess Willard.

There are two conclusions possible—one that Mrs. Fitz has been seen her husband fight, and the other that Fitz and his wife had a fight.

How Others See It.
FROM the St. Paul Dispatch—The commission should, and probably will, make it an iron clad rule that no person in any way connected with the liquor business shall be permitted to have access to do with clubs in the Twin Cities.

Billy Sunday's Dope.
BILLY SUNDAY has picked the Philadelphia Nationals to win the pennant.

Wonder if the fact that Billy drew down $5,000 in dear old Philly had anything to do with this kindly prediction?

Some Words From Darby.
LAST Sunday and Monday furnished fine advance samples of the coming of spring. There is a surer sign, Darby O'Brien, yesterday at the ball park, gave out the following interview:

"Say for me, please, that I am faster than ever this year and in the shape of my life."

After that there will be few in Duluth doubting the existence of the vernal approach.

Collins Is a Game One.
IN the face of the fact that Minnesota almost has a boxing law, Mike rises from his seat with the statement that he will continue to promote fights at his Hudson club.

If Michael has one special quality, one predominant characteristic, it is gameness. There is one gink we wish all the success in the world.

Shades of Doc Osler.
BOB FITZSIMMONS is at the present time 52 years of age. He is not fighting for the simple reason that the New York state boxing commission refused to permit the old gladiator to crawl through the ropes.

Martin (Farmer) Burns of Omaha is 53 years of age. He exercises every day of his life and is in most respects like a man of 30 years of age.

Just the other day the old farmer offered to wager $500 that he could defeat Dr. Koller. There has not been a peep from Koller.

The peculiar thing about the challenge is that the majority of the wrestlers believe that Burns would win.

Dr. Osler said a man should be shot when he reached the age of 40.

years. It is believed that Doc had reference to a plumber.

How About Decisions.
ESTERDAY a man well known in business and sport circles in the Twin Cities was in our midst. This gentleman called attention to the fact that the Minnesota boxing law does not prohibit the giving of decisions. Furthermore this gentleman made the statement that under the Minnesota law decisions would be given.

What a load this will take off the shoulders of the newspaper men. Also, what an assistance it will provide for the student of the boxers.

The Railroads to Benefit.
THIS spring should prove a great one for the railroads. Every team of the Northern league has about a million unknowns trying for a place—and when this horde is released there will be a great pickup in travel.

Speaking of Prohibition.
SEVERAL of the newspapers of the country are running stories under the caption, "What Prohibition Did for Me."

Packey McFarland is putting off signing articles for a fight with Mike Gibbons until he ascertains the result of the wet and dry issue in Joliet. Packey is in the brewery business.

If the thing goes dry, Mike Gibbons might be able to add some testimony to the column, "What Prohibition Did for Me."

McFarland and Gibbons.
SEVERAL clubs are bidding for the impending battle. Billy Gibbons of the Fairmount club of New York is after the battle, and so is Tommy Andrews, the well known sporting writer of Milwaukee, who is the best and squarest promoter in the entire West.

Should the bout be held in Milwaukee, Tommy Andrews has asked Dr. Ned McNulty to head a delegation of fans from the Head of the Lakes. Yes, if Milwaukee lands the go, it is likely that there will be many of the lovers of the game going hence to see two of the most scientific men in the world trot the sprint route.

and held them to two singles. Cravath broke up Peritt's game in the third inning when he doubled with the bases full. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia . . . 004000002-5 5 0 New York . . . 100000000-1 1 0 Batteries—Chalmers and Killifer; Peritt, Stroud, Fromme and Smith.

Reds Get Short Game.
Cincinnati, Ohio, April 22.—Leach's single, his steal of second, an out by Herzog and a sacrifice fly by Killifer that scored Leach, proved the deciding factor in yesterday's game with St. Louis, as rain stopped the contest in the fifth with the score 1 to 0 in Cincinnati's favor. Both pitchers were in good form. Score: R. H. E. Cincinnati . . . 00000-1 2 0 St. Louis . . . 10000-1 2 0 Batteries—Griner and Snyder; Ames and Clarke.

Braves Lost Fourth.
Boston, Mass., April 22.—After winning four games of the series from Brooklyn, the Braves lost 4 to 1 yesterday. The game was a game of attrition, Boston using four twirlers and Brooklyn two. Score: R. H. E. Boston . . . 00000-0 0 0 Brooklyn . . . 00001-1 2 0 Batteries—Aitchison, S. Smith and McCarthy; Crutcher, Cochrane, James, Luque and Gowdy.

Yankees Score Shut-Out.
Philadelphia, April 22.—New York got only five hits off Bressler and Harper yesterday, but three of these were doubles and all of the extra base drives were mixed with passes and, assisted by an error by the visitors, the Yankees scored three runs in the third inning. Cook cleared the sacks with a double and scored on Boone's double. O'Rourke made a wonderful one-handed leaping catch which robbed Malone of a home run. Score: R. H. E. New York . . . 024001000-8 5 1 Philadelphia . . . 000000000-0 0 0 Batteries—Fisher and Nunamaker; Bressler, Harper and McAvoy.

Naps 3; Browns 1.
St. Louis, Mo., April 22.—Timely hitting gave Cleveland another victory over St. Louis yesterday, 3 to 1. Shorton's single, followed by E. Walker's double and all of the extra base drives were mixed with passes and, assisted by an error by the visitors, the Yankees scored three runs in the third inning. Cook cleared the sacks with a double and scored on Boone's double. O'Rourke made a wonderful one-handed leaping catch which robbed Malone of a home run. Score: R. H. E. St. Louis . . . 00000-0 0 0 Cleveland . . . 00000-3 6 0 Batteries—Fisher and Nunamaker; Bressler, Harper and McAvoy.

Senators 11; Red Sox 3.
Washington, April 22.—Punched hits, bases on balls and errors gave Washington a 11-to-3 victory yesterday in the last game of the series with Boston. Collins was wild and ineffective in the sixth inning, Comstock, who relieved him, was no improvement. Milan batted a home run with the bases empty. Score: R. H. E. Washington . . . 000002010-11 9 0 Boston . . . 00540020X-3 11 0 Batteries—Collins, Comstock and Carrigan; Haley, Dooling and Williams.

Tigers Make Clean Sweep.
Detroit, Mich., April 22.—Rallying in the eighth and ninth innings the Detroit Tigers won from Chicago yesterday the fourth game of the series, sweeping the four-game series. Russell was invincible until the eighth, in that inning a triple by Bush, Young's infield hit filled the bases. Bush walked, forcing in Kavanagh and the winning run scored when Young hit out a home run. Score: R. H. E. Detroit . . . 000002010-11 9 0 Chicago . . . 000000000-0 0 0 Batteries—Russell, Faber and Schalk; Reynolds, Boehler and Baker, McKee.

Newark 5; Brooklyn 3.
Newark, N. J., April 22.—Manager McGee of the Brooklyn Federals made a strenuous effort to win yesterday's game by using fifteen men in an attempt to batter down the stiff opposition put up by the Newark team but his team was beaten 5 to 3. A ninth inning rally netted two runs but the tie it up. Score: R. H. E. Newark . . . 100000002-5 5 2 Brooklyn . . . 10000130X-3 3 3 Batteries—Seaton, Marlon and Watson and Land; Whitehouse and Rariden.

Buffalo 5; Baltimore 4.
Buffalo, N. Y., April 22.—By a batting rally and sharp work by the bases in the seventh inning, Buffalo won yesterday's game from Baltimore, 5 to 4. Quinn started Buffalo's half in the seventh by walking two men. Three singles brought in three runs

RAUCOUS RATTLE OF THE TINWARE HEARD BY ROOKIES

Dook O'Brien Ties "Can" to Six White Sox Candidates.

Chief Williams, Indian Outfielder, Is Signed By Darby.

It didn't require more than one day to convince Dook O'Brien, the speedy second baseman, that some of his rookies would be far better off on the corner lots than on a high league diamond. Sauks, McLean and a player whose name the gallant commander did not even know, were told to go hence, as Lucifer was canned unceremoniously from the portals of heaven.

George Williams, an Indian, who played with Green Day last season, was signed for outfield work by the Dook. The aborigine appeared during the afternoon practice hour at the park, held communication with the fast second baseman and signed the papers.

Bert Sweeley, the Paw Paw college alumnus, put in appearance also. This gives the I. O. two experienced catchers in Brammell and Albert Twombly. Sweeley and two recruits Alvin and Olson as trial horses.

Local Boy Showing Well.
Quidding, the former Pitweller, is making the best showing of any of the candidates out for third base. The redhead is playing nice ball at the awkward corner of the diamond and is also hitting the pill.

James Edmond Collins has promised to make his first appearance of the season on Sunday. The popular James, ever a favorite with the ladies, will disport in the outfield with Ford and Chief Williams.

Because of the rawness of the weather, Dick Bush did not pitch to bat. As yet there is no line on the ability of the Brainerd amateur, nor has opportunity permitted the Dook to observe much regarding the baseball antics of Jack Cunningham, brother to George, the boy slave.

Large Pitching Staff.
If part of the pitchers under captivity at the present time are good, the Dook will have flingers to give away.

"Sticks" Bryant, Boley, Barr, Travis, Porsell, Bush, randoms Clarence Grims and a youth named Jones, not to mention Murray, Thompson and a few others are throwing them over in the raw atmosphere with hope acting in the role of a steam radiator system.

Whether the Dook will glean from this aggregation, barbers to take the eminent place of Blanche, Ezell, Edmonds and the great George Cunningham, one of the greatest twirlers that the 1914 minors belched forth, is a query that time can only answer in her own grim way. As yet the cold and chilly breeze of weather has permitted no excessive loosening up upon the part of the contending players.

Herr Blume declares that all of the players have been signed, unless an opportunity approaches stealthily and whispers a rare offer into the pink ear of the local magnate.

Yesterday it was suggested that the local restaurants report that business is picking up, those operating on the American plan state they are losing money.

All of the candidates are looking as fondly for warm weather as for ease. That is some hoping. While some of the local restaurants report that business is picking up, those operating on the American plan state they are losing money.

MARKET HAS SLIGHT DROP

Wheat Turns Weak on Good Crop Reports From Over Southwest.

Flaxseed Declines Sharply, With Less Aggressive Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 22.—The market turned firm at the close, on good buying at the low spots. May wheat closed 1/2c off July 1/2c off and September unchanged.

Oats closed 1/2c up at 55 1/2c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.12, and barley unchanged at 55-70c. At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1/2c off at 64 1/2c asked and July 1/2c off at 65c bid.

Wheat turned weak today, with a break of 1c in May and 2c in July futures developing during the first three hours trading. The weakness was attributed to selling by Armour and other big interests, the excuse for it being furnished in favorable crop news from over the Southwest.

Further rains through Illinois were reported to have been sufficient to allay fears of any damage through drought, and advices were equally bearish from other sections of the winter wheat belt.

On the basis of the last Kansas government crop report, the yield of winter wheat in that state is placed at 162,000,000 bu., against last season's record of 162,225,000 bu.

Favorable news regarding the progress of seeding in the Northwest has been received by Duluth grain houses and operators, the trade is consequently feeling cheerful regarding the outlook.

Grain is being rushed from the elevators at the head of the Lake, stocks of wheat showing a reduction of 424,000 bu. this week. In addition nearly 600,000 bu. have been loaded into steamers, but not yet reported out of store.

It is estimated by elevator men that by the time present shipping contracts have been filled for spring wheat will remain in the houses. The prospects for millers being able to obtain supplies in any quantity are, therefore, regarded as not alluring.

A feature commented upon at Minneapolis and Chicago today was the liberal buying of the September future, that being taken to indicate a belief in the trade that the weather will be favorable in early delivery of the new crop wheat.

May wheat opened 1/2c up at $1.09 1/2 and closed 1/2c up at $1.10 1/2. Oats opened unchanged at $1.05 1/2 and closed 1/2c up at $1.06 1/2. Rye opened unchanged at $1.17 1/2 and closed 1/2c up at $1.18 1/2.

Flaxseed was weak and sold off sharply. That was due to expected more liberal receipts from Argentina and a weakening up in crushers buying at the present level.

The market for the week, in addition, was 2 1/2c to $1.00, Buenos Aires closed 1/2c up at $1.18 1/2. May flax opened unchanged at $1.93 1/2 and closed 1/2c off at $1.93 1/2. Oats opened unchanged at $1.05 1/2 and closed 1/2c up at $1.06 1/2.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1/2c off at $1.79 1/2 asked, and July 1/2c off at $1.82 1/2 asked.

Cash Sales Thursday.—No. 2 northern wheat, 1 car, $1.05. No. 2 northern wheat, 1 car, $1.05. No. 2 northern wheat, 1 car, $1.05. No. 2 northern wheat, 1 car, $1.05.

MARKET GOSSIP.—Duluth grain stocks, giving changes in four days: Wheat—Western and winter, 219,000 bu., decrease, 243,000 bu.; spring, 2,227,000 bu., decrease, 3,955,000 bu.; durum, 13,000 bu., decrease, 5,000 bu.; barley, 135,000 bu., increase, 12,000 bu.; flax, domestic 757,000 bu., bonded, 299,000 bu.; total flax, 1,056,000 bu., net decrease, 4,224,000 bu.

Coarse grains—Corn, 1,882,000 bu., decrease, 196,000 bu.; rye, 1,727,000 bu., decrease, 726,000 bu.; oats, 51,000 bu., increase, 1,000 bu.; barley, 135,000 bu., increase, 12,000 bu.; flax, domestic 757,000 bu., bonded, 299,000 bu.; total flax, 1,056,000 bu., net decrease, 4,224,000 bu.

MARINE NEWS

OUTLOOK IS IMPROVING

Better Than Average Ore Season Is Now in Prospect.

Ore Prices Fixed on the Same Basis as Last Year.

That the navigation season of 1915 will be far better in the matter of lake shipments than has been expected up to a week or so ago, seems now to be fairly certain. News from the East is to the effect that ore shippers now expect to ship more ore during this year than was shipped during 1914, which, while 17,000,000 short of the previous year, was about equal to the shipments of 1911. This is also indicative of significant improvement in general business conditions.

The trade has been developing at such a rate, it is claimed, that during the last few weeks ore shippers have begun to awaken to the fact that instead of 1915 being one of the poorest years in their line, it may prove one of the best. However, as present hope is entertained of equaling the record of 1913.

The ore trade is settling down to a basis for the season and just before the arrival of the steamer E. Y. Towns, sent at Cleveland the price on ore was fixed for the season. It turns out that it will be the same as last year. The first deal at price-fixing figures was for 125,000 tons made on Tuesday of this week. This ore was Mesabi non-Bessemer and it brought $2.85 a ton.

Another deal is one from between 400,000 and 500,000 tons of the old range non-Bessemer. This also was fixed at $2.85. Prices for other ores are: Old range Bessemer, $3.75 and Mesabi Bessemer, $2.40.

Ore Rates. The carrying rate has been fixed at the same level as last year, which is 40 cents from Marquette, and 25 cents from Escanaba, all free to the vessel. The carrying rate is regarded as much too low, but no effort is being made to raise it until the shipping becomes more general and carriers are in a more independent position. It is claimed that to make the Escanaba rate pay, good coal cargoes coming up the lake, and the carrying rate, is now in offering as coal.

Ore shippers from Lake Superior and Escanaba since 1908, inclusive, were as follows:

Year	Tons
1908	25,322,694
1909	24,824,873
1910	42,620,201
1911	25,322,694
1912	47,485,777
1913	47,485,777
1914	32,626,000

REBUILT FAVORITE TO BE RENAMED
Excursion Boat Will Be Relunched Saturday and Called "Chicora."

The old steamer Favorite, which has been used for many years by Clow & Nicholson as a river and harbor excursion boat, will be relunched on Saturday at the Superior shipyards, and be christened "Chicora."

She will be in the same business during the coming season but will be entirely a different boat. The Favorite was raised out of the water and put on the building ways of the yard and the interior of remodeling was done. Twenty feet were added to her length, and her beam was increased from 12 to 14 feet. The hull was strengthened and the hull, which had a flat bottom, was remodeled and deepened. The field over deck and the interior of the boat will be entirely new. The vessel has been furnished with a closed cabin sixty feet long on the promenade deck and the interior of the boat has been refurnished. Her master will be Capt. R. J. Roberts.

LAST ICE REPORT FOR THIS YEAR Conditions in Great Lakes Far Better Than Year Ago.

The weather bureau has just issued the last ice report of the year, the opening of navigation on the Great Lakes and the practical disappearance of ice. The closing ice report is as follows:

The reports indicate that the ice fields have practically disappeared from all the interior of the Great Lakes and Western Superior has entirely disappeared and there have been no light broken fields reported during the week over the eastern portion. In Whitefish bay the ice has softened to a degree that allowed the steamer Lakeport to pass from Sault Ste. Marie into Lake Superior on the 15th. The passage through St. Mary's river was forced on the 16th, thus opening the way to Lake Superior from Lake Huron.

The Straits continue open and vessels are passing through, both up and down. In Lake Huron some small broken fields are reported off Southampton, Ont., and a larger field of broken ice is off Goderich, Ont. The fields over the extreme southern portion have disappeared, so that but little ice was running in the St. Clair river during the past week. Over Eastern Erie the field is confined to the extreme eastern portion below Dunkirk. This field is reported heavily broken and soft, but still offers some resistance to vessel passage.

In comparison with the same period last season, there is less ice reported in Superior and St. Mary's river. Over the northern portion of Green Bay there is more ice; there is less ice reported in Lake Michigan and Lake Erie. General conditions are better than at this time last season.

"General navigation has been resumed on all lakes, and this will be the last report for this season. The usual details follow as to Lake Superior."

"Duluth—The harbor is practically free of ice. The country surveyors office, to pass on the lake, is now open. There is some ice along the shore, but it is broken up and is of no consequence."

"Two Harbors—There is a little broken ice in the harbor; no ice visible in Marquette. The ice is moving out of the bay on the night of the 17th by strong southerly winds.

"Ashland—The ice was moved out of the bay on the night of the 17th by strong southerly winds.

"Port Arthur, Ont.—There are small fields of 12 to 14-inch ice moving in the bay with the winds; it is no impediment to navigation; the channel is free to the lake.

"Portage Canal—No ice in the canal and only small broken fields in the lake; the first boat passed west Friday morning.

"Houghton—The ice in Big Portage lake continues solid, also solid ice between Hancock and High Point; no ice in Portage river or canal.

"Marquette—There is no ice visible in the harbor, bay or lake.

"O'Grand Marais, Mich.—The harbor ice is very soft and water is appearing; the fields of ice in the lake extend out about four miles and are slow to load or sail.

"Sault Ste. Marie—There is some ice floating in the river, but it will not impede navigation."

FIRST COAL CARGO OF THE SEASON

The first coal cargo of the season arrived yesterday afternoon. The steamer Joseph Wood, bringing it, came from Lake Erie. The Lakewood, sister ship to the Lakewood, arrived shortly after 9 o'clock last night from the previous year's cargo since last fall. The Lakewood and Lakewood are as far as the Sault last fall, on their way to Duluth, but severe storms caused them to winter at the midway point. The Lakewood was the first to arrive in the harbor this season.

The Pittsburgh barges Malda and Mandu, which have wintered here, were taken early this morning to Two Harbors by the tug Edna G. to load or ship. In and out of the harbor is rapidly assuming regulation appearance as a schedule.

PITTSBURGH COMPANY ADVANCES SAILING DATE

Ships of the Pittsburgh Steamship company will be put in commission a few weeks ago. Instead of the first boats going into commission a few weeks ago, the first boats will leave according to present plans April 23. The first boat to leave is the Lakewood, according to present plans.

Major 2 instead of May 7. The decision to send the ships out beginning Friday was reached when ice reports indicated practically all the ice in the lake is already gone. Another factor that caused the decision to make the extra members of the crew necessary under the law and by the time the extra members of the crew have been altered to make the necessary changes, the time the law becomes operative the company will have the winter to make the necessary changes.

The optimism that has been increasing the last few days has been named. Although the Pittsburgh Steamship company is planning to sail by Nov. 4, the ship owners seem to think that the extra members of the crew will be needed two or three weeks ago. Ships leaving to ore docks, and rumors that two or three more large ships will be needed to handle the increased significant by the independent owners.

To Ashland for Season.
Capt. W. H. Perry left yesterday for Ashland, Wis., to take command of the tug Saugatuck, for this season. Capt. Eugene Kelleher is named.

INTEREST AS MANY "WANT" AD READERS AS YOU CAN BY GIVING MAIN DETAILS OF YOUR OFFER

It frequently happens that people get satisfactory results from "Herald want ads" even when the ad is not as well worded as it might be. That is no reason why you should not insert the kind of "want" ad that is most likely to get returns—the one with all important facts given.

As an example, take the "Herald want ad" to which the key number "E 19" was affixed. The wording was: "For Sale, 140 acres, 70 under cultivation; stock and machinery, $2,000." So far so good. But if you were going to buy a farm you would certainly want to know something about its general location, crops planted, the kind of animals with which it was stocked, improvements, nearness to markets and terms upon which it could be purchased.

"E 19" told enough interesting things so that the pulling power of "Herald want ads" brought five replies; but twenty or thirty inquiries might easily have been attracted in these days of keen demand for land if the advertiser had given the vital facts about the property and had signed name and address instead of a box number.

SCORE OR MORE LIVES LOST IN FIERCE STORM IN TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA

Terrific Rain, Electrical and Wind Disturbance General.

Many Drowned in Floods Resulting From Heavy Downpour.

Wind Assumes Cyclonic Proportions in Some Sections.

Dallas, Tex., April 23.—Twenty persons, perhaps more, it was estimated today, met death late yesterday and last night in a rain, electrical and wind storm general over nearly all Texas and Eastern Oklahoma. Resultant floods have interrupted communication by rail and wire. In some parts of the storm area the wind and rain continued today. Austin felt the greatest fury of the tempest, which in places reached cyclonic proportions. The death toll at the state capital is expected to be at least fifteen.

Austin in darkness. Fort Worth. The storm was especially severe at Austin, Tex., and that city was in darkness last night. It was said about twenty houses had floated to and were packed against a bridge, threatening the structure. Rescue squads were busy all night taking endangered persons to higher ground, while the rain continued to fall in torrents.

Oil Tanks Set on Fire. In the Thrall oil field, 40,000 barrels of oil were set on fire. The loss, it is said, would be $75,000. Lightning started a fire in an oil warehouse in Dallas, causing a loss of $120,000.

In Oklahoma, the Canadian river at Chickasha has cut a new channel two miles from its old bed, and ten passenger trains were marooned there. The Santa Fe railroad has lost 1,000 feet of track at Turley, and in places are threatened at several points on that road by swollen streams.

Bursting of a gas main at Alvord, Tex., caused by the water undermining the line, has led to a fire which has burned out of control since Thursday afternoon. It was not known early today when the break would be repaired. It was reported the burned main was under eight feet of water, and workmen would be unable to make repairs until the waters subsided.

Many Drowned. Austin, Tex.—Floods that swept down Waller and Shoal creeks here last night took a toll of 15 or 20 lives, according to estimates today. Houses were jammed in masses against the bridges and were marooned there. Many business houses. Heroic work was done by the fire and police departments. Of eight persons in one house which was

GREENBRIER'S CREW BACK IN NEW YORK

Ship Sank Like Stone on Striking Mine in North Sea.

New York, April 23.—Capt. J. Dalton and twenty-five members of the crew of the American steamer Greenbrier, sunk April 2 by a mine in the North sea, reached New York today aboard the steamer Rotterdam from Rotterdam.

After discharging at Bremen her cargo of cotton from New Orleans, the Greenbrier sailed March 29 on the return trip. On April 2, members of the crew said today, an explosion, caused by a mine, occurred near the vessel's stern. The Greenbrier sank like a stone, giving the crew barely time to launch two boats and escape. With only the clothes they wore. Fifteen hours were spent in the boats in the open sea before the crew reached the German coast. Upon landing they were cared for by the authorities and sent to Rotterdam by train. All hands were saved.

The Greenbrier was the first cotton ship to leave an American port for Germany after war was declared. She was taken into Kirkwall by a British warship and released after examination.

Capt. S. D. Rockenbach and S. G. Shurtle, United States army officers, who were with the German forces as observers, and P. M. Kuehnrich, a courier of the German diplomatic service, on his way to Washington, also were passengers on the Rotterdam.

BRITISH CUT OFF ALL SHIPPING TO HOLLAND.

Amsterdam, via London, April 23.—The following official statement was issued here in behalf of the British government:

"All shipping between Holland and the United Kingdom is stopped for the time being. No ships will leave the United Kingdom for Holland after today. Ships from Holland will not be admitted to the United Kingdom after today."

It is hoped to resume limited cargo and passenger traffic. Special arrangements have been made for the transport of mails.

TRAWLER TORPEDOED; TWO OF CREW KILLED.

Grimsby, Eng., April 23.—The Grimsby trawler St. Lawrence was torpedoed and sunk in the North sea yesterday by a German submarine. Two members of the crew were killed. Seven survivors were brought here today by the trawler Queenstown, whose skipper reports that the submarine fired on his vessel while engaged in rescuing the crew of the St. Lawrence.

NEW PICTURE OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT TAKEN AT SYRACUSE

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

DESOLATION IS INDESCRIBABLE

Thousands of Peasants Homeless and Living in Holes in Poland.

Inhabitants Show Utter Indifference as to Their Condition.

Berlin, April 23.—A picture of indescribable desolation—with fully 5,000 houses destroyed, thousands of peasants homeless and living in holes in the ground, absolute cessation of any kind of work that shall provide for a fall harvest—is drawn in the reports now reaching here from Russian Poland.

The retreating Russians, fleeing before the German advance, appear to have treated their own territory quite as severely as they did East Prussia, and to have left it a veritable wilderness in which disease is apt to appear at any moment and starvation is almost a certainty within a short time.

The peasants, or those who still remain, show utter indifference to their condition and are making not the slightest efforts to reconstruct what has been torn and burned down, nor to plant crops of any kind. The majority of those of military age are away in the armies, or dead, and the old and young left behind seem unconscious of what the results of their inactivity are apt to be.

Three-quarters of Poland has been hit by the war and damage estimated at 1,000,000,000 rubles, or $600,000,000, has been done. Practically all the cattle and horse flesh in the country has been carried off by the retreating Russians. Their destruction of the villages as they retreated apparently was for the purpose of checking the Germans.

The homeless thousands, either too shiftless or too uncertain of the future to want to reconstruct their houses, have scooped out burrows in the ground, and are now living in them. Only in isolated instances, where their priests have been sanctimonious to exert the proper influence, has any more been made by the people to safeguard themselves against the future.

FIREMEN POISONED BY FUMES OF NITRIC ACID

Unnoticed at First, Seventeen Men Are Stricken and Take to Beds.

New York, April 23.—Nitric acid fumes, inhaled yesterday by a squad of firemen at first unnoticed, operated like a slow poison during the night, with the result that today seventeen firemen were in hospitals or confined to their beds in the firehouses, some of them critically ill. One by one the men became stricken.

The fumes were inhaled when the firemen answered a call sent in from a factory where a third-skiller's car of acid had overflowed and formed a heavy vapor. Mistaking this for smoke, the nature of the vapor was learned, and the rescue squad, protected by oxygen helmets, was summoned. They haled out the acid with buckets and were unaffected by the fumes.

MUCH WELCOME RAIN HITS NORTH DAKOTA.

Fargo, N. D., April 23.—Showers are falling here this morning following a general light rainfall in North Dakota last night. The night rain is greatly needed outside the valley. It will retard the completion of seeding here as many fields on lower land in the valley were just getting into condition for rain, but seed grain fields will be greatly benefited. On earlier seeded lands the wheat is now up.

ROOSEVELT REGARDS BARNES AS SORT OF DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE

Like Other Politicians, Has Good and Bad Sides, He Says.

Declares He Tried to Have "Dr. Jekyll" Absorb "Mr. Hyde."

Colonel as Fresh as Ever on Fourth Day on Stand.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 23.—During the second day of his cross-examination in the supreme court here today, Theodore Roosevelt said he had regarded William Barnes as a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, who like other politicians has his good sides and his bad sides.

The colonel said he did not, as suggested by William Hyde, his cross-examiner, try to sever the ligaments between "these Siamese twins of politics." Quite on the contrary, he declared, he endeavored to have the "Dr. Jekyll" in them absorb the "Mr. Hyde" in them.

It was the colonel's fourth day on the witness stand and he seemed to be as fresh as he was on the first day. More letters, tending to show the friendly relations between himself and Mr. Barnes were introduced into the record.

The colonel admitted that he had complied with many of the suggestions made to him by Mr. Barnes in regard to the filing of offices in the state government during the two years he was governor.

Roosevelt Resumes Seat. When court was opened Col. Roosevelt resumed his seat in the witness chair.

"Mr. Roosevelt," began Mr. Hyde, "attention was called to the annual message in which you mentioned the establishment of a printing house. Did you ever do anything further officially in regard to that?"

"Officially no."

"During your two years as governor, the usual appropriation bills came to you did they not?"

"They did."

RESUME BOMBARDMENT OF THE DARDANELLES

JURY OF COMMON PEOPLE WILL DECIDE WHETHER THAW IS SANE

APPLICATION FOR A TRIAL IS GRANTED

Supreme Court Justice Hendrick Renders Decision Favorable to Thaw.

Holds That Court Has Power to Grant a Trial By Jury.

Prisoner Overwhelmed With Pleasure as He Hears Decision.

New York, April 23.—The question of the sanity of Harry K. Thaw will be determined by a jury. Supreme Court Justice Hendrick, in a decision handed down today, granted the application for a trial made by Thaw's attorneys on a writ of habeas corpus.

Thaw was in court when Justice Hendrick announced his opinion. His face at once lighted up with pleasure. His attorneys, friends and others in the courtroom rushed to congratulate him and he was kept busy for nearly half an hour shaking hands before he was taken back to his cell.

"It will be good news to my mother," he told newspaper men. "That's all I want to say for publication."

The most question which Justice Hendrick had to decide was whether the court had power to grant a jury trial, that he did have such power and has decided to exercise it.

He pointed out in the decision that the jury was called in to aid the court by their advice, and that the finding of the jury would not be binding, if the court was satisfied that it was not in accordance with the evidence and with justice.

The court, he said, could disregard the jury's verdict and render his own decision.

Justice Hendrick set the date of the trial for May 17.

Votes Bonds. Ironton, Minn., April 23.—(Special to the Herald.)—On the proposition to issue $100,000 bonds to build the first unit of a high school building the vote carried 219 for, and 218 against.

On the proposition to issue $50,000 bonds to pay the present floating debt, the vote carried, the vote being 260 to 199.

BRITISH STILL HOLD HILL

Attempts of Germans to Recapture Location Prove Futile.

Heavy 17-Inch Shells Being Thrown Into City of Ypres.

London, April 23.—The British forces have shown no disposition under the repeated rushes of the Germans to relax their grip on Hill No. 60, near Ypres, and the fighting in this locality today shows signs of developing along the wide front with increasing intensity, even rivaling the attempts of the Germans to break through the British lines last fall.

The city of Ypres, whose historic structures were shattered by German projectiles last October, again is the target of heavy shells. Huge 17-inch missiles are now being used and unless the civilian population has fled or is taking to its cellars, the losses among the people must be heavy.

There has been a lull in the German counter-attacks, according to the British official report given out this morning, but it is assumed that both sides are being strongly reinforced and the tone of the British communication indicates that the issue has not yet been finally decided.

SAYVILLE WIRELESS TREBLED IN POWER

This Is Plant Used for Messages From Germany to United States.

New York, April 23.—For the purpose of insuring wireless connection between Germany and the United States in all kinds of static conditions, the power of the Sayville wireless station at Sayville, L. I., was learned today has been almost trebled. Through this plant the German government transmits most of its official communications to the United States government, and the German embassy communicates with Berlin. Many of the official communications of the German capital are received at the Sayville station.

London, April 23.—There was given out in London this morning the regular semi-weekly report on conditions at the front. It is dated April 22 and reads:

"The German attacks on Hill No. 60, which had stopped at the time of issuing the report of last Monday, have been renewed several times. These attacks all failed and for the time being they have ceased. We hold the crest of the hill and so deny its use to the enemy, who have attached great importance to it."

"There is no and there never has been any truth in the German communication that the enemy had recaptured this position. During the operations around Hill No. 60 the enemy fired shells seventeen inches in diameter into the town of Ypres."

Two Mines Exploded. "On April 21, in the neighborhood of La Bassée, the enemy exploded two mines opposite our right. They failed to discover German mining operations in the neighborhood of Le Touquet, near Arras, where we were carrying out a very bold and successful single-handed attack on an alpine shed near Ghent. He had to run a gauntlet of fire from the ground, directed by a captive balloon, in order to hold the objective. In spite of this he came down to within 300 feet of the ground and effected his object, causing a serious explosion in the shed."

WHEAT SOWN ON EXTENSIVE SCALE

Almost Universal Movement to Expand the World Acreage.

Washington, April 23.—Great impetus to an almost universal movement to expand the world wheat acreage this year, is noted in the Agricultural Outlook issued today.

Winter wheat has been sown on an extensive scale in the northern hemisphere except in some of the countries at war. Canada, United States and British India show an increase of 8,500,000 acres. In Germany and the British Isles, the acreage is more than last year but in Russia it is less.

The warring European nations ordinarily sow about 65,000,000 acres and it is generally admitted there has been a reduction, apparently for the most part in France, Austria-Hungary and Serbia.

Heavy sowings of spring wheat were expected but present indications do not point to the large increase once anticipated.

RESULTS THUS FAR ARE NOT DISCLOSED

Ships Enter Straits and Also Throw Shells Across Peninsula.

Attack on Turkish Forts at Smyrna, Asia Minor, Begins.

Russian Squadron Bombarding Coast on the Black Sea.

The assault on the Dardanelles has been renewed. Four British warships entered the straits yesterday and bombarded the Turkish forts, which were subjected also to indirect fire across the peninsula from the Gulf of Saros. The result of this fighting has not been disclosed.

Bombardment of the Turkish forts at Smyrna, Asia Minor, also is believed to have been resumed. There is nothing to indicate, however, that any move has been made toward an attack by the forces landed from the Gulf of Saros.

A long conference between the Italian foreign minister and the Austrian ambassador at Rome is accepted as a sign that negotiations are still under way between Austria and Italy.

An official report from British headquarters in the field says that the persistent efforts of the Germans to win back Hill No. 60, the position near Ypres, which the British captured recently, for the time being had ceased.

A Petrograd dispatch says that Russian aviators inflicted considerable damage by attacks on German positions at several points.

WAR REVIEW FROM FRONT

Semi-Weekly Report on Conditions From British Headquarters.

German Attacks on Hill No. 60 Have Now Ceased.

Petrograd, April 23.—The Russian Black sea torpedo boat squadron bombarded the Turkish coast between Archaya and Artachin on April 19. This fifteen-mile strip of coast, which was located the quarters of the Turkish army operating in this region, was swept with shells and the barracks and provision stores were ignited and destroyed. A large number of Turkish coastwise vessels laden with ammunition and supplies were sunk.

Heavy Firing Heard. Paris, April 23.—A Havas dispatch from Athens says: "Advices received from Chios stated that heavy firing had been heard since the evening (Thursday) morning, which leads to the supposition that bombardment of the Smyrna forts has been resumed."

Four British warships entered the Dardanelles yesterday and bombarded the forts for three hours. The Turkish fortifications also were subjected to an indirect fire from the Gulf of Saros. They replied vigorously to the attack and the warships, French mine sweepers are continuing their operations actively.

Enos Evacuated. London, April 21.—The Daily Mail's Sofia correspondent in a dispatch dated Tuesday says:

"Following a bombardment by the allies, the British landed a force at Enos and the Turkish commandant ordered an evacuation of the port."

Enos is Turkey's most southerly port on the Aegean sea. It lies just east of the new boundary line between Turkey and Bulgaria, and is twelve miles southeast of Dedagatch, Bulgaria.

STEAMED INTO ENGLISH WATERS

German Fleet Failed to Find British Warships in North Sea.

Berlin, April 23, via London.—The German admiralty today gave out a statement reading as follows:

"The German high sea fleet has recently cruised repeatedly in the North sea advancing into English waters without meeting the sea forces of Great Britain."

ARBITRATION BOARD MAY SETTLE STRIKE

Two Committees Are Conducting Negotiations at Chicago.

Chicago, April 23.—Negotiations which are expected to bring an end to the strike of 16,000 union carpenters were to be started at a meeting today of the arbitration committee of the Carpenters' union and representatives of the Carpenters Contractors' Employers' association.

The two committees, it is planned, will act as an arbitration board. It was expected that the contractors would raise their offer of a wage increase of 2 1/2 cents per hour. The carpenters declared a strike when denied an increase from 65 to 70 cents an hour.

EUGLID IS GIVEN NEXT PRESBYTERY

Adams Presbytery Ends Its Meeting at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Adams presbytery, which was in session here two days, adjourned to meet next year at Euclid.

The presbytery was brought to an end at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening with the addresses of Rev. J. S. Pryor of Warroad on "Missionary Work in the Swamp" and that of Rev. J. H. Frary of Blackduck, "Home Missions."

Rev. R. C. Bailey, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Crookston, was elected chairman of the board of trustees, having control of all the church property in the ten counties of the Adams presbytery. The other trustees are: Rev. David Samson, Warren, C. F. Crookston; Rev. F. B. Stevenson, Red Lake Falls; James Cunningham, Sault Ste. Marie; and Rev. C. C. Gules, East Grand Forks.

Dr. Bailey was also made chairman of the committee on education. He is also in charge of all new church building and aid along that line, a member of the college committee and examiner for all candidates who desire to enter the ministry.

OZAR NICHOLAS VISITS LEMBERG

Russian Ruler Warmly Received at the Galician Fortress.

London, April 23.—Emperor Nicholas arrived today at Lemberg, the Galician fortress, which the Russians wrested from Austria early in the war, a Russian dispatch from Petrograd says. The emperor was met at the railroad station by Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, with whom he held a conference concerning the military operations along the Carpathian front.

A crowd gathered in front of the palace of the governor general, where Emperor Nicholas is staying, and cheered continuously until the ruler appeared on the balcony. Addressing the crowd, he said:

"I thank you for this hearty welcome. Long live indivisible Russia. Hurrah, Hurrah."

DEFENDS THE CONFESSIONAL

Father Mullaly Says It Is Tremendous Moral Force in Church.

Private Confession to God Invalid for Remission of Sin, He Says.

A local audience at the Lyceum theater heard Father Mullaly this morning deliver his lecture on "The Confession and the Confessional." The four preceding lectures dealt with the logical development from a belief in God to the Catholic church and its only authoritative representative on earth today.

Before the lecture Mrs. A. A. Deslauriers sang "Holy Father" by Wamey-Lynn, accompanied by Miss Theresa Lynn. Father Mullaly said in part:

Confessional Misunderstood.

"The confessional is perhaps the most misunderstood and abused matter of belief and practice in the Catholic church. Those who do not understand, are wont to term it a superstitious belief and practice. The overpowering fact in man's life is that there is sin, and that it is offensive to God and that it does clamor for punishment. The modern world has almost forgotten the malice of sin and would like to deny its eternal punishment. It looks upon sin as a necessary minor evil in the social evolution of man and looks for the time when man's spiritual development will outgrow sin. But the Catholic church holds fast to the old doctrine of original sin and man's inherited fallen nature. She says that sin of itself is an evil thing, a transgression of God's law, and that if the sinner is not repentant of its offensiveness to God, he cannot merit salvation."

"Let us consider who is the author of the moral law. If God gave us the decalogue, then the violation of it is a most terrible thing. God says to man, 'Thou shalt not,' and man says 'God, I will.'—Is this the only slight thing? Look at the crucifix. It is the living reminder that sin is, that it has dragged God out of his Heaven and did Christ even unto death."

"The problem of sin and forgiveness is the most vital problem of all man's existence. And this is such a vital problem, the Savior of mankind who effected the salvation of the human race, must have left some sure, safe means for the forgiveness of man's sins. It is at least antecedently probable that He did leave some definite, visible means of forgiveness. In the Gospel narratives, all of those whose sins Christ declared remitted to them, gave positive evidence that they believed and were satisfied that their sins had been forgiven. The question is whether or not Christ really did leave in his church some external ordinance to deal with man's sins and assure them of forgiveness. In establishing all of His Miracles He always used exterior signs and like-wise in establishing his sacraments or means of divine grace from God, His Father, to men. He used exterior visible means. Therefore it would only be consistent to expect to find that which an exterior, visible, tangible means for the forgiveness of sins."

"I hope to prove for you the following three things from scriptural authority and reason:

"That Jesus Christ positively gave men the power to forgive sins."

"That this power lives on in His church."

"That this power demands the personal confession of the sins."

Christ's Words to Peter.

"We find in the Gospel the words of Christ to St. Peter: 'I give to thee the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven; whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed also in heaven.' Herein is contained a plain, direct conferring of the power of binding and loosing. Christ had been instructing his apostles in the constitution and organization of His church, and nothing else can be inferred as being meant by Christ except the power of sin and repentance. Sin and its punishment are the only things on earth which concern man's place in eternity."

"After his resurrection, Christ appeared to the apostles and said to them: 'As the Father hath sent Me, I also send you.' Then breathing on them, He said: 'Receive ye the Holy Ghost; whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they are retained.' Here again is contained a direct conferring of the power of binding and loosing. There is no figure of speech, nothing but plain, direct statement. Only one meaning reasonably can be drawn—that is that Christ did positively give to His apostles the power to forgive sins."

"This power actually lives on in His church. Since sin still exists and still needs forgiveness, would Christ, who knew so well the hearts of men and the need they would have of forgiveness, want that power to die with the death of the apostles? If this power died with the apostles, then all Christian authority and power died also, which there is no authority anywhere in the world for Christianity or any of its ordinances. If you deny to me the continuation in the church of the power of forgiving sins, I will deny to you the whole Christian system."

Requirements for Forgiveness.

"The intelligent exercise of this power of forgiveness necessitates the knowledge of the sins of the individual. God is not only a God of mercy and forgiveness, but He is also the God of justice. Therefore, whatever ordinance He instituted for the forgiveness of sin was to include satisfaction and reparation also, not only to His own majesty but also to the fellow-men who might be injured by the sin of another. Confession and the confessional have to do not only with the fact of sin, but with the evil consequences of sin also. Therefore, reparation is demanded, and how can there be adequate reparation unless some judge know the sin, its circumstances and nature. Among the things necessary to know for the real forgiveness of sin are:

"First, the sin itself; second, the aggravating or extenuating circumstances; third, the necessity for reparation; fourth, the sincerity of repentance and firm resolution of the penitent to sin no more."

Luther did not want to abolish the confessional, but argued vehemently for its retention. The arch infidel philosopher Rousseau in the eighteenth century said that the confessional is the greatest means of morality in the world. Early Christian writers condemned personal private confession to God as insufficient for forgiveness of sins. The early heretics, such as the Nestorians, a small group of whom still exist in the East, retained the confessional and do still retain it. The Greek church, which separated from the Roman church in the ninth century, still retains the confessional. The English high church of our day, though rejecting confession for 300 years, has now returned to its use. How could a belief in sin and a practice of confession have been accepted for 1,500 years and then suddenly rejected for 300 years by a minority of Christians? If this institution be not part and parcel of the Christian religion, if this is false then all Christianity is false and there is no authority for anything in Christianity. Moreover there is no biblical warrant whatever for personal private confession to God as being valid for remission of sin. St. Augustine in the fifth century, replying to heretics who denied confession, said: 'Do you make void the words of Christ?'

Brings Remission of Sin.

"But it is said that confession makes for immortality. But the repeated confessing, absolution and sinning again callouses the soul. The sacred anthers friends, that, although unfortunately men and women do fall repeatedly, confession is and has been for the vast majority of historical Christians, the only effective means of bringing them back to a realization of sin, its enormity and offensiveness to God. Without contrition men would continue their sins and eventually become indifferent even to the existence of God."

"Even though a man sins repeatedly, he ought to be forgiven repeatedly if he be truly repentant, otherwise the words of Christ, 'forgive seventy times seven times' are meaningless."

"The kind of sorrow necessary for forgiveness of sins is a supernatural sorrow, that is a contrition prompted by the love of God, and not a natural sorrow prompted by worldly motives. The resolution of sinning no more must be an absolutely firm one. Not only that but the penitent must directly resolve to avoid even the proximate occasion of sin. If frequently the occasion of sin is the same, he promises faithfully to cease frequenting it. If a person persists in sin, it is the occasion of serious sin to a person, absolution cannot be obtained except he be resolved to avoid such occasions of sin. Did you ever know the abhorrent confession of a tale of sin, my friends?"

"But it is objected that, despite the words of the Scriptures, private confession is infrequently lived up to. Ask yourselves, my friends, how often you examine your consciences, tell God you are sorry for your sins and firmly resolve never more to offend Him."

No Invention of Priests.

"The objection is still made after refutation thousands of times that confession is the invention of priests in the middle ages. I ask you when and where? There is no record of it in all Christian history that it came from anywhere except from Christ in Jerusalem in the year of our Lord 33. If a priest or a bishop or a pope ever invented this ordinance, he did not except his own class from this law. Every Catholic the world over, that confesses to a priest or a bishop or in the church, is bound under pain of mortal sin to go to confession. It is not the priests, for no one can be dispensed with the most happy men would be the priests, for no one can know the agony of sitting hour after hour in a little box listening to a tale of sin, a sacrifice."

"The confessional is alleged to be a means of immortality. Do you know, my friends, that the person to whom any priest would make an immoral suggestion is bound under pain of excommunication to notify a bishop or that priest of the fact within thirty days, and the priest will be suspended from his sacred orders."

"The secrecy of the confessional is inviolable. The priest hears in the confessional under any circumstances, one anything that he hears in the confessional is unrepentant to man's nature. The fact is quite contrary. What person in trouble does not want at once to unburden his mind, to tell it to someone? What criminal but that longs to unburden his guilt to at least one person? Prof. Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard university, a foremost American psychologist, has characterized confession as a tremendous moral force among men. Confession is not unnatural. On the contrary, it is the most natural and human of all the sacraments. Christ took a normal human instinct and gave to it a supernatural efficacy. For the act of confession contained in the telling of one's sins to a fellow-creature, Christ has rewarded and doordrewnly the remission of the guilt of their sins."

Final Lecture Saturday.

Tomorrow noon Father Mullaly will conclude the series with the lecture, "Why Am I a Catholic?" The lecture will begin at 12:15 instead of 12:30.

DEATH HALTS VISIT HOME

Hans Carlson Stops to Celebrate After Getting Money From Sweden.

Found Dead in Shack; Pneumonia and Complications Cause.

Several days ago Hans Carlson, a laborer living at Colbyville, received a ticket home to Sweden, but was ashamed to face his father unless he had new clothes, so, he wrote for an additional $125.

When the $125 arrives it will be used to pay Carlson's funeral expenses, for he died while sitting in a chair in a shack near Colbyville yesterday afternoon.

Carlson had been visiting with John R. Johnson, who owns the shack, for five days. Wednesday night the two men, with some friends, had a "celebration," and Carlson complained of not feeling well the next morning.

Johnson left him sitting at the table, and when he returned from work in the evening he found Carlson's body on the floor, with the chair tipped over it.

The body was taken to Crawford's undertaking rooms, and Coroner C. F. McComb made an examination this morning. Pneumonia, with other complications, was given as the cause of death.

Carlson's father still is living in Sweden, and is said to be a family of considerable means and prominence. It is a story of a prodigal who waited too long before starting homeward.

TO FIGHT ADVANCE ALL OVER AGAIN

Date for Hearing on Proposed Increase of Lake and Rail Rates.

Dispatches from Washington announce that a hearing of evidence will be held at Chicago on June 16 by the interstate commerce commission on the proposed increases in rail-and-lake rates between the seaboard and the Head of the Lakes. Duluth is fighting this proposed increase and will be represented at Chicago by G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, and Francis W. Sullivan, attorney for the traffic commission.

The case is an echo of the 5 per cent increase case. At the time the railroads of the country applied for permission from the interstate commerce commission to increase their freight rates 5 per cent, claiming that the limit then in force was unremunerative, the lake-and-rail lines applied with the others. The interstate commission granted the application to roads in certain parts of the country, but among those that the request was refused were the lake-and-rail lines. Nothing daunted, this year the latter lines asked a new rate tariff embodying the increase asked, to take effect April 20. The interstate commission now the date of hearing is announced. In Duluth, it is felt that the lines will again fail in their endeavor to get the increase. After the hearing, a date will be set for arguments in the case, presumably to be held in Washington. It is not expected that there will be a decision until late in the year. This season will not be affected by the proposed increase at any rate.

DEFUNCT COMPANY NOW REORGANIZED

Western Realty Company Succeeds North Dakota Improvement Co.

Fargo, N. D., April 22.—(Special to The Herald).—The Western Realty company will be incorporated for $460,000 to succeed the Dakota Improvement company which went into the hands of a receiver here a year ago. A reorganization was ordered by the district court and the old stockholders will receive stock in the new company on a basis of 75 per cent of their original holdings.

FOUR ARE SENTENCED. Federal Judge at Marquette Punishes Convicted Ones.

Marquette, Mich., April 23.—At the conclusion of the business on the criminal docket of the United States district court here, Judge Sessions pronounced sentence on the persons who were convicted of or who had pleaded guilty to offenses against the Federal Government, as follows:

Clarence Londo, Rexton, Mackinac county, pleaded guilty to violation of Mann "white slave" act; three years at hard labor at the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

Salim Nehra, Munising, Alger county, convicted of violation of the Mann act; three years at hard labor in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Dimitrie Lampers, Lake Linden, Houghton county, convicted of perjury and concealment of assets; two years at hard labor in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Fred Doucett, Au Train, Alger county, pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a government license; fine of $500, or jail alternative.

Each of the convicted men stood mute when asked the reason why sentence should not be passed. The three men sentenced to Leavenworth left last night in the custody of United States Marshal O'Connor and deputies.

PINE CITY PREPARING.

Pine County Village Getting Ready to Entertain Firemen.

Pine City, Minn., April 23.—An enthusiastic meeting was held here this week to prepare for the big firemen's convention next June.

J. M. Collins called the meeting to order and told the object of the meeting, asked for assistance of the business men and citizens, briefly stated what he had done so far and what they needed, asked their advice and hoped for a working organization to be formed at this meeting. J. Y. Breckenridge was elected chairman and L. McCleary secretary of the meeting. Chairman Breckenridge then made a Grey Eagle, Minn., Fire.

Long Prairie, Minn., April 23.—Grey Eagle suffered the most serious fire of its history a few days ago. The Fuller store building, with the warehouse around it, the postoffice building, the Alderman harness shop and the Callahan feed store were destroyed, the total loss being about $5,000.

WAUBAY, S. D., HAS VERY DISASTROUS FIRE

Waubay, S. D., April 23.—Fire starting from a bonfire in the rear of Harry John's cash store, Wednesday night soon ignited that building and before the fire department could check the flames the water pressure gave out, leaving only chemicals to fight the fire which rapidly gained headway. The buildings burned were John's store, Peter M. Englehart's hardware store, Goodell's variety store, Charles Bosley's meat market, Louis Weimer's general store and the City meat market. The firemen succeeded in checking the flames by tearing down the walls of the city meat market.

The loss is estimated at $75,000, partly covered by insurance. Waubay is a town of 500 people on the Hastings & Dakota division of the Milwaukee road.

RAY FARMERS ARE MAKING PROGRESS

Putting in Large Acreage of Potatoes and Some Trying Corn.

International Falls, Minn., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Agriculturalist D. E. Jewell has returned from Ray, where he has been visiting farmers, and states that clearing of land and planting crops are in full swing in that section.

A very large acreage of potatoes is being planted and also a considerable amount of wheat and oats, while most of the farmers are experimenting with corn.

The dead in this house are:

MRS. C. S. ELLIS, 23 years old.

ELBERT EDWIN EZZELL, aged 9.

MARTHA VIRGINIA EZZELL, aged 8.

HARVEY KING, aged 20.

MRS. KING, parents of Harvey King.

HILLEN KING, their daughter.

C. Ezzell, a boy, escaped.

Others believed to have been drowned are Mr. and Mrs. Winkler, an aged couple; Tom Quinn, a fireman, who was engaged in rescue work; William and Rachel King, two Leonard brothers and some Mexicans and negroes.

Tornado at Shawnee.

Shawnee, Okla., April 23.—Seven persons were injured, three dangerously, in a tornado which struck Shawnee, Okla., at 10:30 p.m. The tornado was about a mile long and destroyed the home of S. L. Whitely, a farmer near here. While telephone and telegraph wires were down, it was reported today that the property damage in this vicinity was heavy. No deaths have been reported.

Gas Main Break.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 23.—Two breaks in the natural gas mains between this city and the Clay county gas fields, caused by floods resulting from last night's storm, today left Fort Worth newspapers and small manufacturers without means of heating their power plants and most households without means of cooking.

ing of the stoppage of traffic between England and France, it is believed that this is a stroke aimed at spies, and another that the area is being cleared for a naval action. The latter explanation seems incomplete, however, in that if such a move is being taken to clear ships from a marine shell zone, vessels running to Scandinavian ports also would be held up.

Although Great Britain is silent, Germany appears to be expecting extensive land operations near the Danubian and it is common knowledge that troops of the allies are being landed in European Turkey.

French Statement.

Paris, April 23.—At 3:45 p.m. the French war office this afternoon issued the following statement:

"Yesterday evening there were fairly lively engagements in Belgium. In the head of the Yser, to the north of Dixmude Belgian troops repulsed an attack of the Germans. The latter inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, by employing large quantities of asphyxiating bombs, the effect of which was felt for several kilometers behind our lines, forced us to retire in the direction of the Yser canal."

"Toward the west and in the direction of Ypres toward the south, the enemy's attack was checked. Vigorous counter-attacks enabled us to regain ground and make many prisoners."

"In the wooded valley near St. Mihiel, by an attack to the east and west of the positions previously captured, we took 700 meters of trenches and made about 100 prisoners, including three officers."

committee of ways and means?"

"I do not know."

"Well it was Mr. Alda. Did you forget the name because it was Mr. Alda?"

"I did not. I had formal relations with Mr. Alda. I had personal relations with Mr. Higgins; that's how I remembered his name."

Way Have Vetted Both Bills.

"Did you ever veto a bill in regard to finances, passed by both houses and which has since been passed by the legislature?"

"I may have."

"In 1899 and 1900 was the position of chairman of the Republican state committee recognized by law?"

"I think not."

"Who was the Democratic party leader then?"

"The one was David B. Hill, in New York it was Richard Croker, with the latter growing in power constantly."

"Here is your autobiography; here you say that during the campaign the issue was between yourself and Croker. Is that right?"

"Yes."

"Did you mention Mr. Hill?"

"On page 301," continued the witness, "I mentioned David B. Hill."

"Did Mr. Hill go to the United States senate?"

"He did."

"Do you remember when he retired?"

"I think it was in 1898."

"Do you know he got out of politics?"

In this state after he retired from the senate?"

"No. My understanding is directly the contrary."

"In chapter 8 did you refer to Mr. Barnes?"

"No. He was not then of the same importance as Mr. Platt and Mr. Odell. However, when I published my autobiography in 1913, I thought the same of Mr. Barnes as I did when I wrote the article complained of here."

"Why did you do that?"

"I did not want to make any malicious attack on Mr. Barnes. I refused to attack any man in my autobiography that I could help in my statement I wanted to appeal to the voters of New York state."

"Since this action was begun have you referred to your autobiography?"

"I think I have."

"Do you know your language on the stand and in your autobiography has at times been identical?"

"I don't know. I do not think that is the case. It may be."

"In your statement you refer to invisible government. Now this is from your autobiography."

"Mr. Ivins read an excerpt that had to do with invisible government and publicity for campaign contributions."

"Mr. Ivins went on: 'There was there at that time a law about publishing campaign contributions.'"

"I don't think so."

"Did you ever mention invisible government before your return from Africa?"

"I didn't use those words. But I referred to the thing in a message I sent to congress in 1908."

"Did Perry Belmont start the movement to require publication of campaign contributions?"

"He might have. I urged such a measure in congress."

"Had you until that time ever called the attention of the voters to the danger of invisible government and the necessity of publishing campaign expenses?"

"I think so."

"I don't care what you think. Did you or did you not?"

"I did."

"Mr. Ivins asked Col. Roosevelt to produce copies of his messages to congress. The colonel said he would do so later in the day."

"Did you officially mention campaign expenses and publicity before 1908?"

"I'll have to refresh my memory on that from my messages."

"When did Charles F. Murphy become the nominal leader of the Democratic party in New York?"

"He was not the nominal leader. He became the actual leader after Mr. Croker went to Europe in 1898, in New York and then throughout the state. He became dominant."

"I don't know that I know there was a fight in which several persons, including Mr. Flings, William J. Conners of Buffalo were concerned. I don't know which side he was on. I just heard of it."

"Well, now, while you were governor there was invisible government, you say. Why didn't you make an attack then similar to the one you made on Mr. Barnes?"

"If they had blocked the legislation I wanted, I would have."

Wants Straight Answers.

Mr. Ivins then requested the court to instruct the witness that he must categorically and not go beyond and make statements.

"The rules of law are observed and this witness is treated as any other witness," began Mr. Ivins.

Justice Andrews rapped with his gavel and said: "Mr. Ivins this witness is treated the same as other witnesses. I won't permit any such language."

"I apologize," said Mr. Ivins, and continued his cross examination.

"Did you ever give any publicity to the fact that you, Mr. Platt and Mr. Odell conferred over a successor for Louis Payne?"

"I didn't. The newspapers did."

"Did you confer with Mr. Platt about appointing Mr. Hendricks as commissioner of public works?"

"Not particularly. Senator Platt himself offered Mr. Hendricks the place. He (Platt) showed a telegram of acceptance from Mr. Hendricks."

As the witness told this he laughed and the spectators joined him.

"How many times in 1898 did you see Mr. Barnes alone?"

"I couldn't say. Many times. Sometimes I would talk to him in the executive chamber at Albany when other people were in the room."

"If Mr. Barnes said he talked to you about your saying he had a dozen conversations with Mr. Barnes."

"If Mr. Barnes' diary would show he had one conversation with you alone and six when other people were present, would you still say he was wrong?"

"I would. I remember conversations in a club, in the executive mansion and in railroad trains going to New York after I left the governorship. I had a conversation with him in the Union League club."

Invited Barnes to White House.

"Did you invite Mr. Barnes to the White House in Washington?"

"Yes."

"You did that in spite of his misstatements to the people and the invisible empire?"

"Yes."

"Did you use the words 'invisible government' in 1899 or 1900?"

"No. I never discuss 'invisible government' with Mr. Barnes."

"I did not discuss the specific phrase. I did discuss my official duty and contributions to the campaign funds by big business interests."

He read a sentence about Mr. Platt's most efficient lieutenants being men of the best character and the highest standing in the community."

Barnes Not Genuine Desire to Know.

"Did you include Mr. Barnes in these lieutenants in 1913?"

"Did you include him in that class in 1898 or 1900?"

"If you did not so regard him, why did you consult and associate with him?"

"Because I thought he was above the average of the run of politicians. I believed he might become a most useful citizen."

"Did you discuss his moral standards with him?"

"I do. I expressed my hopes to him."

"While you were in Albany you were acting as a political monitor in order to make him a good citizen?"

"I tried to get every man to act rightly. Most politicians had two natures, however. I regarded Mr. Barnes as a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde. He had two sides, a good one and a bad one, as other politicians had."

Mr. Ivins read a letter written on White House stationery by Mr. Roosevelt to Mr. Barnes telling him of appointing him to office.

"Did you appoint Mr. Hyde Barnes or Dr. Jekyll Barnes?"

"I wanted to get the Dr. Jekyll out of him. The treasury department said he had done his work well and deserved reappointment."

"So you tried to cut the ligaments between these two sides—Jekyll and Hyde?"

"Oh, no. I was trying to get one to absorb the other."

Mr. Ivins picked up Col. Roosevelt's autobiography again and read an excerpt about some people disliking Mr. Platt for esthetic rather than moral reasons.

"When reformers," an excerpt from the autobiography reads, "wanted to oppose Mr. Platt, they put up some big business man or some man who knickered every day and did not steal. I knew the silk-stockinged reformers and the machine, too. The silk-stockinged reformers cannot be trusted."

More Excerpts Read.

Several more excerpts were read about reformers and about the witness trying to get Mr. Platt to come to his way of thinking. The witness said what he wrote expressed his state of mind at the time of writing.

"When did you last look over this chapter about your governorship?"

"About five months ago, I think."

"Then the similarity of your testimony here is due to phrasological persistence?"

"Yes."

"In fact, it comes to assume the form of a formula?"

"Do you believe 2 and 2 makes 4?"

"Oh, yes."

"Isn't that a formula?"

In reply the witness laughed heartily.

"Your correspondence with Mr. Platt didn't you use some of the same language you used in your autobiography?"

"I possibly did. I don't remember. That doesn't fall within my description of a formula."

Mr. Ivins read again from the autobiography. He put the record in an excerpt containing the quotation "It is easier to be a harmless dove than a wise serpent."

The excerpt went on to say in effect that he tried to get Senator Roosevelt to come to his (Col. Roosevelt's) way of thinking.

The colonel told also of his meetings with Platt, which he wrote, always took place openly.

Another excerpt was "reformers of the (confused variety, seeing these open breakfast meetings between Senator Platt and myself, and never following the sequence of the hour, not realizing that I was bending the senator to my view, fully, telling him frankly I would fight him if I had to," which the latter said was not in his handwriting, but that he might have dictated it. He didn't know when the note was written.

"If Mr. Barnes were to say he received that note soon after you became governor, would you say he was in error?"

Many Such Letters.

"No. I had many such letters written. My secretary never placed his initials under my name when he signed it, as he had done in the past."

The note was to the stationery of the executive mansion at Albany. It read: "Dear Mr. Barnes, I am writing you around tomorrow evening about 9 o'clock."

"I show you a series of letters that passed between you and Mr. Barnes in 1898 and 1900. Do you identify them?" asked Mr. Ivins.

Col. Roosevelt read the letters and replied they were all his. He identified a series of carbon copies of letters dated 1898, which he said received from Mr. Barnes. The carbon copies had to do with discussions or suggestions made by Mr. Barnes to Roosevelt in regard to the latter's action in the event of his becoming governor. Col. Roosevelt became governor. The first letter was dated Nov. 16, 1898. In it the writer said he received applications from certain officeholders under Governor Black for reappointment. The writer said, however, he would not insist upon the reappointments being made.

Mentioned Candidates.

The second letter mentioned appointments and recommended candidates for certain offices. Mr. Barnes said he understood people had appointments he favored because "my influence."

The writer also mentioned the "abuse" he said he understood had been made of him to the effect that he had been elected for four years and the other letters also had to do with appointments for appointments and made suggestions about Col. Roosevelt's coming inaugural message to the legislature.

Mr. Barnes expressed disapproval of a proposed measure by which senators would be elected for four years and assemblymen for two.

"Such a thing," Barnes wrote, "would give the voters little opportunity to register approval or disapproval."

More Letters Read.

Carbon copies of answers to Col. Roosevelt's own letters to Mr. Barnes, which he had already identified, were handed the colonel. These were dated in 1899 and 1900. The colonel said they appeared to be and he believed them to be copies of letters he had received from Mr. Barnes.

They were read to the jury. They also had to do with the personal relations between the two men. One letter from Mr. Barnes to come to see the colonel. In another Mr. Barnes said he would like to see Col. Roosevelt at Albany. It would give him great pleasure to see Mr. Barnes about Dr. Mitchell.

Mr. Barnes signed his letters "Very truly yours," "Respectfully," "Sincerely yours." There were more than a dozen letters in the bundle, all of the same tenor and about the same general things.

After the letters had been read and the colonel said he had no recollection of them, a recess was taken.

Strenuous Fire Hours.

Col. Roosevelt spent five strenuous hours under cross-examination today. He admitted, without any hesitation, that he had verbally and in writing discussed with "bosses" the question of securing the nomination for governor in the event of his election.

He identified as being his, a letter he wrote to Lemuel E. Quigg of New York, a Republican leader, and now a delegate to the state constitutional convention, in which he acquiesced in Quigg's assurances to Former United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, that he would, in the event of his election, respect the senator's position as head of the Republican party, and would "consult with him freely and fully on all important matters."

Confessed With Platt.

He testified that he did confer with Mr. Platt, the so-called "easy boss." But, he added, he did so with regard to the interests of the party, with a genuine desire to know the truth, and to prevent it from being used against the wishes of Mr. Platt and other leaders of the Republican organization. Then he was asked whether, upon the final passage of the bill, which caused the break between him and Senator Platt, he had sent to the senator in Washington a telegram containing nothing but the two words, "Three cheers."

"Three cheers."

"I don't remember the telegram."

THOUSANDS OF BODIES

Unburied Dead Still Being Discovered on Marne Battlefield.

Vast Work of Disinfection Is Now Well Under Way.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
Paris, April 6.—Seven months after the beginning of the retreat of the Germans, says Dr. Dozy, deputy for the department of the Ardennes, "unburied dead are being discovered on the battle field of the Marne. In the center of a village on the banks of the Marne, where the sanitary department was cleaning away the debris, they brought to light a body that was beyond identification either as German or French."
"Hundreds if not thousands of bodies are supposed to be lying more or less submerged in the Saint Germain marshes where the Prussian guard was thrown back; they had neither the time nor the means to save those who fell there."
In order to avoid the pestilential effects of warm weather on the unburied corpses, Dr. Dozy thinks it will be necessary to explore the entire swampy region with the aid of dogs.

Bodies Everywhere.
Bodies are also being found constantly under brush, in ditches and abandoned trenches. They are found not only in ditches, trenches and excavations made by shells but in wells, springs and all the little streams of the region. In many places where it was possible for them to bury their dead, they were insufficiently covered with earth and were frequently buried in too close proximity to sources of water.

These conditions exist over a zone 250 miles long and from 10 to 40 miles wide with a total of from 6,000 to 8,000 square miles of ground, a considerable part of which required prompt disinfection to prevent the outbreak of epidemics. Besides the bodies of men there were in this region thousands of bodies of animals, part of them killed by shell fire and many of them dead from starvation, having been abandoned by the fleeing population.

Work of Disinfection.
This vast work of disinfection is well under way. All the debris from the battle field is being cleared away and the ground saturated with a solution of lime. The floors of every building that has been occupied by troops, either German or French, are being scraped then washed in a solution of hot water and carbonate of soda, while the walls are all newly whitewashed. Wherever any odor remains after these precautions have been taken, more drastic measures are resorted to, in some cases the building is burned.

All yards and gardens around buildings that have sheltered troops are sprinkled with chlorine of lime. All wells and springs are thoroughly cleaned and the use of the water prohibited until analysis shows it to be absolutely unpoluted.

Shelter Problem.
The authorities have also to solve the serious problem of sheltering the population that is gradually returning to the devastated regions. At Maupert, a town of 700 inhabitants that was almost completely destroyed, 200 have already returned and are living mostly in the cellars of demolished houses and under conditions that constitute a menace to health almost as serious as the presence of unburied or insufficiently buried dead bodies.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court.

CARLTON COUNTY.
Assignment Valid.
Hilldale Distillery Company, appellant, vs. Edward Briant, defendant; City of Cloquet, garnishee; Duluth Brewing Company, respondent.
The claim of a saloon keeper for the refundment provided for by section 3160, G. S. 1913, where his license has been revoked by operation of law, though the refundment rests wholly in the discretion of the licensing authority, and the claim is not an existing right, is assignable, and the assignee takes title to the money ordered refunded immediately upon the entry of the order therefor by the municipal authorities.

Though perhaps void under the old rule of the common law, the transfer in within the rule of equitable assignments and valid.
Order affirmed. BROWN, C. J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Verdict Sustained by Evidence.
Aaron Rosenbly, respondent, vs. Supreme Ruling of the Fraternal Mystic Circle, appellant.

In this action to recover on a beneficiary certificate, it is held:
1. There was no dispute in pleading.

2. The court did not err in admitting certain evidence.

3. The verdict is sustained by the evidence.

4. An allegation of the reply construed and held not to be an admission that the insured had failed to pay assessments and dues.

5. The verdict is not excessive in amount.
Order affirmed. BUNN, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.
Frank E. McInry, respondent, vs. S. G. Cobb, et al., appellants.

The evidence is held to make the alleged failure of an attending physician to use the skill and care of the ordinary practitioner of the same school in the treatment of mastoiditis a jury question, and also whether loss of hearing in the ear involved resulted therefrom.

No is found in permitting plaintiff to state the pain or tenderness experienced in the affected parts, since he had already testified that while being treated he described to the physician as well as to his jury in addition in that respect. Nor was there prejudicial error in refusing to strike out the opinion of an expert witness based upon the testimony of plaintiff alone, the additional testimony of his wife being not materially different.

Verbal inaccuracies in the recital of certain evidence in the trial do not ordinarily furnish a ground for a new trial.

The evidence was such that the court properly submitted the question of the liability of all the defendants as parties.

Order affirmed. HOLT, J.

MEeker COUNTY.
Court Properly Refused.
J. H. Bacon, appellant, vs. P. Engstrom, respondent.

The appointment of a receiver to take possession of property pendente lite is a matter resting largely in the discretion of the court. A receiver will be appointed for such purpose only under circumstances requiring summary relief or where the court is satisfied there is imminent danger of loss and where there is no adequate remedy at law. Such relief will not ordinarily be granted while the question of title is in dispute, at least unless the party making the application establishes a reasonable probability of his ultimate success in establishing title.

In this action an accounting between alleged former partners the court properly refused to authorize a receiver to take possession of property claimed by each as individual property.

Order affirmed. HALLAM, J.

MILLE LACS COUNTY.
Judgment For Defendant.
County of Milles Lacs, respondent, vs. S. L. Kennedy, et al., defendants, S. L. Kennedy, appellant.

An engineer appointed to make a survey and report in a ditch proceeding may extend the ditch beyond the limits named in the petition when, "desirable and practicable and when necessary to the complete drainage of lands likely to be assessed for the ditch originally petitioned for."

An engineer who exercises the care, skill and ability usually exercised by one of his profession is not liable in damages for an honest error in judgment.

Appellant, the engineer in a ditch proceeding, provided in his report for extending the ditch about three miles beyond the limits named in the petition. The evidence shows that the ditch was extended to the original assessment limits, and will not sustain a verdict to the contrary.

Order reversed and judgment directed for defendant. TAYLOR, C.

DOUGLAS COUNTY.
Findings Sustained.
George Herberger, et al., respondents, vs. A. J. Zions, et al., appellants.

ASK INFORMATION ABOUT RESERVOIR

Water and Light Department Gets Numerous Queries From Outsiders.

Duluth's 5,000,000-gallon reservoir at Second avenue east and Thirteenth street is attracting the attention of engineers throughout the country, and requests are constantly being received by the water and light department for information on its cost and construction.

The latest request is from the editors of Fire & Water Engineering, a national monthly, which is gradually accumulating a list of questions about the reservoir and also a photograph to be used in one of its publications.

The 5,000,000-gallon tank was constructed at a cost of $47,516, exclusive of engineering and overhead expenses.

CONVICTS MAKING COLORADO FAMOUS FOR ITS GOOD ROADS

Colorado's convict road system is given considerable praise by Dr. J. D. Park, president of the Duluth Auto club, who returned last night from a visit to the San Francisco and San Diego fairs.

"The roads of Colorado are becoming wonderful under the hands of the convicts," said Dr. Park. "While other states have workshops in their penal institutions, Colorado has made the state accessible to automobile travel and a source of beauty for the tourist."

The work in Colorado has been going on for about three years and it is to be practically complete in June, 1915.

The roads across the state are cut in solid stone averaging twenty feet in width. The convicts are paid to like this outdoor work in preference to inside shop work."

GLOOM PERVADES BATHING RESORTS

Holland Resorts Find Business Badly Hurt By the War.

Scheveningen, Holland, April 15.—Gloom has settled over the sea-bathing resorts of Holland this year as a result of the proximity of the Netherlands to the war-zone and the possibility of the Low Countries becoming involved in hostilities. The wide stretches of sandy beach at Scheveningen, Noordwijk and Zandvoort will, in the opinion of the proprietors of the summer hotels, lack most of their usual throngs of open-handed foreign visitors, except perhaps those from Germany, who do not have to cross the sea to reach their favorite air-cure places, and the season is thus doomed to failure.

One of the most delightful sea-bathing resorts of Europe—that of Scheveningen, only a mile or two from The Hague—opened its preliminary season this month with extremely bad prospects for the coming year. Visitors are here but they spend no money.

Crowds still throng the grand front promenade or lounge on the sands, but most of these people are tipplers who have left their homes in search of a journey to the electric surface cars, while the others who come to stay for a while go into furnished rooms or cheap boarding houses or demand low inclusive rates at the big hotels. The exploitation company which owns five or six of the big hotels, the Kurhaus and the Pier recently announced its decision to write off half of its capital.

Not only Scheveningen has been hurt from this cause, but Noordwijk, which has taken its place as a fashionable resort, has suffered to a like degree, while Zandvoort has become the goal of day trippers from Harlem and Amsterdam.

WILD ANIMALS DOUBLE IN PRICE

Scarcity Due to War Shutting Off Supply From Germany.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
London, April 7.—Baboons, sea lions, alligators, polar bears and similar animals have generally doubled in price since the war began, according to London dealers. If the war has not succeeded in reducing England to actual hardship as far as food supplies go, it has certainly played havoc with the stocks of live seals, grizzlies, skunks and other foreign things in fur and feather that inhabit the public zoos of the big cities.

The scarcity in animals, it is explained, is due to the fact that none are coming from Germany, which, up to last autumn, had made herself the international center of the fur trade. This side she had an advantage in geographical situation which enabled her to supply with ease the fur purchasers in Russia, Italy, Austria, France or England. The German banks, also, have always been liberal in financing the big animal dealers, while in England it has been necessary to make a special effort to obtain any considerable ad-

FINE HUNGARIAN WAR HOSPITAL

Consists of Seventy-Two Wards, Each a Separate Building.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
Venice, April 4.—One of the finest of the new war hospitals which have sprung into being all over Austro-Hungary during the past eight months, is the Zita Kurhaus in Budapest. It consists of seventy-two wards, each a separate building. The site is a large tract of land on the edge of the city, formerly the property of Bulgarian truck farmers.

The whole enterprise, originally designed to house the incoming flood of Polish refugees, was completed in three weeks, and the Hungarians point with great pride to this accomplishment of their engineering experts.

In place of the old hospital, such a work of construction would have taken at least six months.

In the center of the Kurhaus grounds there are extensive gardens, in which some remarkable tree-planting has been done.

The Kurhaus accommodates over 4,000 patients. It has been filled from the start. No untrained nurses are employed but volunteer workers, many of them women of social prominence and office. Countess Telecki, for instance, has acquired a considerable reputation for her work at the party pastries in Hungary is now known as the Telecki plum-tart.

PROMINENT MILL CITY WOMAN HAS STRONG PRAISE FOR AKOZ

Mrs. Clara Calef Gets Relief From Acidity of Stomach and Rheumatism.

Mrs. Clara E. Calef of 134 East 18th street, Minneapolis, one of the best known women of the Mill City, has just found relief from rheumatism and acidity of the stomach of six years' standing by using Akoz, the new California mineral rival of radium.

"The improvement was very perceptible a short time after I began taking Akoz remedy," said Mrs. Calef. "I have taken it one month and I think another month's treatment will result in permanent relief. I can heartily recommend it to anyone afflicted with any of these diseases for which it is recommended."

Akoz has proved very effective in the treatment of rheumatism, stomach, kidney, bladder and liver trouble, eczema, diabetes, Bright's, catarrh, piles, congestion and other ailments. It is not a patent medicine nor is it compounded with powerful drugs. On the contrary it is a natural mineral that is both harmless and pleasant to take.

Akoz is now being introduced at the Lyceum Pharmacy at Fifth avenue west and Superior street, Duluth. Visit, phone or write the Akoz man at this store for further information regarding this advertisement.

THOUSANDS OF BODIES

Unburied Dead Still Being Discovered on Marne Battlefield.

Vast Work of Disinfection Is Now Well Under Way.

Paris, April 6.—Seven months after the beginning of the retreat of the Germans, says Dr. Dolzy, deputy for the department of the Ardennes, "unburied dead are being discovered on the Marne, where the French army was clearing away the debris, they brought to light a body that was beyond identification either as German or French."
Hundreds if not thousands of bodies are supposed to be lying more or less submerged in the Saint Gaud marshes where the Prussian guard was thrown back; they had neither the time nor the means to save those who fell there.

In order to avoid the pestiferous effects of warm weather on these unburied corpses, Dr. Dolzy thinks it will be necessary to explore the entire swampy region with the aid of dogs.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court:

CARLTON COUNTY.
Assignment Valid.
Hilldale Distillers Company, appellant, vs. Edward Briant, defendant; City of Cloquet, garnishee; Duluth Brewing Company, respondent.

1. The claim of a saloon keeper for the refundment provided for by section 3360, G. 2. Though perhaps void under the old rule of the common law, the transfer is within the rule of equitable assignments and valid.
Order affirmed. BROWN, C. J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Verdict Sustained By Evidence.
Aaron Rosenthal, respondent, vs. Supreme Ruling of the Fraternal Mystic Circle, appellant.

In this action to recover on a beneficiary certificate, it is held:

1. There was no departure in pleading.

2. The court did not err in admitting certain evidence.

3. The verdict is sustained by the evidence.

4. An allegation of the reply construed and held not to be an admission that the insured had failed to pay assessments and dues.

5. The verdict is not excessive in amount.
Order affirmed. BURN, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.
Frank E. McGarry, respondent, vs. S. G. Cobb, et al., appellants.

The evidence is held to make the alleged failure of an attending physician to use the skill and care of the ordinary practitioner of the same school in the treatment of mastoiditis a jury question, and also whether loss of hearing in the ear involved resulted therefrom.

No error is found in permitting plaintiff to state the pain or tenderness experienced in the affected parts, since he had already testified that while being treated he described to the jury as well as he could his condition in that respect. Nor was there prejudicial error in refusing to strike out the opinion of an expert witness based upon the testimony of plaintiff alone, the addition of his opinion of his wife being not materially different.

Verbal inaccuracies in the recital of certain evidence had no effect on the jury, to which attention of the court was not called by the parties.

The evidence was such that the court properly submitted the question of the liability of all the defendants as parties.
Order affirmed. HOLT, J.

MEeker COUNTY.
Contract Refused.
J. H. Bacon, appellant, vs. J. P. Engstrom, respondent.

The appointment of a receiver to take possession of property pending litigation is a matter requiring largely in the discretion of the court. A receiver will be appointed for such purpose only under circumstances requiring summary relief or where the court is satisfied there is an imminent danger to assets and where there is no adequate remedy at law. Such relief will not ordinarily be granted while the question of title is in dispute, at least unless the party making the application establishes a reasonable probability of his ultimate success in establishing title.

In this action an accounting between alleged former partners the court properly refused to authorize a receiver to take possession of property claimed by each as individual property.
Order affirmed.

MILLE LACS COUNTY.
Judgment For Defendant.
County of Mille Lacs, respondent, vs. S. L. Kennedy, et al., defendants, S. L. Kennedy, appellant.

Such extension exercises the care, skill and ability usually exercised by the members of his profession is not liable in damages for an honest error in judgment.

2. Appellant, the engineer, in his report for extending the ditch about three miles beyond the limits named in the petition. The evidence shows that such extension was desirable, practicable and necessary for the efficient drainage of the lands within the original assessment limits, and will not sustain a verdict to the contrary.

Order reversed and judgment directed for defendant. TAYLOR, C.

DOUGLAS COUNTY.
Findings Sustained.
George Herberger, et al., respondents, vs. A. J. Zion, et al., appellants.

The husband entered into an executory contract for the purchase of certain land; the wife did not join therein and was not a party to the same.

In an action brought by the vendor against both husband and wife to reform the contract and make it conform to that actually made, it is held, on the facts stated in the opinion, that the wife cannot resist such reform on the ground that no mistake was shown on her part.

2. The wife was not a party to the contract and whatever rights she acquired to the land are subject to the contract actually made by the husband.

3. The findings of the trial court are sustained by the evidence.
Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.
W. A. Baume, appellant, vs. Emma W. Baume, respondent.

In an action against a notary public to set aside a certificate of acknowledgment made by the notary, the evidence is sufficient to sustain both the general and special findings.

Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

Water and Light Department Gets Numerous Queries From Outsiders.

Duluth's 5,000,000-gallon reservoir at Second avenue east and Thirteenth street is attracting the attention of engineers throughout the country, and requests are constantly being received by the water and light department for information on its cost and construction.

The latest request is from the editors of Fire & Water Engineering, a national monthly, who ask for a complete account of the construction of the reservoir and the photographs that will be used in one of the future publications.

The 5,000,000-gallon tank was constructed in 1911 at a cost of $47,315, exclusive of engineering and overhead expenses.

CONVICTS MAKING COLORADO FAMOUS FOR ITS GOOD ROADS

Colorado's convict road system is given considerable praise by Dr. J. D. Park, president of the Duluth Auto club, who returned last night from a visit to the San Francisco and San Diego fairs.

"The roads of Colorado are becoming wonderful under the hands of the convicts," said Dr. Park. "While other states have workshops in their penitentiaries, Colorado put her convicts on her roads and makes the state accessible to automobile travel and a source of beauty for the tourist."

"The work in Colorado has been going on for about three years, and it is understood that the roads across the state are cut in solid stone averaging twenty feet in width. The convicts themselves seem to like this outdoor work in preference to inside shop work."

FOUR ENLIST IN HOSPITAL CORPS

Uniforms and Equipment Will Be Received in Near Future.

Four men have already enlisted as members of the hospital corps of the Third regiment of the Minnesota National Guard. The corps, which is now being organized, will consist of twelve men.

Col. F. E. Resche, regimental commander, declared yesterday that soon after the enlistment is complete, measurements for uniforms will be taken. Supply of medicine, clothing and hospital equipment is expected

GLOOM PERVADES BATHING RESORTS

Holland Resorts Find Business Badly Hurt By the War.

Scheveningen, Holland, April 5.—Gloom has settled over the sea-bathing resorts of Holland this year as a result of the proximity of the Netherlands to the war-zone and the possibility of the Low Countries becoming involved in hostilities. The wide stretches of sandy beach at Scheveningen, Noordwyk and Zandvoort will, in the opinion of the most of their usual throngs of open-handed foreign visitors, except perhaps those from Germany, who do not have to cross the seas to reach their favorite air-cure places, and the season is thus doomed to failure.

One of the most delightful sea-bathing resorts of Europe—that at Scheveningen, only a mile or two from The Hague—opened its preliminary season this month with exuberant but prospective for the coming year.

Crowds still throng the great promenade or lounge on the sands, but most of the thousands who used to bring their provisions with them when they journeyed thither on the electric surfs, while the others who come to stay for a while go into furnished rooms or cheap boarding houses or demand low inclusive rates at the big hotels. The exploitation company which owns five or six of the big hotels, the Kurhaus and the Pier recently announced its decision to write off half of its capital.

Not only Scheveningen has been hurt from this cause, but Noordwyk, which had taken its place as a fashionable resort, has been seriously affected. While Zandvoort has become the goal of day trippers from Harlem and Amsterdam.

The Kurhaus accommodations over 3,400 patients. It has been filled from the stocks of live seals, grizzlies, skunks and other foreign things in fur and feather that inhabit the public zoos of the big cities.

The scarcity in animals, it is explained, is due to the fact that none are coming from Germany, which, up to last autumn, had made herself a general distributing center of wild live-stock for the whole of Europe. In this trade she had an advantage in geographical situation, and the German banks also have always been liberal in financing the big animal dealers, while in England it has sometimes been almost impossible for men in this branch of trade to obtain any considerable advanced on their stock in trade.

The United States, it is said, has of late years been the best customer for wild animals. The number of monkeys alone sent to America in the course of a year has generally exceeded 4,000. English dealers are making elaborate plans for permanently annexing a large share of the German trade in animals.

PROMINENT MILL CITY WOMAN HAS STRONG PRAISE FOR AKOZ

Mrs. Clara Calef Gets Relief From Acidity of Stomach and Rheumatism.

Mrs. Clara E. Calef of 134 East 18th street, Minneapolis, one of the best known women of the Mill City, has just found relief from rheumatism and acidity of the stomach of six years' standing by using Akoz, the new California mineral rival of radium.

"The improvement was very perceptible a short time after I began taking Akoz remedy," said Mrs. Calef. "I have taken it one month and I think another month's treatment will result in permanent relief. I can heartily recommend it to anyone afflicted with any of these diseases for which it is recommended."

Akoz has proved very effective in the treatment of rheumatism, stomach, kidney, bladder and liver troubles, eczema, diabetes, Bright's, fatty piles, constipation and other ailments. It is not a patent medicine nor is it compounded with powerful drugs. On the contrary it is a natural mineral that is both harmless and pleasant to take.

Akoz is now being introduced at this store for further information regarding this advertisement.

OPPOSITION TO PROTEST

Objection to First Street Paving Called Outrage By Residents.

Property owners living on First street are indignant over the outcome so far of their attempt to have this thoroughfare paved this year. The remonstrances are headed entirely, they say, by owners who are not living on the street and outside of owning property from which they are deriving rentals, are not interested in the welfare of this end of the city.

Those who want the paving carried out say that the postponement is inexcusable. Two years ago, they claim, a petition containing the legal number of signers requesting the paving, was filed with the city and approved by the city officials.

"It's an outrage," said George M. Jensen, 2117 West First street, "All legal requirements were carried out by the property owners to have the work ordered and carried out. The property owners living on the street want the improvement at once. These who live in other sections of the city and derive high rents from their First street property now present a counter petition asking to have the work postponed. They have by pleading the absence of some of the original property owners and are now attempting to block the improvement. These property owners living in other sections of the city, as well as those out of town, have little interest

In the welfare of this section outside of that of collecting their rentals every month. As is usual with such owners every move for civic improvement is blocked because it is going to bring back some of the money they have taken away. Last year the work was put off because the city was unable to finance its end of the work and now the city commissioners, who have acknowledged that the money can be had, have bent a listening ear to a cry of hard times from the non-resident.

"The fact of the matter is that the improvement probably can be done cheaper now than next year. We still have hopes that we can bring sufficient influence to bear on the members of the commission to have the work ordered at once."

CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL.

Business Men Will Arrange Program for Clean-up Workers.

Members of the committee in charge of the proposed entertainment for West enders, planned by the business men of this end of the city, will meet Monday at the Duluth State bank to make plans for the affair. The members of the committee are Carl E. Longren, chairman; Sanford W. Hill, C. J. Lindquist, O. F. Wennerlund and E. S. Gustafson.

The affair will be held about the middle of May. A band concert, parade and other features will be arranged. The entertainment will be in the nature of a children's festival in honor of the school children, who are now in charge of the clean-up campaign of the schools of this end of the city.

GOVERNOR URGES BIRD AS WELL AS TREE CARE ON ARBOR DAY

Governor Hammond has appeared in a new role, that of friend of the birds of Minnesota. For the first time in the state's history the Arbor day proclamation of the chief executive pays tribute to the tiny members of the feathery kingdom. He says: "The close relationship between tree life and bird life is obvious. We have no neighbors we would miss more than the feathered songsters, none that we would protect with more jealous care." And so, on Arbor day, the robin, the blue jay, the martin and other feathered creatures will share the center of the stage with the trees. Some Arbor day exercises will be observed in many of Duluth's public schools, as well as in the schools throughout the county, but attention will be paid the birds, instead of to just the trees.

Bird-housing has grown in popularity recently and officers of the Humane society state that they are willing at any time to help in preparing homes for birds or giving information as to their care.

Boys and girls of St. Louis county recently competed in a bird house-building contest, and the best models now are on exhibit in the Kelly Furniture company's windows.

Families lucky enough to have a bird visitor or two in their yard may learn about providing a house for their guest by studying this exhibit. A large variety of sizes and kinds are on display constructed so that they can be adjusted in trees or on roofs so that they are well protected from cats or other enemies of bird life.

FOUR DRIVERS ARE IN COURT

Three Jitneys Arraigned for Violating the Traffic Ordinance.

Truck Driver Also in the Morning Police Grist.

Three cases of reckless jitney driving and one case of reckless truck driving figured in police court yesterday afternoon and this morning.

Leo R. Behnke, Superior, Wis., drove by open street car gates at Fifth avenue west and Superior street. He was arrested by Patrolman Le Beau and paid costs in police court.

Fred Krause, 2019 West Eighth street, another jitney driver, drove by car gates at Sixth avenue west and Superior street almost at the same moment and was arrested by Patrolman Harry Toewe. He will be given a hearing in court April 28. The prisoner was not Fred Krause of 826 East Fifth street, a former groceryman, who says the similarity of names has caused him some embarrassment.

O. Duhan, 322 Twenty-first avenue west, drove about Superior street so recklessly that he bumped into an automobile standing at the curb near Twenty-third avenue west, according to police. The car belonged to Dr. O. A. Oredson. Duhan was arrested by Lieut. Holmstrom of the West station. He pleaded not guilty before Judge Cutting in municipal court and will be given a hearing May 4.

"Can I go out and get some more jitneys now?" asked Duhan, a broad smile spreading over his countenance when he learned that he was to be released temporarily.

Judge Cutting assured him he could go and gather in all the jitneys he might earn.

Harry Anderson, 24, 626 West Third street, who drove a brewery wagon into a vehicle driven by Edward Olson, 618 East Seventh street, and jolted Olson off onto the pavement, pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving and will be given a hearing April 28. The accident happened on West Superior street, near Third avenue, yesterday morning.

"HENPECK" STORY HALTED BY COURT

Covers Defendant's Interest in Verdict for Him and His Wife.

Wife of Louis Hall Given Chance to Defend Herself.

When Louis Hall, 42, appeared before Judge Dancer in district court yesterday to prosecute a divorce case against his wife, Evelyn T. Hall, 40, which had been started four years ago, he testified that after he had begun the suit, a reconciliation was effected and they tried to live with each other again. The arrangement lasted but three or four months. Mrs. Hall left and they have been living apart since. Judge Dancer, after listening to Hall's story of how his wife had abused him by hitting, scratching and otherwise mistreating him, declared that he would not grant a divorce until the trial and given an opportunity to defend the action if she so desired. The case was held open until the special term session of May 7.

The court indicated that if Mrs. Hall did not come into court at that time, findings might be ordered in Hall's favor.

LEGAL POINTS ARE COMPLEX

J. E. Manthey Files Garnishment Action Against
C. J. Petruschke.

Covers Defendant's Interest
in Verdict for Him and His Wife.

Several complex questions for the courts to decide are presented in a garnishment suit which is pending in district court between John E. Manthey, local attorney, against Carl J. Petruschke of West Duluth.

Attorney Manthey today filed with the court a cause of action to recover $2,000 on two promissory notes given by Mr. Petruschke in 1911. He is seeking to place a garnishment on Mr. Petruschke's interest in a $3,750 verdict obtained by him and his wife, Mary Petruschke, against John J. Frey. The verdict against Mr. Frey and his sister, Mrs. M. Kameyer, was obtained by the Petruschkes late on the afternoon of March 18. The next morning at 8:30 o'clock, Attorney Manthey filed with the clerk of the court garnishment papers against Mr. Petruschke's portion of the verdict.

Later in the day two assignments of the verdict were filed with the clerk. Mr. Petruschke assigned his interest to one L. M. Carlson and Mr. Carlson reassigned it to Mrs. Petruschke. Both of the assignment verdicts were dated March 16 and were signed in the presence of two witnesses.

N. B. Arnold, attorney for the Petruschkes, contends that the assignments had been made before the garnishment papers were filed and also asserts that Attorney Manthey cannot, under the law, garnish a verdict.

Mr. Frey appeared before a deputy clerk of the district court this morning and made a disclosure in the matter. He stated that an appeal had been taken from the verdict returned against him and that the matter was now pending before the supreme court. The Petruschkes were awarded a verdict against Mr. Frey and his sister for annoyances caused by numerous lawsuits brought against them while they were tenants of the Grand hotel property on Ramsey street, which was owned by Mrs. Kameyer and managed by her brother. The Petruschkes sued for $13,000.

SAYS FARMERS' PROFITS SMALL

Witness From Iowa Testifies in Opposition to Rate Increase.

Chicago, April 23.—Figures were submitted today in the Western rate case to show that the net return to Iowa farmers is less than 3 1/2 per cent on their investments.

The testimony was given before W. M. Danilek, Interstate Commerce commissioner, by W. J. Ray, secretary of the Farmers' Grain Dealers' association of Iowa, in opposition to the requests of the railroads. Detailed figures of the expense and revenue of two selected farmers of Iowa were presented by Mr. Ray. The farmers, he declared, were capable, high class men in prosperous circumstances.

"Frank Enright, of Aurelia," said the witness, "owns 400 acres of land valued at $210 an acre. His stock and machinery have a value of $40,000, making a total investment of $90,000. For the year 1914 his net earnings, allowing for wages and taxes, were $1,895.70, which is 2.066 per cent on his investment. Another farmer, a resident of Colorado, earned $1,004.87 on an investment of $160,000, or 1.093 per cent."

Mr. Ray said the farmers were interested in the hearing because of the reason that they believe they are paying too much for freight service under present tariffs, without paying the cent a hundred advance proposed by the railroads.

CHARLES PARKER SERIOUSLY ILL

Duluth Wholesaler Under-

Charles A. Parker, member of the Rust-Parker company and for years prominently identified with Duluth's wholesale business, is seriously ill at St. Joseph's hospital, St. Paul.

Following an operation for gall stones Saturday morning, Mr. Parker took a turn for the worse and physicians gave up hope of saving his life, but today he was reported to be slightly improved, and there is some hope that he will live.

Mrs. Parker and E. E. Parker, a brother, are in St. Paul. Mr. Parker has been ill for several weeks, and about two months ago went south in search of health. He did not improve in the warmer climate, and returned to Duluth early last week, only to find it necessary to go to St. Paul Friday.

CIVIL SERVICE TESTS.

Applicants for City Jobs Will Be Examined on May 1.

Civil service examinations for assistant librarians, pipemen, truckmen and rodmen will be held at the Central high school on the morning of May 1. Ruben Johnson, secretary of the commission, announced this morning that all applications must be in within a few days and that candidates will be examined from 9 to 12 o'clock on the morning of May 1.

There are several vacancies and those receiving the highest marks at the examination will receive the appointments.

BORGES BEGINS WORK.

New City Clerk Announces "No Changes in Department."

Walter M. Borges assumed the duties of city clerk this morning and announced that there will be no changes in his department.

Mr. Borges arrived this morning from St. Paul, going direct to the city hall, where he took charge of his department's office. After greeting his friends and becoming acquainted with the employees in his department, he settled down to work.

There is no doubt about the reappointment of Fred Ash as deputy clerk, he said.

Fishing Will Not Hurt Gray's Shoes
For Boys

The out-of-doors boy who goes tramping and fishing must have shoes with the built-in durability that will stand extra-hard wear. We've got the shoes answering these requirements in attractive styles in natural lasts. Dressy enough for any occasion, button or lace models—priced according to size, from $2.50 to $3.50 the pair.

Snappy Shoes for Girls School and Dress Wear

Does your little Miss like the new cloth top shoes such as big sister wears, or shining patent leathers like mother's?
We have either kind—also doll kids suitable for general wear; natural foot-form lasts that give comfort—made to give thorough satisfaction and priced at $2.00 to $3.00 the pair.

Queen Quality SHOES

The style of the shoe is as important as the style of a hat this season, both are equally conspicuous.

There never has been a season when the shoes were so much in evidence as they are now under the short swirling skirts which are to have even more pronounced vogue as the season develops.

SO IT IS OF MORE THAN ORDINARY INTEREST TO YOU TO SEE THE NEW QUEEN QUALITY MODELS.

Here they are, the last words in good shoe making —smart styles and sensible lasts. Some of them in sand or putty tops, others in dull kid or other soft leathers.

See your feet in the mirror—if they are shod in one of our new Queen Quality styles you put your best foot foremost every step you take.

JITNEYS WILL BE REGULATED

Ordinance Would Restrict Number of Buses on Superior Street.

Time Schedule and Routes Will Feature Proposed Measure.

Duluth's new jitney ordinance will permit but a certain number of machines to run on Superior street, while the remainder will be compelled to establish routes on First or Fourth street, if they want to operate in this city.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, after a conference with City Attorney Greene this morning, said that the new ordinance will be ready within a short time and that the nature of the law will be the regulation of the routes and time schedules of every jitney operating in Duluth.

There is only one way in which to control the traffic congestion on Superior street, said Commissioner Silberstein, "and that is, to permit but a certain number of machines to operate on Superior street. There are about 25 cars in the jitney service and the ordinance will be drawn up so that about seventy-five of the machines can run on Superior street, while the others will be compelled to establish routes either on First or Fourth streets."

In view of the fact that the state legislature failed to pass the Wallace-Jitney bill, Mr. Silberstein proposed to introduce an ordinance within the next week, regulating the jitney business in Duluth. There is no doubt, he said, but that Duluth is a home-rule city and that the city operating under a home-rule charter, has the right to regulate the jitney business. The bill passed the senate, but failed of passage in the house.

In addition to establishing routes, the ordinance will order each owner to purchase a special license, charge regular fares and post a bond covering accidents to passengers and property.

MAY BRING EXPERT HERE

Silberstein Considers Plan to Call Federal Health Official.

An official from the United States department of public health may be brought here from Washington to take charge of the Duluth health department.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, is now considering a plan to invite the government official to send one of his experts to Duluth on a leave of absence for a period of six months. The expert would organize and build the local health department up to a standard established in the existing health department, Mr. Silberstein said.

Dr. E. W. Fahy, health director, and Dr. L. R. Manley, his assistant, are devoting part time to the health department. Dr. Harry Klein, a dentist, and Dr. H. H. Klein, a physician, are also devoting part time to the health department. Dr. Fahy and Manley will continue in their present capacities.

MAY INDICATE CASE'S OUTCOME

Columbia River Lines Divorced—Decision for Great Lakes Soon.

A decision which the interstate commerce commission has just made in the matter of divorcing the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway company and the Dulles, Portland & Astoria Navigation company, is taken here as indicative of what may be expected in the matter of divorcing the Columbia river lines from the railroads, which is now being considered by the commission. A decision in the latter case is expected to come at an early day. In the Pacific coast case, conditions similar to those existing on the Great Lakes existed. The Columbia river traffic was involved in that case, and like on the Great Lakes, the railroad owned the competing river line. On the Great Lakes the railroads own the "competing" lake lines, and because of this and the consequent manipulation of rates to suit themselves, with the shipper never getting anything but the ship's end of it. Duluth and other lake points have applied to the commission to compel the railroads to dispose of all their interest in the lake lines, and for every stockholder in the railroads to do the same, so that there may be no connection in a business way further than the legitimate connection of an exchange of goods. That is the question now before the commission.

In the Columbia river case, the commission found that there was no actual competition between the boat line and the railroads, although they were serving the same points, and that it was not until beyond July 1, this year, that the company could dispose of its vessels, on the ground that the combination of road and steamer lines kept legitimate competitors on the river out of business.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS FACING REMOVAL.

Minot, N. D., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Illegal fees are said to have been collected by C. J. Brennan and W. B. Nicodemus, directors of the Stannum school district near here, and formal suit to remove them was filed in the district court. Fees involved were collected. It is charged, for various trips made by the board to Minot on supposed official business. Judge Leighton will fix the date of the removal hearing for about the second week in May.

DON'T FORGET THE OPENING DAY, SATURDAY, APRIL 24th, AT 9 A. M.

THE UNIVERSAL TIPPLE

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

"Coffee and tea are the two beverages used almost universally by the adult population throughout the civilized and semi-civilized world. It is impossible to say how many tens of millions of dollars are expended upon them annually. Although their use has steadily increased they might be discontinued by the multitudes who have formed the habit without the loss of any benefit and in the majority of cases abstinance would result in distinct physical gain."

Neither coffee nor tea is to be considered a food. Both are stimulants and it is this which is responsible for their popularity. As with all other stimulants there is a continual tendency to over-indulgence because a moderate allowance after a time fails to give the necessary incitement to the nervous system. While the mind is often stimulated to good work for a short time by coffee or tea any stimulus which they give is transitory for there is a period of depression following the use of all stimulants. Experiments have shown that over-indulgence in both have a tendency in the long run to dull the working of the mind.

A moderate use may not be followed by any noticeable ill effect but nervousness and disturbances of the digestive system is almost certain to follow the excessive use of either. Tea has an astringent action which is often harmful. Any value which might follow from the use of a warm beverage with meals, where the majority of the food is below the body temperature, is probably offset by this action. Hot water or the "sambic tea" (hot water, whole milk and sugar) of our childhood days is far better. Many people rely upon coffee and tea almost entirely as beverages, and fail to drink the proper quantity of pure water.

MAX THE CLOTHIER

103 EAST SUPERIOR STREET

DON'T FORGET THE OPENING DAY, SATURDAY, APRIL 24th, AT 9 A. M.

THE UNIVERSAL TIPPLE

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

"Coffee and tea are the two beverages used almost universally by the adult population throughout the civilized and semi-civilized world. It is impossible to say how many tens of millions of dollars are expended upon them annually. Although their use has steadily increased they might be discontinued by the multitudes who have formed the habit without the loss of any benefit and in the majority of cases abstinance would result in distinct physical gain."

Neither coffee nor tea is to be considered a food. Both are stimulants and it is this which is responsible for their popularity. As with all other stimulants there is a continual tendency to over-indulgence because a moderate allowance after a time fails to give the necessary incitement to the nervous system. While the mind is often stimulated to good work for a short time by coffee or tea any stimulus which they give is transitory for there is a period of depression following the use of all stimulants. Experiments have shown that over-indulgence in both have a tendency in the long run to dull the working of the mind.

A moderate use may not be followed by any noticeable ill effect but nervousness and disturbances of the digestive system is almost certain to follow the excessive use of either. Tea has an astringent action which is often harmful. Any value which might follow from the use of a warm beverage with meals, where the majority of the food is below the body temperature, is probably offset by this action. Hot water or the "sambic tea" (hot water, whole milk and sugar) of our childhood days is far better. Many people rely upon coffee and tea almost entirely as beverages, and fail to drink the proper quantity of pure water.

AN ATTRACTIVE SALE OF SILKS

Prices Lowest Quoted for Equal Qualities in Years!

We emphasize the advantage of buying silks during this sale. Prices are advancing steadily over what we paid for silks in this spring's purchase. Silk and wool poplin have advanced as much as 20 per cent. This sale, therefore, offers exceptional opportunity for decided economies.

—Our— "Safety First" Policy

If there's one thing we are more anxious to sell you than clothes, that thing is satisfaction.

Such a surfeit of satisfaction that you'll be dissatisfied with other goods than ours.

The harder you are to please, the harder it will be to win your patronage away from this store.

And we've an idea you'll be thoroughly "spoiled" from the first day you wear our clothes.

SUPERIOR

WELSH SOCIETY HOLDS BANQUET

O. J. Williams of Duluth Chosen Head of Duluth-Superior Body.

The Duluth-Superior Welsh society held its annual banquet last night at the Superior hotel. It was attended by nearly 100 members of the organization. A feature of the program was the rendering of several Welsh songs by Miss Emily Morris of Duluth. At the annual election O. J. Williams of Duluth was elected president. W. J. Morgan of Superior was chosen vice president and Judge D. E. Roberts was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Judge Roberts presided as toastmaster. Responses to toasts were given by Prof. A. D. Whelan, Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, O. J. Williams, W. E. Maddock. Solo numbers were also given by W. H. Hancock and J. E. Williams. Miss Florence Williams accompanied the musical numbers.

"SHOWED BOYS GOOD TIME" AT COST OF $175

"Showing the boys a good time" cost Robert C. Henry, 41, just $175, according to the police. Yesterday morning Henry had in his possession $174.59 when he was arrested on a charge of drunkenness. He was released by the court but picked up again last evening on a similar charge. When searched at the police station he had $1.39. He says he showed the boys a good time and insists that he was not robbed.

White List of Merchants.

The desirable dispensers of food, stuffs will again be "white listed" by the women of Superior this coming summer. Last year the grocery stores

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that is absolutely unequalled. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Parmitin (double strength) and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils will open, air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

and meat markets were visited by committees of women and, following inspection, were listed as to their sanitary conditions and methods of handling the food. The "white list" is said to have resulted in great activity on the part of the merchants left off to clean up.

May Get $500 Reward.

A clue to the whereabouts of Oscar Ruth, who has been missing since Monday night, is believed to have been found by P. A. Phelps, 1528 Grand avenue, who is today at Little River, Wis. A message received by Mrs. Ruth last evening said, "I have hopes." It is believed that Ruth and some of this place to visit relatives living there. Police of Superior and Duluth have been searching for the missing man since Tuesday.

May Find Oscar Ruth.

Detective John McDonald of the Superior police force hopes to get a reward of $500 for the capture of two men who are alleged to have burglarized the Superior police station. The two men are John and Frank Mackel, whom the detective arrested as being implicated in the burning of a box car at Black River Falls, Wis. The men were released on their own recognizance but arrested immediately on the charge of burglary. If the men are convicted, the detective will get the reward. More money will go to the police relief association.

WOULD STOP EXPRESS COMPANY SALES

City Council Will Be Asked to Refuse Licenses.

As a result of the "on sight, unseen" auction sale of packages by an express company yesterday, and the consequent "baiting" of most of the participants, the city commissioners will be asked to refuse, hereafter, a license for any sale of that nature and to forbid within the city any such game of chance. Several people who hid in packages yesterday and who claim that they were "stung," have rebelled and will petition the council. One of them, Sam Stein, declared this morning that not more than 40 per cent of those who hid in packages got anything like the value of what they bid.

Mr. Stein says that the packages, tied up more or less neatly, would be offered, and when the exterior looked as though the contents had seemed valuable enough to the sender to be carefully packed, there would be lively bidding. In lots of cases, he says, something of absolutely no value to the buyer would be found in the package. In several cases he stated that some of them unwashed, and fit for nothing but to make scrub-cloths of, were found. He said that he had seen one of the contents of the sales the contents did not seem to be worth the amount spent for them.

It is pointed out that the city does not issue licenses for such "catch-as-catch-can" sales to other concerns, and just why a license is issued to an express company, other than that it long ago became a precedent, is not known.

Most of the merchant's REAL anxieties grow out of his absurd anxiety not to spend too much in advertising.

CITY BRIEFS

Medium, Second-Hand Safe, Good condition. Phone 114. M. L. Stewart.

Samaritans Will Entertain.
Duluth Council No. 3, Modern Samaritans, will entertain members and friends at its lodgings in the old Masonic temple next Monday evening. Beginning at 9 o'clock, a one-act farce comedy will be presented, entitled "A Quiet Family." Banquet will conclude the evening's entertainment.

Will Dance on Saturday Evening.
The Duluth branch of the United States Association of Civil Service Employees will give a dance at K. of P. hall, old Masonic temple, Saturday evening, April 24. E. T. Mills of Superior will give a short talk on the retirement question.

Lamb's Club Changes Plans.
The Lamb's Club of the Duluth Central high school, which was to present "Pickwick Papers" at the Lyceum on May 11, decided at a meeting yesterday to select another play. The club was chosen but dissatisfaction on the part of some of the members made it inadvisable to change plans. Prof. Eddy will have charge of choosing a new play. Mr. De Stefan of the Baldwin plays will have to be selected. A new coach will have to be selected.

Clearing Roads of Stones.
Roadways from the hills to the city limits are being improved and prepared for spring travel. The direction of Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, is to have the moving stones from the roadways and also clearing the drains.

Will Flush at Night.
Street flushing will hereafter begin at 11 o'clock at night instead of early in the evening, so that pedestrians will not suffer annoyance of splattered clothes. Commissioner Farrell issued orders yesterday to the effect that flushing must not begin until the crowds are off the streets, and that the work should continue throughout the night.

Carl E. Nyström, Architect.
Has opened an office, 502 Palladio bldg.

C. H. S. Greenhouse Success.
The operation of the Central high school's greenhouse, throughout the past winter has been a success, according to E. P. Gibson, president of the department. Tomatoes, radishes, string beans, cucumbers and muskmelons were grown and a large quantity of the crop was sold to students and grocers. In addition, the radishes were obtained. Next week the pupils will transplant the greenhouse products into a garden that is now being prepared.

May Save Accounting Course.
Members of the Duluth Association of Office Men will aid in maintaining the university extension course in auditing and accounting next winter. Harris Trux, president of the association, conferred with Prof. C. L. Rotzel yesterday, and the latter announced that the class would be discontinued next winter. Mr. Trux agreed to aid the department. He plans to obtain members for the class and will also seek the assistance of the Rotary club in the campaign. About twenty students are needed for the class, the tuition fee being $7 a semester.

W. A. Hicken
Has opened an office at 401 Palladio building, and will conduct a general loan, insurance, real estate and farm land business.

Spalding Hotel
Palm room will be open until 12 p. m. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Saleman's Bankruptcy.
John C. Overman, a Duluth salesman, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the United States district court yesterday. His liabilities are $2,208.33; assets, $450.

Rabbit to Speak on War.
"Broken Treaties" will be the subject of the lecture to be delivered at Temple Emanuel this evening. Maurice LeFebvre, a Frenchman, will bear on the present European conflict. The services will begin at 8 o'clock and are open to the public.

Two Harbors Men to Get License.
Next Monday Commissioner Silberstein will grant a license to Ernest and Carl Johnson, a transfer of the Patrick Mulligan license to the latter. The two men are now in the city. The transfer to these two men, who are from the city, is being made. The two men are now in the city. The transfer to these two men, who are from the city, is being made.

Plumbers File Lien.
In district court this morning, the A. J. Harker company, plumbers, filed a mechanic's lien against the estate of Thomas Wiley to enforce a claim for $378.13, alleged to be due for work and material furnished in installing plumbing and gas fixtures at 1715 W. 15th street, from Jan. 29, 1915. W. D. Underhill, who has a mortgage against the property, is made a party defendant to the action.

New Duluth Man Gets Patent.
A Duluth man, Charles H. Harker, has just been granted a patent for a power driver, reciprocating mechanism, and an announcement of the grant has been issued by the Federal office.

Judge Morris Back Tuesday.
Judge James Morris of the United States district court will return to his Duluth home next Tuesday morning, according to a telegram received at the Federal court offices. Judge Morris has passed the winter on the Pacific coast and also presided over a Federal court session in New Mexico in the absence of the regular judge.

BOAT WITH AN AIR PROPELLER. Macon, Mo., Dispatch to St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The E. J. Davis, up the Chariton river recently to do duty as an excursion boat during the Macon county fair, has been equipped with a propeller powered against the air."

The Hummer is a fifty-foot freight boat, whose power is an air propeller operated by an aeroplane engine. The start in on another. You have no idea how I hate the very sight of food. It just seems as if my life was being dragged out forever in the kitchen."

"What does your husband think about it?" inquired a sympathetic friend.

"Think Wives Have Easy Time." "Oh, he just doesn't think," answered the little wife despondently. "You can't convince the average man that his wife doesn't have an easy time of it. There are none so blind as those who are home at night and sinks into the nearest chair with a martyred expression on his face. 'How calm and quiet and restful it is in this house here,' he will say. 'After all, woman's true place is in the home. I envy you, Mary. You don't know how noisy and exhausting it is down at the office every day.'"

"Didn't you let him know how hard you worked at home?" asked the sympathetic friend indignantly.

"Oh, yes," said the wife, "but he only smiled indulgently, as if I were a petted child who had to be humored. You can't convince a man that wives have a hard time, for they just won't believe it."

A number of wives decided lately to cultivate the holiday habit all the year round. Every Saturday afternoon they go out on a week-end walking tour with their husbands.

"An Excellent Plan." "I have found it an excellent plan," said an attractive young wife. "My husband gets away early from the office on Saturday. We lunch together in town, then take the train to some quiet spot on a week-end walking tour with their husbands."

CLOQUET SAWMILLS SOON TO RESUME.

Cloquet, Minn., April 22.—On Monday the mill of the Johnson-Wentworth company will start the summer sawing season, this being the first mill to open up this spring. The mill will run day and night and the night crew will start in Monday evening. The Northern Lumber company plans on starting both its mills on Monday, May 3. These mills will operate days only, according to present plans. The Cloquet Lumber company will probably be the last to start up, but the date is not yet definitely settled.

Skala Is Discharged.

Verry, with perjury in connection with proceedings incident to the dissolution of their partnership, was discharged from custody at the conclusion of the hearing held here yesterday.

CARS TO STOP ON NEAR SIDE

Traction Company Will Change to Keep Avenues Clear.

Is First Step in Policy of Silberstein to Regulate Traffic.

Within a few days all street cars will stop on the near side of Superior street corners, between Sixth avenue west and Third avenue east.

Manager Herbert Warren of the Duluth Street Railway company said this morning that he will gladly order the change and a formal request that the near-corner stop be established will be sent to him today by Commissioner Silberstein of the public safety division.

"The company," said Mr. Warren, "is always willing to help with the city officials for the safety and protection of the citizens and we will make the change whenever the request is made."

In securing the near-stop for street cars at the busiest corners on Superior street, Mr. Silberstein has started his proposed program to regulate the heavy traffic on Superior street. This change, he explained this morning, will mean that avenues crossing Superior street will in the future be clear for traffic. At present, if a street car is stopped at a corner, it stops before an open street car, the city avenue is blocked.

With the near-corner stop in force, automobiles compelled to wait before a car discharges its passengers will be lined up along the street, thus keeping the avenue free for traffic, he explained.

Mr. Silberstein said this morning that other changes will be ordered after he has made a more complete study of the traffic conditions and the causes of the present traffic congestion.

APPEAL GRANTED IN PATENT CASE

Action Against Milling Company Goes to Higher Court.

Evidence in the patent case of Peter F. Carroll, et al., against the Duluth Superior Milling company, which was tried in the United States district court here some time ago, has been transmitted, and will be forwarded to St. Louis for use in a new trial to be conducted by the Federal circuit court of appeals. The transcript was sent by United States Commissioner Thomas H. Frenchell today.

The case involves the right to a trade mark "Freeman's Superlative," which has been used by the company as a brand for their flour. The case was tried before Judge Morris, who decided that the trade mark was the joint property of both parties to the suit. The plaintiff, the Freeman Flour company, appealed from the decision, and an appeal for a new trial was granted.

RAINY RIVER LOW; MILL WILL CLOSE

Big Paper Making Plant at Border City May Have to Stop.

International Falls, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is imminent danger that the paper mill will have to shut down for a few days because of lack of power occasioned by the low water in the Rainy river.

It is many years since the Rainy has been so low as at present and unless heavy rains come soon part of the plant at least will have to close.

FATHER OF FOURTEEN.

John Gilbert, Pioneer of Polk County, Is Called.

Crookston, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The father of fourteen children, John Gilbert, one of the pioneers of Polk county, died Wednesday night at Battle Lake, Minn., of consumption, aged 72.
Mr. Gilbert settled in the Red River valley country in the spring of 1878, coming here from Wisconsin. For a number of years he made his home at Polkton, Minn., but later removed to a farm nine miles west of Crookston, where he resided prior to his removal to Battle Lake.
He was married twice and was the father of nine children by the first marriage and five by the second. The children of the first marriage are Mrs. Orla Ester, Crookston; Mrs. Carl Widmer, Middle River; G. J. Gilbert, Haledale; Charles Gilbert, Eldred; Mrs. Chester Kallstrom, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. Q. Adams, Spokane; Mrs. G. Lofsted, Washington, D. C.

Pleutywood Retains County Seat.
Glasgow, Mont., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pleutywood will remain the county seat of Sheridan county, as a result of the ruling by Judge Otter, who sustained the demurrer interposed in behalf of Pleutywood to the suit launched by residents of Medicine Lake, the rival town seeking the county seat.

VESSEL SUNK; BOYS BLAMED

Three Youths Arrested for Pulling Out Plug in Hull.

Three youths are under arrest and another one will be arrested this afternoon or evening on a charge of trespass on the steamer Van Vleet which has been lying at the dock at the foot of Fortieth avenue west. The boys are believed to have sunk the steamer at the dock.

The three boys under arrest are George Foster, 17; Albert Peterson, 19; and Helmer Johnson, 17. According to witnesses for the prosecution the boys are said to have been on the boat when she began to sink a week ago. Owners of the boat claim that the Van Vleet was pulled out and sunk in the outer harbor last spring. She was later salvaged and towed to the dock at Fortieth avenue, where she has remained since that time.

Hearing for the boys was postponed in police court this morning in order to give the police an opportunity of arresting the fourth member of the party.

BOYS TRAINING HARD.

Long Bicycle Trips Popular With Denfeld Track Team.

Some of the members of the R. E. Denfeld high school track team are going in for strenuous exercises while training for the interschool meet to be held within a short time. The team is holding regular meetings three times each week.

One of the features recently inaugurated was a long bicycle trip. A trip on wheels is planned for Saturday to Solon Springs, Minn. Saturday morning the team will leave for the trip. The return trip was made in four hours, leaving there at 2:30 p. m. After the bicycle trip a bicycle trip is being planned by the team to the Twin Cities. They intend taking about a week each way in making the trip.

NEW LODGE AUXILIARY.

Women Will Form Society of Pochontas in Near Future.

Plans for the organizing of a Society of Pochontas, an auxiliary organization of the Improved Order of the Red Men, were made at a meeting of the Mesaba tribe No. 25, I. O. R. M., at the Great Eastern Hotel, 310 North Central avenue. The petition for a charter was signed by thirty-five women. The Mesaba tribe entertained at cards and dancing in honor of the women. Frodoe Pedro was played. Honorary were won by Mrs. R. L. Hughes, Al

Rivers, Miss A. Consul and David Gonyea.
It is expected that the new society for the women will be organized formally within the next month. Membership will be limited at the start to relatives of members of the Red Men.

New Ball Team.

A team composed of employees of the American Carbolite company is the latest to break into the baseball limelight. The team is now seeking games with any other amateur nine organized among the factories of the city. Games can be arranged by calling Calumet 438 any evening between 6 and 7 o'clock. The following lineup has been selected: Catcher, Butler, catcher; Ludinger, first base; Burson, second; McLellan, short; Boucks, third; Whaiten, left field; Calario, center; Nellis, right, and Grano, sub.

Guilty of Assault.

Max Lusky was found guilty of assault on Peter Dill, pump for young court yesterday afternoon. Judge Lannan sentenced him to 86 days at the work farm. Another charge, that of indecent assault on a woman, has been referred to the grand jury, and it is probable that he will have to stand trial on that charge after completing the sentence at the work farm.

McDonald-Wright.

Miss Daisy McDonald of Washburn, Wis., and Theodore J. Wright of West Duluth were married yesterday noon by Rev. W. L. Staub, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, at his rooms, 302 North Central avenue. They were attended by Miss Mary Doane and Sigurd Wold. Mr. and Mrs. Wright left last evening for a month's wedding trip. They will reside in this end of the city.

MILK DOMINATES

"Sixteen per cent of the total daily American diet consists of milk or milk products," quoting a recent report of government investigators.

And milk not only dominates in point of quantity consumed but it far outstrips all other foods in health-giving and strength-building properties, compared price for price.
You know that you pay much less for a quart of our pure pasteurized milk than you do for eight eggs, yet the quart of milk equals the eggs in food value. When you buy food you purchase fuel energy or heat units, as they are known, and when in milk there are more heat units, more energy, and more of the elements of a complete food than in any other article at the same price, why not "EAT MORE MILK?"

Every modern device for the sterilizing of utensils and the pasteurization of milk is operated in our modern sanitary plant. You can eat and drink our milk in generous quantities freely and safely.

FEW MOURNERS OVER ENDING OF MINNESOTA LEGISLATURE

HOUSE WORST IN HISTORY

Lack of Organization Principal Cause of Its Failure.

Senate Best That Has Been Seen in Many Years.

By a Staff Correspondent.
St. Paul, Minn., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mourners over the fact that the thirty-ninth session of the Minnesota legislature has ended seem scarce.

If there is a single mourner, his wall is not heard.

It was, on the whole, the most purposeless, aimless, orderless, footless session the Minnesota legislature ever has seen.

One good it did—or should do: it should still for some time to come the agitation for a one-chamber legislature.

If Minnesota had a one-chamber legislative system, and the one chamber were filled by a body as the present unlamented house of representatives, there is hardly any action that could not befall it, or that might not befall it.

Nothing would be safe.

Worst House on Record.
For while the session showed that the senate is the best that has sat in the statehouse for many years, it also showed that the house is undoubtedly the worst house that has been elected in as far back as the memory of the living goes.

That is the cold, calm judgment of virtually everybody who has had any legislative experience at all. The house was a formless, aimless, purposeless mass, surging now this way and then that way, responding readily to the urging of the crafty, easily swayed by momentary passions—about as logical and systematic in its actions as a mad elephant in a jungle.

What was the matter with the house? Too big, for one thing. It had 130 members, and that's twice too many. Too many orators, for another; but there seems no way to prevent that plague.

Manifest carelessness on the part of the people in picking their lawmakers. That, of course, is fundamental. There actually were members of the house who were mentally subnormal—in other words, lacked the capacity to do the work of a legislator.

WHAT WAS DONE BY LEGISLATURE.

Passed a county option law.
Provided for a budget system of making appropriation estimates before legislature meets.
Passed Minnesota bill giving state railroad and warehouse commission power to regulate telephone rates and service.
Created women's reformatory as a new state institution.
Passed "road house" bill prohibiting issuance of saloon licenses outside cities and villages.
Repealed the Elwell road law applying to roads outside cities.
Amended workmen's compensation law as agreed to between representatives of capital and labor.
Amended Dunn road law in minor particulars.
Required public service corporations to pay employees semi-monthly.
Passed enabling act permitting negotiations for a new Minneapolis street railway franchise.
Submitted initiative and referendum amendment to the voters again.
Resubmitted "revolving fund" amendment to state Constitution.
Gave insurance commissioner supervision of fire insurance rating bureaus and right to change rates found unfair or discriminatory.
Passed statute "widow teachers' pension law."
Abolished "second choice" feature of primary election law.
Amended presidential preference primary law to give direct vote on candidates for president.
Revised schedule for state aid to public schools.
Created game and fish commissioner with full power over department, superseding former commission of five.
Submitted amendment increasing supreme court to seven members.
Passed a stringent law governing the sale of narcotics.
Abolished fees for inspection of weights and measures by state.
Amended Cashman distance tariff law, making Twin Cities one terminal.
Created an interim commission on efficiency and economy.
Reduced the state tax levy.
Appropriated $17,910,000 for various purposes.
Eliminated supreme court from new historical society building and permitted selection of new site.
Legalized ten-round boxing contests under supervision of a state athletic commission.

MEASURES THAT FAILED TO PASS.

Efficiency and economy commission's bill reorganizing state civil administration.
Woman suffrage amendment to the state Constitution.
Prohibition, statutory and constitutional.
Restoration of capital punishment as first degree murder penalty.
State census.
St. Louis county division into two counties.
Constitutional convention to revise organic law.
Recall amendment to the state Constitution.
"Blue sky" legislation to regulate sale of securities.
Bill aimed at trading in grain "futures" in Minnesota.
Legalizing party conventions to recommend candidates for primaries.
Bill amending the Minneapolis union station act passed by 1913 legislature.
Abolishing state tuberculosis sanatorium commission.
Abolishing state fire marshal's office.
Abolishing the oil inspection department of the state government.
Placing care of capitol buildings under state board of control.
Bill to prohibit linking of university medical school with Mayo foundation.
Repeal of Minneapolis civil service law, killed in senate.
Amendment of Minneapolis civil service law, lost in house.
Anti-tipping bill.
Minneapolis housing act, desired by Civic and Commerce association.
Abolishing hotel inspection department. (Vetoed.)
"Blue milk" bill, reducing butter fat standard of milk.
Limiting extravagant expenditures of iron range cities.

spacious members of the senate. Senator Peterson was particularly effective in putting through the measures he started after, and Senator Adams did important work in handling the local legislative matters. Senator Jones, a Socialist, was of course rather a party by himself, but his unfailing good humor made of him a valuable asset to the house members.

The house members, Representatives North, Ribbenack, Nelson, Bernard, Horgensen and Woodruff, of two Harbors, were untiring and active in the interests of St. Louis county and Duluth.

McGarry's Great Record.
Senator P. H. McGarry, of Walker, made an unusual record. He put through every measure he introduced and in not a single instance was there a vote against one of his bills in the senate; and this includes the reclamation revolving fund amendment.

Representative C. M. Bendixen of Redwood county, one of the oldest members of the house in point of service, proved himself during the session to be a most valuable member. Being himself an active farmer, he knows the needs and desires of the rural communities and he rendered valuable service in protecting and promoting their interests. He did not confine himself to the interests of the farmers, however, but participated in the discussion on many important statewide subjects, and was one of the most effective defenders of the state treasury. He was respected by his fellow members for his honesty and sincerity.

TWO AITKIN WEDDINGS.

Rev. A. L. Richardson Makes Two Young Couples Happy.
Aitkin, Minn., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ralph Denison and Miss Margaret Austin, both of Aitkin county, were married Wednesday afternoon at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. A. L. Richardson officiating. The attendants were Miss Maize Pringle and Ardis Pearce, a brother of the bride. The young people will make their home at East Lake.

A quiet wedding took place Wednesday evening at the Methodist parsonage when Rev. A. L. Richardson married Earl Cowan and Miss Electa Outback, both well known young people of Aitkin. They will make their home here.

GIRL ESCAPES ABDUCTORS.

Fights Off Attempts to Kidnap Her at Bismarck.
Bismarck, N. D., April 23.—An attempt to kidnap Hazel Thompson, formerly of Austin, Minn., resulted in the issuance of a John Doe warrant for an unidentified man and woman. Miss Thompson, who is 17, lives here with her brother and is attending school at Bismarck. A call came to the schoolhouse that her sister-in-law had suffered a serious accident and when she went outside an automobile was waiting.

Miss Thompson recognized the driver as a stranger who had attempted to force his attentions on her at Austin several months ago, and made an effort to leave the machine, but was held by both the man and woman. She used her hands so effectively upon her captors that she was allowed to escape.

The story of an accident to her sister-in-law was a fake. It has been impossible to locate the persons attempting the abduction.

BUTTER AND EGG MEN OF STATE WILL MEET.

St. Paul, Minn., April 23.—John J. Farrell, dairy and food commissioner, will be one of the chief speakers to the annual meeting here of the Minnesota Butter and Egg Trade association, April 29, at the Ryan hotel. The meeting will be an all-day session to be followed by a banquet. Ross A. Gamble and Harry A. Balluff, both of Minneapolis, are president and secretary of the association, which was formed in 1912.

Arrested on Utah Charge.
Albert Lee, Minn. April 23.—In response to a telegram from the sheriff at Lake City, Sheriff Peter Fosco caused the arrest of a Greek who is charged with murder in the first degree. It is said that he killed one of his fellow workmen in the western city several months ago.

TRACK MEET SCHEDULED

Sunday School League Will Hold Annual Competition.

Plans Also Being Made for Forming Baseball League.

The date of the second annual indoor meet of the Sunday School League was given out yesterday, the officials of that organization selecting Friday, April 23, as the day of the track and field meet of the kids.

Under the rules for running the competition any church in the city may enter a track team. Six schools of the city are getting their candidates in condition for the meet.

Last year the largest indoor track and field meet in Duluth was held at the city was that of the Sunday School League. The meet scheduled for the present month, according to the statement of its officials, will be even larger than the one of last year.

J. R. Batchelor is president of the league. H. Wallgren, vice president; Jack Shields, secretary; assistant secretary, Nels Neander; and Herbert Grant, treasurer.

It was also announced that a baseball league is to be organized later in the season.

Following is the list of events on the program, entries for which will close April 23:

Creamettes
Cooks in one-third the time

If you like macaroni, you will like Creamettes. The real difference is that Creamettes is more tender, has a rich new flavor of its own, and cooks in a much shorter time. Ordinary macaroni, as you know, takes from 30 to 35 minutes to cook. Creamettes cooks in from 5 to 8 minutes.

Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, or with nuts.

Mother's Macaroni Co., MINNEAPOLIS

CONSOLIDATION IS APPROVED

Wisconsin Assembly Would Combine Fire Marshal With Insurance Department.

Madison, Wis., April 23.—Consolidation of the state fire marshal's office with the state insurance department, as recommended by the investigating committee of the legislature, was overwhelmingly favored by the lower house today, the vote standing 88 to 2 for enactment of the bill.
Senate action today included endorsement of bills relieving Milwaukee hotel denied license under the Baker law. Final enactment of the bill requiring citizenship for applicants for hunting licenses and the advancement of an assembly bill requiring deputy sheriffs and police officers to be residents for at least ninety days to avoid such situations as arose during the mining trouble in Colorado.
Senate committees recommended passage of the Bennett bill on the eugenics law amended to include women, striking out requirement of detailed examinations and cutting the fee from $5 to $2; and the Ackley bill against independent candidates running on the same election tickets with party candidates.
Bills for state regulation of fire insurance rates; one day's rest in seven; abolishing the state boxing commission; and permitting the social Democratic party to change its name to Socialist party, went over in the senate until next week.
The assembly killed measures for the suppression of further publication of the vice committee's report and for the installation of an electrical device to call the roll in the legislature.
The assembly committee on elections recommended for concurrence the "Ann" or second choice law and reported indefinite postponement for a bill to repeal the Milwaukee non-partisan election law.

Paul Deery in the Wide World Magazine, I have often plunged into the waters of the Tuya, a fairly large river which flows into the Gulf of Panama after having traversed immense stretches of impenetrable forests. Regularly a score or so of alligators assisted at our gambols, at a distance of look upon them as quite harmless. After an absence of two years I returned and in two neighboring villages found the inhabitants terrified. No fall; no venture the river at night; daylight, to cross the stream in the narrow canoes which are used by the natives to carry bananas and vegetables from their plantations. The cause of this terror, I discovered, was an alligator that had devoured thirty persons in less than two months. Thirty persons—and the people of the villages together only numbered two hundred and ten. After a series of fruitless attempts, a baited hook capturing the brute with which we fastened half a pig. The creature was close always to the long. He was so old that seaweed and scales, and he presented the appearance of a tree-trunk that had been a long time submerged. He was, we estimated, more than a hundred years old.

THE LAST DISCOY.
Philadelphia Public Ledger: On the occasion of a mayoral banquet in a small provincial town one of the last for his coat and hat. He couldn't help noticing the weebegone look on the attendant's face. He couldn't help feeling worried and sad, and every little while he sighed and muttered to himself.
"You seem upset," remarked the guest sympathetically.
"I am upset, sir," said the attendant. "What is the trouble? Haven't the guests tipped you well tonight?"
The attendant answered in an excited voice:
"It's not only, sir, that they haven't tipped me, but they've taken a quarter dollar that I put on the tray for a decoy."

DEAN SWIFT AND ASPARAGUS.
Westminster Gazette: Although asparagus is one of our native British plants, gourmets can possibly claim "tercentenary" for a vegetable which did not become fashionable before the seventeenth century. One of the first literary allusions to this is by Dean Swift, who told Stella that King William taught him "the Dutch way of eating asparagus." What "the Dutch way" was is not clear, but it is certain that the Dublin publisher, died with Swift, for a second helping of asparagus. The "terrible" dean pointed to his guest's plate, and said: "Sir, the asparagus is in the dish before you." "What?" exclaimed Faulkner, "eat the stalks or you will have no more. King William taught me the third way of eating asparagus." Asked afterward when telling the story whether he did eat the stalks, Faulkner replied: "Yes, certainly, and if you had dined with Dean Swift you would have been obliged to eat your stalks, too."

Meadville, Pa., April 23.—Andrew Carnegie will lay the corner stone of the new Carnegie hall of chemistry at Allegheny college in this city during the celebration of the centennial of the college, June 19 to 24. Mr. Carnegie, who has donated $40,000 toward the $75,000 structure which is to replace the chemical laboratory recently destroyed by fire, was invited by the trustees of Allegheny college to come and lay the corner stone and has accepted. He may be accompanied by Mrs. Carnegie and both will participate in the many social events which will mark the centennial of the second college. Bentley hall, whose corner stone was laid ninety-five years ago, five years after the college was founded, it is one of the finest specimens of colonial architecture in Pennsylvania. The college has twelve buildings but "Old Bentley" is still the pride of the campus. In its halls have walked as students noted bishops, such as Matthew Simpson, Calvin Kingsley, James William McKimley, such authors as Ida M. Tarbell, Frederick Palmer and Frederick C. Howe.

The letters she wrote to her mother and sisters from Hurly-burly House, as she called the hospital, were gathered into a book in 1887 and gave her the first real encouragement as a writer. Previously all her stories had been of a sensational nature, of no permanent merit. Out of her war experiences was first revealed her power of sketching life which to many would seem commonplace, and by her genial humor making it as all interesting and full of charm as fiction.

"Who have come?" The rebels asked Nurse Tribulation Periwinkle, as Miss Alcott refers to herself in the book. She had been a nurse for three days and sprang up in her bed prepared to face the enemy when her roommate spoke, assuringly:
"Bless you, no, child; it's the wounded from Fredericksburg; forty ambulances are at the door, and we shall have our hands full in fifteen minutes."

LOUISA M. ALCOTT ONCE A WAR NURSE

Kansas City Star: One does not think of Louisa May Alcott as a war nurse. Between the simple, jolly home life in the little brown house which she depicted in "Little Women" and a hospital full of wounded and dying soldiers there are many miles—as many as from Concord to Washington, where for a month Miss Alcott washed, dressed and nursed the cripples from the front of the battle for the Union.
The letters she wrote to her mother and sisters from Hurly-burly House, as she called the hospital, were gathered into a book in 1887 and gave her the first real encouragement as a writer. Previously all her stories had been of a sensational nature, of no permanent merit. Out of her war experiences was first revealed her power of sketching life which to many would seem commonplace, and by her genial humor making it as all interesting and full of charm as fiction.
The Wounded from Fredericksburg.
"They've come! They've come! Hurry up, ladies, you're wanted!"
"Who have come?" The rebels asked Nurse Tribulation Periwinkle, as Miss Alcott refers to herself in the book. She had been a nurse for three days and sprang up in her bed prepared to face the enemy when her roommate spoke, assuringly:
"Bless you, no, child; it's the wounded from Fredericksburg; forty ambulances are at the door, and we shall have our hands full in fifteen minutes."
"Round the great stove," she wrote, "was gathered the dreariest group I ever saw—ragged, gaunt and pale, mud to the knees, with bloody bandages untouched since put on days before; many bundled up in blankets, coats being lost or useless, and all wearing that disheartened look which proclaimed defeat, more plainly than any telegram of the Burris disaster.

Smiles from the Wounded.
Upon being admonished by the superintendent to wash her charges as fast as possible, she set in. Of this she wrote:

"If she had requested me to shave them all, or dance a hornpipe on the spot, I should have been less staggered; but to scrub some dozens of the lords of creation at a moment's notice was really—really. How, ever, there was no time for nonsense, and, having resolved when I came to do everything I was bid, I drowned my scruple in my wash bowl, clutched my soap manfully, and, assuming a business-like air, made a dab at the first specimen I saw, bent on performing my task to the utmost of my power. I glanced to light on a withered old Irishman, wounded in the head, which caused that portion of his frame to be tastefully laid out like a garden, the bandages being the walks, his hair the shrubbery."

"May Your Bed Be Any, Darling?"
He was so overpowered by the horror of having a lady wash him, as he expressed it, that he did nothing but roll up his eyes, and bless me in an irresistible style which was too much for my sense of the ludicrous. We laughed together, and when I knelt down to take off his shoes, he "hopped" them dirty craters. "May your bed be any, darling, for the day's work ye are done! Whooosh! there ye are, and dead, it's hard telling which is the dirtiest, the fut or the shoe."
"It was, and if he hadn't been to the fore, I should have gone on pulling under the impression that the 'fut' was a boot, for trousers, socks, shoes and legs were a mass of mud."
"This comical tableau produced a general grin, at which propitious beginning I took heart and scrubbed away like any tidy parent on a Saturday night."

"Some of them took the performance like sleepy children, leaning their tired heads against me as I worked; others looked grimly scowled at several of the roughest colored little bashful girls. One wore a soiled little bag about his neck, and as I moved it to bathe his wounded breast, I said:

A Sweetheart's Regret.
"Your talisman didn't save you, did it?"

"Well, I reckon it did, marm, for that shot would have gone a couple of inches deeper but for my old mammy's camphor bag," answered the cheerful philosopher.

"Another, with a gunshot wound through the cheek, asked for a looking glass, and when I brought one, regarded his swollen face with a dolorous expression, as he muttered:
"I vow to gosh, that's too bad! I want a bad looking chap before, and now I'm done for. Won't there be a thunderin' scar? And what on earth will Josephine Skinner say?"

"He looked up at me with his one eye so appealingly that I controlled my risibles and assured him that if Josephine was a girl of sense she would admire the honorable scar as a lasting proof that he had faced the enemy, for all women thought a wound the best decoration a brave soldier could wear. I hope Miss Skinner verified the good opinion I so rashly expressed of her, but I shall never know."

Tears in Her Suds.
The next scrubber was a nice looking lad, with a curly brown mane, honest blue eyes and a merry mouth. He lay on a bed with one leg gone and the right arm so shattered that it must evidently follow; yet the little sergeant was as merry as if his afflictions were not worth worrying over; and when a drop or two of salt water mingled with my suds at the sight of his strong young body so marred and maimed the boy looked up with a brave smile, though there was a little quiver of the lips, as he said:
"Now don't you fret yourself about me, mlas. I'm first rate here, for it's nite to lie still on this bed after knocking about in those confounded ambulances and shake what there is left of a fellow to jelly. I don't think this cleaning up a jolly thing for us, though I'm afraid I can't for you ladies."

Is this your first battle, sergeant?"
"So, miss, I've been in six scrimmages, and never got a scratch till this last one, but it's done the business pretty thoroughly for me. I should say, Lord! what a scramble there'll be for arms and legs when we old boys come out of our graves on the judgment day! Wonder if we shall get our own again? If we do my leg will have to tramp from Fredericksburg, my arm from here, I suppose, and meet my body, wherever it may be."

"The fancy seemed to tickle him mightily, for he laughed blithely, and so did I, which no doubt caused the new nurse to be regarded as a light minded sinner by the chaplain, who roamed vaguely about with his hands in his pockets, preaching resignation to cold, hungry, wounded men, and evidently feeling himself what he certainly was the wrong man in the wrong place."

Illness Ended Her Work.
As a matter of fact, Miss Alcott, writing so bravely of hospital life, fell under this exact accusation of light mindedness and lack of reverence from some of her straight-laced readers. There is little to be said for her prayer and hymns, and a great deal of plain human nature. Yet one cannot feel that she lacked feeling, nor was untouched by the scenes which so often struck her innumerable sight. They are gravely written passages enough, and if soldiers can make light of their wounds, surely the fact can be recorded.

A siege of typhoid fever brought Miss Alcott's experiences as a nurse to an end after a month, and gray-haired Bronson Alcott, her father, for once became firm and carried her off home.

DAD SURVIVED THE LOSS.
Brocton Enterprise: A Brocton clubwoman was calling on a friend the other afternoon when she met the daughter of the looter came into the room. The visitor, remembering that her hostess' mother, who had been making a long visit, had returned home that day, said to the little girl:
"Well, were you sorry to have grandma go home today?"
"Yes, was," replied the girl, "very sorry. And so was mama. But I was looking at papa at the breakfast table and I couldn't see but what he was as cheerful as ever."

THE SOLDIER'S CHOICE.
National Monthly: Little Frederick is a fine, many chap and so far his overindulgent mother and father have not succeeded in spoiling him. He spends much of his time marching up and down with a fierce expression on his face.
"What are you going to be when you grow up, Frederick?" asked an admiring friend of his one day.
"Soldier, of course, was the brief reply.
"Who'd kill me?"
"The enemy, naturally."
"Then I'll be the enemy," quickly retorted the lad.

KIDNAPING OBSERVING EYE.
Philadelphia Telegraph: That the average youngster is right there with the observing eye was demonstrated by a story told at a recent banquet by Congressman Henry T. Rainey of Illinois.
Some time ago a man stood fishing for black bass on the bank of an eastern lake. Near by was a small, recently watching the maneuvers. Eventually the angler landed a bass that was paltry, short, but instead of immediately putting it back into the stream he hesitatingly looked at the fish and began to rummage through his pockets.

"Say, mister," called the boy, after a time, "don't you want me to take hold of its tail for you?"
"Take hold of its tail!" returned the angler a little savagely. "Want for?"
"Want to help ye out," was the rejoinder of the grinning boy. "Thought maybe ye was lookin' around for some way to stretch it."

PUBLIC NECESSITIES

AN EFFICIENT WANT AD service is no less a public necessity than the telephone, the telegraph or the postal system. All are savers of time, money and human energy. Whatever makes for their efficiency directly benefits the public.

As an accommodation to its patrons, The Herald accepts want advertisements over the telephone and collects for the service the following day. The continuance of this practice depends upon the co-operation of the public. Patrons are urged to pay all bills immediately on presentation as the amounts involved are usually only a few cents and too small to warrant more than one call.

WHEAT ADVANCES SHARPLY ON BIG EXPORT DEMAND

Booking of Foreign Orders and Supply Situation Bullish Factors.

Flaxseed Weakens on Lower Cables and Light Crushers' Support.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 23.—The market was strong up to the close on further export news. Good contracting in July and September wheat was reported.

May wheat closed 2 1/2c up, July 3 1/2c up and September 1 1/2c up. May durum closed 1 1/2c up and July 1 1/2c up. Oats closed unchanged at 52 1/2c and 53 1/2c. Flaxseed closed 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c.

Reports of heavy export trade with urgent inquiries from Europe, led to short advances in wheat quotations in today's market. There were advices from the seaboard to the effect that the grain had been put through yesterday afternoon. From Minneapolis came the news today that 2,000,000 bu. of wheat and flour had been sold there for export.

The supply situation in old wheat is regarded as becoming steadily more acute. It is pointed out for example, that elevator supplies at the head of the Lakes will be the lowest in years after the grain now chartered to move has been shipped out and practically no contract grade wheat will be left. At Minneapolis, wheat supplies are now down to 1,000,000 bu. as compared with 1,900,000 bu. last year.

Flaxseed showed weakness at the opening and light inquiry quotations fell 1/4c below yesterday's close. Buying was reported from Argentina with bullish sentiment out that more demand is expected in the near future. Argentine offers are being maintained at a high level, the output of wheat and flour today being reported at 1,327,000 bu. Argentina's reported wheat clearance for the week at 9,725,000 bu. May wheat opened 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and advanced 1 1/2c more, July opened 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and advanced 1 1/2c more, September closed 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c.

At Winnipeg, May wheat closed 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and July 1/2c up at 51 1/2c. Cash sales Friday: No. 1 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 2 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 3 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 4 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 5 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 6 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 7 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 8 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 9 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 10 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05.

Some Conflicting Gains and Losses Are Shown By Specialties.

New York, April 23.—Reactionary tendencies were again dominant at the opening of today's market, leading stocks as well as specialties moving contrarily. United States Steel, Anaconda Copper and Smelting were fractionally lower, while Reading and some shares of less prominence made slight gains.

At Duluth, the market was strong up to the close on further export news. Good contracting in July and September wheat was reported.

May wheat closed 2 1/2c up, July 3 1/2c up and September 1 1/2c up. May durum closed 1 1/2c up and July 1 1/2c up. Oats closed unchanged at 52 1/2c and 53 1/2c. Flaxseed closed 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c.

Reports of heavy export trade with urgent inquiries from Europe, led to short advances in wheat quotations in today's market. There were advices from the seaboard to the effect that the grain had been put through yesterday afternoon.

From Minneapolis came the news today that 2,000,000 bu. of wheat and flour had been sold there for export.

The supply situation in old wheat is regarded as becoming steadily more acute. It is pointed out for example, that elevator supplies at the head of the Lakes will be the lowest in years after the grain now chartered to move has been shipped out and practically no contract grade wheat will be left.

At Minneapolis, wheat supplies are now down to 1,000,000 bu. as compared with 1,900,000 bu. last year.

Flaxseed showed weakness at the opening and light inquiry quotations fell 1/4c below yesterday's close. Buying was reported from Argentina with bullish sentiment out that more demand is expected in the near future.

Argentine offers are being maintained at a high level, the output of wheat and flour today being reported at 1,327,000 bu. Argentina's reported wheat clearance for the week at 9,725,000 bu.

May wheat opened 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and advanced 1 1/2c more, July opened 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and advanced 1 1/2c more, September closed 1 1/2c up at 51 1/2c.

At Winnipeg, May wheat closed 1/2c up at 51 1/2c and July 1/2c up at 51 1/2c. Cash sales Friday: No. 1 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 2 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 3 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 4 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 5 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 6 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 7 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 8 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 9 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05; No. 10 northern wheat, 500 bu. to arrive, 1.05.

DESKER E BATTLE SUDDENLY COMMITTEE TO RECALL
J. D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., TO EXPLAIN NEW EVIDENCE

Chairman Walsh to Reopen Hearing on Colorado Coal Strike.

Correspondence Just Obtained Throws New Light on Matter.

Shows Rockefeller Were in Constant Touch With Situation.

Kansas City, Mo., April 24.—Information contained in letters and telegrams passing between John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and officers of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, made public here by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the Federal Industrial relations committee, caused Mr. Walsh to announce that the hearing concerning the coal miners strike in Colorado would be reopened and Mr. Rockefeller recalled to the witness stand.

Besides Mr. Rockefeller, there will be called to testify J. F. Wellborn, president of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company; L. M. Bowers, chairman of the company's executive committee, and Ivy Lee, Mr. Rockefeller's publicity agent. The hearing will open in Washington, May 4, Mr. Walsh said. The correspondence was obtained by Mr. Walsh from Mr. Rockefeller's New York office in compliance with a demand of the commission. It was not forthcoming, Mr. Walsh announced, in time for its contents to be used at the recent hearing in New York and he considered the information contained in it of a character to warrant the reopening of the hearing.

Rockefeller in Constant Touch.
The commission has today made as a part of its record, Mr. Walsh said, a mass of correspondence, not only showing that the Rockefeller were in constant touch with every phase of the Colorado strike situation, but they knew the strike was coming and were prepared for it.

Mr. Rockefeller testified at the hearing of the commission in New York and also before the congressional investigating committee, that he kept his hands off the strike situation and had no knowledge of conditions in the coal fields.

The letters and telegrams which we have today in the record, make it plain that every step taken by the Rockefeller agents in Colorado in the strike, Mr. Rockefeller's knowledge and assent of Mr. Rockefeller's office in New York, Bowers indicates in some particular speculations.

SUCCESSFUL ATTACK
BY CANADIAN TROOPS

British War Office Reports Splendid Work By Men From Dominion.

London, April 24.—The war office today gave out the following official note:

"The fight for the ground into which the Germans penetrated between Steenstraete and Langemarck still continues. The loss of this part of the line laid bare the left of the Canadian troops which was forced to fall back in order to keep in touch with the right of the neighboring troops."
"In the rear of the latter had been four Canadian battalions, which, after passing into the hands of the enemy, but some hours later the Canadians made a most brilliant and successful advance, recapturing these guns and taking a considerable number of German prisoners, including a colonel."

LONE ROBBER BLOWS SAFE IN EXPRESS CAR

Overcomes Two Men and Secures $50 and Some Jewelry.

St. Louis, Mo., April 24.—An express safe was dynamited and Peter Mossey of New Orleans, baggage master, was shot and seriously wounded by a bandit on Louisville & Nashville passenger Train No. 1, southbound from Cincinnati, last night. The bandit obtained a package containing $50 and a small package of jewelry, escaping when the train reduced its speed at the outskirts of New Orleans.

According to Mossey and the express messenger, the man, masked, entered the combination baggage and express car from a passenger train which had just arrived at the station. The baggage master tried to reach a pistol in his pocket and was shot in the chest by the robber. Both men were then bound and feet with pieces of wire. The robber locked the car door and blew the safe.

The robbery was discovered soon after the train passed Chief Menteau, La., when trainmen and conductors looked and broke a train. No effort was made to enter, however, and the robber jumped from the train when it slowed down for a crossing. Then the trainmen fired at him. The police arrested a suspect Harry Lester, who claims to be from St. Louis.

ONE OF LEADING COMMANDERS OF LORD KITCHENER'S FORCES

SIR GEN. BRUCE HAMILTON.

Lieut.-Gen. Sir Bruce Hamilton is one of the principal commanders of Kitchener's army in France. Until the beginning of the war he was in command in Scotland. He entered the army in 1877 when 20 years old and served in the Afghan war, the Boer war, at Durban and Ashanti, etc. He has been decorated several times.

PUBLICITY ESSENTIAL

Secretary Bryan Says It Is Necessary to Honest Government.

"People's Business Should Be Always Open to Public View."

Baltimore, Md., April 24.—Publicity is as essential to honest administration of the government as freedom of speech is to representative government, Secretary of State Bryan told members of the City club today. "The government being the people's business," he said, "it necessarily follows that its operations should be at all times open to the public view."

Governments approach perfection, the secretary declared, in so far as they are co-operative. "In proportion as they adjust with justice the joint burdens which it is necessary to impose on the citizen, the more equal the mental benefits which come from the disbursement of the money raised by taxation."

Secretary Bryan speaks for the new voter, but he also discussed the duty of every citizen which, he said, was "to exert himself to the utmost to reform every abuse of government, remembering that abuses and evils are more easily corrected in their beginning than when they have become fully established."

Gettysburg speech appealing to his countrymen to consecrate themselves to the unflinching task that lay before them, that a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people, might not perish from the earth."

SWOBODA ADMITS HE IS GERMAN SUBJECT

French Inquiry Reveals That He Was a Convict at One Time.

Paris, April 24.—Raymond Ruff Schwind, who has gone under the name of Raymond Swoboda, now admits that he is a German subject, according to the Matin. The inquiry conducted by Major Julien of the Paris permanent court-martial has revealed that Schwind was sentenced at Shanghai several years ago by the German consular court to two years' imprisonment. He is said to have been transferred from China to Germany where he served his sentence. The Matin asserts Schwind was unable to deny that he had been in prison.

Schwind, who claimed to be an American citizen, was arrested on a plea of being responsible for the fire aboard the steamship La Touraine, but this charge against him has been dropped, although he is still accused of espionage by the military authorities.

NEW QUERIES ARE PREPARED

Counsel for Barnes Take Advantage of Week-End Recess.

Expect to Finish Cross-Examination of Roosevelt Monday.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 24.—Counsel for William Barnes, in his suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt, took advantage of the week-end recess of the supreme court today to compile a series of additional questions to put to the former president when his cross examination is resumed on Monday.

Many of the questions agreed upon have to do with events leading to the establishment by the colonel of the Progressive party.

William M. Evans, chief counsel for Mr. Barnes, said he expected to finish with Col. Roosevelt sometime Monday. The colonel will then give additional testimony on re-direct examination. This may keep him on the stand until Tuesday.

The Roosevelt attorneys received information that all members of the legislature who voted against the Hughes direct primary bill and other measures cited by Col. Roosevelt as instances where machine Democrats and machine Republicans combined to defeat legislation he considered good, were to be subpoenaed. By these witnesses the plaintiff, it is said, hopes to prove that their action was voluntary and that they were not forced into alliance by party leaders.

EQUITY CO-OPERATIVE EXCHANGE ATTACKED

Attorney General of North Dakota Would Annul Its Charter.

Fargo, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annulment of its charter, the removal of its officials and the appointment of a receiver for the Equity Co-operative exchange of Fargo, St. Paul and Superior is asked by Attorney General Linde of this state in a suit filed before the district court last night. Similar action will probably be taken in the courts of Minnesota and Wisconsin and later it is reported that the case may be presented to the United States court for criminal prosecutions.

What is Alleged.
The allegations are numerous and are backed by fifty-four affidavits. These charge fraudulent practices by the exchange; false reports of sales and prices; sales to fictitious persons; fraudulent claims; double and triple commissions; sales made at 4 and 5 percent; that capital stock of the company had been dissipated and the exchange is practically insolvent; that the books are not retained at Fargo, supposed to be the head office of the company; that the terms of its charter have been violated; that the business is not conducted through directors according to law but through an unauthorized executive committee and extraordinary powers were illegally granted to George S. Loftus, its sales manager. Delays reports on shipments and other charges also are made. Judge Pollock set the hearing for May 18.

TURKISH PASHA WHO ASPIRES TO THE THRONE OF ALBANIA

ESSAD PASHA.

Essad Pasha is the Turkish aspirant to the throne of Albania. He refused to accept the rule of the prince of Wied when he was sent to Albania by Germany and was conducting operations against him when the prince fled to his native land.

PART OF EMDEN GREW HAS AGAIN ESCAPED

Get Away From Allied Patrol Ships and Reach Arabia.

Berlin, by wireless to London, April 24.—The crew of the German "warship" Araya, composed of men who escaped when the cruiser Emden was sunk by an Australian warship in the Indian ocean Nov. 10, have escaped again from allied patrol ships and arrived at the Arabian harbor of Lidd on March 27. They covered by sea the 300 miles from Hodeida to Lidd. After reaching the coast the sailors attempted to continue their journey overland but were attacked by Arabs, supposedly at the instigation of the English. After three days' stubborn fighting the attacks were repulsed and they reached the road to Hodeida where the railway was open. The adventurous Germans suffered heavy losses.

ALLIES' AEROPLANES ACTIVE OVER SMYRNA.

Paris, April 24.—The allies' aeroplanes are showing great activity over Smyrna, said a special dispatch from Saloniki. A French aviator recently dropped two bombs on Fort Kastor, killing several soldiers, another sank a German ship lying in port and a third struck the railway station. Observations made by aviators, according to the dispatch, indicate that the Turkish forces assigned for the defense of Smyrna number 35,000.

WOULD BE ASSASSIN HANGED AT CAIRO.

Cairo, April 24.—The young Egyptian merchant named Khalil, who made an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Hussein Kameel, the sultan of Egypt, at Cairo on April 8, was hanged today.

POLITICAL GARDENING.

ASPHYXIATING BOMBS USED BY GERMAN'S MAKE BREATHING DIFFICULT

Thrown at Numerous Points
During Their Attack Near Ypres.

Fumes Effective for a Distance of Nearly Two Miles.

Paris, April 24, 1:04 p. m.—The asphyxiating bombs used by the Germans in their attack near Ypres were thrown at numerous points along a front of three miles, according to information that has been brought to Paris. The contents of these missiles were largely chloride mixed with other chemicals.

The Germans threw these bombs when the wind was blowing from them in the direction of the French trenches. The fumes caused uncomfortable breathing and a smarting of the eyes at a distance of nearly two miles behind the trenches and they were so powerful that the Germans had to wait themselves a considerable time before they could occupy the evacuated trenches.

During this delay the French troops recovered from the effects of the fumes, delivered a counter-attack and regained most of the ground lost. The German supply of chloride bombs apparently had been used up in their first advance. They had no more to throw and they gave way before the resolute bayonet attack of the French. The bombs themselves are thrown by means of a hand sling, such as boys use for throwing stones.

ROAD TO FREEDOM IS AGAIN BLOCKED

New York State Enters Appeal on Thaw Decision.

New York, April 24.—Harry K. Thaw, who went to sleep in the Tombs prison last night elated by his belief that he had won his long fight for a jury trial to test his sanity, awoke today to learn that he must await a decision of the appellate division of the supreme court before such a hearing would be granted.

This new check in his attempt legally to obtain his freedom from the Matteawan asylum to which Justice Page had ordered him returned, was due to the announcement by Attorney General Woodbury that the state would make application to the appellate division for a writ of prohibition against the order for a jury trial granted yesterday by Justice Hendrick. Mr. Woodbury's decision was made public after Thaw had retired for the night. The attorney general contended that Justice Hendrick does not possess power to grant a jury trial on the writ of prohibition obtained by Thaw. The hearing before a jury had been set for May 17, but it was considered likely that it would be postponed by the state's appeal.

FINANCE MINISTER BARK.

FINANCE MINISTER BARK.

Finance Minister Bark of Russia has had the responsibility of financing the war for his country. That is, he has been entrusted with the delicate duty of getting from Russia's allies, France and Great Britain, what millions were needed for the purpose. Russia already owes France most of the money spent on the reorganization of her army since the war with Japan.

GERMANS GAIN MUCH GROUND

First Assault in Belgian Flanders Drives Allies' Lines Back.

Counter-Attack Results in Regaining Some of Lost Ground.

London, April 24.—Over an arc-like front in Belgian Flanders, which is roughly ten miles from the region in the south, French, British and Belgian troops are locked with the Germans today in a series of engagements which recall the fighting of last October.

Driven from Hill No. 60, to the south of Ypres, and failing to retake it by a counter-attack, the Germans launched a sudden advance northeast of the town, and after superfluous and killing men in the first trenches with dozens of casualties, according to British official reports, they drove a wedge of the line forward, forcing the French and Belgians back toward, and at some points apparently across, the Ypres canal, a maneuver which at the same time compelled the British line north of Ypres to fall back to conform with the French.

Although the advance of the Germans was considerable, extending, according to Berlin dispatches, over a front of five miles, French, Belgian and British forces in the Ypres region, in the center, the Belgians the left and the British the right of the line—immediately initiated a counter-attack, the result of which was to compel the Germans to give up some of the ground they had taken and force them in a northeasterly direction toward Langemark, from which place the attack started.

To Break Through to Calais.
Some of the London newspapers today characterize this German rush as another attempt to break through to Calais, and some estimates say they have 600,000 men available for this effort.

By this time the British are presumably well strengthened and have consolidated their position on Hill No. 60. The hardest fighting, consequently, is expected north of Ypres.

Just as the Germans have been battering the Ypres salient held by the allies, so the French continue their pressure at St. Mihiel with some success.

HEAD OF THE MARCONI WIRELESS IN NEW YORK

New York, April 24.—G. Marconi, head of the Marconi wireless stations and now an Italian senator, arrived here today from Liverpool on the steamship Lusitania. He said he came to inspect the Marconi wireless stations and that his stay would depend on Italy's action in the European situation. Should the U. S. go to war, he would promptly return, he said.

Makes New Record.
Pensacola, Fla., April 24.—A new world's record altitude, flight of 10,000 feet in a hydroaeroplane was made here yesterday by Lieut. P. N. L. Bellinger today from Liverpool on the steamship Lusitania. He said he came to inspect the Marconi wireless stations and that his stay would depend on Italy's action in the European situation. Should the U. S. go to war, he would promptly return, he said.

to Be the Capture of Ypres.

The new battle in Belgium, which has developed suddenly into one of the most important encounters in the west since the present battle line was formed, is being carried on by a relentless German attack and a determined resistance on the part of the allies. It is now apparent that the Germans have brought up heavy reinforcements for this attack, and it is suggested in London that their main objective is the capture of Ypres, preliminary to another attempt to break through to the English channel.

Berlin is elated at the German victory and newspapers there say that it even the score for the British capture of Neuve Chapelle last month.

Aviators of the allies operating over Smyrna report that the Turks are defending the city with 35,000 troops, established in trenches. A German steamer was sunk and two men in a Turkish fort were killed by bombs dropped from the aeroplanes.

Stockholm, April 24, via London.—The Finnish steamer Frack has been torpedoed and sunk in the Baltic by a German submarine. It is believed that the members of her crew were saved. The Frack carried a cargo of iron ore and was on her way to Abo, Finland.

Ruth Sent to Bottom.

London, April 24.—The freighter Ruth was sunk by a German submarine on Wednesday when about 100 miles east of May Island, in the North Sea. The crew was rescued and was landed at Leith, Scotland.

The Ruth left Leith with a cargo of coal for Gothenburg. Capt. Andersen, her skipper, who is a Swede, reports that the first torpedo discharged by the submarine missed its mark. The second torpedo struck the Ruth amidships, wrecking the vessel.

The sixteen members of the crew were all Swedes. They drifted about in small boats for twelve hours before being picked up.

RELIEF WORK PROGRESSING

Charitable Institutions Are Co-operating.

Fourteen Bodies Recovered From Texas Flood and Eleven Missing.

Austin, Tex., April 24.—Flood relief work today proceeded rapidly under clear skies, with city authorities, churches and charitable institutions co-operating.

Danger of a repetition of Thursday night's tragedy apparently has passed. Revised list of the drowned and the missing today gave the number of drowned, whose bodies have been recovered as fourteen, and the number of missing, believed drowned, as eleven. Fear also is felt that the family of five Syrians, who resided in the flood zone, also have perished.

Railway service was resumed partly today, and salvaging of scores of wrecked houses begun. City officials estimate the loss of streets and bridges at $200,000 and the total loss at approximately $1,000,000.

Filling Hospital.
Houston, Tex., April 24.—While railway service was demoralized, washouts were numerous and all South Texas streams were rising rapidly, there was a feeling of hopefulness today that nothing approximating the calamity of 1913 would be witnessed. The sun shone intermittently and rain today were largely local.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Students Will Try Out for Declamation Honors in Preliminary Contest; Work in Agriculture Increases Out of Doors; Greenhouse Results Good; Play is Chosen for Benefit; Preparations for Commencement Week.

During the coming week the students of Central high school will contest for the honors of school representatives in oratory and declamation, preliminary to the interscholastic Wallace cup contest, May 14. From each of Superior Central, Nelson-Dewey high, Denfeld high and Duluth Central, one representative in each division will be chosen. Next week Central will choose her two speakers.

A preliminary contest to select four in declamation will be held Monday afternoon, while the contest to name four in oratory will take place on the following afternoon. The four who won on Monday will appear in chapel Wednesday to contest for the honor of school representative in declamation. The four who finished highest on Tuesday afternoon will attempt to win the honor of school representative in oratory during chapel on Friday.

The winners in each division will then be coached and drilled by Prof. Null for the interscholastic contest of May 14. The place for this has not yet been definitely decided upon. If Denfeld wishes it, they may have it; otherwise it will take place in the auditorium of the local Central high. The school that wins the cup the greatest number of times in ten years takes permanent possession of it. Thus far Superior and Duluth Centrals have been the only schools to win, the former institution claiming the greatest number of successes.

Those who have entered their names for the tryouts have been working hard for some time. Those who will be in the preliminaries are: Irving Grover, Albert Armstrong, Max Goldberg, Emanuel Cook, Glen Pearson, Earl Hanson, Ruth Strickland, Evangeline Trelander, Lillian Brown, Roberta Ritchie and Frances Pond.

Outdoor activity will be more in prominence in the school agricultural work from now on. The greenhouse, nevertheless, is still the cause of con-club reorganized, the membership will be reorganized. It should be one of the students in the club.

Although the close of school is not far off, several important events will be on the list of Lumber club activities. The most important matter decided upon at the meeting yesterday was the decision regarding the next benefit night to be held at the Lyceum. It had originally been decided to present the trial scene from Dickens' "Pickwick Papers." Owing to dissatisfaction on the part of several members, this decision was changed. The boys had asked Joseph De Stefan of the Baldwin Players to coach the play, but as he will leave Duluth very soon, he cannot be obtained. The power to choose a play was invested with L. C. Rasey, the advisor of the club. "The Great Case of Guff vs. Muff" was decided upon by Mr. Rasey and the club. The cast of characters picked. The club voted to accept Mr. Rasey's selection. During the chapel period Wednesday morning the financial proceeds gained from the sale of tickets for the annual senior class play, held Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. A total of $710 was realized from the play. The proceeds from the play were used for expenses, leaving nearly $600 as clear profit. Prizes of $5, $3 and $1 were awarded to those selling the greatest number of tickets. The prizes were awarded to Eugene Mann, who sold $58 worth; Gladys Annand, $55, and Margaret Smith, $53. Each one of these prizes was accompanied by two complimentary tickets.

Those of the senior class who have intentions of going away to school next year had their certificates filled out during the last week. Miss Taylor emphasized the importance of having this done, and as a result several fourth-year students responded.

The girls of the junior and senior classes enjoyed a talk with lantern slides on "The University of Minnesota," given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Arthur T. Dismore. This address was included in the program of the Association of Collegiate Alumni, in aiding girls of the high schools to make a decision as to the college to attend after graduation. Talks on other schools will be given in the near future.

The seniors will hold one of their most important meetings of the year next Monday afternoon in the assembly hall. Several questions of great importance will be taken up at that time, among them those connected with the spring commencement and graduation exercises. Because this meeting concerns all seniors, a full attendance is urged.

Orders for the commencement invitations will be taken next week, when the members of the committee will canvass the senior session rooms. The money for them will also be taken at

NEW COAST GUARD LAUNCH STRONG AND SPEEDY CRAFT

NEW COAST GUARD LAUNCH.

The new launch received this spring by the coast guard station here, is, as yet unnamed, but that deficiency is expected to be supplied by Supervisor Kimball before long. The craft is a beauty and is built for both speed and endurance. She is thirty-five feet long, has a beam of six feet, and she is equipped with a 45-horse power engine. The launch, which will be used for harbor rescue work, can make, under favorable conditions, twenty miles an hour, and Capt. M. A. McLennan, in charge of the coast guard here, looks upon the new boat as a very important addition to the station's equipment. The coast guard has had no calls for assistance so far this year, so the launch has not yet been called on to show herself in service.

that time. This committee is in charge of Stanley Laskey.

During the chapel period yesterday morning, President Thorp challenged the senior class to a game of indoor baseball. This defy was accepted by President Zuger of the fourth-year class. The contest will be played next week. The juniors wished to get revenge for their basket ball defeat, and because the seniors had been beaten by the faculty aggregation, the third year men believed that this would be an easy chance to get even. At a meeting of the junior enthusiasts yesterday, "Habe" Mason was chosen to captain the team that will contest with the seniors. The junior squad will practice in the Washington gymnasium following the close of school Monday. There are several exceptional players in the third-year class, and a strong team should be developed. The seniors will not find it as easy as the faculty did. The seniors will take no chances this time and the game should be a hard one. It is rumored that the winner of this game will challenge the faculty warriors to an outdoor game.

The Central and Denfeld debating teams met Friday evening in the first clash between these two teams in the auditorium of the Denfeld school. The question will be "Resolved, That the present armament of the United States is insufficient." Denfeld will assume the affirmative. The Central team has as its speakers, Vincent Grover, Jacob Garon and Max Goldberg.

ASKS NEW TRIAL IN M'ALPINE ACTION

Case Involves $50,000 Insurance Policy Held By Widow.

Appearing before Judge Cant in district court this morning, Attorneys A. E. McManus of this city and W. M. Steele of Superior presented argument in support of a motion for a new trial in the McAlpine insurance suit, which was tried last September. The case is one in which Mrs. Sarah McAlpine sued the Fidelity and Casualty company of New York to recover $50,000 on an accident policy carried by her husband, the late John McAlpine, who was killed in a fire in the basement of his East end home on the early morning of Aug. 15, 1914. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the insurance company.

that road's line between Duluth and East Grand Forks—for its promised Sunday service. For three days the general supposition was that the Sunday service, which was withdrawn some time ago, and the disposition of which is now before the state supreme court, would go on again tomorrow, but more recently the road official withdrew that schedule and posted another one, which leaves the Sunday service on the Foston line out.

The new time schedule of the road makes only one change so far as Duluth is concerned. Beginning Monday night the train that has been leaving here for Grand Forks at 8:10 will leave ten minutes earlier and will therefore make a better connection with the coast train.

"I've been bit more than a hundred times and I do not fear the most savage dog, or any man."

That's how a resident of the West end applies for the position of chief dog catcher in a letter received by Commissioner Silberstein this morning. The applicant claims that he has worked as dog catcher in several Michigan cities and is especially trained for the work. Mr. Silberstein has taken the application under advisement.

NO MONEY FOR DECORATIONS.

Plan to Purchase Exposition Art Work Given Up By City.

Statuary and decorations from the Panama-Pacific fair at San Francisco will not be brought here at the close of the exposition.

Mayor Prince, who recently received a communication from Charles G. Moore, president of the exposition, offering to sell statuary and decorations from the fair at a nominal price, yesterday that none of the civic organizations want to enter such a proposition and in all likelihood Duluth will pass up Mr. Moore's offer. The city, however, can spend money at that time for decorations.

Mr. Moore's plan is to sell these decorations to all the municipalities of the nation to be used in public parks and squares. They are not of marble, but of a very hard composition closely imitating stone.

Change in Train Schedule.

Effective Sunday, April 25, Great Northern train No. 35 will leave Duluth at 8 p. m. for Grand Rapids, Bemidji, Crookston and Grand Forks. Instead of 8:10 p. m. as at present, connections will be made at Grand Forks with the Red Valley limited, which stops at principal stations between Grand Forks and Minot, connecting at that point with coast train No. 2 for all points west.

GRANZOW ORDERED TO PAY DAMAGES

Reversal of Decree Only Can Save Assistant Fire Chief.

Unless an order made by Judge Ensign in district court this morning is reversed in the supreme court, Frank E. Granzow, first assistant fire chief, and his chauffeur, Gerald O. Black, will be obliged to pay $725 in damages to the estate of the death of 8-year-old Alida Hubert, who was run down and killed by an automobile driven by them on May 18, 1914.

Judge Ensign this morning filed an order denying the alternative motion of the defendants for judgment, notwithstanding the verdict or for a new trial. The accident occurred on the afternoon of May 18, 1914, near the child's home, 223 Vernon street. The assistant chief and his chauffeur were returning along a third street from a fire. The child was crossing the street at the time.

Hubert, the girl's father, brought the action against the firemen as administrators of the child's estate. He sued for $5,000 damages.

SMOKER FOR ARCH MASONS.

Keystone Chapter Will Entertain Next Wednesday Night.

A smoker and entertainment will be held at the Masonic temple on Wednesday evening next under the auspices of Keystone chapter, No. 20, Royal Arch Masons.

Invitations to attend have been extended not only to members of Keystone chapter and non-affiliated Royal Arch Masons residing in the city, but also to members of the local "Blue" program will consist of musical numbers and other forms of entertainment.

Dr. John W. Hoffman and Ike Black will give short talks. The committee in charge consists of Gustav Flaten, George L. Hargraves and A. M. Frazer.

TO REGULATE PICKETING

City Attorney Will Draw Up Ordinance to Cover Case.

Forty Business Men Meet With Commissioners and Discuss Strike.

Regulation of picketing by labor unions will be the purpose of an ordinance to be drafted by Henry P. Greene, city attorney, at the request of a number of prominent Duluth business men.

About forty business men met with Mayor Prince and Commissioners Voss and Silberstein yesterday afternoon for the purpose of protesting against the picketing of union men in front of the Rex and Lyric theaters, who have been carrying on strike up and down Superior street. During the meeting resolutions were adopted, requesting the council to enact an ordinance regulating picketing in the streets. As a result Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, instructed the city attorney to prepare the ordinance for immediate introduction.

At the meeting yesterday the chairman of the pickets are becoming a nuisance and disgrace to the city. Several requested that picketing be prohibited altogether, but the city attorney explained that courts have held legitimate picketing to be the right of all unions.

The picketing of the unions is the result of a controversy between the unions and Thomas Furness, owner of the Rex and Lyric theaters, who has refused to hire union musicians and operators in his playhouses.

Among those present at the meeting yesterday were the following: H. H. Phelps, Thomas Furness, H. W. Coulter, R. E. J. Philbrick, H. W. Coulter, T. W. Hoopes, L. S. Loeb, J. C. McGreevy, A. B. Stewart, M. A. Thompson, A. C. Hubbell, G. V. Burgess, Max Shapiro, N. J. Quinn, G. A. Klein, H. V. Eya, A. C. Bouquet, Fred Buck, George Ebert, J. J. AMUSEMENTS

"IT'S A GAY LIFE, A MERRY MERRY LIFE"

Ziegfeld Follies Carry the Trenches of Dull Care at Lyceum.

"Ziegfeld's Follies" declared a blockade on Dull Care at the Lyceum last evening, torpedoed and sank the battleship Grouch, interned Remorse and the Blues and Business Depression and Hard Times, and declared a worldwide moratorium, during which all thoughts of anything but laughter and hilarity were useless.

Amid the interminable melody of the machine-making musical shows that have been shipped out of tinpan alleys of New York and Chicago, the Follies stand out like a new lighthouse in a sea of dull care. Somebody made the startling discovery that it was possible to use a little brain in a musical comedy show that was generally neither musical nor comedy. The Follies, with its full four-course dinner of entertainment, served in metropolitan style with just a sufficient hint of naughtiness to make it alluring. It played to the largest and most enthusiastic audience the Lyceum has seen in many a day, and it will be repeated this afternoon and tonight—J. E. H.

caton was excessively vulgar, of course, reprehensibly so, but most annoyingly funny. The producer wisely adopted the policy of getting the spectators "wet all over at once." The curtain rose on some costumes of the style and abbreviation that are sometimes seen through the hazy atmosphere of theaters where the men smoke. Then the spectator was used to it, and was soon lost in a whirl of color and action and movement.

The Follies is a vaudeville show de luxe, a collection of headlines of the two-day elaborately furnished with scenic settings, and served with a big, fresh, hard-working chorus on the side. The "service" is also excellent. In fact the spectator is rushed breathless through the two long acts, and is left limp from laughter, open mouthed, but enthusiastic. The whole leaves somewhat the impression of a three-ringed circus. There is almost more action, comedy and color than one can digest at one sitting.

The chief combatants in this war against Dull Care are Leon Errol, Bert Williams and Ed Wynn. Errol and Williams make a great team. When their golf game and their season on the streets of New York skyscraper are served, Wynn is a most ubiquitous, insidious clown. He sneaks up on you with his comedy, and before you know it you are laughing fatuously at his foolish hat, or a twist of his eyebrow, or some antique joke that he springs in his own inimitable way.

Bert Williams has a comedy instinct that is undeniable. Real negro comedians and imitation ones may go through the same motions, wear the same makeup and use the same lines. You will laugh uproariously, but you are bored by the other. Nobody seemed bored when Mr. Williams was occupying the stage last evening. His partner in the assault on the trenches of Dull Care is Leon Errol, who, with his intoxicated reeling, was leading the tango chorus, or, clad in his golfing costume, was learning to tee off, or, seated on a high girder, was arguing the merits of a comedy helper. He was good for about ten laughs a minute. One also suspects that in the role of stage manager he was responsible for the tempo of the entire performance. He kept the audience in a snap and a precision that denoted a master hand in charge.

On a stage nearly five feet of grace and loveliness, dances like a bit of this world. She is a vision of grace and loveliness, as unconscious of it as a child, and with a rare sense of rhythm.

Arthur Deagan's rich baritone voice seems unimpaired, and just to voice his opinion was not an insurmountable handicap. Mr. Deagan turned a hair. It was heroic. He sang "Good-bye" in a falsetto soprano. Nobody shot him, but the audience nearly tore the roof down, so he heroically presented "My Hero" as an encore, and retired with less, flushed and breathless, amid the salvos of appreciation. He hums, but a great life.

Vera Michelena's statueque charms were set off in a series of Amazon costumes that looked only subtly. They were final and convincing proof. Her voice also added much to the ensemble.

Louise Meyers, with her many bewitching little mannerisms, would have been the ingenue if there had been a plot. But what's the use? It's like trying to review a three-ringed circus. Like the vaudeville, "The Follies" has a comedy piece, a full four-course dinner of entertainment, served in metropolitan style with just a sufficient hint of naughtiness to make it alluring. It played to the largest and most enthusiastic audience the Lyceum has seen in many a day, and it will be repeated this afternoon and tonight—J. E. H.

Desperate Battle Suddenly Develops

German Statement. Berlin, April 24, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The German general headquarters today gave out the following official statement:

"Attempts made by the enemy to reconquer lost territory to the north and northeast of Ypres (Belgium) failed. The French and British attack broke down under the German fire. The number of prisoners—French, English and Belgian—rose to 2,470. In addition, a large number of machine guns and rifles and other war material were taken by the Germans. West of the Ypres canal, the Germans returned the town of Lisse.

"In the Champagne region, the Germans blasted an enemy trench. Near Beaumont, the French shelled their own trenches with artillery. The French attacks failed. The enemy, who had entered the German trenches, were ejected.

"In the Forest of Le Pretre, the Germans made progress. The enemy, who had entered the German trenches, were ejected.

"In the eastern war arena, there is no change in the situation."

French Statement. Paris, April 24, via London, 3:57 p. m.—The French war department today gave out the following official statement:

In addition, a large number of machine guns and rifles and other war material were taken by the Germans. West of the Ypres canal, the Germans returned the town of Lisse.

day gave out the following official statement:

"Supplementary reports furnish fuller particulars of the way the Germans succeeded in forcing our lines back during Thursday evening to the north of Ypres between the sea canal and the Boel Capelle road. Thick yellow smoke emitted from the German trenches and driven by northerly winds produced an effect of complete envelopment among our troops which was felt even in our second line positions.

"Counter attacks made yesterday already have enabled us to regain part of the ground lost. Our situation has been completely consolidated and our action is being carried out under good conditions with the support of the British and Belgian troops.

"The enemy made an attack at Les Eparges and another at L'ueshead, in the forest of Apremont, both of which were repulsed.

"A German attack to the south of the forest of Parroy and further attack on Reich Ackerkopf were stopped by our fire. The enemy suffered heavy losses."

German Pleas. Berlin, April 24, by wireless.—The newspapers of Berlin today express satisfaction with the outcome of the fighting at Ypres. They say that the Germans are pleased at the report of the German admiralty that the fleet has been cruising in the North sea. The Times writes that so far as it is able to recall, earlier announcements of marine activity did not speak of the "German high sea fleet" as a whole but only of parts thereof.

Other newspapers ask scornfully where the supremacy of Great Britain at sea is to be found.

that are of importance. In a letter to Mr. Rockefeller, he writes:

"The strike has brought to the front an issue which will secure the attention and I believe the co-operation of the business men of the country regardless of political affiliations—to force candidates for office come out in the open and declare their attitude toward the rights of employers and employees to run an open shop. We all know that the politicians have been giving organized labor the purpose of securing their votes. I believe there is no man in either the Democratic or Republican party who would dare come out in opposition to the open shop."

"Another amazing revelation in this correspondence is that contained in the letters exchanged by Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Lee, his publicity agent at the time governor Simmons was acting in the strike adjustment. The letters deal first with the desire and plans of the Rockefeller to get themselves rid of President Wilson. Under date of June 11, 1914, Mr. Rockefeller wrote this to Mr. Lee:

"Could He Used in Letter. "Several points in your memorandum, however, could well, even more appropriately be used in the letter from Governor Simmons to President Wilson, which you are proposing to prepare as soon as the memorandum reaches you, which I hope will be very shortly."

"We do not know what this proposed letter of this memorandum contained, but we expect to find out," Mr. Walsh said.

"A telegram from Mr. Rockefeller to Mr. Bowers, dated May 1, 1914, and showing the Rockefeller family's attitude toward the strike, and containing no word of concern for the workers, but that day were deprived of their livelihood," Mr. Walsh said.

MUST PAY HIGHER FARES

Legislative Filibustering Hits Traveling Public's Pocketbooks.

Have to Pay Extra for First Five Miles on All Trips.

As a result of the filibustering in the state house of representatives during the recent session, Minnesota will have to pay 3 cents a mile for the first five miles of any trip within the state instead of 2 cents.

Two years ago Representative Bendixson obtained the passage of a bill providing for 2-cent passenger fares on all roads in Minnesota, but allowing 3 cents a mile for trips of five miles or under. It was Mr. Bendixson's intent that the higher rate would be allowed only for such short trips, but when the matter was taken before the supreme court, that body interpreted the act as meaning that the railroads could charge 3 cents a mile for the first five miles of any trip in the state and 2 cents thereafter. The only road in the state to take advantage of the ruling was the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the other roads holding out in view of the certainty of there being introduced in the legislature a curative act, making plain Mr. Bendixson's intent.

At the recent session, Representative Bendixson introduced such a curative bill, and it was referred to the railroad committee and reported out favorably. Then the members of the house got into their noted tangle over things in general, filibustering their way through the rest of the session, and the Bendixson bill died in general orders without being acted on either way.

Now comes the time when the state to the effect that all of the roads have determined to take advantage of the courts ruling on the law, and are preparing rate schedules providing for the extra charge for the first five miles on any trip within the state. These will be announced in the near future.

JAPANESE SEND AN ULTIMATUM TO CHINA

Given Three Days to Make Satisfactory Reply to Demands.

Honolulu, April 24.—An ultimatum, demanding a satisfactory reply within three days to the demands of Japan on China, has been sent by the Japanese cabinet to the Japanese government.

The ultimatum, which was delivered to the Japanese government by the Japanese minister at Peking, demands that the Japanese government should deliver to the representatives of China at the negotiations, according to a dispatch from Tokyo to the Hawaii Shimpu, a Japanese newspaper here.

Your Family Comfort

It is a part of human nature to try to shift the blame. Thus we are ready to charge the increased cost of living to a host of sources before we take a part of the blame to ourselves.

Every family should have the comforts of life. The youngsters should have life's advantages. But many families do not have life's comforts and advantages because they allow their money to slip carelessly away after trifles. There is sound common sense in a savings account at the First National Bank. Why don't you have one?

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs of it. It is imperative that it is a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition and it is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure you get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

NEW DOCK IS ALL READY IN OPERATION FOR BANQUET

Largest Structure of Kind in World Now Handling Ore.
Crew of Seventy-Three Men at Work—More Will Be Added.

The new steel ore dock known as No. 5, of the Duluth and Northern railroad, the largest of its kind in the world, received its first consignment of ore this morning. With this consignment the work for the season at the ore dock has officially begun.

A crew of seventy-three men was put to work this morning and this number will be increased this afternoon. The crew will be added to from time to time as required to take care of the increasing business of the docks this spring.

The final touches to the completion of the new steel dock were made early this week with the connection of the electrical machinery and trial operation. Last night, with its hundreds of electric lights ablaze, it presented an attractive appearance to those who viewed the spectacle. Three tiers of lights gave the dock the appearance of a monster building aglow. These electric lights are arranged over the dock to give light to the men working on the cars at night. Another tier is located just above the opening to the pockets, and the lower tier is just below the spouts.

The steel dock has 284 pockets for the storage of ore. Each of these pockets has a capacity of 350 tons, or about seven carloads. The entire working capacity of the dock is 131,400 tons.

Could Load Six Boats.
The dock working at full capacity the company would find no difficulty in loading six of the largest boats on the lake at one time. It is claimed that a boat of 9,500 tons capacity could be loaded at this dock in the short space of thirty minutes.

Electricity plays an important part in the working of the big dock. The dumping of the ore from the pockets, swinging of the huge conveyors and practically all other appliances at the dock will depend almost entirely on this power for moving.

With this added capacity to the docks of the company, the D. & N. will be able to store at one time more than 300,000 tons of ore at its local docks. The other two docks have a capacity for only about 200,000 additional tons.

The company began building the new dock two years ago this spring. From its connection with the main line above Third street the entire structure of solid concrete. The dock has cost the company about $2,500,000.

During the next few days the hauling of ore will not be very heavy. Supt. J. W. Kretzer announced this morning that about ten or twelve trains would be operated daily down the hill for a few days but that later on the hauling of ore will be under way from the mines on the range.

Railway Club Meeting.
The Misses Railway Club of Proctor will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the Proctor Y. M. C. A. The principal feature of the meeting will be an address on "The Duties of a Freight Conductor" by H. G. Barnard, a freight conductor of the D. & N. A musical program will follow.

Will Reopen Mill Tuesday
The West Duluth Algor-Smith sawmill will resume operations on Tuesday morning, next week, instead of on Wednesday morning, as announced at the time of the announcement. The earlier start was made this morning by Michael J. O'Brien, superintendent of the mill.

It is expected that at least 200 men will be put to work then, and it is probable that twenty-five more men will find employment later. The mill is one of the largest in the city and will cut an average of 200,000 feet of timber each day.

The mill will run days only this week.

Greatest Cleanup Campaign in City's History

May 9 to 15.

City Must Be Made Spotless for Its Greatest Tourist Season.

[Warning—During cleanup week The Herald photographer is going to make a systematic search for dirty corners, and some of his pictures will be published.]

Wake up!
Duluth entertained 62,000 persons who arrived at or departed from this city by way of the Great Lakes last year.

This year, because of the Panama-Pacific exposition, the war abroad, and the See-America-First campaign, more tourists will visit the Zenith city than ever before in its history.

How do Duluthians want their city to look when the tourists come?

Clean up!
Make Duluth the spotless town of America before the thousands of visitors arrive, is the new slogan.

From May 9 to 15 will be cleanup week, and every organization in the city has been enrolled in a vigorous campaign against the common enemy—dirt.

Duluth is a clean city, but every citizen possessed of civic pride wants it to be spotless. On May 15 Duluth, it is planned, will be the cleanest city in America, which will be a bigger feather in its cap than to be the wealthiest, or the largest.

Here are a few of the organizations enrolled in this city's cleanup week:

Every lodge in the city. The city commissioners. The police department. The Woman's council. The Housewives' league. All Commercial clubs. The neighborhood clubs, and the large business houses.

Through these organizations, an appeal will be made to every family, so that attention is paid to the inside of the houses, as well as the lawns, the alleys, the boulevards and the streets.

Every article along the cleanup week, said Harry Barnshaw, of the Stone-Dean-Jones company, one of the members of the general committee in charge of the work.

"We want them to dig into the corners and clear out all the old rubbish that has accumulated. Dirty corners are good breeding places for germs of disease, and if we can make Duluth the cleanest city it certainly will be the healthiest city."

Will Help.
Chief C. H. Troyer this morning issued a bulletin to police officers, instructing them to inspect yards and alleys, and urge the people to clean up, paint up, and make their homes look like new Duluth blueprints.

As they walk their beats, they will pay close attention to yards and walks, as well as public highways. When the property owner is notified, he will be called to task, and when city property is not as orderly in appearance as it should be, the city commissioners will be reminded of the fact.

"We want them to dig into the corners and clear out all the old rubbish that has accumulated. Dirty corners are good breeding places for germs of disease, and if we can make Duluth the cleanest city it certainly will be the healthiest city."

Chief C. H. Troyer this morning issued a bulletin to police officers, instructing them to inspect yards and alleys, and urge the people to clean up, paint up, and make their homes look like new Duluth blueprints.

As they walk their beats, they will pay close attention to yards and walks, as well as public highways. When the property owner is notified, he will be called to task, and when city property is not as orderly in appearance as it should be, the city commissioners will be reminded of the fact.

HORSE NEEDED ATTENTION.

Prisoner Didn't Worry So Much About Wife and Family.

His wife and children could take care of themselves, but his horse and stable needed his attention, so Fred Johnson asked to be excused from a workhouse sentence in municipal court this morning.

"Are you married?" asked Judge Cutting, after he sentenced Johnson to seven days at the "farm" for drunkenness.

"Yes," replied the prisoner, "but the worst of it is I have no horse and stable—don't see how I can afford to go to the work farm."

Higher estimate of his wife and family might have saved Johnson, but his reference to his horse "spilled the beans."

When he faced the judge, Johnson showed effects of his "morning's morning," and was sentenced to twenty days at the work farm without option of a fine. He lives at 1115 East Eighth street.

"RODE THE RODS" TO SEE "FOLLIES."

Hoping to see a "regular" show and incidentally take in a few of the white lights of a big city, Stephen B. McCaul, Lot E. Byce and Charles R. Byce, school boys of Two Harbors, rode the rods from Duluth to Two Harbors last night.

Instead of a gallery seat at the Lyceum theater, they were given a box seat at the city jail when they arrived for Special Officer Christensen of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad was on the watch for them.

Arraigned in municipal court this morning on a charge of trespassing, they were released by Judge E. H. Cutting, after being warned.

ON THE ROCK RAPIDS

DR. BRACKEN SPEAKS AT GRAND RAPIDS

State Health Official Inspects and Discusses Sanitary Affairs.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Bracken, Thursday spoke to a small audience at the high school in the evening on local health conditions.

At a recent meeting of the Commercial club, the attention of that body was called to the deplorable condition from a sanitary viewpoint, certain places about town. A committee was appointed to look into the matter and see to it that a general cleanup was made. The organization of the committee resulted in Dr. Bracken being called to look over the situation. In the meantime, many of the objectionable places were cleaned up, and Dr. Bracken found conditions very good here with a few exceptions.

Dr. Bracken lamented that sewage ran to Crystal brook, but did not deem that a menace to health, inasmuch as the distance of such outfall was not used. He suggested that provision be made, however, to take care of sewage so that the creek need not be used.

The water supply at Hale lake was looked over. Dr. Bracken stated that the conditions were not as bad as it might be, the distance of such outfall buildings as are on the lake shore from the lake neutralizing the danger. Of course, a different water supply would be desirable and he viewed a change as speedily as possible.

TAKEN TO WINONA.

Hibbing Woman to Be Buried in Southern Part of State.

Hibbing, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Duluth, last night, held funeral services for Mrs. John Dyson, who died here, Thursday, following a brief illness. The remains were taken to Duluth yesterday afternoon, thence to Winona on the 11 o'clock train last night. The lady Hibernians here accompanied the body to the train. A profusion of flowers were taken from home, and the body was taken to the funeral home at the Cathedral of Winona. Rev. Father Sherman of St. Paul, chaplain of the Hibernians, will conduct the services.

SHIPPING FLOUR BY PARCEL POST

Chisholm, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The parcel post is proving its usefulness to the local merchants, a shipment of four fifty-pound sacks of flour has been made to a farmer through the mails yesterday.

The postage cost but 64 cents per sack, and as the delivery was made over rural routes from the post office to which it was shipped, the grocery man saved by the transaction. Assistant Postmaster Backman says that the grocery men are using the parcel post mail much more than in the past.

TO BEAUTIFY VILLAGE.

Coleraine Commercial Club to Organize Improvement League.

Coleraine, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club of this week at an enthusiastic meeting decided to take steps to beautify the village through the medium of a Civic Improvement league and appointed on a committee to establish the league, J. A. Vandyk, Dr. N. D. Kean and J. A. Baker. The committee will create a fund and arrange for competitive prizes for the best kept lawns and gardens, planting of flowers and shrubbery, trees, etc. This method of beautifying the village was employed here five and six years ago with very gratifying results.

The entertainment committee was instructed to extend an invitation to the members of the Commercial club to hold their annual meeting and banquet at the village hall on Monday evening, May 4.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Duluth & Superior Lumber Co. will be held at the village hall on Monday evening, May 4.

NEARLY ELECTROCUTED.

Young Man Comes in Contact With Live Wire at Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chester Whittington, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Whittington of Virginia, is in Webster hospital, recovering from a severe electric shock. He was caught in a live wire at the Great Northern Power station yesterday afternoon, and several thousand volts passing through his body. That he was not killed is considered miraculous.

As he was opening a window, which was on a pivot, when he supposed he was about to close it, he came in contact with the live wire. There was a blue flash and Whittington fell to the floor unconscious. The window frame is made of steel, and when it came in contact with the generator the current passed through Whittington's body and into the ground. One of the floor joists and one foot was blackened and twisted by the force of the shock.

GRAND RAPIDS BRICKS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Hoyer, for years a building contractor here, has sold the line home he built a few years ago to S. M. Dinwiddie, and he is moving to a farm on the lake shore, near the lake, adjoining Hale lake, several miles from town, which he has been making ready to live on the past two or three years.

Peter Fremont, who left last week for Winnipeg, where he will be employed on a steam shovel, is planning on erecting a house on his mother's residence in the east end of town, and making his permanent home here. He has been living at Hibbing for the past few years, returned to his home in the east end of town, and will make his home with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Mundig.

A. J. Anderson, of Blackberry, shipped a couple of cars of potatoes and 24 cents per bushel for what he did not supply himself.

R. E. Clyde returned the first of the week from Indian River, Ont., where he went several weeks ago to see his mother who was in very poor health.

Miss Rae Johnson, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reid, Tuesday for her home in Saginaw, Colo. Mrs. Reid has been visiting a prominent law firm in her home town as stenographer.

W. H. Hilling, formerly in business here, but who is now employed in a grocery store in St. Paul, was here this week.

Wallace Timm of Windom has entered the employ of Sonner & Timm, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Colorado, and Wyoming. Eastern Montana, Utah, Northern California and Eastern Washington.

James Ross of the Vermilion country was here the first of the week. He is planning on building a barn 32 by 40 in the near future. Ross is planning on building a barn 32 by 40 in the near future.

BOVEY NOTES.

Bovey, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John H. Foley returned from Bemidji Wednesday, after a brief visit to his home. He is suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Miss Viola Franti, who teaches at Wadena, visited over Sunday at the home of her parents in Bovey. Miss Viola Franti, who teaches at Wadena, visited over Sunday at the home of her parents in Bovey.

Miss Fern McConville of Taconite visited in Bovey Sunday. She and John Westerland arrived Wednesday from Karlstad, Mrs. Nels Jensen accompanied her brother, John to Duluth, where he will undergo an operation.

A number of local people attended the show and dance in Coleraine Friday night. The show was given by the Coleraine Commercial club of that place. The dance was given by the Coleraine Commercial club of that place.

SAARI VOTES LICENSES.

Eveleth's Mayor Joins With Others in Granting Permits.

Eveleth, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the city council Monday night, a motion was made by Mayor Jerome, asking that a license be granted to him. The license was granted to Jerome, and the motion was granted unanimously.

At the last meeting of the council, when it was doubtful whether Jerome could obtain a license, a petition was presented by Anton Heikkinen, brother-in-law of Jerome, asking that a license be granted to him. The license was granted to Jerome, and the petition was granted unanimously.

AMERICAN TYPE OF RESIDENCE IN STUCCO

One of the most popular types of homes to be erected in Duluth this season is the American type, a cut of which is shown above. This design shows a floor arrangement large enough for an average family, there being three rooms on the first floor, and three rooms and bath on the second floor. Using a good finish in the house, it could be built for about $4,700.

Bottle Up The Dirt Germs When You Clean House This Spring

The American home wants cleanliness, real cleanliness, not surface cleanliness. Disease lurks in dust and dirt. The true housewife dislikes dirt IN the rugs, carpets, draperies and upholstery and is not content with merely brushing off the surface. That is the reason why Electric Vacuum Cleaners are being made and sold by the thousands. They bottle up the germs and dirt instead of brushing them into your mouth and lungs. Ask our Commercial Service Department about Electric Vacuum Cleaners—that is one reason why we maintain it.

JUST PEOPLE.

Folks are just people.
The idea isn't new, of course. It has been put into about as many different phrasings as any idea could be, probably. And yet there are times when we forget the fact, even though we may remember the words of some particular state of the fact.

Away back in Job's time we find that now famous character considering as all of a piece all men "born of a woman." Bobby Burns took up the idea in his "Address to the Unco Gild" when he wrote:

Then gently scan your brother man,
Still gender sister woman;
Though they may gang a kenning
To step aside is human.

Our own forefathers, whatever may have been their private opinion, declared over their signatures that "all men are created free and equal," in the play "Everywoman" there are a few lines in the prologue in which Nobody says:

Be merciful, be just, be fair
To everywoman, everywhere;
Her faults are many—Nobody's the blame.

Kipling, too, has taken to the notion, for in "The Ladies" he asserts as a conclusion that "The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under their skins."

All of which was called to mind by the publication of some of the details of the will of Mrs. John D.
Rockefeller. The testatrix gave a hundred thousand dollars here and another hundred thousand dollars there; a fortune apiece to this and that and the other one; some thousands to this or that work in which she was interested—and among other things she willed her wedding ring to her son.

There was nothing to indicate that Mrs. John D. Rockefeller's wedding ring was a more pretentious bit of jewelry than was your own mother's.
It was only a little band of gold, a circlet that stayed upon her hand for year after year as a symbol of the union of her life with that of the man to whom she had said—what millions of other women have said under similar circumstances. So far as intrinsic value is concerned, her husband or her son could have purchased such rings by the million. And yet, in a document disposing of something more than two million dollars, this little, worn, simple bit of gold was found worthy of special mention as an article of value.

Sentiment, just sentiment. The dictionary says sentiment is "tender susceptibility." It's futile to quarrel with the dictionary. The worst you can do to it is to tear out a page, and if you do that you are bound some day to want to see something on that page, and then it won't be there.

But we all know what sentiment is, whether the dictionary tells it the way we like or not. Sentiment is that peculiar thing that is the same in all of us, differing only in the degree to which we yield to it. It is the thing that made the wedding ring of one of the world's richest women as great a treasure to her as is that of the day laborer's wife to its wearer. It's one of the things that makes it true that folks, after all, are just people.

The lumber sale bill was objected to on the ground that it might make lumber dealers criminals "without their knowing it." There's nothing like being particular in details like this.

HOW DOES SHE DO IT?

The Dallas, Tex., News, quoting some paragraphs from the Mirror, published by the convicts at Stillwater, introduces the matter with this sentence: "The Prison Mirror, published in the penitentiary at Minneapolis," etc.

How on earth does Minneapolis do it? Ever since the present generation can remember, Minneapolis has been claiming—and often getting—credit for about everything in Minnesota. She has claimed the state capital (and capitol, too); she has claimed the state fair, which is on a parcel of land that was donated for the purpose by St. Paul; she has claimed Como park, one of the places that have served to make St. Paul famous; she has claimed the advantages of Lake Superior, if not its presence, through the manipulation of rates; and if she had thought of it she probably would have claimed the iron ranges, or at least Section 30.

Now comes this locating of the state prison in Minneapolis instead of in Stillwater. Duluth and the other cities had better look to their normal schools and Red Wing to its training schools.

It would be interesting to know how Minneapolis manages it all. Not that other cities would care to do anything like that, but it might help them protect the interests they have.

But, of course, the Duluth members will be so glad to get home that they'll forgive the northeastern.

EARNESTLY AT WORK.

Whatever else may be said of them, the Republicans are going earnestly about the task of trying to convince people that the worst is yet to come.
In one section of the country or another there is a constantly reappear-ing plea to the people to ignore the evidences all about them, and to refuse to own the existence of any thing showing improvement or even good prospects in business conditions.

Just the other day Senator Penrose said in an interview:

It is well known to everyone who wants to know the facts and who is in a position to know them, that business is going to go steadily from bad to worse under the present administration, and that no hope of improvement of any kind can be held out until the people record their verdict in 1916 in favor of a Republican president and a majority in both branches of congress.

"Everyone who wants to know the facts and who is in a position to know them" is pretty broad phraseology.
Just whom the senator intended to include in that list we are left to guess. The logical persons to be considered as coming under such qualifications would be the business interests that depend on general conditions for their own welfare. They certainly want to know the facts, and through the establishment of their commercial agencies are in a position to know the facts.

So it is more than interesting—it is fairly fascinating—to find that on the same day, Bradstreet's made the following statement:

This week's reports, trade and industrial, are the best noted for some time past, being in some respects the best noted since the spring of 1914. Sentiment is bolstered by the smart uplift in stock market prices; better weather has superinduced improvement in general lines of retail trade; foreign orders for machinery, tools, automobiles, and numerous other manufactures make for capacity work in the enterprises that benefit from operations on domestic account and there are places where the market is less numerous; money is easy.

It is easy to ridicule the charge that political partisans are trying to foster discontent for the benefit of their own organizations. It is easier still to prove that the charge is true.

A Chicago woman says she'd rather die than have to live on three hundred dollars a month. Since she won't have any use then for that three hundred, there are places where she might divert it with salutary effect.

FARM HANDS WANTED.

Farm hands are badly wanted in Minnesota and Wisconsin, according to reports that seem reliable.

That is usually the case. Farmers who need help find it hard to get, and industries and other lines of work in the cities have to turn men away.

Probably a good many different factors enter into the causes of these conditions. Farm work is real work, for one thing. The hours are long at some seasons, and most things that have to be done require straight manual labor. Somehow there has grown up a certain prejudice against that kind of work. And yet it has to be done, it is quite as "honorable" as any other kind of work and vastly more honorable than none, and the pay, all things considered, is very good indeed.

Within the last few days there appeared in The Herald want columns an advertisement for a man and wife to work on a farm, the man to help with the stock and the wife to work about the house. The pay offered was fifty dollars a month. How many couples in the city can come to the end of the month with no board or rent, fuel or light bills to pay, and with fifty dollars clear to show for their efforts?

Of course not every man is able to do farm work. Many have been trained to clerical duties and could not stand the strain of manual labor.
Others are kept in the cities by ties of family that make it impossible for them to break away for a separate existence.

But there are men who are capable and qualified for farm work but who refuse to leave the stir of the city for the more quiet farm life. Why?
Heaven knows why. Possibly it is some physical cause quite as much as a defect of sight or hearing, if we could get at the basis of it. But the fact remains, and the result is that one of the most productive and healthful—yes, and remunerative—of human occupations is continually left to go begging for men to take it up.
To be sure there are busy seasons and slack seasons on the farms. It used to be the custom for a man to hire out to a farmer and stay by him the year round. On the other hand, it used to be the custom for a farmer to hire help with the understanding that it was an all-year job. Do those customs continue in force? Or have the farmers developed a habit of discharging help when the slack season begins, and so made men fearful of being left without work through the winter months if they take up farming?

If the latter is the case, it would seem that the farmers are themselves somewhat markedly to blame for the difficulty in getting help.

A certain amount of credit is due the man who assigned to the tarantula the job of representing Mexico in international symbolism.

BRIBES AND THE WOMEN.

Of course the anti-suffrage orators and arguers will seize on that Illinois election scandal as rich dope for their side. They will hold up to national ridicule the women who sold their votes, and also the woman who bought them.

They will ask what has become of the purification of politics through the entrance into that sphere of the gentler sex; and they will make themselves hoarse with merry outpourings of sarcastic oratory and other language.

Well, there are plenty of cases of masculine corruption to hold up as a reply to the charges against the women—plenty of them and to spare.
And there is the further fact that there were men behind this one lone instance of feminine corruption. And there is the further fact that there are so few such instances.

But back of and beyond and higher than all this is the fact that the suffrage cause is not based on the idea of purifying politics, but of giving women power to say what shall be done with the money they pay out in the form of taxes; what shall be done regarding the surroundings in which they live and in which they bring up their children; what shall be the policy of the city, state and nation as to the exploiting of woman and child labor.

The suffrage cause rests on no idealism, but on solid realism; on the practical application of the rule that he who contributes to a fund, whether it be of money or humanity or intellect, is entitled to a voice in the expenditure of that fund.

Of course this Illinois matter will be an obstacle to the suffragists, but they should look on the bright side of it. They should be thankful that those women didn't sell their votes for $2.50 instead of $3, for then there never would have been an end to the storm of mockery. As it is, they drove a better bargain than the Adams county, Ohio, men did, for down in Adams county they got only two dollars apiece for their votes. And in Terre Haute some men sold out for as little as a dollar.

After seeing what France got mixed up in while Jack Johnson lived there, Spain could be pardoned if she declined to have him around.

"ANYBODY EXCEPT TAFT."

In the light of the disclosures at Syracuse—
The methods by which bosses dominated the Republican party, the ways in which desired action was secured or assured, the manner of putting the will of the organization into effect in spite of anything the people themselves might want—
In brief, considering the fact that all these things being told in the libel suit hearing are sworn to and are being established by documentary evidence—
In the light of all this it is interesting to recall a certain statement that a certain person who swears he "always" stands for "righteousness" is ready to support any Republican candidate for the presidency in 1916, "except Taft."

Lovers of analogy may find striking likenesses between Villa's opinion of his opponents and The Colonel's opinion of his.

APPLES.

Gently reminding us of the proposal to encourage the growing of apples in this section of the country, comes a statement by W. F. Gwin, general manager of the Northwestern Fruit exchange, that orchardists have received an average of a dollar a box for apples for the last five years. That is the price paid in the far Western states.

In Minnesota there were localities within the last five years in which apples were allowed to rot on the ground because the growers could not get enough for them to make it worth while even to pick them up.
To these men such a price as a dollar a box would have seemed like that much velvet.

Evidently there is a great difference in the way the apple crop is handled in the far Western states and in this section of the country. It isn't necessary to go to the coast to get good apples. They are grown in Minnesota and Wisconsin, but these are hard to get. Why is it?

It would be worth while for the farmers' organizations in this section to look into the matter of apple marketing and find some way to solve the problem. Fruit trees should get more attention, it is true. But they will not get attention as long as their product has to be sold at a loss or not at all.

Maybe co-operative handling would solve the apple question in this section. Certainly it has solved the fruit handling matter in other parts of the country. Anyway the thing is worth looking into.

Maybe Borah gets some hope from the fact that his name comes early in any alphabetical list.

COAL, WAGES AND WAR.

While we take delight occasionally in reviling human nature as it is presented in different phases in this country, it is always interesting to see it as it appears in some other parts of the world.

Just at present here is the case of the owners of the Welsh coal mines.
The war put the opportunity before these owners to boost the price of coal, and while they held in one hand the newspapers sneering at American dollar watchfulness they wrote with the other the order that the prices should be raised as high as the traffic would bear.

For awhile things went along all right, but then the British navy got to the point where its supply of coal was getting low, and the Welsh mines were called on to furnish some. Then came general knowledge of the rise in price.

About that time the miners got to working their think tanks and they decided they were entitled to share some of the war time profits, so they put in a demand for higher wages.
That shocked the coal barons clear to their backbones. They gasped for breath a few times and then came back with the charge that the miners were unpatriotic to demand more wages at such a time.

Can you beat it? Not outside of America, where they work it out like this: Pennsylvania puts a 5-cent tax on coal; the operators boost the price 25 cents to meet it, and then fight the tax law and refuse to pay the tax.

Oh hum!

But maybe Mr. Barnes pressed the libel suit in the hope of heading off the prodigal's return.

CHILDREN IN COURT.

New York (he it said to its credit) is getting excited over the problem of children in court.

The other day a school girl was arrested and arraigned for calling after one of her teachers the phrase "Oh you," and adding his name, without qualifying epithets. She was one of a group and was singled out by the instructor for punishment. She is liable to five hundred dollars fine and a few months in jail.

More recently a case arose of a girl of fifteen who ran away from home with eleven dollars of her mother's money; cut off her hair; bought a suit of boy's clothes, and passed herself off for a boy. She got a job as night messenger, and fearing to stay in men's boarding houses, she evaded the idea of buying her way into a nickleodeum as soon as it opened each morning, curling up in a dark corner and sleeping there all day.

It took the girl a couple of weeks to get tired of that kind of life, and when she got tired of it she had the superlative good sense to go home, where she was given a hearty welcome. But meanwhile the truant officer had missed her from school, and he insisted that she must go before the court, where the judge sent her to a municipal detention home for supervision in the "good girls' ward," pending a decision in her case.

If those two cases are samples of the way New York treats its children then New York ought to be thoroughly and abjectly ashamed of itself. The first case called for nothing more, at the worst, than a little talk on the side of the subject of deference to those in authority; and the second called for a bit of comprehending kindness and sympathy instead of any kind of a court scene.

Since the first of the year New York has had a couple of dozen or so of murders for which nobody has been apprehended. Maybe the authorities are trying to make up for their lack of activity in such cases by waging a systematic campaign against the children. Apparently they are in need of some sort of a campaign directed at themselves.

Then there is the hopeful kind of person who is already looking for sprouting grass seed.

UGHT TO GET RESULTS.

North Dakota's new campaign against gun-toters ought to get results if the law is enforced. No petty fines, no reprimands, no "ten-days-or-ten-dollars" stuff is to go after this. Anybody founding a gun can be sent up for two years for the offense, if circumstances make it appear desirable to hand out anything so drastic.

There may be more effective ways than this of stopping gun toting, but up to date they have not proved their existence.

Two years in prison is a mighty long time, but gun toting is a disreputable business. There is no more need for going armed in the vast majority of cases than there is of a man's wearing a peacock feather in his hat-band.

The bare possession of a weapon is an ever-present argument for its use.
Put a slingshot into the hand of a small boy and there will be mighty few objects in the neighborhood that won't at least be sighted at between the prongs of the crotch. And the spirit that prompts the small boy is not limited to the years when he wears knickerbockers and despises starched collars. It goes with him as long as he lives.

That spirit is one thing that makes the gun-toter a menace. The other is the liability of mankind to "fly off the handle" in a fit of temper and do something reckless and foolish. If two hotheaded men get into a quarrel they may or may not resort to their fists. Often a latent sense of dignity prevents such a clash. But if one of them has a gun on him he is bound to think of it at such a time, and perhaps use it. But even if he only draws it, without the intent to use it at all, and the other man also carries a weapon, there are a thousand chances to one that both will start shooting, and a tragedy result where there was no need for such a development.

Gun toting is worse than foolish. It ought to be stopped. Maybe North Dakota has found a way to stop it.
At least the enforcement of the new law ought to get results in that line.

Thaw might at least have waited till THE Colonel was through with the front page.

START THE CAMPAIGN NOW.

With the assurance that the people will be given another chance at the next election to vote on the proposal to establish the initiative and referendum in the state, comes the necessity for a long and earnest campaign on that subject. And right there is work for the newspapers throughout the state.

Probably there are not many readers of newspapers who have not heard of the initiative and referendum, but there may not be half that number who have any adequate idea of the power such provisions as those put into the hands of the electorate.

There is one point on which the campaign should be made—to impress on the people's minds the possibility of securing action which some legislature may refuse to grant, even though it is demanded by the people of the state. At present the people are at the mercy of the legislature, and though we in Minnesota have got away from the restrictions of party domination in our house and senate, we still lack the power to go back of the men who assemble at St. Paul every two years.

If there is a measure of importance to the state that the legislature fails to enact, it must go over for two years more under our present arrangement. Give us the initiative and referendum and it can be taken up between legislatures and put into effect.

It is not necessary or advisable as yet to push the subject hard, but it will be well for the press throughout the state to keep the public reminded of the coming opportunity to vote on the question. The greatest enemy to any such proposition as this is indifference, and the next greatest is ignorance. Both these may be overcome by logical and consistent publicity, and a substantial vote in favor of the initiative and referendum can thereby be assured. It will be as well to start the campaign right now.

Of course we might organize the militant I. W. W. into a kind of a standing army.

What Makes the City Strong?

What makes a city great and strong?
Not architecture's graceful strength,
Not factories' extended length,
Not men who see the civic wrong,
And give their lives to make it right,
And turn its darkness into light.

What makes a city full of power?
Not wealth's display nor titled fame,
Not fashion's loudly boasted claim.
A voice that evens out the land,
A source of blessing to the land,
Its strength not brick, nor stone, nor wood
But Justice, Love and Brotherhood.
—Charles M. Sheldon.

What makes a city men can love?
Not graces that charm the outward sense
Not gross display of opulence,
But right, that wrong cannot remove,
And truth that faces civic fraud,
And smiles it in the name of God.

This is a city that shall stand,
A light upon a nation's hill.
A voice that evens out the land,
A source of blessing to the land,
Its strength not brick, nor stone, nor wood
But Justice, Love and Brotherhood.

Seeing America First

By Fred C. Kelly.

Found in Diary:
Western money is not like Eastern money. Just as silver dollars are a curiosity in the East, paper dollars are almost equally rare in the West. By the time a banknote has traveled by easy stages from the East to the West it looks so soiled and seamy that the first banker to get hold of it is ashamed to pass it out of his griled window. In due course it is shipped back East.

The traveler in the West, if he has any money left at all, is weighted down with silver dollars. He yearns to spend them just for relief from the sheer physical strain of toting them about. Likewise he wishes to spend his gold money lest he lose it. And if by chance he should get hold of a little bunch of banknotes he hastens to spend them, too, because of their un-sanitary appearance.

That is the money seems to move just about twice as freely in the West as in the East. The Eastern tightwad of today becomes the Western spendthrift of tomorrow. There is little about Western money for one to cling to.

You ask a cashier in a hotel or store to change a $10 bill and he is just as likely as not to hand out ten silver dollars. He may offer you a gold piece and only five pieces of silver, but if he chooses to shove out a stack of heavy, bulky, clicking silver money he does so with entire nonchalance.

One afternoon I saw a woman shopping with a few little lace parasols, and I wondered all the rest of the day where she would have carried her change if she had had occasion to break a $20 bill.

The next time I have $100 at one time, I shall give it all in silver bills and then ask a hotel cashier to change it just for the experiment of the thing.
If he takes a notion to give me nine nine silver dollars and one half dollar and a quarter and a dime and a nickel, he will do so, if I am certain of it.
And having done so, he will go right ahead figuring at his ledger without cracking a smile. It will never occur to him that there are any reason why a man shouldn't carry ninety-nine silver dollars and a few subsidiary coins in his change pocket.

Many a hotel cashier of course has only just a moderate sense of humor to start with—only a trifle more than if he were the room clerk.
Just as money travels more freely in the West, Western people travel more freely also. It is the exception to find a Western man who has not been across the continent. Yet Easterners who have never seen the Pacific are common enough. This is partly due to the fact that great many Westerners were at one time Easterners. But that is only one reason. Towns are farther apart in the West, naturally, the farther apart they are the greater the distance one must travel to go from one to another. One might almost say down a flat rule that the distance between towns, or in fact between any given points, has a great deal to do with how far apart they are. So that as it may, Westerners are accustomed to distance and think no more of traveling 100 or 1,000 miles than a New Yorker does of journeying to Brooklyn for Sunday dinner with a relative.

It is usually necessary to travel 500 miles to get to any place at all, and in some places I have in mind you would not be any place even after you got there.

I can give an idea of Western travel by quoting a letter from a man who was told me by Congressman Stout of Montana.
"One day a number of years ago," related Stout, "I found that by dint of work and economy I had accumulated about $1,500 in ready money.
That evening my wife and I held a long conference about what to do with it. We thought of various investments, railroad stocks, real estate, and so on, and had almost decided to buy some town lots in a new section. Then all of a sudden it popped into my head that we had never been to New Orleans, and found out that our $500 would take the entire family from Lewiston, Mont., to New Orleans and return.
That seemed to settle the question of travel. There was no reason in the world why we should go there except that we had never been there. But as we had become Westerners that was reason enough."

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.
Dedicated by John G. O'Connell, the Sumner Man.

The very hairs of your head are all numbered.—Matt. x. 30.
I will go in the strength of the Lord
God.—Ps. lxxi. 16.

No trouble is too small wherein to see the will of God for thee. Great troubles come but seldom. Daily fretting trials, that is, what of thyself wouldst fret thee, may often, in God's hands, conform thee more to His gracious will. They are the daily touches, whereby He traces on thee the likeness of His divine will. There is nothing too slight wherein to practice oneness with the will of God. By daily practice in slight crosses of our own will, do we learn the lesson our Lord taught, "Not as I will, but as Thou wilt." All the things whereof men daily complain may perfect thee in the will of God. The changes of the seasons, bodily discomforts or ailments, rude words, petty slights, little jealousies, uneasiness of temper in those with whom thou livest, misunderstandings, censures of thy faith or practice, severe judgments, thanklessness of those thou wouldst benefit, interruptions in what thou wouldst do, oppressiveness or distraction of thy labors—whatever thou canst think of, wherein others fret themselves, and still more, thyself; therein thou seest how to be of one will with God.—Edward B. Fussy.

If we remember our Latin derivation, "heute" means to-day, "grind" to grind in as with the heel, or literally
"to heel in." "Educate" means to draw out. We need to educate the religious nature of the child as well as to inculcate the truth. This "drawing out" is more difficult than the "heeling in."

GREAT SPEED KINGS ENTERED FOR RACE

Dario Resta and Bob Burman Will Drive Cars at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Dario Resta, winner of the Vanderbilt and Grand Prize races at San Francisco, and Bob Burman, the world's speed king, have been entered in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race at the wheel of Peugeot cars. A third Peugeot has been named, for which the driver, however, has not been selected. It is understood that Arthur Duray, runner-up in last year's Indianapolis event, is in line for the job, though this report lacks official confirmation.

The Peugeot team, this year, will be split two ways, with Resta doing the heavy work in one of the cars that competed in last year's French Grand Prix. This machine, measuring 274 cubic inches, is one of the fastest ever built, and may be expected to be in front from the start. The other cars, being of the "high" type, like that which Duray handled last year, will be driven more conservatively. Capable of 105 miles an hour, with light weight, they will be heard from in a long race, where stops for fuel and tire changes count heavily.

RECORD AUTO FIGURES.

First Three Months of Year Show Big Output and Sales.

Reports received at the directors' meeting of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce last week indicated that the first three months of 1915 would supply record figures for the manufacture and sale of automobiles. Not alone in motor trucks, but in pleasure cars also the demand has exceeded that of any previous similar period.

The total freight-car shipments of automobiles for March alone were 13,316 carloads, compared with 13,117 carloads for the same month last year, an increase of almost 25 percent, while January and February also showed an advance over the figures for the previous year, with the

MAXWELL CLIMBS STEPS AT ST. PAUL CAPITOL

In the picture above, a stock 1915 Maxwell touring car is seen climbing the steps of the state capitol at St. Paul. This feat attracted quite a crowd and has aroused a great deal of interest all over the country. The local distributor, H. B. Knudsen, says, that after such a climb, the courthouse steps in Duluth would be in the nature of an anti-climax.

Three months showing greater shipments of cars than for any three months in the history of the industry. Manufacturers generally look upon this as further evidence of the strong position which the motor car now holds as a factor in every-day life.

There was a report from the roads committee which showed the wonderful advance that is being made in road improvement, and particularly the increased interest in Federal road improvement. It was shown that, although the burden of national participation in highway improvement would fall most heavily upon city residents, yet these same city people have been the strongest advocates of Federal participation in highway construction and maintenance.

TEST HILL UNIQUE.

Dodge Brothers to Use Practical Methods for Try-Outs.

Decidedly unique in design and construction is the new half-mile speedway and test-hill which is nearing completion on the grounds of Dodge Brothers, the big Detroit motor car manufacturers. Built to take care of testing operations on the rapidly increasing daily production of cars, Dodge Brothers' new test track has all the permanence of the speedway built for hippodrome performances.

"MOVIES" TO SHOW CONTINENTAL TOUR

Lincoln Highway Association Makes Arrangement to Take Films.

The Lincoln Highway association has completed arrangements to produce the transcontinental tour in moving picture. Seven thousand feet of educational film will be taken this summer, under the direction of H. C. Ostermann, consultant-at-large of the association, who will start from New York city some time in April, being officially started from the metropolis by Mayor Mitchell of New York, and proceeding to the Pacific coast, there to be welcomed by the mayor of San Francisco at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Conrad Ostermann will make the trip in a 1915 car, which was presented to the association by the Stutz Motor Car company of Indianapolis, and which has been specially equipped and decorated for the trip. The car is painted pure white, with the wheels and running gear of royal blue; the hood will be red, white and blue. The Lincoln Highway association, in every state the most beautiful scenery, the most representative cities and industries, the historic points of interest, the construction, grading and dragging of roads, the improvement and marking of the Lincoln highway, will be featured, with the result that an educational film of a character never before attempted on such magnitude will be secured.

The production of the film will take about ninety days, and when completed it will be shown for the first time at the Panama-Pacific exposition. From there it will travel to every state in the union, being exhibited before boards of commerce, boards of trade, colleges, women's clubs, automobile clubs, farmers' clubs, Y. M. C. associations, Boy Scouts and the general public.

MOTOR TRUCK TO BE COMMON AS PLOW

Willys Tells of Many Advantages Car Adds to Farm Life.

By John N. Willys, President, The Willys-Overland Company, Toledo.

The editor of a well known farm publication recently declared that the time is soon coming when the motor car on the farm will be as common as the plow. In fact, the fact that more than half of this year's enormous production of Overland cars is being sold in rural districts, it is not hard to believe this statement.

The motor car not only adds to the pleasure of living on the farm but frequently is used to material advantage in many ways.

The construction of the test-hill in the center of the speedway enclosure is a striking example of bringing the mountain to Mahomet. As practically all the country in the vicinity of Detroit is a flat plain, the special advantages of hill-testing are denied to motor car makers. Dodge Brothers very sensibly decided to provide an artificial hill, and a steel structure 642 feet long and 30 feet wide is already under way. The steel hill has two approaches with varying grades, allowing testers to try out the climbing ability of the car on gradual and steep ascents.

Semi-floating Rear Axle

Dangerous in that the axle shaft not only has to turn the wheels but also carries the weight of the car and takes up the side-thrust. Does EXTRA work and endangers the shaft. In place of this Studebaker has a FULL-floating Rear Axle which carries the car on the axle housing, has TWO Tapered Bearings in EACH end to take up side-thrust—and leaves the shaft itself free merely to turn the wheels. Safe on any roads at any speed. Secure your car with a Studebaker axle.

High-Tension Magneto

As unnecessary as a fifth wheel on a wagon—and as good for it—doesn't give the hot spark at slow motor speeds when the hottest spark is needed. In place of the back-number magneto, Studebaker uses an electric system ignition, like most of the other high-grade cars. Doesn't vary with the motor's speed—always delivers 100% ignition energy. Insures SURE, steady firing.

Thermo-siphon Cooling System. Requires so much larger a volume of water that radiator, water-jackets and header have to be much larger and HEAVIER. Operates well only when system is FULL. In place of this Studebaker has a Force-pump system that allows the lightest cooling system possible, but guarantees thorough and efficient cooling always. Be sure your car has the same TROUBLE-preventing system of cooling.

Drive Thro' Springs

Make it necessary to use stiffer springs. Hence, car becomes HARD-riding. Also, disturbs alignment of drive when car hits a stone or drops into rut. In place of this Studebaker has TWO extra rods and torque arm which relieve springs altogether and free them for the one task of another job and job. Be sure your car drives thro' radius rods and a torque arm. It means riding COMFORT.

Pressure or Suction Gasoline Systems

Troublesome—liable to leak air with such long lines of piping. Studebaker places tank in cove—makes it easier to fill. And shortens line of piping to carburetor from eight feet to eighteen inches. Gives SURE feed on any grade.

Cylinders Cast Singly

Makes motor much HEAVIER—calls for HEAVY CRANKCASE to preserve alignment. Cuts down water cooling surfaces. Studebaker uses a motor cast in bloc which gives extreme rigidity, more effective cooling, lighter weight and more accessible design.

"SEE AMERICA FIRST," SLOGAN THIS YEAR

"Homespun Vacationing" Will Replace Former Exodus to Europe.

BY CHARLES CHALMERS
President Chalmers Motor Company.
The wholesome novelty of homespun vacationing must take the place this year of the annual exodus of the past to foreign lands. Europe's war, which has withdrawn the Old World's motor trails out of the reach of the tourist and transformed them into grim parade ways for armored cars and battle vans, has exalted "See America First" from a vague sentiment into a vital issue. And, by the same token, a wholly new conception of the open road is 1915's gift to America.

The eyepiece is laying fascinating hold of the Yankee tourist. Deprived of the motor ways of war-riven Europe, thousands of summer pilgrims of former years to other lands are making a virtue of a necessity and have made up their minds to get better acquainted with America.

Mars has motorized the gentle art of taking vacations. The democratizing value of cross-country touring cannot be over-emphasized. A trans-continental tour, making as it does a cross-section of the country, its manners and customs, its industries, ambitions and ideals, its

Used by other cars—Yes! —but not in a Studebaker

And the reason is simply that Studebaker doesn't dare to. For those designs listed over on the side are "old-timers" in engineering. They aren't the new ideas in building a car. Long ago they gave place to BETTER designs. And while other manufacturers may cling to them, because they don't care to go to the manufacturing expense that extensive changes in design incur—Studebaker CAN'T.

For, you see, when a man comes to look at a Studebaker, he EXPECTS quality. Price is rarely the attraction. He has in mind the QUALITY, the ideals in manufacturing that name of Studebaker has stood for so long. He expects a reasonable price—yes! For he knows that Studebaker is one of the largest organizations in existence devoted to the building of cars. And in a series of plants that have a capacity of 1000 cars a week, it is only natural to expect low manufacturing costs—and therefore, low prices.

But first of all, he looks for QUALITY. And Studebaker, of course, couldn't afford to have a man find a semi-floating rear axle in this FOUR, when everybody knows that type of axle has long since given place to the SAFER, more accessible FULL-floating Rear Axle. Couldn't afford, for example, to have him find drive thro' the springs—when GOOD design calls for drive thro' radius rods so as to free the springs from all possible strains. And so with every detail. It HAS to be the highest quality and the latest design that is approved by engineers. And so the things listed at the side, you WON'T find in a Studebaker—because it's a

CAR SALES INCREASE.

That there is a decidedly better business feeling is shown by the marked increase in buying orders for automobiles. From the first of January to the middle of February business did not show very much increase over the same period a year ago. But since the middle of February business has shown a marked tendency to boom. Orders at the Franklin factory since that date are 80 per cent ahead of the same period last year, and that the tide is still rising is shown by the fact that during the last three weeks the increase is 188 per cent.

FRANKLIN MANAGER WILL VISIT HERE

Arthur Holmes, vice president and general manager of the Franklin Automobile company, Syracuse, N. Y., will make a special visit to Duluth during the first week in May. Joseph T. Peacha, Jr., manager of the Interstate Auto company, agents for the Franklin car, received word this week that Mr. Holmes has accepted his invitation to spend several days in Duluth shortly after May 1. While here Mr. Holmes will look into the automobile field and probably visit a number of cities on the range. Mr. Peacha said yesterday that he will call together all the forty Franklin owners in this part of the state to meet Mr. Holmes and that, in all probability, a banquet will be given in his honor, the guests in attendance being only owners of the Franklin car. Mr. Holmes is one of the best-known automobile men in America and is practically in charge of the entire Franklin factory at Syracuse, although Mr. Peacha is himself actively engaged in conducting the business. The Franklin agency in Duluth and the range towns was taken over by Mr. Peacha last May, since which time over thirty cars have been sold.

FORD BUSINESS BRISK.

Local Agent Sells More Than 300 Cars Since Jan. 1.

More than 300 Ford cars have been received by the Mutual Auto company since shipments were started shortly after Jan. 1. E. J. Filiatrault of the Mutual company said yesterday that this is a record shipment for the local concern and will probably stand as a single car record in this city for some time to come. All the cars received have been sold, according to Mr. Filiatrault, who said that orders are coming in fast and that indications point to brisk sale the next two months.

DIMMING LIGHTS PUZZLES DRIVERS

"This proposition of dimming the head lamps of automobiles in order to reduce the light for city driving or when the car is left standing seems to be a puzzle to most people," declared M. W. Turner, local distributor of the Haynes light six.

To make the matter clear, suppose that there are two tubes to be filled with water and that a separate pipe carries the water to each tub. The tubes will receive a certain amount of water within a given time. One of two methods may be used to reduce the amount of water flowing into the tubes.

Both tubes may be filled from the same pipe and the other pipe turned off. In this method less water is used in the same time that both pipes were flowing. The second method is to allow the water to flow into the tubs through the two pipes and cut holes in the pipes so that part of the water in each pipe may leak out. In either case the amount of water reaching the tubs will be less than in the first case.

Now the electric current behaves in the same manner. The head lamps are the tubs and the wires the pipes. The electric current is the water flowing through the pipes. When the lamps are burning at the full intensity current is coming to each one through separate wires. The only way to make an electric lamp give less light is to cut down the current flowing through it. The wires may be cut the same as holes were cut in the pipe, and resistances or coils of wire connected in to use up part of the current so that less current will reach the lamps. Obviously, more current is being used when the lights are dimmed by this method than were the lights burning brightly, but this system can still be found on some cars.

The most economical way is to actually reduce the amount of current going to the lamp by switching both lamps into series the same as both tubes were filled from the one pipe and the other pipe shut off entirely. In this method the electricity is saved by turning the dimmer switch just as gas is saved in a gas light when the gas is turned down low.

FRANKLIN TEST TO BE GIVEN ON MAY 1

May 1 will see Duluth again to the front in a national-wide movement of considerable consequence, and Joseph Peacha, Jr., local dealer in Franklin automobiles, will take an active part in the proceedings. From figures compiled last year, it was found that $225,000,000 were paid for gasoline in 1913, a fact that brought to light the wonderful possibilities to effect a saving in the expense of motor car operation. It has been estimated that through the proper efficiency in automobiles, motoring could be economized to the extent of $165,000,000 in fuel alone, an item that has turned attention to the factors influencing motor car efficiency.

Then, too, close observers of the trend of the times have seen the gradual swing of sentiment towards the automobile from that of a luxury to a place in the general efficiency and necessities of every day life. With this change has come increasing interest in the efficiency of operation of automobiles in recognition of which the Franklin Automobile company, through their dealers, has undertaken the national demonstration of the efficiency of the car they manufacture.

That this test will be authoritative is assured by the governing rules, specifying the use of a single certified gallon of commercial gasoline carried in a special tank connected directly to the carburetor, and the mileage from this gasoline supply to be measured by running the car until the fuel is exhausted. Only a strictly stock model of the Franklin can be used in the test. Mr. Peacha, the local Franklin man, will make his run under the supervision of official observers who will certify under oath to the correctness of the results.

This May demonstration is the second annual test of Franklin efficiency. Last year's test produced the remarkable record of 32.8 miles per gallon of commercial gasoline, this result being the average mileage of ninety-four dealers in every part of the country. In Duluth Mr. Peacha obtained 32.7 miles per gallon over the route. The highest mileage, 51.2, was made in Milwaukee, and the lowest record of all equaled 17.2 miles per gallon.

What a widespread demonstration of this kind really shows is the practicability of efficiency in the use of automobiles. As the runs will be made in every part of the country, some places where it is hot, others where it is cold, and with road conditions equally at variance, average results are bound to be obtained.

Shipments of Dodge Brothers cars are coming more regularly and we are now in a position to accept a few more orders for May and later deliveries.

With 110-inch wheel base, best of lighting and starting equipment, one man top, leather upholstery and full floating rear axle, Dodge Bros. car is a very attractive purchase.

The price at the factory is $785.00.

May 1st the Day

For the Second Annual

National Efficiency Demonstration

IN every part of the country, May Day will see a great demonstration of the economical use of gasoline by FRANKLIN cars. Establishing what an automobile can do in miles per gallon of fuel under average conditions is a big step in establishing facts from which the value of a car can be judged.

Fill a one-gallon can, attach it to the carburetor, start the car, and see how far it will run.

This is the plan: We, and over 150 FRANKLIN dealers with us, are in the test. No matter what the weather or the roads, the runs will be made. Nothing but a stock car can be used. The entire test will be supervised by a representative of the newspapers and Automobile Club officials, who will also attest to the results.

This nation-wide test tells volumes about efficiency to the owner and prospective automobile owner. Watch this paper May 1st for the local and national reports.

See the car that has always set the mark for efficiency.

Havana Paper Says Jack Curley Left Many Creditors in Cuban City—Admission to Baseball Games Is Due for Tumble—Sport Gossip in Paragraph Form.

BY BRUCE.

SEVERAL issues of the Havana Post reached our desk today. Some interesting news is contained in one of the papers regarding the leaving of the Cuban city upon the part of Jack Curley. The story relates that a pack of angry creditors followed Curley to the wharf and shook threatening fists at the portly promoter as he sailed out over the deep stuff.

John R. Robinson is the personal press agent of Battling Nelson. All of you have read columns of clever stories about the Battler—John R. Robinson. All of you read the press stuff on the Johnson-Willard fight that came out of Havana—John R. Robinson.

At first the big battle was slated for Juarez. Johnson's balk forced the falling of the Mexican mill. Then Curley caught a boat and sailed for Havana. John R. Robinson and Nelson were there when Curley arrived and when it was decided that the fight was to be held in Havana, Robinson was engaged to take full charge of the publicity bureau.

If the Havana Post's story is correct, Curley left the island without paying Robinson for his services and without paying a lot of others for work done. The day after the battle between Johnson and the Kansas cowboy the Cuban senate passed a bill prohibiting prize fighting in Cuba. Why? Maybe the story of the Havana Post throws some light on the impulsive action of the little brown Cuban senators.

They can throw a guy in jail in Cuba for not paying his debts. After Curley sailed Robinson, who has worked on nearly every newspaper in the United States, was thrown into the booby hatch.

There is a general suspicion that the fight in Havana was a financial bloomer. Photographs of the half-filled arena help the belief along. The story in the Havana Post sends pass thought waves in the way of confirmation.

But just the same Curley expects to ultimately make a million out of the venture.

The Ten-Cent Age.

VERY well known purveyor of amusement was recently in this city ahead of a big amusement enterprise. While the tendor was out the fire, he spoke to a party of purely locals to wit:

"We are living in a revolutionary age, in so far as the amusement game is concerned. I might call it the ten-cent age. You can see the greatest stars in the dramatic world for five cents. Now they are put in the movies. The next thing we know we will be witnessing baseball games for a dime."

Jack Herman, who until Europe, entirely ignoring the feelings of Jack, went to war, piloted the huge Stan Zyskyso, is now engaged in getting the stars of the world and the boxing world to wrestle or box for purses before the cameras. The finished film is then taken out and exhibited to the world at 10 cents a look.

Baseball is coming down in price. So is football. The movie pictures and the jinx are moving down below the dead line of the quarter. In Philadelphia they charge only two bits to get into the cheaper seats of the boxing matches. Last year the huge set was an awful howl over the prices asked for the world's series games.

Someday there will be a 10-cent section of the bleachers at all of the big ball parks.

Making a Book on Baker.

The way the Philadelphia Athletics are going at the present time makes it look like a return for Frank Baker. Say, listen! It isn't this farm stuff—it is a difference of $1,500 in the salary.

I Would Make a Difference.

A lot of boys that are to graduate from the high schools of the country this spring are interestingly watching to observe whether peace is going to be affected between organized baseball and the outlaws. Many of the boys will not take up college law courses if peace is secured.

Lots of Money Down There.

The report that there is lots of money in the South, is confirmed by the statement that Ty Cobb owns a bank down Georgia way.

The Unkindest Cut of All.

After looking Jess Willard over John L. Sullivan declared that he was a moral, young man. The agents will have to have more than this to work on.

Maybe He Wasn't Used to It.

Pitcher Lavender of the Cubs fell while getting into a bath tub and broke two ribs. This suggests that all first-class ball clubs should teach their players how to get into a bath tub. It is hard on the boys from the country.

One Falls Into a Rut.

A newspaper writer who was in Cincinnati thirty years ago has predicted that the Reds will win the pennant this season. This shows the terrible result of getting into a rut.

Why Not Let Him Think?

Battling Nelson declares he believes he can lick Freddy Welsh in a forty-five-round contest. It would be

DOOK O'BRIEN WANTS BAKER

Former Winnipeg Player Would Be Placed at Third.

No Word Received From Berger or Clarence Grina.

"Smuggly" Baker, who played on the in and outfield for Winnipeg last year, may be secured by the White Sox. The opening of the Northern league season is set for May 6, and the Dooks find themselves without the services of a third baseman of proven worth.

Roy Berger was to have reported. Nothing has been heard from the man who played with the Minneapolis team of the Northern league, two years ago, and did not play at all last year. Berger may come, and then again Berger may not.

In the event of Baker being grabbed, he tied and signed, the former member of A. H. Puffin's disrupted and shattered baseball club will be elected on third base. At least this was the announcement promulgated at the local baseball office today.

This may be taken as meaning that Cardinals or Quidding, present time candidates for the job of third basing, will have to show more class.

It was also stated that if Baker came his coming would not be before June 1. This would leave the team to worry along for the first month with some other ladsie perched on the far corner of the diamond.

Where is Handsome Clarence? That beautiful little ditty regarding the whereabouts of my wandering boy tonight, has nothing in the phantom shape of deep mystery on the queer case of Handsome Clarence Grina.

Where is Clarence? If you know, mail answers to Messrs. Bluma and O'Brien. They are anxious. No word has been received from the youth with the pure classical features.

That beautiful little ditty regarding the whereabouts of my wandering boy tonight, has nothing in the phantom shape of deep mystery on the queer case of Handsome Clarence Grina.

There being no practice or releases yesterday, Darby O'Brien gave out an interview.

"In in great shape this season," said the Dook. "Have been running over the hills and back again. I have never been in such good shape before. I'll be faster than ever this year. I'm going to be in there crackin' 'em, too. This may be a fast little league, but I'm a fast little player."

Darby declared yesterday that he might not release any more players for several days.

Nothing more has been heard from Puffin. It is believed he has the grip or tonsillitis, which is more common, also easier to acquire.

There will be practice games today and tomorrow at Athletic park.

SEASON OPENS ON MINNEAPOLIS FIELD.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 24.—St. Paul and Minneapolis are to play here this afternoon, it being the first game of the season on the American association grounds.

Indications are that a large crowd will be in attendance, as the re-organized local team has aroused hopes that it will be able to make a creditable showing this year.

A parade of enthusiastic automobiles is to precede the contest, and Mayor Nye is to conform to precedent and open the game by tossing the first ball.

BERRY TAKES PENTATHLON

Pennsylvania Athlete Captures National All-Around College Championship.

Yale Wins Distance Medley; Pennsylvania Takes Sprint Medley.

Philadelphia, April 24.—Howard Berry of the University of Pennsylvania yesterday carried off the Pentathlon, one of the principal events in the opening day's carnival of Pennsylvania's relay races and field sports. The Pentathlon, which is comprised of the broad jump, javelin and discus throws, and the 200 and 1,500 meter races, was on the program for the first time in the twenty-one years that Pennsylvania has held the carnival, and it is expected to represent the all-around college athletic championship of the United States.

Yale, after a same struggle, carried off the distance medley race for the American college championship, beating out Chicago, while Pennsylvania easily won the American title in the sprint medley race, with Chicago, the only other entrant in this event.

There were six contestants in the Pentathlon and the result was not decided until the last event, the 1,500-meter race, when Yale, working in time, Dartmouth finished second; McMaster of the University of Pittsburgh, third; Lamb of Pennsylvania, state college, fourth, and Creighton of Pennsylvania, fifth. Smith of Franklin and Marshall college, dropped out of the last event, as he was hopelessly out of the contest.

Berry captured the javelin throw and the 1500-meter race and was second in the discus throw and 200-meter event. He finished third in the broad jump.

The distance medley race was hotly contested. There were five starters, Yale, Chicago, Pennsylvania, Lehigh and Princeton, and they finished in the order named.

Nearly Equals Record.

One of the best performances of the day was the time made by Ferguson of Pennsylvania in the quarter-mile hurdle race. He won the event in 56 seconds, only two-fifths of a second slower than the world's record, made by H. Hillman of the New York A. C. in 1904.

Berry twenty-six events on the day's program, many of them for schools and colleges in the Metropolitan district of Philadelphia.

Champions from the East and West will meet in a special strength in the concluding day's sport of the annual relay carnival today. The weather was warm and the track fast, a combination which promised to help the flyers in various events.

Among the features of the day were the one two and four-mile relay races for the college championship of America. New in the program was the Pennsylvania relay games has been brought together such a large number of top class performers as has entered in these three contests.

Where the greatest interest centered in the four-mile championship. Eight teams entered the program to start, and among these, Cornell, Wisconsin, Michigan and Chicago, the teams given enough to beat 18 minutes. Cornell had a quartet of champions entered.

Michigan and Chicago, who fought out the four-mile relay race at Drake last week, were to make another try today to beat one another.

The one-mile championship brought together quarter milers, nearly all of whom have done better than 80 seconds in the two-mile relay, a full of half-mile men who have beaten 2 minutes.

Champions of all kinds and world's record-holders were listed in the sprint and field events. In the 100-yard dash there were Drew, Southern California, world's record-holder, Howard Cobb, American 220-yard champion; Baranick, Chicago, Western Intercollegiate champion; Hardy, Notre Dame, Western indoor champion; Patterson, Pennsylvania, Intercollegiate champion of 1913; Hoyt, Grinnell, who has done 9 4-5 seconds.

A large number of one-mile relay races for colleges, grouped into classes according to past performances, were also on the program.

BASEBALL PEACE RUMORS DENIED

Johnson Says Conference With Ball Had Nothing to Do With It.

Chicago, April 24.—Emphatic statements that no peace negotiations were going on are made by both President Gilmore of the Federal league and President Johnson of the American league.

But no explanation for the gathering here of the big men of baseball was vouchsafed. Among the leaders of the game expected here today is President Fener of the National league. The Federal league magnates who, according to information gained from sources close to them, will meet to talk over the ending of the war are William E. Robertson of Buffalo and Robert B. Ward of Brooklyn, while Phillip Ball of St. Louis and his attorney, Montague Lyons of St. Louis, admitted that they had been in conference with President Johnson Thursday and yesterday.

The American league head declared that his meeting with Mr. Ball—the third in three weeks—had nothing to do with peace in the baseball world.

"I know of no peace negotiations," said Mr. Johnson. "I have met Mr. Ball a number of times recently, but we have not discussed any such subject. There are no peace negotiations pending that I know of and we are willing any time to accept peace on terms fair as we are going on and we expect to get our share of the patronage."

No definite statements were given out concerning matters discussed at the meeting. Stories of peace discussed, which were credited to Federal league sources, say they include many of the arrangements which were planned when peace was first talked of and the elimination of one club in St. Louis and one in Chicago and perhaps abandonment of the field as a separate organization by the Federals, are included, it is said.

Featherweight Decision.

Millwaukee, Wis., April 24.—Gene Delmont, Memphis featherweight, was awarded the newspaper decision by a 10-9 score last night in a fast ten-round bout with Maurice Flynn, Chicago, substituting for Billy DeLo.

seen on the Pacific coast. The play was over a 36-hole course. Schmidt gained his lead when Evans drove two balls out of bounds from the eighteenth tee.

New York April 24.—According to Jack Curley, who is handling every detail regarding the Willard tour, the picture end of the game and the concessions, Champion Jess will have earned in the neighborhood of $1,000 by May 1, 1916. Of course, this does not mean that Jess will personally fiddle that vast amount, but the name of Willard will draw $1,000 into the promotion coffers.

FOR BOAT RACE:
Annapolis, Md., April 24.—Eager indications today were identified for the rowing races here—identified this afternoon, and promised to make the occasion a big day in the local aquatic season.

Harvard's eight and the navy's varsity will furnish the chief event on the program.

Other other races will be between the second year crew and the Annapolis team from Washington, and the navy academy fourth-class eight and that of the Central high school of Philadelphia. The district final regatta of the race will be a mile and five-eighths.

Fight Off; Promoters Happy:
Columbus, Ohio, April 24.—The scheduled twelve-round bout between John Barry of New York and Charles White of Chicago was called off today. The district officials would not accept a material reduction in the amount he had been guaranteed. The promoters of the fight would have cost them about $2,000. The box office receipts, however, were expected to cost only a little more than half the sum.

DRAMA VAUDEVILLE MOTION PICTURES

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

DULUTH, despite all the talk of a "poor theatrical year," is able to turn out a capacity audience for Maude Adams. Miss Adams, when she appears Monday night, will be greeted by as big an audience as the Lyceum will hold, judging from the advance sale.

Her play will be of almost as much interest as the actress herself. "Quality Street" is one of the early plays by J. M. Barrie, it having come immediately after "The Little Minister." In the first play Barrie showed that he was a skilled dramatist; in "Quality Street" he went further and proved it. His first work was no lucky accident and there are many who will hail with positive pleasure the opportunity of again seeing "Quality Street." To them Phoebe Thorsell will always remain one of Miss Adams' most charming characterizations.

DULUTH—or a very large part of it at least—will bid farewell to Homer Barton of the Baldwin Players with no little regret. Any actor who can appear before virtually the same audiences week after week for nearly a year and not weary them, must have real ability. Mr. Barton has a real comedy instinct, and in light comedy roles has few superiors. Miss Doris Olsson, who will also bid farewell to Duluth this week, in the short time she has been here, has shown herself to be an actress of intelligence, and her following has been growing rather than diminishing. Their successors come highly recommended and the popularity of the company is not likely to be diminished.

NEW plays produced in New York during the week include: "The Hypocrite," a war-time play by Justus Miles Forman. "The Women of the Guard," Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, first sung here in 1888, with De Wolf Hopper. "Egmont," Goethe's drama, acted by a German company.

ABOUT four more weeks of the Orpheum season remain. Vaudeville theaters are closing earlier this spring than usual, on account of light business, but the Duluth Orpheum will continue until about the end of May. It will then close for the summer and the policy for next season depends largely on the patronage during the next four weeks. The attendance has been fair since it reopened, but not up to the mark that the quality of the bills warrants. Next week's bill, on paper at least, looks like a remarkably strong vaudeville program.

ANYONE who doubts the drawing power of a name or a face or a funny pair of legs, should study the career of the newest "movie" favorite, Charles Chaplin. The Chaplin craze seems to have supplanted the Mary Pickford craze. In cities like Minneapolis it is hard to find a motion picture theater not advertising a Charles Chaplin comedy. Manager Phelps of the Grand theater will answer the question of whether or not this popularity can be cashed. The "movie" fan is as much of a connoisseur as the patron of the $2 attraction—perhaps a little more discriminating, and less easy to fool.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" AT THE LYCEUM

Farce for Farewell of Homer Barton and Miss Doris Olsson.

For the first time in many years "Charley's Aunt" will be seen at the Lyceum next week, opening with the Sunday matinee. It will be presented all week by the Baldwin Players with the exception of Monday night, when Maude Adams will occupy the local stage, and the Baldwin company will go to Cloggett.

Next week will also be the farewell week for Homer Barton and Miss Doris Olsson, and will mark the return of A. Romaine Callender, who has just closed a successful season in "The Song of Songs" at the Eltinge theater in New York. Mr. Barton will take a vacation for the summer, and Miss Olsson will return to Boston. Both of them have made many friends since they came to Duluth, and several little informal entertainments are being planned in their honor. One week from tomorrow the new leading man and the new leading woman of the Baldwin company will open in "Fine Feathers."

Reams might be written around "Charley's Aunt." The play is by no means new. It has been done time and time again, and that is its chief charm. For no matter how often "Charley's Aunt" has been presented to audiences, it is apparently always a welcome visitor.

There is that element of humanness in the comedy that is always a sure-fire hit with those who witness its production.

"Charley's Aunt" has had a rare record. It has been played from coast to coast, and everywhere large audiences have roared at its ridiculous situations, its laughter-provoking line and innumerable surprises. It has been one of those successes which never seem to diminish, and as recent as last season played the circuit at a dollar-and-a-half price. "Charley's Aunt" is built up by a master hand of comedy effects. Two young fellows, one of whom Charley, desire to entertain two young women at dinner, and desiring to follow the usage of polite society, have agreed that Charley's aunt, an estimable lady who is to arrive from Brazil that day, is to act as the chaperone. The young women consent, but at the crucial moment the aunt fails to appear, and the boys are hard pressed to keep their agreement. Then a friend of Charley's, a Lord Sabsby, called "Bab" for short, happens in, and he is pressed into service. Having a costume which he has secured for a private theatrical, he becomes Charley's aunt, and proceeds to chaperone the party. From this premise the screen-ingly funny situations arise thick and fast. They are harmless in their fun, but ridiculous and laugh-provoking. Things take such a turn that the young fellow is compelled to continue the disguise beyond the original time. The real aunt, who is supposed to be a wealthy Brazilian widow, naturally attracts fortune-hunters and "Bab" being taken for her, has his manifold troubles, with one old fellow in particular. The laughing complications pile up without end, and the laughter grows louder from scene to scene. Through it all there courses a delightful vein of romance in which the young fellows are the principals, and the denouement is brought about in a highly original and unexpected manner. Like "Uncle Tom's Cabin," there are today thousands who have never seen it, and yet today, as it was thirty years ago, it is one of the big theatrical drawing cards.

FAMOUS DANGERS AT THE ORPHEUM

Two Headliners and Bill of Uniform Excellence for Next Week.

With Alice Eiss and Bert French, whom Madame Bernhardt declares are the greatest dramatic dancers of the present age, presenting "The Dance of the Temptress," dividing headline honors with Madame Besson, the eminent English actress, presenting "It Doesn't Happen," Channing & Poole's late success, and the balance of the bill made up of standard vaudeville features, the Orpheum promises a real treat in the way of genuine entertainment for the coming week.

"The Dance of the Temptress" can be safely said to be one of the best of sensational dancing creations. The title is self-explanatory, and the act has an unusual stage setting. This is a sea of soap bubbles with various lights playing upon them into which the "Temptress" (Miss Eiss) dances, making a scene that is beautiful beyond description. Until the war made foreign tours impossible, Eiss and French played annual engagements at the European capitals and they are considered pantomime dancers of the very first water.

Madame Besson, who is to share headline honors with Eiss & French, is an excellent actress, and has appeared in leading roles of many of the New York successes. In her advent in vaudeville she is presenting Channing Pollock's little playlet, "It Doesn't Happen," and in this dramatic episode is scoring the hit of her career.

Shirli Rives and Ben Harrison, offering "Bits of Hits," fit the bill nicely, bringing bits of the most popular musical comedies. Miss Rives, among many accomplishments in the legitimate theaters, sang and created the title role in "Alma, Where Do You Part Favorably with her two predecessors in the same part, Kitty Gordon and Truly Shattuck.

As a comedy feature on the program will be Hoy and Lee, who have been vaudeville favorites for many years. The two men are comedians who are really entitled to the use of the word, and their voices are so good that without the humorous lyrics their songs would be decidedly pleasing. The Davies Family, six in number, are jugglers, but instead of juggling inanimate objects, they juggle one another, and create a series

MAUDE ADAMS COMING.

Favorite Star Will Be Seen in Revival of "Quality Street."

Very few announcements have awakened more interest among theatergoers than the one that Maude Adams was to present J. M. Barrie's early comedy, "Quality Street," at the Lyceum theater, Monday night only.

This was shown by the demand for seats, and it is a sign that the charming comedy will be unfolded by Miss Adams and the members of her company before an audience that will fill the house. Some plays will never grow old, and "Quality Street" seems to belong to their number. Barrie is a sentimentalist with a well developed sense of humor in this play, and as sentiment can never depart from the world, and humor will always be enjoyed he gave to his work ingredients that will always keep it fresh and fascinating.

Another thing that tends to permit the play holding its popularity is the fact that in it Miss Adams has one of the most charming and diverting roles that has ever been given her. It is a quaint, lovable little lady that she presents as Phoebe Throssell, trim and just as Puritanical as the little village in which she lived in the long ago. But Phoebe had a heart and she lost it to Valentine Brown, a young man who grew in the third a weed attacks the garden and in the fourth it is shown how the flowers drove the weed from the garden. Of course, Miss Adams will play Phoebe Throssell, and in the supporting company are: Charles Hammer, William Taylor, Stafford Windsor, Willard Barren, Wallace Jackson, Angela Ogden, Elsie, Clarence, Leonard, and Sarah Converse and Byrd Rodgers.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

The announcement is made that Julia Arthur who, since her marriage some years ago, has permanently retired from the stage, will appear in Boston for the second time this season. She has agreed to play the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet" with Ernest, commencing next week for the actor's fund. A number of other celebrities will appear on the same bill.

It is said that David Warfield is to lay aside "The Auctioneer" permanently at the conclusion of a two weeks' engagement in New York which opens tomorrow evening. He will rest for the remainder of the season and Delasco hopes to have another play for him next year. There have been many promises of an eventful appearance of Warfield as Shylock, but it is not likely that this will materialize at an early time.

According to the will of the late Alice Howard, widow of the playwright, Bronson Howard, the Society of American Dramatists is bequeathed the sum of $7,000 for the maintenance of a library. At the death of certain relatives of the dramatist the society also comes into a legacy of $100,000 at present held in trust.

Janet Beecher is to become a Belasco star. The talented actress, who was leading lady for Dillingham in "The Concert," is to head a company which is to try out a play called "Love Thought." It is to be given its first hearing at Stamford, Conn., this week. In it she plays the role of a female physician.

Bruce McRae, who has been playing with Ethel Barrymore this season, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia which, for a time, threatened to have serious consequences. His progress has been quite satisfactory lately and he hopes to resume his work shortly.

There is a report current that Leo Dietrichstein is to leave the managerial wing of Belasco and identify himself with Cohen and Harris next season.

Holbrook Ellin is to be starred in a new play. It is called "The Noloach" and is based on the present war conditions. The play has been written by Beulah M. Dix. Chicago is to see the first production of the piece next month. George C. Tyler, for so many years the head of the firm of Liebler & Co., which recently was forced into bankruptcy, will manage Ellin, in conjunction with Klaw and Erlanger.

George Randolph Chester, author of "The Rich Quick Wallingford," finds himself in difficulty with the Colonial Motion Picture Corporation. In a suit which that company recently filed the claim is made that Chester gave them the rights to picture the Wallingford adventures and accepted $1,000 in the way of advance royalty. Now, they claim, he refused to continue with the play of editing the scenario and they claim to be damaged to the extent of $7,000.

The death of Eben Plympton removed an actor of the old school who was very well known. He was 64 years old. The play has been written by Beulah M. Dix. Chicago is to see the first production of the piece next month. George C. AUTO PLANT FOR DULUTH Promoter Would Establish Factory Costing About $250,000.

An automobile assembling, rebuilding and manufacturing plant is one of the new factories that will be built in Duluth during the next year. Such a plant is now being planned for the West end and it is said that a site has been selected near the center of the business district of this part of the city.

The plan, according to C. E. Kling, the promoter, will cost close to $250,000. At the start he proposes to build an up-to-date garage and machine shop, the initial investment for which will call for an expenditure of about $50,000.

Mr. Kling said this morning that he already has assurances of backing in his venture. Before coming to Du-

PASTOR VICTIM OF NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, and Mrs. Silloway left this morning for Deerpark, Minn., where they will spend the summer on Serpentine lake in the interest of Mr. Silloway's health. The pastor has been suffering from a nervous breakdown for the last six weeks and his physicians have recommended a complete rest of at least six months.

His breakdown followed the severe strain of attempting to hold nightly revival meetings unassisted in his city.

Mr. Kling said this morning that he already has assurances of backing in his venture. Before coming to Duluth, Mr. Kling visited a number of cities West, but said that none offered shipping possibilities like the Head of the Lakes.

"I have been connected with the automobile industry and trade for the last fifteen years and have made a study of it in the big industrial centers of Europe and America," said Mr. Kling. "After having studied conditions in Duluth four months I have come to the conclusion that Duluth is an ideal manufacturing location and that is the reason why I intend to make this community the field of my future activities."

"Duluth is already the center of the largest iron ore mining and shipping in the United States, if not in the world. And it is now only a matter of time when a large percentage of this ore will be smelted in local blast furnaces and also refined to steel and iron of every commercial shape and quantities, which will be the first step to an industrial era never dreamed of. The easy access to commercial steel and iron at prices not boosted by excessive freight rates on raw material will naturally give such a local industry a great advantage over other less favorably located communities and make it not only possible but easy to compete with big industrial centers of the East. Of all the different branches of the steel industry, automobile manufacturing is the most lucrative and this has got to be a foothold the most flourishing communities, with prosperity written everywhere and on everybody, have grown up from almost nothing."

"I think that an up-to-date auto repair and rebuilding plant, and a little later an assembling plant, would be a very good thing, which would pay good dividends and this has got to be a thing that I have very good reasons for such a proposition, as a stepping stone to greater undertakings, should I find that the support and backing of local interests is sufficient to justify the expenditures."

church for a period of nearly two months. Early in February he was advised by physicians to stop and take a rest, but believing that he would be able to stand the strain, he continued his evangelistic meetings until near the end of March. His health collapsed completely and until the last few days has been confined to his bed.

Rev. Mr. Silloway has been pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church for four years. During that time he has, through his active work, been instrumental in causing a large increase in the membership of the church. The congregation recently voted to give him a six months' vacation in which to give him an opportunity to recuperate.

During the summer the pulpit will be supplied by Rev. E. A. Callender, a theological student from Chattanooga, Tenn. He will arrive in the city to assume charge of the work on May 2.

Only One Important Producing Mine of Anaconda Company Closed.

Electric Hoist Being Put Into Commission By North Butte.

Butte, Mont., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only one important producing property of the Anaconda Copper company, the Mountain View mine, is still closed, and that is down while important repairs are being made. In a very few weeks every property in the Butte district will be under normal operations during the past week. Ben B. Thayer, president, and C. P. Kelley, vice president, both of whom are in the city, are making a semi-annual inspection of the mines, smelters and other properties of the company. "The company is now operating every property it is possible to operate," said President Thayer.

Mr. Thayer repeated that the Anaconda company will maintain the wage scale agreement which was made with the miners, by which wages move from $3.50 to $4 per day, according to the average selling price of copper for a majority number of days in each month. At 16 cents a pound wages increase automatically from $3.50 to $3.75 per day, and the rate will be $4.00 per day for April. As copper has been selling at 17 cents, the price at which wages increase to $4.00 per day, will probably be paid in May. No matter what the price of copper may be, the 15 cents the Anaconda company, and all other operating concerns in the Butte district, will pay miners $3.75 per day. There is no indication of any further dispute over wages or working conditions. The miners are working without a union and they do not seem at all anxious to get back into a union. Conditions all around have been much better since the union was disrupted by the miners themselves.

The electric hoist of the North Butte company at Granite Mountain was given a tryout a few days ago and will gradually be put into commission for mining. It worked very satisfactorily, but needed some adjustments. Mining men all over the country have been watching the installation with much interest, as it is the largest hoist in the Western hemisphere. It is greatly increasing the mining possibilities at the North Butte properties. The old Slocum shaft will be abandoned as soon as the new hoist is in perfect working order. The new hoist will be done through the Granite Mountain shaft. During the past two months the North Butte has been steadily increasing the number of men at work and the company will be on a normal operating basis in a short time. The development work on the Edith May vein on the north side of the city, showing up a wonderfully rich ore body, where it has already been drifted for more than 500 feet. The ore is first-class and assays can as high as 40 per cent copper. Cross-cut is being run from the 3,000 and will get under the new ore body in about a month. The Edith May has been increasing in richness from the depth, and there is no longer any doubt about the North Butte having come back. It is probable that the company will not greatly increase its output until the 3,000-foot level is opened.

The new east and west vein encountered on the 2,500-foot level in the Colorado mine by the Davis-Daly company recently has been drifted on a distance of seventy-five feet and appears to be of a permanent character. The vein is about four feet wide and carries some high grade ore. It was first encountered at a point 350 feet from the shaft, and is the richest vein yet found in the mine. It is believed to be the old 1815 vein, which faulted and is now picked up.

The Boston & Montana Development company, a big project backed by London and Eastern capital to develop the Elkhorn and French Gulch mines, owned by the company and constructed through the Big Hole valley, is making good progress in driving the big tunnel on the Elkhorn properties. The opening is now in about 1,725 feet, and will be put in a cross-cutting to the veins is started. At a point 1,705 feet in the tunnel cut a four-foot vein of molybdenum ore.

Work is progressing steadily at the Butte & Great Falls property northeast of Butte at the head of Dixie gulch and Manager Robert Green states that the shaft is 350 feet deep and that cross-cutting is proceeding northward on 300 level to cut the G. V. vein. In doing this the management expects to cross-cut several veins that have not been prospecting for.

"We have already cut some promising stringers," said Mr. Green, "and Allan Pierce of Great Falls, one of the owners of the company, who has been here several days last week here at the mine, is making good progress in driving the big tunnel on the Elkhorn properties. The opening is now in about 1,725 feet, and will be put in a cross-cutting to the veins is started. At a point 1,705 feet in the tunnel cut a four-foot vein of molybdenum ore."

The development work on the Edith May vein on the north side of the city, showing up a wonderfully rich ore body, where it has already been drifted perfor, and the making of a roadbed will be begun at once. A good deal of filling, as much as ten feet in some places, will be required and will take some time.

Franklin. Franklin has just been holed through on the twenty-eighth level into the Allouez conglomerate from the Powe-lic amygdaloid in high grade rock about fifty feet from the raise. The other raise from the bottom level, the thirty-seventh to the thirty-second has been in very good rock up from the thirty-fourth level, and is almost holed through. With the sub-level half way between the levels, which are 150 feet apart, there will be ultimately forty-two openings, or drifts more properly speaking. As fast as possible these drifts will be started and the tonnage will soon begin to increase and in a few months the earnings should commence to exceed the expenses. All the work done so far is only development, no stoping having been done.

Victoria has now 400 feet in openings on the twenty-sixth level, all in high grade rock with the vein running to great widths in places and very rich. The 250-foot stretch on the twenty-fourth level. This ground, full of small veins and baffle, is the richest yet found again some way to the east, has been opened up and the vein is now yielding the same good values. Rates from two levels for the new skipway have been made and the work is now in the way. This new skipway for the sinking will triple the production, as the sinking will not interfere so much with the production.

South Lake is opening the second of the South lakes, and the Big Hole drifts and is meeting with high values.

CONSOLIDATION PLAN PROCEEDING

Amalgamated to Cease and Anaconda to Be Sole Company.

That preparations are being forward steadily for the consolidation of the Amalgamated Copper company and the Anaconda Copper Mining company by the abandonment of the holding company and making the Anaconda the holding and operating company, was announced by the official call for a special meeting of the stockholders of the Anaconda Copper Mining company to be held at the offices of the company at the Washoe smelter May 19 at 1 o'clock p.m.

The purpose of the special meeting is to consider the proposition of decreasing the number of shares into which the capital stock of the Anaconda Copper Mining company is divided. Notice was also being given having secured the consent of two-thirds of the stock of the company, the number of directors of the company would be increased from seven to nine. Three directors will be elected each year for a term of three years.

All these moves are preliminary to the consolidation of the Anaconda Copper Mining company and the Anaconda Copper Mining company, the market value of Anaconda and Amalgamated will be almost the same. If there were any doubts in the minds of stockholders of either company as to the real intention of the management to consolidate the two companies and reduce them from two to one, this action will remove all doubts. The proposition of having but one company, and that the operating as well as the holding company, has many advantages. It will simplify the management and the Anaconda and Amalgamated company of its kind in the mining industry.

BUTTE & SUPERIOR MAKES NEW RECORD

Largest Production and Most Profitable Month in Its History.

Butte, Mont., April 24.—That the month of April will be a record-breaker at the Butte & Superior mine and of the formation. The company's production for the first twenty days is maintained.

The month of March was the best one the company had up to that time, but April will far surpass it. During March the company produced approximately 42,000 tons of ore or nearly 10,000 tons more than the usual production of a year. From this ore there were secured 12,000 tons of concentrates. The recovery ran about 30 per cent. All told about 12,000,000 pounds of zinc was secured.

The new Janney machines are replacing the old machines that were in use in the flotation plant and these are giving better results. At the present rate of production it is estimated that the tonnage for April, which is one day shorter than March, will run 42,000 tons with concentrate of approximately 12,000,000 pounds.

The present prices on spelter at East St. Louis are stronger than ever and it is not improbable that 9 cents a pound will be realized from the zinc. This would mean a gross return of about $1,000,000 for the month.

Referring to recent rumors, General Manager Brown stated that the company of any consequences has been encountered, and there is nothing in conditions to make the company of any consequences. The production of zinc will be curtailed in a manner. The vein of zinc ore are holding out in a most satisfactory manner.

EIGHT PER CENT ORE IS SHIPPED

Superior & Boston to Increase Shipments to 1,500 Tons Monthly.

Houghton, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Superior & Boston has been shipping 8 per cent ore to the smelter since the middle of March and will continue to increase the shipments until they reach the figure of 1,500 tons a month. It can be most conservatively stated that 8 per cent of the ore will average 7 per cent. On a 15-cent metal market, $5 a ton is being earned. As in the case of most of the fissure vein properties of the Globe district, there have been great geological changes which it has taken a long time to comprehend. This understanding is being reached concerning this property and its explorations will be more positive from this time on. The stock is owned mostly in Boston, Houghton and Globe.

LEGAL NOTICES. U. S. Engineer Office, Duluth, Minn., April 15, 1915. Sealed proposals for dredging in Ontonagon Harbor and near Keweenaw Point, Mich., will be received at this office until 10 a. m., May 4, 1915, and then publicly opened. Information and application. E. D. Peck, Major, Engrs.

ROWE MINE VERY BUSY

Is Expected to Make Its Greatest Shipments This Season.

Rich Ore Body Struck By Great Northern Exploration Company.

Brainerd, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—With four engines at work in the pit, two steam shovels burrowing into the over-burden and two units of its hydraulic system at work, the Rowe pit, mine owned by the Pittsburgh Steel Ore company is making a fine showing and things tend to point that the reported allotment of 250,000 tons will be shipped this season. For the cement are being put in for the concentrator, which is now under construction. It is believed that the present season will witness the greatest shipping this mine has seen.

Other pits waiting for the Thompson, at Crosby, operated by the Iron Mountain Mining company. The mine is being changed from an underground proposition to a pit mine, the Iron Mountain is supposed to have a good quality of manganese ore. But little water is coming into the shaft.

Water Pumped Out. The Iron Mountain Mining company now has the new shaft house placed over the shaft and water has been pumped out and the further sinking of the shaft commenced. More men have been put to work and the ore will be loaded into cars for shipment. The Iron Mountain is supposed to have a good quality of manganese ore. But little water is coming into the shaft.

CROPS WILL BE IMPROVED

State Association Organizing Clubs to Better Conditions.

Several Counties Co-operate; Production Will Receive Close Attention.

AIMS OF THE STATE CROP ASSOCIATION.

To organize crop improving interests for better production. To interest people in the production and use of better seed and crops. To bring grower and buyer of seeds together to eliminate combinations. To publish seed lists of those growing more, clean, viable seeds for sale. To publish annual reports of seed production and work accomplished. To hold annually a seed fair and meeting for educational purposes. To make Minnesota more prosperous, more productive, more liked, more popular and more thickly settled.

Crop improvement associations are being organized under the auspices of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association. The purpose being to promote the testing, growing, breeding and distribution of improved farm crop seeds. Already twelve county branches have affiliated with the state organization. The branches are located in the following counties: Duluth, Blue Earth, Wright, Murray, Kandiyohi, Goodhue, Wabasha, Scott, Lyon, Nicollet, Houston and Todd.

The Duluth County Crop Improvement association was organized March 19. It is included in the Minnesota Crop Improvement association and started out with a charter membership of twenty-one members. Minnesota No. 21 (medium) and Minnesota No. 26 (early) oats were adopted as the standard for local conditions. Minnesota No. 23 corn was also adopted as a standard. Potatoes are being extensively tested and compared with the view of adopting standard varieties next year.

The Martin county association, which organized on March 15, last, has adopted Silver King and Early Wonder as the standard varieties of corn and recognizes a coming strain of Red's Yellow. Also the Kearsley (early) and the Russian Green (medium) are adopted as the standards for oats. The latter for general upland planting. Other crops will be considered from time to time as records warrant.

The various county associations are having extensive plans for testing performance records of all farm crops and are adopting the classification of potatoes arranged by the standardization committee of the State Crop Improvement association. The Faribault county association, now four years old, recently voted to adopt the Minnesota state association and to adopt at an early date the standard classification most suited to the county's conditions.

The officers of the state association are: C. W. Giffert, Waterville, president; E. M. Payne, Pipestone, vice president; E. J. Giffert, Waterville, treasurer; and C. E. Bull, University farm, St. Paul, secretary.

GOOD SEED AID TO GOOD POTATO CROP

Planting Season From Middle of April to First of June.

The potato-planting season for Minnesota is from the middle of April to the first of June, says Richard Wellington, University farm, St. Paul. Parts of the state having sandy soil suitable for the growing of early table stock may plant as early as the middle of April with safety. Localities in which seed potatoes are late varieties are grown, planted later in the spring. Potatoes planted in rows should be from 12 inches to 18 inches apart in the rows if they are early, and from 17 to 20 inches apart in the rows if they are late. The average depth should be 3 1/2 feet apart.

Early potatoes should not be planted so deep as late ones. On high soils early varieties may be planted from 4 to 4 inches apart and in rows from 4 to 5 inches deep. On heavy soils the depth should be about 1 inch less.

The greatest care should be exercised in the selection of seed and the desirability of selecting from a very limited number of varieties for each locality is now well recognized. The early Ohio, Triumph and Irish Cobbler are recommended for early planting. The Rural New Yorker, Green Mountain, Burbank, Burbank Russet, and the late varieties, such as the Adirondack, are the kind the planter wishes to grow. If his planting is late, he should take pains to select potatoes of as nearly perfect size, shape and roundness as he can find. The size of the seed pieces varies. The average, however, for early varieties is from 3/4 of an ounce to 1 ounce, and for late varieties from 1 ounce to 1 1/4 ounces.

Every precaution should be taken to see that the seed potatoes are uninfested by disease. After selection, therefore, the seed potatoes should be soaked for 1 1/2 hours in a corrosive sublimate solution, made of 4 ounces of corrosive sublimate to 20 gallons of water.

At planting time the soil should be well pulverized. A Northern Minnesota grower says that he has doubled his yield by thoroughly tilling the soil in the spring and then plowing under the mulch so produced.

In cultivating the first time the cultivator should be run as deep and as close to the rows as possible. Usually the cultivator may be run to a depth of 2 1/2 to 3 inches in the second cultivation or afterward.

To provide against blight, early and late, and also against the Colorado potato beetle, the plants should be sprayed with Bordeaux mixture and Paris green, or arsenic of lead. The first spraying with the Bordeaux mixture should be when the plants are about 8 inches high. Spraying for beetles should begin as soon as the first signs of infestation and should be repeated when necessary.

Potatoes should always be cultivated at least four times after they are up, and six cultivations are better than four.

NOVEL AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL IN THE HIBBING DISTRICT

HOME OF MRS. KOSKI, NEAR LITTLE SWAN SCHOOL.

SCHOOL HOUSE IN STUNTZ TOWNSHIP.

POULTRY HOUSE AT LITTLE SWAN SCHOOL, BUILT BY MAN-UAL TRAINING BOYS OF HIBBING HIGH SCHOOL.

St. Louis county can boast of one of the most novel agricultural schools in this part of the country. It is known as the Little Swan school of the Hibbing district.

The school is located in the midst of a Finnish farming community about fifteen miles southeast of the village of Hibbing. The school was founded by a Finnish farming community about fifteen miles southeast of the village of Hibbing. The school was founded by a Finnish farming community about fifteen miles southeast of the village of Hibbing.

Two years ago the property consisted of a one-room school and a five room cottage for the teacher. All located on one acre of ground. Prof. Forth, former superintendent of the schools of the Hibbing district, decided to enlarge the school and work on the school property.

One acre of land was added to the lot and a two-story brick school house was erected at a cost of $20,000. The building has a full basement and the school property is located, as well as a steam heating plant and a gasoline pump to supply the building with water.

The old schoolhouse was removed to the rear of the lot and was converted into a barn. Then a poultry house was erected at a cost of about $20,000. The building has a full basement and the school property is located, as well as a steam heating plant and a gasoline pump to supply the building with water.

Across the road from the school, the Hibbing board of education last year purchased a 40-acre tract at a state land sale at a cost of about $23 an acre. Of the 40-acre tract, about 2 1/2 acres have been cleared and are ready for crops this spring. The clearing and plowing of the land has cost about $10,000. The school property is located, as well as a steam heating plant and a gasoline pump to supply the building with water.

During the month of December last, an advanced Guernsey cow was purchased from the Jean du Luth farm of Duluth and a few weeks ago a fine central purpose breed and small flock of S. C. Rhode Island Red hens were added to the stock. The school property is located, as well as a steam heating plant and a gasoline pump to supply the building with water.

Two teachers are in charge of about fifty pupils. John S. Parish is principal of the school. The school property is located, as well as a steam heating plant and a gasoline pump to supply the building with water.

Charles Holms' place. An example of what can be accomplished by the small farmer in successfully developing his land is furnished by the story of the experience of Charles Holms, who has made a success of his farm home on the West Two rivers near Forbes, St. Louis county, by persistent effort and good management.

Mr. Holms is one of the many small farmers of the county who have made a study and business of agriculture and who have profited by the transaction. After five years of perseverance he is now comfortably situated. At his farm home near Forbes he has erected good, substantial buildings and made many other improvements. He has eighteen acres under cultivation and seventeen acres seeded for pasture. The latter has been brushed, but not tamped. His stock and poultry consists of four cows, two horses and ten hogs.

Mr. Holms attended every session of the short course institute conducted at Forbes this week by A. E. Hostetter, district supervisor of agricultural agents, and A. J. McGuire of the Northeast Minnesota experiment station. Also he was one of the farmers who made notes of the instruction given by Mr. McGuire in regard to producing on the farm all feed necessary for the successful production of milk or butter fat.

Mr. McGuire had figures to show that twenty pounds of clover hay and fifteen pounds of rutabagas fed to a good dairy cow will produce one pound of butter fat or about one and one-fifth pounds of butter.

Dairy Possibilities. "This being the case," he said, "it is possible for St. Louis county farmers to handle dairy cows successfully. In order to insure the good growth of clover hay and a yield of from six to eight tons per acre of rutabagas, a good dairy cow will produce one pound of butter fat or about one and one-fifth pounds of butter."

Mr. McGuire explained that the land should be seeded to oats and clover and the first year at the rate of two and one-half bushels of cleaned oats per acre, six pounds of medium red five pounds of Alaska clover and five pounds of timothy seed. The rotation, he explained, followed persistently year after year. The yields of clover and timothy, he said, were larger yields of oats, larger yields of clover and larger yields of cultivated crops, such as potatoes, fodder corn and rutabagas.

Thirty adult farmers and thirty school children, boys and girls, attended the short course meetings which were held at Forbes on Wednesday. The officers elected were: Adolph Peterson, president; Alfred Quail, vice president; John Newberg, secretary; Alfred Abbott, treasurer; Lewis and Gilbert appeared before Judge Foster to argue a demurrer to the action instituted by the defendant company. The point urged is that, while the mother might have the right to have her own right for damages arising out of the boy's death, she would have no right to sue as administratrix of the young man's estate, because no cause of action could have been maintained by him against the brewers had he lived and that as administratrix she is only the personal representative of his rights.

Justice Foster indicated that the cause of action was demurrable but held the case open in order that O. Magney, of counsel for the plaintiff, might submit other authorities. If the demurrer is sustained, the plaintiff will bring the action in his own right. The complaint alleges that the brewer company furnished to Young Benign and eleven other boys with a bottle of beer, and that while the boys and another lad were returning the keg to the barbers, they were struck by a high wind, which caused their rowing boat to be overturned, but his companion, clung to the boat until rescued.

are the best ever known for windbreak planting. They are three-year old seedlings can be bought in lots of 500 or 1,000 for about 1 cent each.

MUCH TIME LOST IN SOWING SEED

Dakota Farmers Month Ahead of Local Men, Say Experts.

Farmers of Northern Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin, less more than a month's time nearly every year in putting their crops in, according to opinions of local experts on agricultural questions.

In North Dakota, the seeding is practically all done, while in Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin few farmers have started seeding yet.

"It is not necessary to wait until all the frost is out of the ground," declared an experienced agriculturist in observing the delay of local farmers.

If the top of the ground is dry and workable it is in good shape for planting and not only does the farmer lose considerable valuable time for not sowing his crops while the soil is in such condition, but he is actually taking a chance of not being able to get in his seeds until well along in the summer.

When the rainy season, which comes along about this time each year, will shortly be here and then it will be impossible to plant until the ground is not so hard and the seeds are not so dry.

There is certainly no reason in the world why our farmers should not get busy in planting their crops in the summer.

Persons buying clover seed should be on the lookout for dodder this year. This part of the country has been sent out by W. L. Oswald of the Minnesota State Laboratory, University farm, St. Paul. Oswald says that several samples of Minnesota grown clover seed have been found to contain dodder. In some cases 4 per cent of the seed has been found to contain dodder.

The situation is not bad at present, but it is not safe to rely on preventive methods of a thorough-going sort. The state's pure seed law requires that all seed containing dodder shall bear a label announcing the fact. The law also requires that the seed be sold at a price which will allow the buyer to look for such a label.

COUNCIL WILL ASK BIG SUM

Resolutions Will Be Introduced Calling for About $60,000.

Appropriations totaling about $60,000 will be asked by members of the city commission at the regular council meeting Monday afternoon.

Commissioner Farnham will introduce resolutions appropriating $30,000 for the construction of sidewalks during this summer, $7,000 for storm sewers and $5,000 for the purchase of lumber to be used in maintaining the city's streets.

Two Orders Issued in C. R. I. & P. RECEIVERSHIP

Chicago, April 24.—Judge Carpenter in the United States district court today issued two orders in the receivership proceedings of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company. One makes Jacob M. Dickinson sole receiver in all matters where H. U. Mudge, the other receiver and president of the road, is interested as a defendant in court suits and claims. The other confers power on the receivers to make, adjust and enforce contracts.

The first order applies particularly to suits alleging maladministration. The court empowered judges Dickinson to investigate all such suits at once, for the purpose of safeguarding the interests of the road.

DULUTH ATTORNEY SECURES BIG VERDICT.

Benjamin M. Goldberg, Duluth attorney, returned yesterday from Little Rock, Ark., where he appeared as counsel for the plaintiff in a lawsuit where a $48,000 verdict was returned in favor of his client. The verdict was returned by a jury of twelve men, who were tried before Judge Tribner of the United States district court.

The action was one to recover damages arising out of an injunction proceeding in the federal court at Little Rock, Ark., where the plaintiff had obtained an order for the removal of the defendant from the Valley Farm Land company.

GREAT BATTLES RAGING BOTH EAST AND WEST

OVER 1,000 CANADIANS CAPTURED BY GERMANS, SAYS WAR STATEMENT

Taken in Fierce Fighting Around Ypres, According to Berlin.

Number of Prisoners in Engagement 5,000, Including Many Nationalities.

Number of Cannon Taken Forty-Five, Including Four English.

Berlin, April 26, by wireless to Say-ville, N. Y.—In the official statement given out today by the German general army headquarters it was announced that more than 1,000 Canadians had been captured in the fighting around Ypres, Belgium. The text of the statement follows:

"The Germans hold Lierne, on the west bank of the canal, which the French pretend to have conquered, also on the east of the canal the conquered territory remains in the possession of the Germans. The number of cannon taken by the Germans rose to 45, including four English.

"Northwest of Zonnebeke the German attacks continue. More than 1,000 Canadians were taken prisoners. The total number of prisoners rose to 5,000.
They include Senegal negroes, English,
Turks, Hindus, French, Canadians, Zouaves and Algerians.

"In the Champagne region, north of Beaune, two French night attacks were repulsed.

"On the Moselle heights the German attacks progressed along several mountain saddles until the height to the west of Les Bains was taken by storm. Several hundred French soldiers were taken prisoners and six machine guns also were captured.

"In the forest the enemy's advances failed.

"In the Vosges the Germans took back Hartmanns-Werk. In this engagement 11 officers and 749 French soldiers were taken prisoners and six machine guns and four machine guns captured.

"Northwest of Cleveaux feeble Russian night attacks were repulsed and the situation in the east front remains unchanged."

THINKS ITALY WILL ENTER

Garibaldi Gains Impression Through Interviews With King.

Will Start on Side of Allies
Before Parliament
Meets.

Paris, April 26.—A friend and brother officer of Peppino Garibaldi has informed the Petit Journal that Garibaldi gained the impression from interviews with King Victor Emmanuel Premier Salandra, Foreign Minister Sonnino and prominent politicians that Italy would enter the war on the side of the allies before parliament convenes in May.

Will Oppose Parliament.
Rome, April 26, via Paris.—The opinion prevails in parliamentary circles that if no definite decision as to Italy's participation in the war is reached previous to May 12, the date upon which the chamber of deputies reconvenes, parliament will be prorogued.

International questions could not be discussed in parliament while they were still under negotiation. It is argued and it would be absurd and most undig-nified for parliament to discuss trifling matters when such highly important questions were before the country. Furthermore, the chamber has given full powers to the cabinet, and nothing has occurred to destroy this confidence.

Referring to the international financial situation, created by the war, the Giornale d'Italia says the United States, at the end of hostilities, will be the only country to have secured large economic profit. This paper then gives statistics to show the increase in American exports and says further:

"This war, which is devouring Europe, is a magnificent thing, financially, for the United States.

King Victor Emmanuel met the members of the cabinet in conference yesterday. He talked with Premier Salan-dra and Foreign Minister Sonnino on the situation at length and after they had gone he was closeted for an hour with Minister of War Zupelli.

JOHN BUNNY, FAMOUS MOVING PICTURE COMEDIAN, DEAD.
New York, April 26.—John Bunny, whose antics as a moving picture comedian have made millions laugh, died at his home in Brooklyn today. He had been ill for about three weeks of a complication of diseases.

RICHARD H. FAGAN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE WITH REVOLVER SHOTBODY FOUND ON FLOOR OF HIS OFFICE

Had Not Been Worrying
During Night, Says
Widow.

Tragedy Not Discovered for Some Time After It Occurred.

Was Pioneer Prospector and Discoverer of Section Thirty Mine.

After locking himself in his office at 425 Manhattan building and discon-necting the telephone, Richard H.
Fagan, wealthy mining man, shot himself through the head shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. He was dead when found more than an hour later.

Premortem of the shooting by Mrs.
Fagan failed to save her husband, as she arrived at his office too late. He had not been feeling well for several days and last night did not go to bed at all, refusing to listen to his wife's pleadings and walking the floor until morning.

About 10 o'clock, Mrs. Fagan, sobbing hysterically, entered the office of Edward Lynch, a former business associate of Mr. Fagan's, and an old friend, and begged him to find her husband.

"His door is locked and he won't answer the telephone," she said, "and I just know there is something wrong."
I didn't want him to come downtown at all this morning and I pleaded with him to stay home, but he wouldn't even speak to anyone, and went out without saying a word to Mary and me.

"I tried to talk to him over the phone, and as I couldn't get an answer, I knew there was something wrong."

Mr. Lynch tried to quiet her and, after she had left the office, promising to return home, he started out to look for Mr. Fagan. He was unable to open the door, but could tell by looking through the shaded glass that the door was open.

He called the janitor, who brought a ladder and, looking over the transom, found Mr. Fagan lying in the transom, with a revolver still in his hand.

Mr. Lynch summoned Chief of Police C. H. Tracy and Coroner C. P.
McComb, who pronounced the case one of suicide, after an examination.

Mr. Fagan evidently had gone to the clothes locker and taken four coat trunks from a newly-purchased package, and loaded the gun. He then

ROOSEVELT CONSULTED
PLATT BEFORE MAKING STATE APPOINTMENTS

Colonel Realized That Senator Was "Boss" of Republican Party.

Series of Confidential Letters Between Two Read to Jury.

Denies Conferences Constituted "Invisible Government" as Charged.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 26.—A series of confidential letters taken from the files kept by the late Thomas C. Platt, while he was representing the state of New York in the United States senate, were today read to the jury trying William Barnes' suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt in the supreme court here.

Some of the letters were signed by Senator Platt while others were signed by Col. Roosevelt. In nearly all of them the writers discussed candidates for office in the state government and in reply to a question by Mr.
Barnes' counsel, the former president said without the slightest hesitation that he consulted Platt with Senator Platt about affairs at Albany, knowing and realizing at all times that he was the "boss" of the Republican party in this state.

One of the letters read during the forenoon contained a postscript which read:

"All right, I'll change the whole board of tax assessors."

The letters were brought to Syracuse by the former senator's son and turned over to counsel for Mr. Barnes.

Although the colonel could not say whether he had ever made it known to the public that he was conferring with Mr. Platt over appointments he denied emphatically that such conferences constituted "invisible government."

"My actions," the witness asserted,
"were as visible as they could be."

When court opened a stipulation between counsel that depositions of four unnamed witnesses outside the state should have the same effect as if the witnesses appeared on the stand was read into the record. Mr. Ivins, Mr.
Barnes' attorney, then put into the record letters written by Mr. Barnes to Col. Roosevelt and by Col. Roosevelt to Mr. Barnes and to Herbert Parsons. The latter letters, dated Aug.
21, 1908, were nearly identical in con-

BIG CELEBRATION MARKS INAUGURATION AS MAYOR

WILLIAM HALE THOMPSON.
Chicago, April 26.—Chicago was decorated with miles of flags and bunting today for the inaugural ceremonies of Mayor-elect William Hale Thompson.

The celebration includes a parade this afternoon in which 70,000 persons were expected to take part. Preparations had been made to place 6,000 automobiles and 350 floats in the parade, which, it was planned, would be twelve miles long and four hours in passing the reviewing stand.

THOUSANDS OF TONS OF COAL FOR CRUISER

Newport News, Va., April 26.—The German auxiliary Kronprinz Wilhelm, which put in here for repairs two weeks ago, after her commerce-raiding cruise, was towed from her anchorage to a coal pier early today. She will take aboard between 3,000 and 4,000 tons of bunker coal, it was stated at the pier. This will require today and a large part of tomorrow.

TERRIBLE STRUGGLE ON THE YSER CANAL

German Offensive, Forestalling Long Predicted Movement of Allies, Starts One of Greatest Conflicts of War.

In Eastern Arena of Hostilities the Carpathian Passes Are Again the Scene of Most Sanguinary Conflicts.

GENERAL ATTACK ON DARDANELLES

London, April 26, 5:23 p. m.—The admiralty and the war office declared this afternoon that a general attack on the Dardanelles had begun. An army, it was said, has been disembarked successfully.

London, April 26.—What some military critics are inclined to pronounce the "greatest battle of the war" is now under way on the Yser canal.

Official reports are both meagre and contradictory, but it generally is believed in London that the Germans again are making desperate efforts to break through to the French channel ports. Some such recrudescence of the German offensive has been anticipated by the war experts, but this movement, forestalling the long predicted allied offensive, comes as a distinct shock to the general public.

It is impossible as yet to get a clear idea of the extent of the German movement, but some special dispatches to London papers describe it as so important that the Germans are even credited with bringing Field Marshal von Hindenburg from the east to conduct the operations, and Emperor William himself is reported as proceeding to the Yser front.

IN EASTERN ARENA.
In the eastern arena of hostilities, the Carpathians compete with the Yser for interest. The gateway into Hungary formed by the Usok pass again is becoming the scene of sanguinary fighting with neither side making any great gains. Warsaw as a German objective is dimmed by the importance of keeping the Russians out of Hungary and the Germans are reported as withdrawing their lines from in front of the Polish capital for new concentrations along the fronts of Cracow and in the Carpathians.

The railway between England and Holland is still being kept clear of commercial shipping.
Operations in the North sea are still a deep mystery.

French Statement.
Paris, April 26, via London, 2:40 p. m.—
The French war office, this afternoon gave out an official report reading:

"In Belgium two German attacks moving out from Paschendale and day by British troops. The enemy thereupon bombarded the front line violently. Our activities are being continued along the Yser canal."

"At Notre-Dame de Lorette we repulsed a German attack."
"On the heights of the Meuse the fighting is developing. The attack on the Calonne trench, reported yesterday, was checked by our counter attack and the enemy was driven back. He subsequently made another attack further to the east, in the direction of St.
Remy, evidently striving to recapture Les Eparges."

"A violent attack, preceded by a fierce bombardment, took place shortly after this movement on the eastern flanks of the port of Les Eparges, but the German attack resulted in failure."

NEW WITNESSES FOR GARMAN CASE

Five Reported to Be Ready to Give Sensational Evidence for State.

New York, April 26.—It was reported today that five new witnesses, a woman and four men, would aid the state with sensational testimony when Mrs. Florence C. Garman is placed on trial again next Monday at Mineola, on the charge of murdering Mrs.
Louis D. Bailey as Prosper last June.

The new witnesses, it was said, were obtained through the attorney of William D. Bailey, husband of the victim, by following up numerous letters addressed to Mr. Bailey containing offers to give information for a consideration.

FLOOD WATERS POUR OVER FORT WORTH DAM

Fort Worth, Texas, April 26.—Two feet of flood water today poured over Fort Worth's new $100,000 dam and police were busy getting residents out of the lowlands. It was believed the dam, which impounds a reservoir for ten miles back, was safe. Launches were used today to rescue a number of camping parties marooned on islands in the reservoir.

CHINESE TO APPEAL TO U. S. FOR ASSISTANCE.

Honolulu, T. H., April 26.—Chinese residents of Honolulu at a mass meeting last night decided to send an appeal by cable to President Wilson at Washington and to the British foreign office at London, asking their good offices to assist the Chinese to resist the demands of Japan to the end that China may, with honor, avoid war.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

A British correspondent accredited officially to the Dardanelles expedition admits that the problem of forcing the strait is a tremendous one. His observations have led him to the belief that a strong army for operations on the Gallipoli peninsula will be necessary. Land operations, he says, would present difficulties, since the Turks are strongly entrenched.

New victories in the fighting in the Carpathians are claimed by the Austrians. After several weeks of slow progress they have at least reduced the Russian positions on both sides of the Gravia valley, the Vienna war office announces. Petrograd reports the repulse of an attack in Usok pass, and says that the Austrians have brought up a large amount of artillery along the Carpathian front.

The opinion is growing in Rome that Austria and Italy are drifting inevitably toward war. A diplomat accredited to the quai-ling quotes Prince von Bischoff, the German ambassador at Rome, who has been the principal figure in the efforts to avert such a war, as saying that it would be impossible for Austria to accept Italy's demands
for Austria to accept Italy's demands.
Peppino Garibaldi, grandson of the famous Italian statesman, who recently has talked with the Italian king and is said to have received from him the impression that Italy would enter the war with the allies.

Italian refugees from Austria say the frontier has been fortified by the Austrians with concrete trenches and heavy artillery.

BEFORE AND AFTER THE OPENING OF FISHING SEASON.

S. S. NORTHERN PACIFIC INCLUDED IN PROBE.

Washington, April 28.—The interstate commerce commission broadened its inquiry into the ownership and operation of the steamship Great Northern by the Great Northern Pacific Steamship company, to include the steamship Northern Pacific. The inquiry is to develop whether the provision of the Panama canal act forbidding ownership of steamship lines by railroads is being violated.

PLANT ORDER SETS RECORD

Five Thousand Shrubs and 1,500 Trees for Morgan Park.

Will Help Beautify Place for Benefit of Steel Plant Employees.

Five thousand shrubs and 1,500 trees will be planted this summer in Morgan park. The order for the shrubbery and trees given by the Minnesota Steel company is the largest ever offered from this district.

When inquiries relative to bids on the order were made, it was found that there was not a single nursery firm in the United States that could handle it. After finding this out, the order was split up among several, and within a few days the plants will begin to arrive.

A crew of nearly 100 men is now busily engaged in digging trenches in the park, and into these the shrubbery will be planted when it arrives. Fifteen hundred shrubs will be dug along the various streets for the trees. The beautifying of the park is only part of the program for making the place desirable for the employees of the steel company to live in. The work is expected to take about two months. The shrubbery will be planted along the sidewalks on the lot, while the trees will be planted in the parkway between the sidewalk and the curbline. The first contingent of plants will arrive about May 1.

SINKING OF BOAT BEING INVESTIGATED.

The cases of the four boys who were arrested in connection with the sinking of the steamer Van Vleet at the dock on Fortieth avenue west and charged with trespassing, were continued by Judge H. W. Lammers for a period of sixty days. The boys charged with the trespass are: George Foster, 17; Albert Peterson, 19; Helmer Johnson, 17; and Henry Johnson, 18. Owners of the boat claim that windows of the cabin were broken, several pieces of machinery stolen and many brasses taken. Efforts are being made to find out whether any of the boys are connected with the thefts. The boys are said to have been on the boat shortly prior to the time of its sinking. The boat was sunk by the removal of a plug from its bottom.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Maude Adams in "Quality Street."
THEATRE—International vaudeville.
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—Aida Thurstun in "The Shadow of a Great City," photoplay.
ZELDIA—Photoplay.

ON FRIDAY morning at 10 o'clock the last seat for the performance to be given by Maude Adams at the Lyceum tonight was sold. So many were disappointed at being unable to get tickets, that Manager Morrissey of the Lyceum, after much telegraphing, informed Miss Adams to give a special matinee, which she seldom consents to do.

That record is a rather striking reflection on the theatrical conditions in Duluth. The cast of the play is classed as a "poor show town" among the managers' offices in New York. It is hungry for first class attractions, and will support them generously.

If further evidence was needed, the attendance at the three performances of the "Ziegfeld Follies" would supply it. This big attraction played to three houses that might be called "capacity." There may have been a few vacant seats, but they were not in evidence at a casual glance over the theater.

Such a record coming at this time of the year, ought to give the New York managers food for thought, and Duluth may be included in the itinerary of many more of the big attractions next fall.

Three days before the date of the performance, is not to be ignored in a year when the reports to the managers' offices are that several of the poor business, and excuses for it.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" AT THE LYCEUM
Farewell Week for Homer Barton and Miss Doris Olsson.

Big audiences yesterday greeted A. Romane Callender, who is beginning his second engagement at the Lyceum. Homer Barton, and Miss Doris Olsson, who are playing their farewell week at the Lyceum. "Charley's Aunt," that ever fresh and entertaining farce comedy, was the vehicle, and the audiences were kept in almost continuous laughter during the performance.

Homer Barton has been leading man with the Baldwin Players here for nearly a year, and has many a host of friends, both in the theatrical circles and among theater patrons. His fresh and breezy personality and fund of good humor have been a delight to Lyceum audiences.

Long engagement at the Lyceum. Barton, who has just closed a long engagement at the Lyceum, after New York, returns to the Lyceum with new laurels, and his reappearance will add greatly to the popularity of the Baldwin. His unquestioned dramatic talent and finished acting make him a favorite here. His return will be warmly welcomed. Miss Maud Melville has also rejoined the company.

The company yesterday was remarkably well balanced, and made "Charley's Aunt" an entertainment of sterling worth.

Mr. Callender was well met as his assistant, and Miss Melville appeared as Donna Lucia D'Alvadoro. The play is one of clever situations and the characters are clearly drawn with strong originality.

Charley Wyckham, an Oxford student, has an aunt who has never seen him. He receives a telegram, saying that she will arrive from abroad and that she will be looking for him. That day, Wyckham, who is in love with Amy Spettigue, and who has been trying to see her for a long time, but cannot because of the objection of her uncle, decides to invite her to meet him.

With the assistance of Jack Cheaney, a chum, who is in love with Amy Spettigue, he sends an invitation to Miss Spettigue and Miss Verdon to take luncheon the day in Cheaney's room, in honor of the return from abroad of "Charley's Aunt."

After the invitation has been dispatched, another telegram arrives from Donna Lucia D'Alvadoro, the aunt, saying that she will be unable to see the two lovers in a dilemma, but they hit on a plan and with the consent of Lord Randolph, Babberly, who plays the part of a woman in amateur theatricals, the real one arrives and a most funny thing happens, which, after several moments, ends happily.

His farewell week Mr. Barton has a role that is entirely to his liking, and he has never been more responsible. Miss Olsson also appears to good advantage in the role of Miss Blanche. Walter Baldwin and William Mortimer and congenial roles.

The members of the company are appearing in Cleopatra tonight, but will return to "Charley's Aunt" for the remainder of the week.

TWO HEADLINERS.

Dancers and English Actress Share Honors of Orpheum Bill.

This week's Orpheum bill is a very pleasing one with two able headliners. What makes the dance of the Orpheum bill a novelty is the fact that the finished dancing of Alice B. and Bert French.

The dramatic story in pantomime of how a young architect, who is in love with a girl, is tempted by a woman and after being poisoned by means of a snake, is drowned in a sea of foam. The maiden, becoming a mermaid, is rescued by a fisherman and after a long search, she is reunited with her lover.

Miss Bessie and Mr. French dance with expression. Every move they make suggests a meaning, and the audience follows the plot of the playlet just as if the characters were speaking their parts.

Considerable credit for this vaudeville novelty is due its author, Easton Burleigh. The sea of foam covering the back of the stage into which the two dancers and their lives, forms an artistic background and a real hit.

Sharing honors with the two dancers is a lesson in "It Doesn't Happen," by Channing Pollock, well known dramatic writer, which is a playlet of a most interesting plot. The skeleton of the playlet is a story of a man who is in love with a girl, and after a long search, she is reunited with her lover.

By means of a ruse, she manages to break the engagement with the daughter of the man who ruined her life. After becoming a mermaid, she is rescued by a fisherman and after a long search, she is reunited with her lover.

those until Wednesday night. An addition to the regular feature program at the Zeldia, is a two-part feature with Charles Chaplin, who will from now on appear at the Zeldia theater every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in connection with the regular program. Charles Chaplin has in the past four or five months proven himself to be the greatest film comedian in the world. Through "Tramp" Chaplin will afford many people in the city an opportunity to see a wonderful film. The next big production at the Zeldia, will be a five-act feature entitled "Did the Woman Sin?"

Conditions existing in large cities are portrayed at the Savoy theater in a five-act film production entitled "AT SAVOY." Smashing the picture play shows the white-slavery at their work, innocent girls dragged from homes of luxury as well as poorer homes to be ensnared in the net of degradation, the terrible wages of sin, and scenes in the tondello district. The story is of an innocent girl who was dragged down to live a life of shame. Children are forbidden admission to the Savoy during this production.

Bert Williams, the negro comedian of the Ziegfeld Follies, who played at the Lyceum last Friday, will appear at the Lyceum this evening in one of the rarest timepieces in the world, and which is valued at $25,000. It is a comedy, which he never tires of showing his friends and new acquaintances.

PLANT ORDER SETS RECORD

Five Thousand Shrubs and 1,500 Trees for Morgan Park.

Will Help Beautify Place for Benefit of Steel Plant Employees.

Five thousand shrubs and 1,500 trees will be planted this summer in Morgan park. The order for the shrubbery and trees given by the Minnesota Steel company is the largest ever offered from this district.

When inquiries relative to bids on the order were made, it was found that there was not a single nursery firm in the United States that could handle it. After finding this out, the order was split up among several, and within a few days the plants will begin to arrive.

A crew of nearly 100 men is now busily engaged in digging trenches in the park, and into these the shrubbery will be planted when it arrives. Fifteen hundred holes will be dug along the various streets for the trees.

The beautifying of the park is only part of the program for making the place desirable for the employees of the steel company to live in. The work is expected to take about two months.

The shrubbery will be planted along the sidewalks on the park, while the trees will be planted in the parkway between the sidewalk and the curbing. The first shipment of plants will arrive about May 1.

SINKING OF BOAT BEING INVESTIGATED.

The cases of the four boys who were arrested in connection with the sinking of the steamer Van Vleet at the dock on Pacific avenue, were continued by Judge H. W. Lamoreaux in the afternoon of Saturday. The boys charged with trespassing, were continued for six days. The boys charged with trespassing are: George Foster, 17, Albert Peterson, 19, Helmer Johnson, 17, and Henry Hedberg, 18.

Owners of the boat claim that the boys in the cabin were broken, several parts of machinery stolen and that the boat was damaged.

The boys are said to have been seen on the boat shortly prior to the time of its sinking. The boat was sunk by the removal of a plug from its bottom.

Mrs. Carrie Melgaard Dies.
Mrs. Carrie Melgaard, aged 54, wife of Andrew Melgaard, 101 North Fifty-fifth avenue, west, died at 1 o'clock last evening at her home following an illness of several days.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home with interment in north cemetery. Rev. B. Omdahl, pastor of Our Saviors' Norwegian Lutheran church, will conduct the service.

Rally Saves Day.
Another highly public rally was given for the benefit of the Duluth Fur company's baseball team in its game with the "Tweeds" of Duluth. The rally was held at the Y. M. C. A. building and the boys got three runs. The victory is the fourth won by the "Tweeds" this year.

Has Varnish Remover.
Ed Hoffman, 131 South Sixty-sixth avenue, west, has applied for a patent on a paint and varnish remover, which will be claimed to revolutionize this class of work. The remover, he says, will remove any varnish or paint from any surface without the use of sand paper.

LYCEUM—Maude Adams in "Quality Street."

REX—Adelaide Thurston in "The Shadow of a Great City." Photoplay: ZELDA.

SAVOY—Photoplay.

ON FRIDAY morning at 10 o'clock the last seat for the performance to be given by Maude Adams at the Lyceum tonight was sold. So many were disappointed at being unable to get tickets, that Manager Morrissey, after much telegraphing, induced Miss Adams to give a special matinee, which she consented to do.

That record is a rather striking reflection on the theatrical conditions in Duluth. The city can no longer be classed as a "poor show town" among the managers' offices in New York. It is hungry for good attractions, and will support them generously.

If further evidence was needed the attendance at the three performances of the "Ziegfeld Follies" would supply it. The houses were packed, and three audiences that might be called "capacity." There may have been a few vacant seats, but they were not in evidence at a casual glance over the theater.

Such a record coming at this time of the year, ought to give the New York managers food for thought, and crary of many more of the big road attractions next fall. A "sell out" three days before the date of the performance, is not to be ignored in a year when the New York managers' offices are chiefly complaints of poor business, and excuses for it.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT"
AT THE LYCEUM

Farewell Week for Homer Barton and Miss Doris Olsson.

His audiences yesterday greeted A. Romaine Callender, who is beginning his second engagement here with the Baldwin Players, and Homer Barton and Miss Doris Olsson, who are playing their farewell week at the Lyceum.

"Charley's Aunt," that ever fresh and entertaining farce comedy, was the vehicle, and the audiences were kept in almost continuous laughter during the performance.

Homer Barton has been leading man in the Baldwin Players here for nearly a year, and has made a host of friends, both in the theatrical circles and among theater patrons. His fresh and breezy personality and fund of good words, have made him a delight to Lyceum-goers, and have given a long way toward making the Baldwin Stock company popular. Miss Olsson has been here but a short time, but her stay has been a most successful one for patrons of the theater.

Mr. Callender, who has just closed a long engagement at the Eltinge theater, New York, returns to the Lyceum with new material, and his reappearance will add greatly to the popularity of the Baldwin.

ing worth. Mr. Callender was well met at the supper table, and Miss Melville appeared as Lucia Pavarotti. The clever situations and the characters are clearly drawn with strong originality.

Charley Wyckham, an Oxford student, has an aunt whom he has never seen. He receives a telegram, saying that she will arrive from abroad and that she will visit him for luncheon that day. Wyckham, who is in love with Amy Spettigue, and who has been trying to see her for a long time, but cannot because of the objection of her uncle, decides to invite her to meet his aunt.

With the assistance of Jack Cheney, a chimp, who is in love with Amy Spettigue, and who has been trying to see her for a long time, but cannot because of the objection of her uncle, decides to invite her to meet his aunt.

After the invitation has been dispatched, another telegram arrives from Donna Lucia Pavarotti, the aunt, saying that she will be unable to see Wyckham, and that she will leave the two lovers in a dilemma, but they sit on a plan and with the assistance of Lord Encaunt, Esq., who plays the part of a woman in amateur dress, they manage to see her.

After the girls are introduced to the aunt, the rest one arrives and many funny things happen, which, after a short time, are straightened out, and everything ends happily.

His farewell week Mr. Barton has a role that is entirely to his liking, and he is very responsible. He is a young actor, and he is very responsible. He is a young actor, and he is very responsible.

three until Wednesday night. An addition to the regular feature program at the Zeldia, is a two-part feature with Charles Chaplin, who will from now on appear at the Zeldia theater every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in connection with the regular program. Charles Chaplin has in the past five months proven himself to be the greatest film comedian in the world. Through "Dance of the Hours" will afford many people in the city an opportunity to see a wonderful film. The next big production at the Zeldia will be a five-act feature entitled "Did the Woman Sin?"

Conditions existing in large cities are portrayed at the Savoy theater today and tomorrow in a five-act film production entitled "The Trust" in six acts. This picture play shows the white-slavery at their work, innocent girls dragged from homes of luxury as well as poor homes to be ensnared in the net of degradation, the terrible wages of sin, and scenes in the London district. "It's Always STAR When Good Fellows Get Together"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

IN this country are thousands of miles of railroad tracks, hundreds of railroad bridges, and thousands of trains rushing from place to place.

The men who chew tobacco built these bridges, laid these tracks and drive these fast-moving trains. In every part of the railroad service we find these thoughtful, quick-acting, manly men, making thinking more accurate, labor lighter and pastime more pleasant by chewing STAR tobacco.

STAR is their favorite for worktime and playtime. They find complete tobacco comfort and full tobacco enjoyment in the thick, mellow STAR plug. You'll like STAR, too—you'll like the honest weight—the superior chewing quality. You'll find the last bite as good as the first and each new plug a new delight.

So many "chewers and doers" chew STAR that one hundred and twenty-five million ten cent pieces are sold each year—enough to follow the railroad from New York to New Orleans, then to San Francisco and enough left over to stretch to Tacoma, Washington.

IMMEDIATE REGULATION

Silberstein Orders City Attorney to Draw Up Jitney Ordinance.

Would Safeguard the Public and Prevent Possible Fatalities.

In order that the regulation of jitneys may begin at once, Commissioner Silberstein has ordered the city attorney to prepare an ordinance either for the council meeting this afternoon or to have it in readiness for a special meeting some time this week.

Mr. Silberstein said this morning that this ordinance will merely regulate the jitneys in Duluth, having nothing to do with licenses or the posting of bonds. The latter features, he said, will be embodied in another ordinance to be introduced later.

I want to safeguard the public from these jitney accidents and to avert possible fatalities in the future," said Mr. Silberstein this morning. This ordinance will regulate the jitneys, so that standing on running boards will be prohibited, the crowding of cars over the seating capacities forbidden, and

For a Healthy, Happy, Big Baby

Your baby's business is to eat and sleep. And he can't sleep if his food is not just right. So to make yours a "Better Baby," follow these rules—

For the first six months give your own breast milk. If you can't and it begins to fall add one or two feedings of Nestlé's Food, because that is so close to mother's milk the baby won't feel the difference, give a little cool water between feedings.

Don't give him cow's milk. If you could milk the cow yourself and know that the cow was healthy, it might be safe to give your baby cow's milk. Even then, it would be hard to digest, and you'd have to modify it. Don't experiment on your baby—take the best modification known to science.

Nestlé's Food

Remember that five times as many mothers use it today as seven years ago. The more mothers wake up to the truth about keeping babies well, the more they use Nestlé's Food. Nestlé's, in its air-tight can, needs only water to make it ready. Made from the clean milk of healthy cows in sanitary dairies—the curds that hurt your baby modified by a cereal that makes the curds as soft and fleecy as in mother's milk and the things your baby needs, added.

Send the coupon. It will bring you, FREE, a box of Nestlé's Food—enough for 12 feedings—and a book about babies by Specialists.

ASSESSORS TO START MAY 1

Twenty-Six Deputies Will Begin Work Making Valuations.

Job Will Take Thirty Days; Deputies Will Receive Instructions.

Out of nearly 150 applicants, Deputy Assessor Fowler has selected twenty-six men to make the personal property assessment of the entire city, beginning on May 1. The work will continue for about thirty days.

Mr. Fowler notified the successful applicants this morning and at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon a meeting of the council chamber for the purpose of instructing the deputies in the furnishing of forms for bonds and distributing the routes.

The 1915 assessors are: E. F. Chalk, 222 Eighth avenue east; Edward Farn, 816-B, East First street; J. W. Johnson, 206 Temple building; J. J. Moran, 318 Central avenue; Victor Levine, 117 West Third street; J. E. Sexton, 224 Sixth avenue east; J. B. Cade, 808 East Fourth street; L. P. Nelson, 104 Park avenue; George Gowan, 1028 East Second street; H. Rockwell, 223 Central avenue; C. P. West, Jr., 216 North Fourteenth avenue east; J. M. McDermid, 5238 Wyoming street; Lloyd Tvedt, 23 Fourth avenue east; W. W. Johnson, 206 Temple building; Andrew Whalen, 221 Lake avenue south; David Sane, 206 Temple building; W. B. Hartley, 327 North Fifty-sixth avenue west; Kirby Myrick, 607 South Seventeenth avenue west; D. Arthur Ryan, 1125 London road; Elmer Peterson, Max Oreckovsky, 163 East Superior street; M. Flaherty, 201 Temple building; F. H. Gillespie, 501 Second avenue east; F. M. Hart, 2737 Lake avenue south; A. M. Hay and A. C. McLean.

The assessed valuation of the personal property last year was $13,411,128, while in 1913 it was $15,192,654. Mr. Fowler is of the opinion that this year the figures will reach the $14,000,000 mark.

MUGGSY MCGRAW DROPS OUT OF SIGHT AT FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald).—Muggsy McGraw, with the Grand Forks team in 1914 and with the Duluthians in 1912 and 1913, has apparently abandoned professional baseball for the season. McGraw reported to the Grand Forks club several days ago, but has since dropped out of sight without offering any explanation to Grand Forks baseball club. Consequently, it is taken as granted that McGraw has decided to quit professional ball for the season.

AMERICAN SENTENCED TO DEATH BY CARRANZA

Washington, April 26.—Philip E. McCleary, an American newspaper correspondent at Vera Cruz, has been imprisoned by Carranza authorities, for having sent out uncensored news dispatches. Secretary Bryan recently had an appeal for aid today from John W. Roberts, and instructed Consul Sullivan to take the question up at once with Gen. Carranza. No official report on the affair had reached the department.

locked the door of the locker, and placing a chair in front of it, sat down. He placed the revolver over his left eye before pulling the trigger, as the face was covered with powder burns. Death was almost instantaneous, according to the coroner. The revolver was a .38-caliber, but one cartridge had been used.

John T. Dunphy and C. Francis Coleman, who occupy adjoining offices, declared that they had heard a shot about 3:30 o'clock, but thought it was an automobile tire bursting in the street below.

Various occupants of nearby offices stated that Mr. Fagan had been very nervous recently and was given to walking up and down the corridor, and passing his friends, apparently without noticing them.

Richard H. Fagan was one of the most picturesque figures in the history of the Vermilion range. He was 57 years of age and was a very large man, standing over 6 feet tall and weighing nearly 200 pounds.

Financial difficulties cannot be ascribed as the reason for the suicide, according to friends of Mr. Fagan's, who say that he was wealthy. He was a fee owner in the Section 30 mine, and came into prominence during the famous contest for the property, which was settled in the United States supreme court after twenty years' litigation.

With Mr. Fagan as fee owners of the property are Leonidas Merritt, L. C. Harris, Duluth attorney, the Langston estate of Milwaukee, and the Eaton estate.

The mine is now being operated by George A. St. Clair and Alfred Merritt. The body was taken to Grady & Horton's undertaking rooms after the examination, and will be buried in the cemetery.

Mr. Fagan's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great energy and ambition, and his death was a tragedy.

WILL CHANGE MEETING TIME TO ACCOMMODATE TAXPAYERS

Beginning next Monday the city commission will hold its regular weekly meetings in the evening.

Mayor Prince announced this morning that he will introduce a resolution at the meeting this afternoon changing Rule No. 1 of the resolutions adopted on May 7, 1913, when the old commission went into power, placing the meeting hour of the council at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. The new resolution will leave the hour within the discretion of the council, although it is probable that the commissioners will also set the hour at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Night meetings for the council were advocated by Commissioners Silberstein and Farrell during the campaign prior to the recent election and immediately after taking office numerous communications were received favoring the proposed change. As a result, the council will, in the future, meet every Monday evening unless it develops that there is no public interest in which event the return will be made to the present meeting hour.

Afternoon meetings of the council were started by the commissioners two years ago and since then considerable opposition has developed, many claiming that they do not have an opportunity of attending the sessions.

Workmen say that the meetings should be held at night, when everyone interested is able to attend.

Prior to government by a commission the aldermen met every Monday evening, so that the change next Monday night practically reverts to the old program. Only one evening meeting will be held each week, all special sessions being subject to the call of the mayor.

CHILD ROBBED OF BIRTHRIGHT

Treating Youthful Offender as Criminal Denounced
By Mission Head.

Correction, Not Punishment, Best Method, Declares Supt. Burt.

That society has robbed the child of his birthright through the building of huge cities and applying the man-made laws to the youthful offender and treating the child as a criminal, were the statements of Henry P. Burt, superintendent of the Lake Superior Mission of Superior, at the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street last evening. Mr. Burt spoke on "Spiritual Values in Social Progress."

He lauded the effort to establish supervised playgrounds in Duluth. He said that their establishment was only giving justice to the child.

"The training of the child is the very crux of civilization," said Mr. Burt. "Of the boyhood of Jesus it was said that he increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

"Society to this day has robbed the child of his birthright. Modern civilization in the building of huge cities has forgotten the child. In our educational system we have partially failed because we have superimposed upon the child methods adapted to the adult mind."

"The church has been the greatest offender in educational methods. And yet the whole educational world, including the church, is beginning to see the light, and the child's needs are being discovered."

First Forward Step.
"Within my memory the youthful offender against some unnatural man-made law was treated as a criminal and punished for the sins of society. Chicago took the first forward step in 1893, established a juvenile court, which maintains that the child is not a criminal, but an offender; that he needs not punishment, but correction. The helmsman reform school for boys, the helmsman reform school for girls, the helmsman reform school for children, established to care for children blighted by the sins of society, are making way for the boys' industrial school and home school for girls. I could make you with stories of little children born with chains about their necks, and later, deserted by mother, weaned and thrown by long hours of labor, children with no time or playing labor; without which no child can develop a spirit life; children born of sin and born into sin."

"The playground movement is effecting a mighty change. The playground may not destroy sin, but it keeps the child from sin. Money spent for playgrounds is money spent for philanthropy. It is justice. Duluth is to be congratulated on her interest, and it is hoped that the recent survey will bring results."

"As society is the great force for improvement, so also has society failed to appreciate the natural demands of her youth. The chief feature here is found in the industrial conditions and the lack of provision for the leisure time of young men and women."

Social Life and Status.
"The perplexing problems which arise when you consider the social and status of adults are likewise perplexing. Because of the solution of these problems depends the spiritual life of many people. The churches must stand for the moral and spiritual life of the single standard of purity, uniform divorce laws, proper housing, the regulation of the conditions of labor for the women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of the community; for the natural and virtuous of poverty; for the protection of the individual and society from the social, economic and moral waste of the liquor traffic; for the conservation of health."

"The social progress of Duluth is at stake now, and the church must be the dynamo which will furnish the power for the regeneration, because tangled up in the intricacies of the situation the spiritual values of the community are at stake."

Swedish Mission Notes.

The reports of delegates to the annual Sunday school convention held recently at Brainerd, will feature the gathering to be held Wednesday evening by the Parthenon society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. The program arranged by the society includes vocal duets by Misses Anna Nordin and Esther Philstrand, and Misses Anna Carlson and Minnie Ek. Following the program, refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nyberg.

NEW PASTOR TO BE INSTALLED

Rev. Carl A. Eckstrom, pastor of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, who has been here for the last six months, will be officially installed as pastor of the church tomorrow evening. The ceremonies will be in charge of the Duluth district of the Minnesota conference.

The installation ceremonies will be held under the direction of Dr. Mattson and Rev. S. J. Nelsensius. The ceremonies will be in charge of the Duluth district of the Minnesota conference.

HOW TO POSTPONE ONE'S OWN FUNERAL

"Booze," Tea, Coffee and Meats Tabooed By Chicago Doctor.

In the series of Sunday afternoon lectures which Pastor Stenple White has been conducting at the Woodman hall on Twenty-first avenue west, Dr. David Paulson of Chicago, president of the National Anti-Cancer league and superintendent of the Hinsdale sanatorium, spoke yesterday on "How to Postpone One's Own Funeral."

He held that the business of a physician is not to help people who are sick, but to instruct them as to prevent them from getting sick. It is much easier to prevent sickness than to cure disease, and far less painful to the patient that a few ashes be scattered over slippery spots than the settling of hundreds of thousands of adherents to the laws of health any average man can add ten years to his life.

Observing Nature's Laws.
"While a man, boy in a mud house in South Dakota, my good mother taught me to read the Bible, and not only to believe in God's word fully, but regardless of my many and most arduous burdens as a physician, I feel upon it every day as certainly as I eat my meals. God has said that my people are instructed in the knowledge of his word, and in the light of the inevitable law of sowing and reaping, if we sow to the rules of health, we shall have health. As a sure result of the violation of the natural and moral laws of the Creator, the people for all time were instructed in Deut. 28 that there would result the following diseases: consumption, fever, inflammation, scab, itch, madness (insanity), blindness and lameness of heart. Just think of the many diseases of today that branch out from these few fundamental branches. These diseases are not rained down, ready made, from heaven, but we earn them. Chickens easily pick the shell, but they have been hatching for three weeks. As I go, one takes the smallpox long before he begins to break out."

Regulating Diet.
"To the sick, many doctors say, 'cut out meat, tea and coffee, etc.' but I say, 'discontinue with these five years before you get sick. Oxen don't get going by eating in God's word fully, but the United States twenty-five gallons of intoxicating drinks per capita (including children) were used in 1900. So some fellow used fifty gallons, or a better fellow, many a sandwich is downed with enough mustard and oil to make a mustard plaster. When used externally it can be removed when it blisters, but not so inside. Never eat any cold food that seems hot. We should cultivate our taste for good food and learn to relish it, too, because the first taste starts the vital organs to work preparatory to acting their special part in the physical upbuild. Although we have learned to stamp out the yellow fever by killing the Southern mosquito, yet many other and newer diseases are increasing by leaps and bounds. Many are directly traceable to the using of unnatural foods, starch foods, fried greases, lack of thorough mastication, use of stimulants, condiments and narcotics, and irregular meals. Thoroughly flush the system with pure water as well as out, live much in the open air, don't eat when you are sad or bad, but when you are glad, and chew for your life, not tobacco, but good food. Remember, there are no evils in the stomach unless you have swallowed them, in which case they are out of business, and you soon will be also."

Coffee and "Booze."
"Many a slave to coffee is in favor of prohibition of 'booze,' but not of coffee, for they like it even as the tippler likes his drink. I have learned to raise third corn in Iowa, but have not improved on the raising of children. It pays to climb up on all eight principles. I puffed some in going up inside boys were in Duluth, but got a much better view the higher I climbed."

The speaker, in a most rapid-fire manner, placed many facts and up-to-date scientific data before his audience, and some interesting questions were asked at the close of the address.

This was his first visit to Duluth, and he and his wife, Dr. Mary Paulson, were very favorably impressed with the city.

DESIGNERS expended their recent energy first upon bodices and then upon skirts, and now, in turn, upon sleeves. Puffed sleeves are coming into fashion! Very full skirts and narrow shoulders do look more or less out of proportion, and so when the fashion of full skirts is safely launched the sleeves usually follow suit and widen to give breadth to the upper part of the figure. Some of these puffed sleeves are bishop in effect; others are short and puffed about the upper arm and sometimes to the elbow, depending whether they be afternoon or evening dresses. Leg-o-mutton sleeves come in for long-sleeved frocks, and though femininity decries them now, the sleeves will doubtless become well liked as the eye becomes used to them.

At the tea given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. William H. Hoyt of 313 South Twenty-first avenue, west for all women who have attended the University of Minnesota, a. p. Dineen presented a plan by which Duluth women could furnish a room in the university. Assisting the hostess were: Mrs. P. Dineen, Miss Joanna Williams, Mrs. René Hugo, Miss Harriet Shannon, Miss Ruth Hobbs and Miss Bessie Mars. Among the guests were:

Meedames: J. C. H. Engel, C. K. Dickerman, Wilbur Joyce, H. W. Nichols, W. P. Enny, Milo Phillips, Kimball, David Davies, Claude Haney, Arthur Starn.

Misses: Eunice Brother-ton, Dalry, Aileen Ziegler, Fannie Lum, Pearl Hansen, Sanborn, Adelaide Kitchell, Mac Ouat, Hazel Allen, Ruth Rinsaker, Hazel Sanders, Nelson.

Teaching Good Taste in Dress

Nashville Banner: "Girls must learn that to be well dressed is to be inconspicuously dressed. It is lack of knowledge and appreciation of what constitutes beauty and the fundamental principles of dress that are largely responsible for extremes and extravagances in dress today. Miss Estelle Peel Izor, a member of the faculty of the Manual Training High school of Indianapolis.

"Our course in costume design at the Manual Training High school in Indianapolis correlates with the sewing department, and articles of wearing apparel designed in the sewing department are made in the sewing department. This necessitates the applying of principles to the innumerable common things which a girl's daily life compels her to use. The gorgeous and startling displays in shop windows often dazzle an ignorant girl, and she mistakes that which is loud for that which is rich and beautiful, and in so doing, sets up false standards for herself.

"So we teach the girls four essential things for acquiring good taste:—First—Suitability of line to figure.—I. e., that horizontal lines on a stout girl increase her breadth and make her appear broader than she is, while a slender girl increase her apparent height. Second—Appropriateness of dress to purpose, to the occasion and to the place. Third—What constitutes good design in dress. Fourth—The suitability of color of material to the complexion.

"This includes many phases of each problem, such as the study of the individual, all kinds of wearing apparel, and also hair dressing and hats." Miss Izor is a woman of attractive personality and the course she directs is in a class by itself for originality and effectiveness. No less an authority than Mr. Perry of Pratt institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., is said to have pronounced this course the best of its kind in the entire country. It is a two-year course, and each subject is practically worked out with pencil brush and material.

Mrs. J. Burton, chairman of the art committee of the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs, writes to the General Federation Magazine a delightful article entitled "Can We Educate Girls to Better Taste in Dressing?" in which she pronounces this course directed by Miss Izor as one which, while as yet having but little publicity, yet holds a

STYLES IN WOMEN'S CLOTHES SHOW TENDENCY TO REVERT TO THOSE OF CIVIL WAR TIMES

SPRING STYLES OF HALF A CENTURY AGO, TAKEN FROM "GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK"

Spring styles of today are reminiscent of those of half a century ago. With small hat and voluminous skirt, the up-to-date young miss of 1915 is not unlike in appearance her sister of 1865.

The accompanying picture from "Godey's Lady's Book"—not many young misses of 1915 have seen this famous magazine—might look like a page from an ultra modern fashion magazine, allowing for the improvement in the engraving art.

Up to the thirteenth century, women's costumes were chiefly tunics or robes marked by natural simplicity, but in France, in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, under Francis I and Henry II, dresses were designed to follow the lines of the body. Women then appeared in fitted doublets, skirts and wraps with collars. The sleeves were leg-of-mutton and balloon shaped, filled with plait or very tight. At the time of Henry III the pointed waist was held in place by a stiff corset and was accompanied by puffed sleeves, the dress already having the hoop petticoat.

The reign of Henry IV brought out the great bell skirt built on springs, which was later found with the crinoline. The tendency toward fullness in the skirt kept increasing until 1865, bringing some dresses to enormous proportions. Then toward the end of the seventeenth century the fullness diminished, giving way to padded dresses worn under mantle wraps, though reappearing again later. Reduction in the size of the skirt continued until about 1750, when fullness again came into fashion, and by 1785 the skirts were ridiculously full, and expanded with great hoops. There was another reaction and the hoopskirt gave way, great future for the women of Indiana. She says in part: "This course begins with the study of costume of the fourteenth century to the present time. The girls make copies of the dresses of the different periods, but with original setting. This gains the interest and enthusiasm of the girls to such an extent that the class, which is limited to 200 (about one-tenth of the high school girls), could be filled two or three times over. "The first requisite is a mirror, not to increase the vanity of the girls, but with which to study and overcome the defects, and many girls for the first time begin to realize of what stuff they are made; that they are not all divinely tall, yet divinely fair; that some are roly-poly; that some have protruding angles. After a thorough study, they make a self-portrait of their coloring, impressionistic, 'tis true, but it answers for the basis for the future individual work."

A social will follow the meeting. The members of the committee in charge are: Thomas W. Dean, E. G. Kiedler, George L. Hise and R. L. Davidson.

Dewey camp, No. 1255, Royal Neighbors of America, will give a card party at the home of Mrs. E. D. Rosen, 4503 McCulloch street, on Wednesday evening, May 1, 8 o'clock.

All Royal Neighbors, Woodmen and their guests are invited.

President of Smith for Equal Suffrage
"I shall vote for suffrage in Massachusetts this fall," declared Dr. Marion Le Roy Burton, president of Smith college, the largest women's college in the world, in a recent interview with the New York Tribune. "I believe women must have equal opportunity with men, and that they will surely get it," added Dr. Burton.

There is little difference between the mind of men and the mind of women. At least, if there is, no one can tell. Personally I don't believe it is a question of sex, but one of personality.

Certainly do want women to have all their rights. What I look forward to is that women who want shall be at a disadvantage, because of her sex, and no woman shall be able to get an unfair advantage because of it. Both conditions exist today, and each is a necessary corollary of the other."

THE AMERICAN SUGAR REFINING CO. ADDRESS: NEW YORK

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Preserve Family Bible Records.
The family Bible with its genealogical record is seen but seldom nowadays upon the center table in the parlor, save in those homes in the country and a few here and there in the old New England cities.

The Bible with its blank pages for family records has been hidden away or banished entirely, and, generally speaking, we have nothing to take its place. It is as though we thought the race would end with our generation.

Few now think of recording the birth of the new baby or the death of the baby's grandmother. Sometimes, instead, the best has a book dedicated to the date of its birth, its cute sayings, the arrival of the first tooth, with it walked and spoke first, and a long list of other unimportant happenings.

It may be claimed that there is no need of keeping family records when cities and towns are so accurate and particular in their compilation and preservation. But this does not fill the place of a family record. There is no real sentiment attached to these municipal records, neither are they available by turning a few pages in the comforts of one's own living room, among relatives and old family friends. If you did not know or forget the name of the town where one of your parents was born, you would have a most difficult task to determine just where to look for these official records.

Some people object to keeping family records in the Bible on the ground that it sometimes furnishes prying outsiders with information that one would rather they did not possess. Some are very sensitive about their age, and while they will own to years that nearly approach those that are rightfully theirs, most decidedly object to having anyone know to a year and a day just what their age is. This seems foolish but it is a weakness that is most common. It is, I believe, the one great reason why the custom of keeping family Bible records has come into disuse.

It is quite possible that we could devise something in which to keep the dates of births, marriages and deaths that would be an improvement over the family Bible. It would not be necessary either to make it a center of attraction and attention in the home, or to keep an individual family record in many quarters and be a source of pride in the family of today, that it would be well to cultivate.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of this column are invited to make free use of this column to express their views about the general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 200 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

JUDGE WINDOM AND HIS "STATE OFFICE."

To the Editor of The Herald: In answer to a justification of the course taken by Judge Windom in claiming to have been a candidate for a state office, allow me to ask one or two questions.

If Mr. Windom intended to become a candidate for a state office, why did he not get on the official ballot for state officers by filing his petition with the county auditor?

Why didn't he notify the county auditor of his acceptance of the nomination? Why didn't he pay his filing fee into the state treasury?

Did Judge Windom suppose he could get on the state ticket by filing his petitions with the city clerk by filing his acceptance of nomination with the city clerk, and by paying the filing fee to the city clerk?

How could he become a candidate for a state office without first getting on the official ballot, and how could he get on the official ballot without complying with all the requirements of the law? Furthermore, how can he claim election to a state office when he was not even a candidate on an official state ticket?

On the contrary, he filed his petitions with the city clerk, and his acceptance of the nomination with the city clerk, in which he states under oath that he is a candidate on the municipal ticket, which ticket is described and printed in form in the very chapter which contains the form of his sworn acceptance. Besides filing his petitions and acceptance of the nomination with the city clerk, he also paid the filing fee to the city clerk, and this he emphasized by a play to the galleries in which he announced that he had placed $5 worth of revenue stamps on the petitions. Any revenue officer or even clerk could have told the learned judge that this stamp money was a waste of the raw material.

This all resolves itself down to one simple question, and that is, how Mr. Windom could ever think he was running for a state office without performing a single act required by law in order to get his name on the official state ballot? A VOTER.

IS JUDGE WINDOM CONSISTENT?

To the Editor of The Herald: I am a layman, not a lawyer; but I understand that Judge Windom, in a case tried about two years ago in his court, and ever since that time, has ruled that his court may collect jury fees in a case where jury trials are demanded and allowed.

In 1913 a state law was passed abolishing the jury fee of $3 in all state courts, but Judge Windom ruled that his was a municipal court and did not come under the provisions of the law relating to state courts, notwithstanding the previous act of the legislature. How can a man who has declared his court to be a municipal court and who is to be affected by the laws governing state courts now claim it to be a state court subject to the laws governing state courts? How can a man who has rejected the state's jurisdiction now claim the office of municipal judge to be a state office?

What is the effect of the above action by Judge Windom? Only this: It increases the burden of the poor man by requiring $3 for a trial by judge Windom's court when the case could be tried in any state court without the added expense.

Three dollars may mean nothing to Judge Windom, who plastered his nomination petition with revenue stamps that were not required, but it means much to poor men who can't afford such luxuries as unnecessary revenue stamps and jury trials before Judge Windom.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poem: "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." From Jennie Wagon of Hermitown, who asks for "Annie Laurie" and "Sweet Adeline."

"It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Up to mighty London came an Irishman one day.

As the streets are paved with gold Singing songs of Piccadilly, Strand and Leicester Square.

Till Paddy got excited, then he shouted to them there.

Chorus. "It's a long way to Tipperary—It's a long way to go—It's a long way to Tipperary, To the sweetest girl I know! Good-bye—Piccadilly—Good-bye—Leicester Square—It's a long way to Tipperary, But my heart's there, right there; It's there."

Paddy wrote a letter to his Irish Mother, saying, "Should you not receive it, I write and let me know." "If I make mistakes in spelling Molly, dear," said he, "Remember, the pen that's bad; don't lay the blame on me."

Molly wrote a neat reply to Irish Paddy, saying, "Mike Maloney wants to marry me, so Leave the Strand and Piccadilly, you'll be to blame, For love has drove me nearly silly—Working over the same old there."

DR. RICE AND SCIENTISTS

Why Christian Scientists Do Not Indulge in Public Debates.

Christianity a Matter of Personal Experience and Demonstration.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Referring to the report of lecture of Rev. M. S. Rice, Christian Scientist, which appeared in one of your recent issues, I would like to call attention to the essential difference between Christian Scientists and examples of other Christian sects as exemplified in Dr. Rice, and possibly from this your readers may be able to draw for themselves the correct conclusion as to whether or not Christian Science is Christian Science is not indulging in arguments, controversies or public debates. The founder of this religion was the method either prescribed or followed by the Founder of Christianity. His method was to demonstrate the early Christians. An examination of the early Christians of the Master and his followers seems to indicate that the real purpose in expounding the new religion was to break away from the old methods of religion, which consisted in dialectic discussions, controversies and "warp disquisitions" of the kind which are the basis of doing rather than mere talking.

Pointed to His Works. When Jesus was asked to establish His title to the Messiahship, He did not deliver a lecture or sermon but pointed to His works. Go and show Him some things which ye have seen and heard. The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the deaf hear, and the dumb speak, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them. (Matt. xi: 4-5). Thus Christian Scientists are demonstrating that religion is not a mere matter of sentimental emotion, passing exaltation and excitement of the moment, but a fixed principle for daily application and practical demonstration in working out the problems of life.

Of course, naturally, one who assumes to pass judgment upon what does or does not constitute a Christian must be prepared to demonstrate his understanding of Christianity and his faith, by his words. Failing in this, he becomes merely a carping critic, and his words for deeds and offenses the indulgence of his tongue, and not the basis of his life.

Jesus' Definition of Christian. We find that Jesus first definition of a Christian was founded upon the Old Testament, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." (Mark xii: 30-31).

Having prescribed the rule of Christianity, He then indicated whether or not the rule was being followed, because it is without the necessity of argument that no matter how well versed one may be in the principles of a science or religion, he does not thereby and simply through that process become endowed with the title and attributes of that religion or science.

A person does not inherit Christianity, neither does he acquire it by purchase or through the vicarious efforts of another. It is a matter of personal experience and demonstration, and must be judged with reference to the extent to which he measures up to the standard test. How did the Master indicate those evidences of a man's Christianity? (Matt. vii: 16). "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do, because I go in my Father's name, and ye do in my name, and I do not know the Father, but the Father who sent me, and he will do with me, and he will do with you, and he will do with all who believe in me." (John xiv: 12).

These signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink of any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover." (Mark xvi: 17-18).

A Practical Test. Thus we have the statement of the rule of Christianity and the rule of evidence by which it can be determined whether or not a man is following these rules and thus establishing himself as a Christian. The Master Paul also indicated a very splendid practical test when he said, "If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. And if I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing." (1 Cor. xiii: 1-3).

Your readers are intelligent enough to make the application. They have read the sermon of the Rev. M. S. Rice in question, mayhap heard it in person. They know of the marvelous and thousands of cases of so-called incurable and organic diseases that have been healed in Christian Science. They know of the uplifting and regenerating effect that it has had on the lives of the afflicted. They recognize the sunshine, the joy and happiness that it has brought into the homes of thousands that have been healed not only from diseases of every nature and kind, but also saved from the effects of drink, drugs and the dregs of human passions. They know of the marvelous growth of Christian Science, which constitutes the miracle of the history of religions—a movement which is less than fifty years old, whose text book has been published in more than 100 languages, whose first church was organized only thirty-six years ago, and who now encircles the entire civilized globe with continually increasing numbers, who not only believe but understand, who not only preach but practice, who not only talk but live the truth that was taught by the Nazarene.

The Original Christianity. The whole of Christian Science is in the Bible and in the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. It would be an insult to the intelligence of your readers to enter judgment for them. They can test Christian Science by what it has done and does, understand what it claims by a study of its text book, and I am sure that a fair, unbiased examination of the principle and the proven facts will leave no room for a dispute that Christian Science is not only Christian but that it is a revelation of the original and primitive Christianity as it flourished in its purity from its original source, Jesus, the Christ.

Dr. Rice's arguments have been answered long time ago and again in the public press in the places where he has lectured. They have been answered by the fact that the effect of his sermons has been to add greatly to the attendance at the Christian Science churches, and have been a prominent factor in the prosperity and converting for us where we ourselves would not make the attempt. There is no necessity for meeting Dr. Rice in public debate. Whenever he will do the works performed by a Christian Science, or as directed by the Master, his argument will answer itself.

It is a strange fact that those who oppose themselves to Christian Science are the only ones who object to the price of its literature. Those who realize what the literature of Christian Science does for them would gladly pay many times the price if the books could not be obtained otherwise, and when one considers the liberality with which Christian Science literature is dispensed and the munificent provision for the distribution of her books through public libraries, no further comment need be made on that part of Dr. Rice's sermon.

Why Should They Oppose? I am sure that the speaker really exaggerated his own importance when he assumed that Christian Scientists have any opposition to his sermons? Why should they when their effect always redounds to the benefit of the Christian Science movement? public debate. Whenever he will do the works performed by a Christian Science, or as directed by the Master, his argument will answer itself.

It is a strange fact that those who oppose themselves to Christian Science are the only ones who object to the price of its literature. Those who realize what the literature of Christian Science does for them would gladly pay many times the price if the books could not be obtained otherwise, and when one considers the liberality with which Christian Science literature is dispensed and the munificent provision for the distribution of her books through public libraries, no further comment need be made on that part of Dr. Rice's sermon.

FARES WELL AS TO LAWS

St. Louis County Gets Important Local Measures Through Legislature.

Some Desired Measures Died in Committee and Elsewhere.

St. Louis county and Duluth will be directly affected by a number of measures which were enacted by the 1915 Minnesota legislature. While many bills died in the legislature for various reasons, the St. Louis delegation fared well and managed to get favorable consideration for many local bills.

Among those that passed both houses, and which have been signed by the governor, is the so-called women's work farm bill, which amends the present work farm law, applying to St. Louis county to permit the county board to levy a larger tax for the purpose of maintenance, and which also permits the establishment of a women's department on a tract of land not larger than forty acres in extent and not contiguous to the present work farm tract.

The law gives the present work farm commission supervision and control of the work farm for women with the same powers and duties that the law now imposes with reference to the work farm for men, and also provides that the superintendent of the men's farm shall also act as superintendent of the women's department.

May Be Joint Bill.

If the county and city decide to co-operate in the matter of establishing a work farm for women, they will jointly purchase a suitable site of land and the work farm commission will then take charge of the tract and the matter of erecting suitable buildings on it.

The law as amended permits the county board to levy not to exceed one-tenth of a mill on all taxable property of the county and of the city for the annual maintenance of the farm project. The old law fixed the levy at one-tenth of a mill.

The bill providing that a levy of one-tenth of a mill on all taxable property of the city of Duluth might be made for the purpose of defraying a portion of the cost of erecting an old soldiers' monument in Duluth also passed both houses and has been signed by Governor Hammond. This bill permits the raising of about $5,000 by the city of Duluth to aid the old soldiers of the city and county in erecting a monument in a suitable place in Duluth.

Naval Militia Law

Duluth is also interested in the naval militia bill which passed both houses and has received the governor's signature. The present naval militia law was amended so as to make the Minnesota statute similar to statutes in about twenty states bordering on the Great Lakes and the ocean seaboards where naval militia is maintained.

In substance, the law gives the secretary of the United States navy power to prescribe rules and regulations for the organization and maintenance of the state militia, so that all will be operated under his supervision. The law also increases the number of

The establishment of the Jay Cooke state park and the appropriation of $15,000 a year for two years' maintenance, is provided for in the state department appropriation bill which has become a law. While no part of the park is in St. Louis county, it extends from near the village of Carlton in Carlton county down to the western limits of the city of Duluth, and will ultimately be connected with the city's boulevard system.

State Park Bill.

The passage of the state park bill is largely due to the service rendered in its behalf by Senators Fred Vibert of Carlton and P. H. McGarry of Cass county and Representatives Spencer J. Searls of Carlton and C. H. Warner of Aitkin county. The St. Louis county delegation as well as a committee of Duluth citizens representing the park committee of the Duluth commercial club, worked persistently in the interests of the bill.

Other bills of particular interest to St. Louis county were: One placing the office of county coroner on a salary basis with a salary of $2,400 instead of $1,200; and another increasing the salary of the county commissioners from $1,200 to $1,800.

MINISTERS GIVE

BANQUET TO BISHOP

About 125 Pastors and Laymen Hear Address By Dr. Oldham.

About 125 ministers and laymen of Duluth, Superior and the ranges were present at a banquet given to Bishop W. F. Oldham, former missionary to India, at the Commercial club this noon. Rev. W. I. Kerns, pastor of the First M. E. church, was the guest of honor, and Dr. Oldham gave an address on "America's Duty to the Philippines."

"The United States has not yet come up to its obligations to the Philippines," said Bishop Oldham. "We should aid the islands until they are capable of self-rule and then leave them to them as to their future government."

"The United States has had possession of the islands for the last seven years," said Bishop Oldham. "During that period 3,000 of the islanders who were in the kindergartens in college now are now college graduates and are now in a position to take care of themselves."

Bishop Oldham spoke at the First M. E. church at 2:30 this afternoon on "Women's Work From the Christian Point of View" and will speak this evening at 8 o'clock on "Modern Movements in Missions" at the Lester Park M. E. church.

Bishop Oldham's address tonight will mark the opening of the conference of the ministers of the Duluth Methodist district and the program will be continued tomorrow, all day and evening. The feature of tomorrow night's meeting will be an address by Rev. T. W. Stout of the Minneapolis district.

PUBLIC WORK DUE TO BEGIN

Three Big Paving Jobs Will Soon Be Under Way.

Within the next two weeks Commissioner Farrell, head of the public works department, expects to have three extensive paving jobs under way and a considerable number of minor improvements begun.

Three Big Paving Jobs

Will Soon Be Under Way.

Although property owners on the paving of Minnesota avenue, from Twelfth to Fifteenth streets, will be awarded to the S. R. Oles Construction company of Minneapolis and as soon as the bonds are filed and the material brought to the city, active construction will begin. Mr. Farrell expects workmen to start in about ten days.

Bids for the paving of Woodland avenue, from Fourth street to Kent road, were opened this morning and the contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder within a week or so. It is expected that bids for the paving of East Ninth street will be opened by the latter part of next week.

Although property owners on the paving of Minnesota avenue, from Twelfth to Fifteenth streets, will be awarded to the S. R. Oles Construction company of Minneapolis and as soon as the bonds are filed and the material brought to the city, active construction will begin. Mr. Farrell expects workmen to start in about ten days.

Other Improvements.

Just what action will be taken regarding the paving of the north end of Sixth street, from Twenty-first to Twenty-second streets, will be decided by the city council. Mr. Farrell was unable to say this morning. The protest was filed Saturday and it is expected that the city will be brought up at the council meeting this afternoon.

In addition to the three large contracts mentioned, Mr. Farrell expects to have a number of smaller paving jobs under way during this summer. Among these are the paving of East Eighth street, from Twenty-first to Twenty-second streets, and the paving of East Ninth street, from Twenty-first to Twenty-second streets.

WEEK-END CRUISES FOR NAVAL MILITIA

Naval cadets of the state militia will take the first of a series of five week-end cruises on the U. S. S. training ship Gopher, May 15, according to an announcement this morning by Commander Guy A. Eaton of the naval corps.

Leaving Duluth harbor Saturday night, May 15, the Gopher, with the three Duluth and one Pine City divisions aboard, will make a trip along the south shore of Lake Superior to Bay View, returning Sunday morning. While on the trip, cadets will be kept busy with drill work.

Four other trips will be taken before the week's cruise down lake later in the summer. The dates are: June 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31.

DO NOT EXPECT ANY SERIOUS MARKET SETBACKS.

Last week's further sharp advances in stocks on the New York stock exchange was a subject of much comment among brokers. There is considerable speculation now as to where prices in some of the leading issues will finally go.

Charles F. Lewis & Co. had the following weekly letter upon the market situation: "Trading in stocks has continued in very large volume though prices have been somewhat unsettled. The high level of prices has been maintained and on the reaction which came with the week-end, prices have been brought back to the level of the previous week. The market has been called upon to absorb a very large amount of offerings and the manner in which it has taken stocks is a further demonstration of the strength of the market in the present situation. SOO TRAIN

North Dakota Supreme Court Sets Aside Railroad Commission's Order.

Railroad Need Not Operate
Daily Train on Ambrose-Flaxton Line.

Bismarck, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state railroad commission is not the court of last resort in matters pertaining to train service in North Dakota. The state supreme court holds to that effect in a decision relating to the commission's order compelling the Soo railroad to establish daily passenger service on the so-called Ambrose-Flaxton line.

The supreme court reverses the railroad commission's order requiring such service, and it so dismisses the railroad board's contention that there is no appeal from its decisions.

The court finds the line in question shows a deficit when daily trains are operated of $15,000 a year.

GROWING CONTEST IN NORTH DAKOTA

Boys and Girls Again to Have Chance to Win Prizes.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Contests in corn, potato and alfalfa growing, poultry raising, vegetable canning, bread and butter making and sewing are to be conducted during the summer by the commissioners of the North Dakota agriculture college. These are in addition to the big production and the acreage contests that are carried out on a large scale.

College Fertilizes Seed.
The extension department of the college furnishes the seed to the county superintendents of schools of the state, who deliver it to the individual contestants and have supervisory charge of the work under the general direction of the state department.
This is also true of the alfalfa contests. The county superintendents furnish the seed for the potato contests.
On butter making the instructions cover ripening, temperature, churning, washing, working, cleanliness. On vegetable canning, selection of vegetables, methods of sterilizing, the jars, tomatoes, carrots, beets and other things are featured. Special instructions are issued for the other contests.

BADGER PRISON TWINE WILL AGAIN BE SOLD.

Madison, Wis., April 26.—Governor E. L. Phillips announces that he has placed W. N. Fitzgerald of Milwaukee in temporary charge of the Waupun prison twine plant and will again allow the sale of the binder twine product.
Mr. Fitzgerald was one of two investigators who discovered the alleged lack of profit in the management of the plant during the last two years, which led to the governor's halting sales.

ENFORCEMENT LEAGUE
TO CONTINUE WORK.

Bismarck, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota enforcement league, which was threatened with extinction because of the failure of the last legislature to renew its charter, has been reauthorized by the new legislature.

DROWNING VICTIM

Changing Seats in Boat Fatal for Miss Freeman of Bemidji.

Bemidji, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Changing seats in a boat at Gilbert lake, near here, Miss Maud Freeman, aged 19, of Bemidji, was thrown into the water and drowned in shallow water. Heart failure may have caused her death, as she was a good swimmer. Her escort, Boyd Hamilton, waded ashore and got a stick to land to her, but was too late to save her.

Not Sold By Weight

When you buy Shredded Wheat you are paying something for the patented process by which the whole wheat is made digestible in the human stomach. We are not selling raw wheat. It is what you digest, not what you eat, that builds muscle, bone and brain.

Shredded Wheat

is the whole wheat made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. The filmy, porous shreds are quickly permeated by the digestive juices, enabling the body to take up every particle of nutriment stored in the whole wheat grain. Don't be misled by net weight regulations or comparisons of raw, indigestible foods with Shredded Wheat.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. Also delicious with fruit. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

NEWS GLEANED HERE AND THERE IN PARAGRAPH FORM

BY BRUCE.
The individual who discovered J. Franklin Baker attempted suicide the other day. We could understand why the man who discovered Marty O'Toole might attempt self-destruction.

What Is There in a Name?
Reggie Brown is the successful strategist of the Harvard football team. Percy Haughton is the coach. Clarence Rowland is manager of the Chicago White Sox. Willie Ritchie is a very successful prizefighter. The point arises, what is there in a name?

Jack Had to Lose to Win.
It is declared that the promoters of the Willard-Johnson fight lost money. Paradoxical as it may seem, the only one who won, lost. Figure it out yourself.

Some Kid Is Right.
Now the baby has two teeth. Some kid!

Amateurism, All Right.
The winner of a recent Western marathon race received a bunch of withered flowers. Maybe he loves to exercise.

Packey Finally Lost.
The wife of an Illinois newspaperman hit Packey McFarland over the head with a folded newspaper and backed him out of the office. This is the first newspaper decision Packey has ever lost.

Ought to Keep 'Em on Ice.
Isn't it funny how some of the fish shrink between the streams and the platter.

Arthur Pelkey to Quit Ring.
The report that Arthur Pelkey is to quit the ring does away with the rumor that he is crazy.

Making the Most of It.
Baseball boosters of St. Paul always make a great fuss at the opening of the season. This is the only opportunity they have.

This Goes to Prove It.
The very fact that newspapers are carrying so much news of the habits of amateurs, goes to show that the public has a craving for mystery stories.

He Has Decided Opinions.
A San Francisco man is going to walk from 'Frisco to New York, "just for fun." You gotta give this chap credit for being original.

Can't Tell About Ban.
Ban Johnson denies that there is going to be peace between the regulars and outlaws. Ban also denied that there would be a Federal league.

Pfeister Didn't Understand.
Jack Pfeister won $2,500 damages from the Western Union because the telegraph company failed to deliver a message that informed the baseball pitcher a job awaited him in Milwaukee. Maybe the company considered it was doing the pitcher a favor.

This Is Merely Rumored.
It is rumored that Darby O'Brien is looking over a couple of players in the Duluth Grade School league.

They Ought to Patch It Up.
Carl Morris and Jim Flynn not having fought for some time, there is a belief that coolness exists between them.

The Car Man Lacked Tact.
Marty O'Toole was arrested in Columbus for assaulting a motorist. It is believed the car driver asked the pitcher if he won.

It Would Be an Improvement.
Why don't they train deaf men to be baseball umpires, instead of blind men?

They Are Not Related.
Dad Ford of the Duluth baseball team has six little Fords. He is no relation to Henry Ford, however.

He Must Be a Smart One.
The Canadian judge declared that it looked like there was a conspiracy to take the Winnipeg baseball franchise away from A. H. Purford. Now how in the world did he ever guess it?

Pretty Tough on Jess.
One of the 10,000 biographers of Jess Willard declares that the champion was badly hurt but once during his fight career. It is believed that it was when he learned how much he received for beating Johnson.

gainer for the team this year. The Bostonians, admittedly a club of large promise, have hardly come up to expectations so far, while the Clevelanders have done much better than many watchers of the game expected. Hard luck in the shape of injuries to players has already struck the latter team, however, and may hold it back. Indianapolis displaced Louisville in the leadership of the American association last week. After winning four straight from Columbus, the Colonels fell at Cleveland and lost their first game. The same day Indianapolis, taking its second from Columbus, went into first place.

St. Paul Wins Well.
Meanwhile St. Paul, winning its sixth straight game on Wednesday slithered into the race landing on that day in a tie for second place. The Saints were victims of the Milwaukee champions' revival on Thursday, but their heavy batting during the first half of the season and evidence that in Williams they have a star pitcher, makes them feared by their rivals. On Friday they won from Minneapolis a duel for second place, lost Saturday and came back with another victory Sunday. Danny Sheen, new manager of Kansas City, is making efforts to strengthen the Blues. So far gain has prevented much chance for an accurate line on the team since the loss of the week in the Federal league saw the Blues in three defeats administered by Newark in four games played, sending the former club down to the basement. Chicago, profiting by the battle between the leaders, slipped into first place for the first time this season. Pittsburgh produced the pitching feature of the week in the performance of Allen, who blanked St. Louis in the first no-hit game of the season, and the second in the history of the league. It was Allen's fourth straight victory. Kansas City has been doing better than expected of its young team, while Baltimore has fallen below the hopes of its adherents.

Wins Close Game.
San Francisco, April 26.—Harry K. B. Davis of the Presidio Golf club, San Francisco, won the Panama-Pacific exposition golf championship here yesterday by defeating Heinrich Schmidt of the Claremont Country club of Oakland, Cal., on the links of the San Francisco Golf and Country club. The match was decided at the thirty-sixth hole, Davis winning, 1 up.

JOHNSONS WIN.

Kansas City, Mo., April 26.—Chicago and Kansas City divided a double-header yesterday, the visitors taking the first game. Each victory went to the home team. In the first contest, R. Johnson for Chicago held the locals to one hit up to the ninth inning, while his teammates were piling up ten runs. In the second game, Johnson pitched a perfect game, occupying the mound for Kansas City and kept Chicago's eight hits well scattered. Score: R. H. E. Chicago.....13 2 0 0 0 13-0-12-1 Kansas City.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0-3-4-4 Batteries—R. Johnson and Wilson; Main, Cullip and Easterly.

Second "STAG DINNER" AT COUNTRY CLUB.
The second and last "stag" dinner of the present season was held at the Northland club Saturday evening. About Pittsford Score Shut-Out.

St. Louis, Mo., April 26.—Pittsburgh shut out St. Louis here yesterday, 3 to 0. Hearn granted the locals five scattered hits, but the visitors' field work and Hearn's ability to pitch tight ball when the bases were occupied, prevented the home team from scoring. Score: R. H. E. Pittsburgh.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0-0-5-0 St. Louis.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0-5-0 Batteries—Hearn and Berry; Watson, Herbert and Chapman.

Goes Fourteen Innings.
Newark, N. J., April 26.—A single by Hahn following Scheider's double in the fourteenth, broke up a pitchers' duel between Scheider and Blair, Allen; Kaeslering and Fariden. Score: R. H. E. Newark.....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1-7-1 Buffalo.....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1-7-1 Batteries—Scheider and Blair, Allen; Kaeslering and Fariden.

AMERICAN ASS'N.
Break Even.
Kansas City, Mo., April 26.—Consistent batting in the sixth and seventh innings broke the tie between the first game of a double-header, but the locals came back in the second contest, piling up fifteen hits and won. Score: R. H. E. Kansas City.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1-5-2 Kansas City.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0-1-5-2 Batteries—Young and Brennan; Allison, George and Moore.

Second game—0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-3-6-1 Kansas City.....1 2 2 0 0 1 3-9-15-1 Batteries—Havlik and Hughes; Reagan and Moore.

Saints 2; Millers 1.
St. Paul, Minn., April 26.—A crowd estimated at more than 18,000—a record for an Association game in the Twin Cities—saw St. Paul defeat Minneapolis 2 to 1 yesterday in the third game of the first intercity series. Both Steele and Ingessoll pitched well, but the latter got into trouble in the seventh by walking the first two men up and Riggert's double scored Martin with the winning run. Score: R. H. E. Minneapolis.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0-0-5-2 St. Paul.....1 0 0 0 0 1 0-2-5-2 Batteries—Ingessoll and Gharilly; Steele and Johnson.

Colonels Win Fast Game.
Louisville, Ky., April 26.—Triples by Weinberg went the principal factors in the defeat of Columbus by Louisville yesterday, 4 to 2. Perry pitched a strong game, striking out seven batters. The game was the fastest played in the American association this season, being over in an hour and 17 minutes. Score: R. H. E. Louisville.....0 0 0 0 0 1 1-2-6-2 Columbus.....1 2 0 1 0 0 0-4-6-6 Batteries—Weinberg, Davis and Coleman; Perry and Clemons.

Hoosiers 7; Cleveland 6.
Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—Bronkie's hit in the tenth inning scored the winning run for the Hoosiers, who defeated Cleveland 7 to 6. The game was a closely played game. McMillan made four hits in six times at bat. Score: R. H. E. Indianapolis.....3 0 0 2 0 0 0 1-7-9-2 Cleveland.....1 0 0 0 0 0 1-6-11-2 Batteries—Hurn and Blackburn; Brenton, Carter and Bassler.

GERMAN TROOPS HALTED GERMAN ADVANCE

IRON ORE RATE FROM MESABA RANGE IS CUT TO FIFTY-FIVE CENTS

Present Rate Held Unreasonable By Interstate Commerce Commission.

Case Has Been Before Commission for Nearly Three Years.

Original Demand By Independents for Forty-Cent Rate.

Washington, April 27.—The existing rate of 60 cents per long ton on iron ore from mines on the Mesaba range, in Minnesota, to vessels at Two Harbors, Minn., and Duluth, Minn., and Allouez Bay, Wis., was pronounced unreasonable today by the interstate commerce commission and the Duluth, Mesabe & Northern, the Duluth & Iron Range and the Great Northern railroads were ordered to establish a rate of not more than 55 cents. No findings were made by the commission on the rates from mines on the Vermilion and Cuyuna ranges, but representatives of the Cuyuna range, however, the commission's report declares, said during the progress of the case that even if no order were entered with respect to that range the rate for the Mesaba would be controlling.

The report says the United States Steel corporation indirectly controls the Duluth & Iron Range company and the Duluth, Mesabe & Northern Railway company and owns the largest portion of ore shipped over them, and that this fact demands a strict interpretation of any standard of reasonableness which is adopted, although the right of these roads to earn a fair return upon the property devoted to public use is not questioned.

It was argued that a rate in excess of a reasonable rate would be tantamount to a rebate to the United States Steel corporation, and that was not contradicted by the evidence.

The commission's investigation disclosed immense earnings by the roads.

Started Three Years Ago.

In the absence of President W. J. O'Leary of the Oliver Iron Mining company, President W. J. McGowan of the Duluth, Mesabe & Northern Railway company and Frank Adams, general counsel of the United States Steel corporation here, little could be learned locally concerning the development of the case.

METHODISTS ARE TO RAISE $10,000,000

Big Fund to Provide Pensions for Retired Ministers and Families.

Chicago, April 27.—Plans to raise a $10,000,000 fund to provide pensions for retired Methodist ministers, their widows and orphans, were outlined at a national convention of bishops and conference representatives of the Methodist Episcopal church, which opened here today.

Rev. Joseph B. Hingley, corresponding secretary of the board of conference ministers, who made an address stating that the movement for a retiring competency for aged ministers is on in all the great denominations and is being pushed with great force by the Presbyterians, the Methodist church north and south, the Protestant Episcopal, the Episcopal church and certain sections of the Baptist and Congregational churches.

With whom the $10,000,000 movement is but a few months' old, already have obtained $3,000,000, Dr. Hingley said.

"The present extensive campaign," said he, "will reach its culmination at the meeting of the general conference at Shreveport, La., in May, 1916."

The meeting here is being attended not only by men prominent in Methodism, but by representatives of other denominations with pension schemes of their own. The denominations, it is said, are aiding each other in the movement.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP TURK MINISTRY

Powerful Bomb With Clockwork Attachment Discovered.

Paris, April 27.—A powerful clockwork bomb was found hidden yesterday in the ministry of war at Constantinople, according to a dispatch from London. It was found by a Turkish soldier at an hour when the council would be in session. The meetings of this body are attended by Enver Pasha, minister of war, Field Marshal von Der Goltz and Gen. Liman von Sanders.

An investigation is said to have disclosed that the bomb was placed in the room by a spy who had come to clean the chimney and who then disappeared. Several other officers of the ministry of war have been arrested on suspicion of being his accomplices. The police believe the plot was directed against the Young Turks and the committee of Union and Progress are said to have decided at a meeting to which no Germans were admitted to adhere to a "waiting policy," but to take no action on a separate peace with the allies if Germany failed to provide assistance sufficient to repulse an attack on the Dardanelles.

KEEPS HIS PROMISE AND DANCES AT FRISCO EXPOSITION

JOSEPH CANNON, Congressman From Illinois, Will Be 79 Years Old May 7.

ITALY ON EVE OF DECISION

Ambassadors in Four Capitals Called to Rome for Conference.

Regarded as Preliminary to Announcement of Great Importance.

Rome, April 27, via Paris, 2:45 p. m.—The Italian ambassadors at Paris, London, Vienna and Berlin have been summoned to Rome to confer with Foreign Minister Sonnino.

In Rome this action is regarded as preliminary to the announcement of a grave and important decision on the part of the Italian government.

Signor Tittoni, the ambassador to France, reached Rome this morning. He left this city only a fortnight ago for Paris.

Marchese Carlotto, the ambassador to Petrograd, will not come back because of the distance and the difficulties of travel under the present conditions, but a messenger has been sent him with instructions.

RUSS TROOPS AGAIN ACTIVE

Strong Offensive Movement Begun Around Heights of Uzkov Pass.

Geneva, Switzerland, April 27, via Paris.—The Russians have begun another strong offensive movement around the heights of Uzkov pass, in the Carpathian mountains, according to a telegram received by the Tribune of Geneva. The Austro-German casualties there in the last two days, the dispatch says, number 20,000 men.

Melting snow has hindered the Russian advance between Stry and Matamoros.

"UNCLE JOE" DANCES AT THE EXPOSITION

Bruised Knee Compels a Waltz Instead of "Hoe Down."

San Francisco, April 27.—Congressman Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois yesterday kept a promise made five years ago by dancing a waltz in the New York state building at the Panama-Pacific exposition. The former speaker is a member of a congressional party enroute to the Hawaiian Islands. The promise was given at the time San Francisco was nominated for its place as the site of the exposition. Mr. Cannon, then speaker of the house, said that if San Francisco should be selected as its site he would visit the grounds and participate in a Virginia reel.

Last night, after a banquet given in honor of the congressional party, Senator James D. Phelan of California, "Uncle Joe" was reminded of his promise, which he fulfilled at once. Owing to a slightly bruised knee, a waltz was substituted for the more strenuous "hoe-down."

Congressman Cannon will celebrate his 75th birthday anniversary May 7.

PEACE DELEGATES ALLOWED TO PROCEED

STEAMSHIP NOORDAM WITH PEACE DELEGATES. London, April 27.—An admiralty order issued today released the steamer Noordam, whereupon the vessel proceeded on her way to Rotterdam. The Noordam has on board the American women delegates to the International Women's Peace congress at The Hague. She left New York April 18, but was held up in English waters on account of the embargo of the British government on traffic in the North sea.

MORE LETTERS SHOWING HOW PLATT DICTATED ARE READ

HUNGARY URGED TO GREATER ACTIVITY

Premier Is Determined to Prosecute the War More Vigorously.

London, April 27.—The following dispatch dated Monday was received by Reuters agency from Budapest via Amsterdam:

"Speaking in the Hungarian diet on the landsturm bill, Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, expressed his determination to urge the prosecution of the war with the utmost vigor. He said that after strenuous efforts since January, spent in offensive and defensive operations, we have proved the strength and capacity of the Austro-German armistice."

"Count Tisza expressed his delight because the Austrian opposition had fulfilled its duty to the fatherland. The war, he said, was not one of aggression, but was for the maintenance of threatened independence and the preservation of the European balance."

"Opposition speakers generally supported the bill, but demanded that its provisions be limited to the present war."

"Count Andrássy, former premier, maintained that the Austro-Germans have demonstrated that they are stronger. Their gains have been greater than their losses, he said, but greater efforts are necessary in Galicia, the bulwark of Austria-Hungary, and the Dardanelles must be safeguarded against an enormous fleet."

"In reply the colonel wrote Senator Platt he had received the telegram balance."

These messages were part of the additional correspondence that passed between Col. Roosevelt and Senator Platt, which was presented in court today.

William L. Barnum, the cross-examiner, started off his inquiry by asking Col. Roosevelt whether he had taken the advice of Senator Platt in regard to the nomination for the vice presidency in 1900.

"Did you value Senator Platt's advice?"

GERMAN SUCCESSSES ARE AMPLE REVENGE FOR NEW CHAPPELLE

No Attempt in England to Minimize Teuton Operations.

Advance Extended Over Front From Ypres to Dixmude.

Belgians Repulse Three Attacks South of Latter Place.

London, April 27.—No attempt is made here to minimize the importance of the German operations in Flanders, which have been declared to be at least an ample revenge for the British victory last month at Neuve Chapelle. The Belgian official report of today claims the repulse of three German attacks south of Dixmude, which indicates that the German contention that their advance was made over a front extending from Ypres to Dixmude was accurate.

The latest official German communication claimed the recapture of Lierne from the French, but the Belgian report, made subsequently, asserts that possession of the town was won for a second time and that the French were greatly assisted in the assault by Belgian artillery.

Fighting for Lierne.

Lierne, on the western side of the canal, has been a bone of contention, having changed hands four times in the course of the present fight. Its importance is due to the fact that its possession would give the Germans an important hold on that side of the canal and would compel the allies to readjust their line.

That the possible outcome of the (Continued on page 10, third column.)

VILLA AVIATOR TO FIGHT FOR ENGLAND

Major de Bequer Hears Call of His Mother and Starts for Home.

San Antonio, Texas, April 27.—Responding to a message from his mother in England, announcing the killing of his two brothers in the British army in the taking of Hill No. 60, and begging him to come home and fight for England, Major Eduardo de Bequer today wired his resignation to Gen. Villa of Mexico, in whose army he has fought for two years. Bequer, whose mother is English, was recently made active head of the aviation corps in Villa's army and was sent to San Antonio on a special mission. He wired instructions to New York to ship his aeroplane to Canada, from where he will sail to join the British colors.

STOOD FAST WHILE FACING ANNIHILATION

Supported in Turn By French, Belgian and English Regiments.

Dominion Soldiers Fought at Times With a Double Front.

Wonderful Stand, Varied By Bayonet Charges, Saved the Day.

London, April 27.—To the Canadians belongs the honor of spilling the Germans' plans in Flanders, according to a dispatch at the Daily Mail from its correspondent in Northern France. They were supported in turn by a French force, by Zouaves, by Belgians and by English regiments. The guns they lost temporarily were not behind their line but on the left side.

"The flood of the German advance," says the Mail correspondent, "cloaked under smoke and sulphurous gases, centered around the guns and passed the bulk of the Canadian force which maintained their calmness although their position became a promontory in the allied line."

Had Double Front.

"At times they had a double front, some trenches facing northeast and others southwest. They adapted their trenches to meet the new demands and transformed the back into the front. In any maneuver they would have been adjudged annihilated, but they held on and made good. They tied handkerchiefs over their noses to prevent them from the gas fumes."

It was only the Canadians' wonderful stand on the promontory, maintained many hours and varied by bayonet charges, that checked the Germans and enabled the Canadians to retire in good order and reform the general line.

"A summing up of the situation shows, however, that the Germans gained a good deal. They flattened the allies' salient northeast of Ypres (Continued on page 10, third column.)

BRITISH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS

Troops Take Offensive and Make Progress Near St. Julien.

London, April 27.—The following report from Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces at the front under today's date, was given out here today:

"Yesterday all German attacks north-west of Ypres were repulsed. In the afternoon our troops took the offensive and made progress near St. Julien and to the west of the place."

"The French co-operated on our left and further to the north they retook Het San."

"In the course of yesterday's fighting our artillery took full advantage of several opportunities for inflicting severe casualties on the enemy."

"On the remaining part of the front there is nothing to report. In addition to the destruction of several German positions mentioned in the communiqué last night, our troops have captured several stations and junctions at the following places: Tourcoing, Roubaix, Ingelmunster, Staden, Langemark, Thielt and Roulers."

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The German push in Flanders has halted at least for the moment. Official communications from the German high command, however, say that the German army is still in the process of advancing, and that the British and French forces are still in the process of retreating. The official announcement from Berlin shows that the Germans are now on the defensive, along their new line north of Ypres. The statement is made that British attacks broke down "with extraordinarily heavy losses."

Both the French and British claim that part of the lost territory has been retaken. A dispatch from Field Marshal Sir John French, British commander-in-chief, says the British made progress in the vicinity of St. Julien. It is also said the French regained possession of Het San. The Paris announcement reports that the French have made further progress.

It is said further that the French have recaptured Hartmann-Wellerkopf in the mountainous eastern end of the line which the Germans wrested from them two days ago.

The Italian ambassadors at Berlin, Vienna, Paris and London have been summoned home for a conference with the Italian foreign minister. Rome interprets this move as an indication that Italy is on the eve of an important decision concerning her foreign policy, and all Italy is awaiting the word whether the nation shall take up arms with the allies.

Unofficial Geneva dispatches say the Russian navy began another attack on the Austrians in the Ussak pan region. Austrian and German casualties in the last two days are estimated at 20,000.

Another English trawler has been blown up in the North sea, whether by a mine or a submarine is unknown. Seven men of the crew of nine, some of them badly wounded, were picked up.

The little Belgian army, once more in the midst of a furious struggle, is reported to have repulsed three successive attacks of the Germans south of Dixmude, in the great battle now under way in Flanders.

Announcement is made that the town of Lierne, a storm center in the battle, has been again taken from the Germans. Capture of this town was announced by the Belgians on Sunday and denied yesterday by the Germans. The day's statement says the Belgians lost Lierne again on Sunday but regained possession of it yesterday.

London is speculating whether the fierce German attack marks an attempt to force a way to the English channel, or is in reality a feint preparatory to striking a blow at some other point on the 600-mile front. It is admitted the Germans have gained already a substantial success.

In the east there are no signs of a recrudescence of fighting on such a scale as that of last month. The Austrian war office continues to announce success in its local engagements in the Carpathians.

It is assumed that land fighting in progress in connection with the new attempt of the allies to gain the Dardanelles and Constantinople. Nothing is known of the scope or details of these operations.

The Swedish steamer Centurion on her way from Stockholm to Helsinki, was sunk by a mine off Aland islands. The crew was saved.

WANTS NEW INCINERATOR

Silberstein Says He Will Negotiate at Once for a Plant.

Favors Leasing Plant to Company, Relieving City of Work.

Construction of a modern incinerator plant for the burning of garbage and to include apparatus for the melting of all the tin cans picked off the ash heaps, is planned by Commissioner Silberstein.

A KIDNEY REMEDY ADVERTISEMENT BROUGHT GREAT HAPPINESS

I take pleasure in stating that I have used Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that I was greatly benefited by the same and have used it in my family. I had a son, when quite young, who suffered from bladder or kidney affliction. I called in my physician, he attended him but did him no good. Almost by accident I noticed an advertisement about the curative properties of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I procured a bottle and gave it to him according to directions. It cured him of what we thought was almost impossible and the same with others of my family. I have such strong faith in Swamp-Root that I have never done without it in my family since the wonderful cure of my son as well as myself. I recommend it to all who suffer from kidney or bladder troubles and I am led to believe that it is one of the best medicines for the purpose for which it is used, that has ever been discovered.

This is my experience from the use of Swamp-Root. I wish the promoters of this wonderful medicine a large sale to the suffering public. I am, Yours respectfully,

W. H. McAFEE,
63 Broyles St.,
Atlanta, Ga.
Witness,
E. O. WILLIAMS, Notary Public.

Letter to Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do for You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Duluth Daily Herald. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, after a trip to the incinerator plant at the foot of Eleventh avenue this morning, Mr. Silberstein declared that he will begin negotiations at once for a new plant. The present structure, he said, is antiquated and unsatisfactory. It would be better to dispose of its garbage in a proper manner, a new plant should be erected at once.

In addition to the new plant, the tin cans picked up and made new to be sold to factories. With this feature, he said, the city could lead the use of the plant to some concern that will take over the entire collection and burning of the city garbage. If such a program could be arranged, Mr. Silberstein would reorganize the municipal garbage system so that there would be collecting stations at Lakeside, the East end, the central section of the city, the West end, West Duluth and New Duluth. The incinerator plant would be located at some central point.

There is a great need for the reorganization of the municipal garbage system in Duluth, said Mr. Silberstein this morning, and Dr. Silberstein and his staff are working out a suitable plan. The trip this morning to the plant and several days of study, he said, will show that a change is necessary.

Commissioner Silberstein was accompanied on his inspection trip by Mayor Prince and Dr. E. W. Fahay, health director.

BURGULARS BUSY AT PARK RAPIDS

Hardware Store Loses Money and Property; Church Burglarized.

Park Rapids, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald).—Burglars last night burglarized the hardware store of Hughes & Johnson, taking twelve trunks of silverware, $24 in diamonds and other goods not identified, the value of the stolen goods being about $240. The Catholic church was broken into and a $300 chalice stolen and the altar stripped. The burglars took the hardware store by forcing a hole in the back door and forcing the lock. They left a carpenter's bar. Suspicious parties visited the store Monday and the priest's house. A description of the suspect is in the possession of the sheriff.

BADGER ANTI-TIPPING BILL HAS BEEN VETOED

Madison, Wis., April 27.—The anti-tipping bill was vetoed last night by Governor Philip who, in explanation of his action, said the bill, if it became a law, would interfere with personal liberty, and was therefore unconstitutional. The governor expressed his opinion that such a law could not be enforced, and that the enforcement of laws breeds disregard of law.

President to be Godfather.
Washington, April 27.—President Wilson plans to go to Williamstown, Mass., Friday for the christening of his grandson, Francis Sayre, he probably will return here Monday. The president is expected to be godfather for the baby, who was born in the White House.

POLICE WARN MILL HIRES

"BIKE" RIDERS ABOUT 250 MEN

Hanging to Street Car Gates Said to Be Common Practice.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted; Conductors on Guard.

Residents of Fifty-seventh avenue west, fearful of accidents to boys who persist in riding bicycles and while so doing hang to the gates of street cars, have appealed to the West Duluth police to put a stop to the practice. Although the conductors of cars use considerable vigilance, they often fail to notice the boys hitch to the cars, they say.

One of these boys came near having a serious accident yesterday afternoon. He hung to the gate while going up the steepest part of the hill, and as he neared Huntington street, he let go. His control of the wheel was not very good, and as a result, ran into a telephone pole, smashing his wheel and sustaining several minor injuries. The name of the boy was not learned.

"The practice of hanging to the wheels of the cars is a very dangerous one," said one of the officers this morning. "As yet we have been unable to catch any of them. It probably will be continued until some one gets seriously injured. The boys ride their wheels along side of the car and as it approaches the stop hill, they get hold of the gates to have the assistance of the car in pulling them up grade. Often the conductors are unable to dislodge them in this manner ride to the top. The boys are being warned."

FIRST STREET LOSES RARE OPPORTUNITY

Delay in Paving May Divert West Duluth Traffic.

That property owners on First street have lost a rare opportunity in protesting the paving of that thoroughfare this year, the opinion of residents on Grand avenue is.

Grand avenue residents point out that there are three possible main routes to West Duluth. One is through Superior street and West Third street to Grand avenue. The street to be paved the full distance from Second to West Duluth, it is said, will naturally become a through street and property values along the street greatly enhanced. A property owner stated the situation as follows today:

"First street apparently has this prize well within its grasp until last Friday, when the commissioner of public works in response to a protest petition of property owners, announced that this street would not be paved this year. The protest was signed by me, but the property owners, realizing that the action on First street had again opened up them an opportunity, which they should have themselves quick to grasp the renewed opportunity, and they will fully deserve the important road which was foreclosed will give them."

As a result, the road will be wide awake property owners of Grand avenue. This is the real broad-minded view of the situation. The road is the upbuilding of a city, as against the small-town idea."

NO SALOON FOR SIXTY-THIRD AVENUE

Silberstein Favors Restricting Wet Area of the City.

No saloon will be allowed at Sixty-third avenue west and Grand avenue. This was definitely decided yesterday afternoon by a statement made by Bernard Silberstein, commissioner of public safety, following the presentation of a petition signed by 140 residents of the district.

The petition was unnecessary, said the commissioner. "I have already refused a dozen applicants for licenses at that place. That there will be no saloon there has been definitely settled. I am not in sympathy with spreading out the saloon district any more than I now is. The public safety department can much easier keep track of saloons when they are bunched than if they are scattered throughout the city."

FIRE ROUTS TWO FAMILIES.

Firemen Extinguish Blaze; Little Damage Is Done.

A fire which started from the kitchen stove and spread to an adjoining bedroom routed two families at 414 North Fifteenth avenue west at 2 o'clock this morning. The damage amounted only to about $50. Firemen from No. 8 department responded to the call and had the flames under control before they had gained much headway.

The families living on both floors of the house were routed by the smoke. Sparks from the kitchen stove are believed to have caused the blaze.

Tin Wedding Party.

MORE GRIEF FOR SETTLER

Brevator Farmer Collected $890 From Railroad for Stock Killed.

Now Wants $4,112 for Fire Which Swept His Property.

Martin Raski, Brevator farmer, is a man of many grievances. The Great Northern Railway which crosses his farm in section 14, 60-17, has furnished most of his grief.

A year ago last May, four of his horses and a hog strayed on the company's tracks in front of a moving train. The horses were badly crippled and maimed and the engine divided the porker in half.

Today Raski refused to allow his claim. Raski brought suit. He asked $1,100 damages for the horses. A district court jury allowed him $890. The company took an appeal to the supreme court, which ordered that a new trial be granted unless Raski would consent to have the verdict reduced by $125. Raski agreed to the reduction.

Today Raski as plaintiff in another suit against the Great Northern. He claims the company failed to properly equip its locomotives with spark arrestors, that as a result of its negligence, inflammable material along the right-of-way skirting his farm caught fire and the blaze spread to his property. He alleges that 2,200 cubic feet of standing timber and 300,000 feet of standing timber were destroyed.

Raski's complaint as to the cow is similar to that urged against the company the former lawsuit. He claims that the company failed to keep its right-of-way properly cleared, and keep stock out from the railroad track.

SEEKS SEPARATION FROM "NAGGING" WIFE

Ole Peter Crosby Says He Has Led a Miserable Life.

Continual fault-finding, scolding and nagging on the part of his wife, had driven Ole Peter Crosby, carpenter, 5219 Glendale street, into the divorce court. At least this is the excuse he gives for starting proceedings against Mrs. Anna Crosby in paper filed today.

The Crosby's were married in this city on Christmas day, 1904, and are parents of three children ranging in age from 9 to 5 years. Crosby is 49 years old and his wife is ten years his junior.

He declares that she is always fault-finding and troublesome in her behavior towards him. Besides scolding and nagging at him, he says, she has also indulged in slandering him before the neighbors and relatives. Crosby contends that this constitutes cruelty and asks for a legal separation on this ground.

WILL ENTERTAIN AID.

Commissioner Leonidas Merritt will entertain tomorrow afternoon at his home, 115 North Forty-sixth avenue, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church.

The body of Thomas L. Herbert, age 78, died Sunday night at his home of his daughter, Mrs. Nellie McKelvey, will be taken to the funeral home on the Northern Pacific train at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The building will be held at Barnum tomorrow afternoon.

ORDINANCE ON JITNEYS

Long-Expected Measure Will Be Ready for Council Monday.

License Fee, Bond and Safety Regulations Provided For.

City Attorney Greene has submitted to Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, a tentative draft of the new jitney ordinance, which is expected to be ready for the regular council meeting next Monday evening.

Although the ordinance does not contain a number of features desired by Commissioner Silberstein, the main points are included. If the ordinance is introduced next Monday, it will require two succeeding readings before it can be passed and then a period of thirty days before it will become law. This means that the jitneys will not be under legal regulations until the middle of June.

The jitney ordinance, from its tentative draft prepared by City Attorney Greene, provides for a $20 annual license fee, a $5,000 bond and an indemnity bond to cover accidents and injuries to passengers or pedestrians, at least two months' experience in driving automobiles on the part of the chauffeur, and safety regulations to guard against accidents. The last include chains for the wheels on rainy days, no more passengers than there are seats, no standing on running boards, but one passenger in driver's seat, no discharging or taking on of passengers while the car is in motion, the stopping of cars only at the curb, and no skidding on the windward side of the street. Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor.

THAWING RIVER HAS GIVEN UP ITS DEAD.

Spooner, Minn., April 27.—The floating body of a man was found in Rainy river near the pines, on the Canadian side, opposite the Engler mill, by Phil Breveik of Hackett. It is believed to be the body of one of the men who were drowned at Rainy river about the time of the formation of the ice last fall.

The body of his companion was recovered through the ice shortly after the accident.

SWELTERING APRIL WEATHER ELSEWHERE.

Not all cities of the United States enjoyed the same rainy weather that Duluth had yesterday. The highest temperature here was 68, but elsewhere places sweltered. The following were the temperatures of a few of the cities:

Chicago, 88; Toledo, 90; Pittsburgh, 88; Washington, 82; Raleigh, N. C., 82; Knoxville, Tenn., 88 and Louisville, Ky., 88.

Today gave promise of being "hot" in several cities, for at New York and Boston, the temperature at 7 o'clock this morning was 75.

WANTS NEW INCINERATOR

Silberstein Says He Will Negotiate at Once for a Plant.

Favors Leasing Plant to Company, Relieving City of Work.

Construction of a modern incinerator plant for the burning of all garbage and to include apparatus for the melting of all the cans picked up by the city, is planned by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division.

After a trip to the incinerator plant at the foot of Eleventh avenue west this morning, Mr. Silberstein declared that he will begin negotiations at once for a new plant. The present structure, he said, is antiquated and unsatisfactory and if Duluth could dispose of its garbage in a proper manner a new plant should be erected at once.

New Plant Tri-Cases.

In addition to the burning of the garbage, the new plant will melt all the tin cans picked up and make new tin to be sold to factories. With this feature, he said, the city could lease the use of the plant to some concern that will take over the entire collection and burning of the city garbage.

If such a program could be arranged, Mr. Silberstein would regard the municipal garbage system as a new business, and the city would be relieved of a large part of its work.

POLICE WARN "BIKE" RIDERS

Hanging to Street Car Gates Said to Be Common Practice.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted; Conductors on Guard.

Residents of Fifty-seventh avenue west, fearful of accidents to boys who persist in riding bicycles and while so doing hang to the gates of street cars, have appealed to the West Duluth police to put a stop to the practice. Although the conductors of cars use considerable vigilance, they often fail to notice the boys hitch to the cars, they say.

One of these boys came near having a serious accident yesterday afternoon. He hung to the gate while going up the street car at the intersection of Huntington street, he let go, and as a result, fell into a telephone pole, smashing his wheel and sustaining several injuries.

The boy was not injured. The practice is getting popular with the boys, said one of the officers this morning. As yet we have been unable to catch any of them. It probably will be continued until some one gets seriously injured. The boys add similar wheels along side of the car and as it approaches the stop hill, they get hold of the gates to hang on the last street car in pulling them up grade. Often the conductors are unable to see them and in this manner ride to the top, where the boys are being warned.

FIRST STREET LOSES RARE OPPORTUNITY

Delay in Paving May Divert West Duluth Traffic.

That property owners on First street have lost a rare opportunity in protesting the paving of that thoroughfare this year, is the opinion of residents on Grand avenue.

Grand avenue residents point out that there are three possible main routes to West Duluth. First street, Superior street and West Third street. Grand avenue, the street to be paved, is the shortest route from downtown to West Duluth. It is said, will improve the city's appearance and property values along the street greatly enhanced. A property owner on the street said he would not have been so quick to protest if he had known the city was so sure of the matter.

First street apparently has this prize well within its grasp until last Friday, when the commissioner of public works in response to a petition of property owners, announced that this street would not be paved this year. The paving of Grand avenue had previously been temporarily abandoned in favor of First street, but the property owners, realizing that the action on First street had again opened up to them an opportunity, which they should never have let go by, they have now themselves quick to grasp the renewed opportunity, and they will fully demand the improvement.

Forecast will give them. "More money to the street and wide-awake property owners on Grand avenue. This is the real broad-minded way of looking at the matter. It is the upbuilding of a city, as against the small-town idea."

MILL HIRES ABOUT 250 MEN

Nearly 400 Await Opening of the Alger-Smith Sawmill.

Large Number of Unemployed Workmen Arrive From Cloquet.

Nearly 400 men appeared at the Alger-Smith sawmill at West Duluth before 8 o'clock this morning to apply for work when it started its season's cut. Nearly 250 men were put to work by the company.

Despite the threatening weather every section of the mill started off without a hitch. With the exception of some of the outside crew, every man was in his place at 7 o'clock when the white blaze.

Long before 8 o'clock the foreman of the mill, Mr. J. H. Alger, and his assistants had placed their entire quota of men at work; despite the large number being put to work there still remained about 100 disappointed ones who were unable to secure employment.

The large number of men applying for work at the mill is believed to be caused by a number arriving from Cloquet, where they had been working the hope of getting employment for the season. Some of the lumber mills in the surrounding towns have not started yet, it is said.

Some of the men of the mill will mean considerable to the business men of this end of the city. The payroll of the mill will mean the distribution of about $8,000 twice each month to the lumber people and indirectly the business men of the city. The mill is expected to operate steadily until about Nov. 1.

WAS ROBBED IN SLEEPING CAR

Duluth Girl Lost $370 Diamond—Father Sues Pullman Company.

While Miss Myra Salvars, 17-year-old daughter of H. F. Salvars, 2311 East Third street, this city, slumbered in a Pullman sleeper en route from Duluth to Chicago one night last September, thieves slipped their hands under her pillow and removed a purse containing $10 in cash and a $370 diamond ring.

In district court yesterday afternoon, the girl's father started suit against the Pullman company to recover the loss. He alleges that it was the duty of the company and its employees to watch against thefts from its patrons and that the company is liable.

Miss Salvars occupied the sleeper from Duluth to Chicago on the night of Sept. 14, 1914. Upon retiring, she claims that she put the ring in her purse and placed the purse under her pillow. When she awoke in the morning, it was missing.

The father is suing to recover $370. The company filed an answer denying its liability.

When the company refused to allow his claim, Rasick brought suit. He wanted $1,150 damages. On Jan. 28, 1914, a district court jury allowed him $882.90. The company took an appeal to the supreme court, which ordered that a new trial be granted unless Rasick would consent to have the verdict reduced by $150. Rasick agreed to the reduction.

Today finds Rasick as plaintiff in another suit against the Great Northern. This time he is suing to recover $4,112 damages for a fire which swept over his property in July, 1910, and $200 for a cow which met death at the hands of a locomotive on Oct. 9, 1913.

The summer of 1910 was exceptionally dry and was a season of forest fires. Rasick claims the company failed to properly equip its locomotives with spark arresters and that as a result of its negligence, inflammable material along the right-of-way, skirting his land, caught fire and thus the blaze spread to his property. He alleges that 2,000 cedar posts, 250 railroad ties and 200,000 feet of standing timber were destroyed.

To Rasick's complaint as to the cow is similar to that urged against the company in the former lawsuit. He claims that the company failed to keep its right-of-way properly fenced so as to keep the cow from the main track.

SEEKS SEPARATION FROM "NAGGING" WIFE

Ole Peter Crosby Says He Has Led a Miserable Life.

Continual fault-finding, scolding and nagging on the part of his wife, Just Ole Peter Crosby, carpenter, 2315 Glendale street, into the divorce court, where he is now awaiting a schedule of the court for starting proceedings against Mrs. Anna Crosby in papers filed this morning with the clerk of the district court.

The Crosbys were married in this city on Oct. 10, 1907. They have three children, two boys and one girl, ranging in age from 10 to 5 years. Crosby is 35 years old and his wife is ten years his junior.

He declares that she is always fault-finding and troublesome in her behavior towards him. Besides nagging and scolding him, she has also indulged in slandering him before the neighbors.

Crosby contends that this constitutes cruelty and asks for a legal separation and alimony for this ground.

ORDINANCE ON JITNEYS

Long-Expected Measure Will Be Ready for Council Monday.

License Fee, Bond and Safety Regulations Provided For.

City Attorney Greene has submitted to Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, a tentative draft of the new jitney ordinance, which is expected to be ready for the regular council meeting next Monday evening.

Although the ordinance does not contain a number of features desired by Commissioner Silberstein, the main points are included. If the ordinance is introduced next Monday, it will require two succeeding readings before it can be passed and then a period of thirty days before it will become law. This means that the jitneys will not be under legal regulations until the middle of June.

The new ordinance, from its tentative draft prepared by City Attorney Greene, provides for a $20 annual license fee, a $5,000 bond and an indemnity bond to cover accidents and injuries to passengers or pedestrians in at least two months' experience at driving automobiles on the part of the chauffeur, and safety regulations in the stopping of cars only at the curb and on signs on the windshield that might obstruct the view of the driver. Violation of the ordinance

I take pleasure in stating that I have used Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that I was greatly benefited by the same and have used it in my family. I had a son, when quite young, who suffered from bladder or kidney affection. I called in my physician, he attended him but did him no good. Almost by accident I noticed an advertisement about the curative properties of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I procured a bottle and gave it to him according to directions. It cured him of what we thought was almost impossible and the same with others of my family. I have such strong faith in Swamp-Root that I have never done without it in my family since the wonderful cure of my son as well as myself. I recommend it to all who suffer from kidney or bladder troubles and I am led to believe that it is one of the best medicines for the purpose for which it is used, that has ever been discovered.

This is my experience from the use of Swamp-Root. Wishing the promoters of this wonderful medicine a large sale to the suffering public, I am, Yours respectfully,

POLICE WARN "BIKE" RIDERS ABOUT 250 MEN

Hanging to Street Car Gates Said to Be Common Practice.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted; Conductors on Guard.

Residents of Fifty-seventh avenue west, fearful of accidents to boys who persist in riding bicycles and while so doing hang to the gates of street cars, have appealed to the West Duluth police to put a stop to the practice. Although the conductors of cars use considerable vigilance, they often fail to notice the boys hitch to the cars, they say.

One of these boys came near having a serious accident yesterday afternoon. He hung to the gate while going up the steepest part of the hill, and as he neared Huntington street, he let go. His control of the car was not very good, and as a result, ran into a telephone pole, smashing his wheel and sustaining several minor injuries. The name of the boy was not learned.

The boys' said one of the officers this morning. "As yet we have been unable to catch any of them, but we are continuing to look for them and as they hang along side of the car and as it approaches the stop, they get hold of the gates to hold the car steady, often the conductors are unable to see them and in this manner ride to the stop. The boys are being warned."

FIRST STREET LOSES RARE OPPORTUNITY

Delay in Paving May Divert West Duluth Traffic.

That property owners on First street have lost a rare opportunity in protesting the paving of that thoroughfare this year, is the opinion of residents on Grand avenue.

Grand avenue residents point out that there are three possible main thoroughfares in West Duluth. First street, Superior street and West Third street. The full distance from downtown to West Duluth, it is said, will not be traveled by the street car, and property values along the street are being enhanced. A property owner who has abandoned his lot for a year, first street apparently has lost a rare opportunity to have his lot paved within the year.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, after a trip to the incinerator plant at the foot of Grand avenue west this morning, Mr. Silberstein declared that he will begin negotiations at once for a new plant. The present structure, he said, is antiquated and unsatisfactory and if Duluth would dispose of its garbage in a proper manner, a new plant should be erected at once.

Would it be the business of the city, he said, to build a new plant? He said, the city could lease the use of the plant to some company that would take over the entire collection and burning of the city garbage. If such a program could be arranged, Mr. Silberstein would recommend the city to lease the plant. The city would be collecting garbage in the central section of the city, the West and West Duluth and New Duluth. The incinerator plant would be located at some central point.

Dr. Root's Kidney System. "There is a great need for the recognition of a modern kidney system in Duluth," said Mr. Silberstein this morning, and Dr. Root's kidney system is a most suitable plan. The trip this morning to the incinerator plant, the trip this morning to the incinerator plant, the trip this morning to the incinerator plant.

Commissioner Silberstein was accompanied on his inspection trip by Mr. E. W. Doherty, health director.

BURGLARS BUSY AT PARK RAPIDS

Hardware Store Loses Money and Property; Church Burglarized.

Park Rapids, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald).—Burglars last night burglarized the hardware store of Hughes & Johnson, taking twelve revolvers, three trays of cutlery, three trays of silverware, $12 in jewelry and other goods not identified. The value of the stolen goods being about $200. The Catholic church was broken into and a $300 chalice stolen and the altar stripped. The burglars took a hole in the back door and forcing the lock they left a carpenter's bar for the purpose for which it is used, that has ever been discovered.

MORE GRIEF FOR SETTLER

Brevator Farmer Collected $890 From Railroad for Stock Killed.

Now Wants $4,112 for Fire Which Swept His Property.

Martin Raski, Brevator farmer, is a man of many grievances.

The Great Northern Railway which crosses his farm in section 18, 50-17, has furnished most of his grief.

A year ago last May, four of his horses and a hog strayed on the company's tracks in front of a moving train. The horses were badly crippled and maimed and the engine divided the porker in half.

When the company refused to allow his claim, Raski brought suit. He wanted $1,150 damages. On Jan. 15, 1914, a district court jury allowed him $889.90. The company took an appeal to the supreme court and ordered that a new trial be granted unless Raski would consent to have the verdict reduced by $125. Raski agreed to the reduction.

Today finds Raski as plaintiff in another suit against the Great Northern. This time, he is suing to recover $4,112 damages for a fire which swept over his property in July, 1910, and $200 for a cow which met death at the hands of a locomotive on Oct. 9, 1913.

The summer of 1910 was exceptionally dry and was a season of forest fires. Raski claims that the company failed to properly equip its locomotives with spark arresters and that as a result of its negligence, inflammable material along the right-of-way, skirting his farm, caught fire and spread to his property. He alleges that the fire destroyed his house, barn and 20,000 feet of standing timber.

To cause complaint as to the cow is similar to that urged against the company in the former lawsuit. He claims that the company failed to keep its right-of-way properly fenced so as to keep the cow from the railroad track.

Not all cities of the United States enjoyed the same rainy weather that Duluth had yesterday. The highest temperature here was 68, but in other places sweltered. The following were the temperatures of a few of them:

Chicago, 88; Toledo, 80; Pittsburgh, 82; Washington, 81; Raleigh, N. C., 82; Knoxville, Tenn., 85 and Louisville, Ky., 84.

Sunday gave promise of being "hot" in several cities, for at New York and Boston, the temperature at 7 o'clock this morning was 75.

ANSWER TO ROCKEFELLER

Chairman of Commission Replies to Statements Recently Made.

Chicago, April 7.—Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the United States commission on industrial relations, returning to Chicago today from Kansas City, issued the following statement in reply to the answer of John D. Rockefeller, D. H., 4-27-15.

He smiles and smiles though he is miles and miles from home.

A Columbia $4.40 raincoat makes him feel perfectly at home in a downpour.

Raincoats are not luxuries, but it's a luxury to have such a one as we now offer at $18.

At $4.40 we have raincoats for both men and women and at $2.95 a splendid coat (with cap to match) for both boys and girls.

Other coats for MEN at $7.50, $10, $12.50, $15, $18, $20 and $25.

For LADIES, tan and blue raincoats, either cape or belted, at $5 and at $8.50.

Duluth and Superior.

PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Big Demonstration and Parade Will Be Given on May 31.

Sunday Services Will Be Held at First M. E. Church.

Because May 30 falls on Sunday this year, Memorial day exercises will be observed with a public demonstration on Monday, May 31, according to plans which are now being worked out by a joint committee from the citizens' staff and the J. B. Culver, No. 128, and Willis A. Gorman, No. 13, posts, G. A. R.

The citizens' staff met and organized last evening at Memorial hall, court-house. Officers for 1915 were elected as follows: Frank Upham, president; W. W. Huntley, vice president; J. E. Horak, treasurer; A. H. Davenport, S. S. Williamson and G. J. Crosser, members of the executive committee.

At the meeting last evening it was decided to visit the schools on May 28 and to attend services at the First Methodist Episcopal church on May 30. Memorial day exercises, however, will be observed at the Auditorium on May 31. Rev. E. S. Voss has been selected as orator for the occasion. A committee of Commanders, John H. LaVaque and Dr. C. M. Wilson was appointed to confer with Robert W. Denfeld, superintendent of the city schools, with reference to the schools observing May 31 as a holiday and participate in the parade.

National G. A. R. headquarters has issued the following order regarding the observance of Memorial day:

"Before another general order shall issue from these headquarters, Memorial day, with its hallowed memories and associations, will have come and gone. It is not necessary at this late date to urge upon the press by me, Mr. Rockefeller's anger and resentment obviously grew out of a misconception as to my duties. I was not appointed to 'ally' or 'smother' the causes of industrial unrest, but to investigate them and make them manifest to the world."

"It is interesting and amusing to note that Jesse F. Welborn, president of the Rockefeller companies in Colorado, gives a labored interview attempting to show that no such letters were even written, while L. M. Bowser, chairman of the executive committee in Colorado, now at Birmingham, furnishes his somewhat lame contribution to the Rockefeller defense by confessing the authenticity of the correspondence, but declaring that it did not amount to anything and, besides, it had been uncovered by the congressional commission."

Is Disappointed.

"I must confess a certain degree of disappointment, however, with Mr. Rockefeller's statement. He fails to explain, in any way, the amazing confessions Mr. Bowser made in Colorado, now at Birmingham, furnishes his somewhat lame contribution to the Rockefeller defense by confessing the authenticity of the correspondence, but declaring that it did not amount to anything and, besides, it had been uncovered by the congressional commission."

"I also hear many expressions of disappointment because young Mr. Rockefeller did not make public the draft of Mr. Lee's letter referred to in July 2, 1914, with which he was not entirely successful, but to which he was to make certain amendments for Governor Ames."

"Also, the explanation of Mr. Rockefeller, in that it did not contain the names and locations of the 'friendly' papers to which the story of the Ludlow massacre was to be given as suggested in the telegram from Mr. Bowser on the morning after that unspeakable horror."

"Not Shot, But Smothered."

"I am glad to note that the Rockefeller defense to the Ludlow massacre is that the two women and eleven children who met their deaths upon that awful occasion were not shot, but merely smothered in a pit, while the bullets from the mine guards of their companies were flying over the mouth of the pit. Entire candor, however, should have moved Mr. Rockefeller to add the additional detail that his mine guards, in the guise of state militia-men, burned down the tents and looted the victims before and after their deaths."

Mr. Rockefeller's personal abuse of myself is in line with the customary individual who opposes him in any way. I meet it with composure, however, feeling sure that this very publicity will create a sentiment among the American people which will prevent a recurrence of the Ludlow horror and, perhaps, go a long way toward re-establishing a republican form of government in those communities controlled by the Rockefeller interests."

"On account of pressing duties with the commission on industrial relations I am unable to answer Mr. Rockefeller's attack in detail at this time. I shall, however, make full reply upon the occasion of my next public speech, which will probably be at Cincinnati, Ohio, next Sunday."

Seven Workmen Killed.

Seven Italian workmen were killed and eleven injured today by a premature trench explosion of dynamite at the new Kensington dam. Four of the injured may die.

SUICIDE IS UNEXPLAINED

R. H. Fagan Had Big Yearly Income From Mining Investments.

Friends Believe That Illness Was Cause of Rash Act.

Mystery still surrounds the death of Richard H. Fagan, wealthy mining man who committed suicide yesterday morning at his office in the Manhattan building, and it is probable that the motive for his deed never will be known.

Developments concerning Mr. Fagan's financial standing, since the shooting, show that worry over money matters could not have been responsible. He received $12,000 from his fee interest in the Section 30 mine alone, and was in a position to receive about $35,000 in royalties, according to Alfred Merritt, one of the lessees of the property.

In addition to this he owned a farm in Wisconsin valued at between $35,000 and $40,000, besides other mining properties and extensive timber holdings.

"I believe illness was responsible for his act," said L. C. Harris, attorney, business associate and one of his closest personal friends. Mr. Fagan was accustomed to outdoor living, and needed lots of exercise to keep himself in good physical condition.

"During the last ten years he has confined himself to a small office room, often shutting himself up for hours at a time without seeing any one. He would even refuse to see the few blocks to his home in the evening, justifying his behavior, though I repeatedly advised him to get out and get some fresh air. He has not been himself for some time."

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending the arrival of Mr. Fagan's brothers and sisters. MARINE TOWNSEND TAKES HER SECOND CARGO Corey Beats Farrell Out—Murphy, Last of Winter Fleet, Leaves.

The steamer E. J. Townsend started out today on her second ore-carrying trip of the season, down the lakes. The Townsend is the first to make the round trip and take out the second cargo this season. The steamers W. E. Corey and J. S. Farrell both left this morning with ore, the Corey carrying a load of 4,000 tons and the Farrell, the Corey winning by several hours.

The steamer Thomas E. Cole, which arrived yesterday, started out with her first ore cargo this morning. The Murphy is the last to start of the vessels having winter berths at this end of the lake.

Warning for Masters.

Shipmasters taking cargoes to Chicago or other mentioned harbors or entering them for loads are requested to observe the following warning: Iowa wreck gas buoy has been established 1 1/2 miles E. 3/4 S. from Chicago harbor light house. This is a spar-shaped buoy, showing an occulting light, five second, eclipse, five seconds. Vessels should give the wreck a clearance of 100 feet.

A light has been established on the west end of the pier head of Ontario harbor, Green bay, flashing white every four seconds and a flash of one second duration. The whistle signal on the Northwestern dock, Eschscholtz, is to be sounded at the pumping station on the shore just south of No. 6 dock.

Opens at Ogdenburg.

Ogdenburg, N. Y., April 27.—The navigation season on the Great Lakes was opened last night when the steamer Arlington arrived here with 40,000 bushels of corn from Chicago. After discharging her cargo the Arlington will sail for Boston to engage in the coastwise coal trade.

STAY HOME, HIS ADVICE

Real Estate Dealer Returns From Long Stay in California.

Says No District Has More Opportunities Than Northern Minnesota.

William Getty, a Duluth real estate dealer, is back from a sojourn of one year and five months in Southern California. Mr. Getty returns with the expressed belief that Duluth and Northern Minnesota is after all the land of greatest opportunity.

"California offers possibly some very fine opportunities to the man with capital to invest," said Mr. Getty. "But I believe for the young man that there is no greater field than Duluth and our own Northern Minnesota."

"Here we have rich land, the timber and everything that goes to make a comfortable and complete living."

FLOOD REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING

Believed Repetition of 1913 Disaster in Texas Will Be Averted.

Houston, Tex., April 27.—Reports today from the flooded district on the whole are regarded as encouraging and the belief is growing that no repetition of the 1913 disaster will result. The present center of destruction comprises Brazos, Burleson, Milam, Washington, Bexar, Waller and Wharton counties, where the trans-state streams are all out of their banks and great areas of fine farming lands have been inundated.

The Brazos is rising rapidly in lower central Texas and floods are reported coming from its upper stretches, but a cessation of rainfall near the coast has helped matters considerably.

The Trinity is reported rising rapidly as far south as Long lake. The Colorado is away out of its banks and enormous damage has resulted from its course.

From all flooded points come reports of crop destruction, livestock loss and abandoned homes, but no additional loss of life.

Railways continue to be severe sufferers and reports of washouts with bridges gone are coming in hourly. Virtually no lines are attempting to maintain their schedules, nor will they do so for another forty-eight hours at the earliest.

The weather today was cloudy with indication of intermittent rains, but these are not expected to have any serious bearing on the situation. Farmers are undeterred and already many are arranging to plant crops.

Sentence Commuted.

Washington, April 27.—President Wilson today commuted to a year and a day, the seven-year sentence of William L. Norton, convicted of misappropriation of the funds of the Old American National bank of Bartlesville, Okla., of which he was president. Norton will begin serving his term in Leavenworth penitentiary.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the affairs of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 100 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address (if the writer through these next not be published, a signed letter is always more effective, however.)

BUSINESS AND LABOR.

To the Editor of The Herald:
In Saturday's issue appeared the statement that "forty business men meet with commissioners and discuss strike."
It is remarkable with what rapidity the very learned and influential business men rush to the rescue of one of their number when his interests are at stake. But may we ask, have they shown the same spirit when labor's interests are being trod under foot?
Why how dare anyone have the audacity to place the interests of labor on a par with that of honest business?
Go to it fellows. You will come to the end of the rope, and fall into the pit and there you can cry to your hearts' content, and we will forget that you ever attempted to muzzle upon labor's activity around the motion picture houses, courts with a long farewell. HELPING A NEW CITIZEN.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Would you, as a special favor give me the following information:
The full name of the lieutenant governor of Minnesota; the chief justice of the supreme court of this state; the two United States senators from this state, and the following St. Louis county officers: judge of probate, treasurer, register of deeds, county attorney, surveyor and coroner; also the following Minnesota state officers: Auditor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and clerk of the supreme court.
I am going to have my hearing for naturalization next week from today, and what information I have been able to pick up so far, seems to be mostly guess work. You may publish the answers in the "Open Court." I suppose I should not have bothered The Herald, but I honestly don't know of any other place for reliable information on those subjects. Hoping you will answer soon. I remain yours respectfully, F. N. Buhl, Minn., April 23.

No trouble, sir. There may be some other candidates for citizenship who would like this information, so here goes:

A Lesson from the Past

Years ago, before baking powders were so well known, the housewife sometimes made her own from cream of tartar and soda.

These materials were then comparatively expensive and processes of refining had not been devised to bring them to the high state of purity of the present-day well known cream of tartar baking powders, such as Royal; and yet she never thought of buying alum, then as now a cheap and inferior substitute for cream of tartar. She wouldn't think of permitting an ounce of alum to enter her kitchen.

Yet housekeepers are to-day asked to buy alum baking powders with which to make food for their children.

The statement on the label affixed to every can naming the ingredients of which the baking powder is composed affords a method of protection against the use of undesirable kinds.

The Herald's foreign news; its Northwest news; its state news; its local news and society news, in fact all news, with appropriate large headlines and photo views, always full and accurate, neatly arranged, make it easily read and a pleasure to look at. I consider it the best published paper in the United States.
Wishing you continued success, I remain, very truly yours,

CANADIAN COMMISSION TO BUY WAR SUPPLIES.

Ottawa, Ont., April 27.—A commission to buy war supplies has been appointed by the Canadian government. During the first five months of the war Canada spent $50,000,000. Investigations by parliament into the expenditure resulted in disclosures which have led the government to take precautions for the proper expenditure of the $200,000,000 voted for the current year.

A. E. Kemp, manufacturer of Toronto, and member of the government, without a portfolio, is chairman of the commission. The other members are H. La Porte, merchant, Montreal, and G. F. Galt, merchant, Winnipeg. The commission will create a buying organization.

CITY WILL PUT SEAL ON OFFICIAL AUTOS

Council Takes Steps to Eliminate Charges of Joy-Riding.

Duluth's official seal will be painted on all city-owned automobiles. At the council meeting yesterday afternoon the commissioners agreed that all city-owned cars should be clearly labeled, so that no more charges will be made that employees are joy riding after working hours. After a short discussion it was agreed that some uniform label should be used and the city seal was accordingly upon. The labeling of city-owned cars was recommended by the Minger Improvement club several weeks ago.

THREE CITIES NOT AFFECTED

Teachers' Pension Law Does Not Include Duluth and Twin Cities.

Board of Education Has Already Made Provision Here.

A state-wide system of pensioning school teachers after twenty or twenty-five years' service, adopted by the last legislature, will not affect Duluth, Minneapolis or St. Paul. The pension bill was introduced by Representatives Henry Holmes and S. C. Scott, and was passed in the senate by D. P. O'Neill of Thief River Falls. Duluth's board of education adopted a teachers' pension provision in 1911, and the Twin Cities have had a similar pension for several years. The new state law is patterned closely after the plan followed in the three largest cities. Membership in the fund is optional with teachers now employed, and they have until Sept. 1, 1917 to make up their minds. All teachers beginning in the state after Sept. 1, 1915, must become members. School teachers may retire after twenty years' service of which fifteen including the last five, must be in Minnesota schools. Retirement after twenty-five years means a $250 allowance, and this is increased $30 a year until it becomes $600 after twenty-five years. A teacher incapacitated for service may be retired after five years, receiving an annuity in proportion to her term of service, based on $350 for twenty years.

The state, excepting Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis, will pay a tax of one-twentieth of a mill to help out the fund, which also will be helped by contributions from teachers. For the first five years, teachers will pay $5 annually, for the next five years, $10, and for the last five years of the quarter century $25.

LIVE STOCK MEN WILL MEET IN JUNE

The executive committee of the Northeastern Minnesota Guernsey Breeders' association and the agricultural committee of the Duluth Commercial club are making arrangements for the annual conventions of the Minnesota Live Stock Breeders' association and of the Northeastern Minnesota Guernsey Breeders' association to be held in June. The former will hold its convention on June 23 and the latter on June 24. The latter convention will be held at George Stone's Caribou.

The committees are trying to arrange for the appearance here of leading authorities on stock raising, and it is expected that the program will be much in advance of the very excellent program held here last year. Details are not yet set but will be announced before long.

ANDRIST WILL SPEAK.

Governor's Private Secretary to Address Ada Graduates.
Ada, Minn., April 27.—Charles M. Andrist, private secretary to Governor Hammond, will deliver the address to the graduates of the Ada high school graduating class at the commencement here June 5. When diplomas will be given to the following: Lizzie Ambach, Esther Arnestad, Ruby Bell, Helen Bosworth, Marie Carlson, Helen Burges, Helen Chisholm, Lula Casselman, Josie Garney, Ruth Lee, Beatrice Morris, Petra Rasmussen, Helen Symons and Mary Webster.
The motto of the graduating class, "Push Forward—Keep Going." The class colors are royal purple and gold, while the color of the class flower is the class violet.
Miss Ruby Bell will be the class valedictorian and Miss Helen Chisholm the salutatorian.
The exercises on the "Heath," the class play, will be rendered on May 10. On May 30, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Henry H. Symons.

Bankers to Be Heard.
Washington, April 27.—Bankers of Eastern and Southern Wisconsin wish to be transferred from the Minneapolis bank to the Chicago Federal reserve district and representatives of the Minneapolis bank will be heard by the Federal reserve board May 20. The Minneapolis bank filed with the board today a brief answering arguments made by the appealing banks.

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE.

If you have catarrh don't be misled or gulled into believing you can obtain a cure for your trouble by breathing a simple medicated air.
Catarrh is a constitutional disease and inhalers, sprays and nose douches merely temporize with the disease and seldom, if ever, bring any lasting benefit. To effect a cure use a remedy that will drive the disease out of your system. Don't employ a remedy that will drive the disease down into your lungs and other localities where it can be cured only by surgery, and frequently produce catarrhal deafness and head noises.

If you have catarrh in any form go to your doctor and get the cure of Parmit (double strength), take this home and use it. It is a powerful and a cure of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.
The first dose should begin to relieve the most miserable headache, dizziness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal discharges, head noises, etc. The second dose should be taken always accompany this disgusting disease.
Loss of smell, defective hearing and cough dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrh and the use of this simple treatment. Every person who has catarrh should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

DULUTH WILL SPEND $150,000

New Council Provides for Expenditure of Large Sums.

Minnesota Avenue Paving Contract to Be Let for $52,897.

Expenditures totaling nearly $150,000 were included in resolutions and ordinances introduced at the regular council meeting yesterday afternoon. The largest single expenditure is that involved in the proposed paving of Minnesota avenue, from Twelfth to Thirty-eighth street, this coming summer. The improvement will cost $52,897, according to the bid of the S. R. Oakes Construction company of Minneapolis, which will be awarded the contract next Monday. Commissioner Farrell introduced the resolution, but as the contract involves an expenditure over $10,000, it will have to go over for a week. Minnesota avenue will be paved with a two-course concrete base and trap rock surface.
Commissioner Farrell also introduced a resolution awarding the contract for the paving of Highland street, from Fifty-ninth to sixty-sixth avenue west, to the Gilman-Murphy-Patterson company on its low bid of $22,146.80. Final action cannot be taken until next Monday. The new sidewalk will be paved with crushed rock.

ON THE IRON RANGES

SCHOOL EXHIBIT ON AT VIRGINIA

Annual Display of Work of Pupils Is Now Being Made.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual exhibit of the pupils of the local schools will be the big feature in educational circles this week.

The feature will be the exhibit of the manual training department of the high school, where the work of more than 400 manual training students will be on display with the work of the commercial department, the normal department, domestic science, and drawing. In every department the exhibits are especially fine.

The exhibits of the grade schools opened this afternoon when those of the North Side, Primary and the Franklin, Higgins and Lincoln location schools were moved over to the grand jury on a charge of second degree assault on John Chalk and Joe Gogola being heavily fined.

High School Exhibit. The high school exhibit will be held at the technical Thursday evening beginning at 7 o'clock. The manual training exhibit will cover the year's work. Students will be shown engaged in draughting, cabinet work, wood work and at the forest in the blacksmith shop from both the grades and the high school. The manual training department of the city schools during the last year has grown so rapidly that the question of building a new manual training school is being seriously considered. Parents and visitors will have an opportunity to see many different types of work and to judge of its quality. Every one of the 400 students in manual training will have something to exhibit. The feature will be two rooms furnished entirely with furniture constructed in the manual training department. The structures will be on hand to explain to any interested the theory of the manual training work in the city schools and what it is designed to accomplish.

HIBBING JOBS MAY FINALLY BE FILLED

Victor Power Having Returned, Council May End Agony.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is expected appointments to various village offices which were held up because of the absence of Mayor Power will be made by the council tonight.

The offices to be filled are: A police matron, members to the water and light, park and library boards and the chief of police position.

A petition signed by 360 taxpayers asking that Victor Power be appointed to the mayor, be appointed to the water and light board, to succeed John C. Ryan, chairman, whose term expired this spring, has been received by the council and taken under advisement. W. J. Ryder will automatically take over the chairmanship of the board.

Several women have applied for the position of police matron.

Other business that may come up for discussion is the courthouse matter. The village had ordered the construction of a new courthouse, but the contract for the building, provided that St. Louis county construct a brick court building, passed the legislature.

SKIN TROUBLE ALL OVER BODY

Itched Terribly. Could Not Sleep at Night. Clothing Aggravated Trouble. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Healed.

1363 Fulton, Chicago, Ill.—"I noticed peculiar spots breaking out all over my body which itched terribly. They were red and later white and scaly. The eruption burned and itched so that I could not sleep at all at night. My clothing aggravated the trouble and made me itch more."

"I took a treatment but got no relief, so I read the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and wrote for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used them as per directions and in two days the itching had almost entirely disappeared. I had a few more scaly spots, but they disappeared after I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had a few more scaly spots, but they disappeared after I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had a few more scaly spots, but they disappeared after I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment."

Keep your skin clear, scalp clean and free from dandruff, and hair lustrous and glossy. Cuticura Soap, with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will do it.

Sample Each Free by Mail

Two Harbors, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council last evening reconsidered the bids for the city printing from the Journal-News and from the Two Harbors Socialist, which last week were laid on the table. Nothing definite was done with letting the contract and the matter was laid over for another week. The council is said to be anxious to let the contract to the Two Harbors Socialist, but cannot do so consistently with the bid of the Journal-News is about 10 per cent lower than the Socialist's bid. The council is going to let the contract to the Socialist and it will undoubtedly be settled at the next regular meeting.

The Socialists were granted the use of the city park for a Fourth of July celebration. They plan big things here on the Fourth.

HOTEL KEEPER GETS PEEVED

Bemidji Boniface Objects to Federal Officers Searching His Place.

Tells Them They Cannot Seek Contraband Without Proper Authority.

Bemidji, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officers of the government Indian department, sent here to enforce the treaty of 1855, were given a warm reception yesterday when they entered the Bemidji hotel, owned and operated by William Boniface, and asked the privilege of inspecting the rooms of the institution. The officers were told to show their authority to search the place and when they could not they were ordered to leave. The officers then went upstairs, Mr. Boniface following. He again asked them to leave his place, which they did.

"You fellows can't repeat your trick of last week, when you blocked a public highway at the bridge with me," said Mr. Boniface. "I have no objection to your searching my place if you have the proper authority, but your bluff has been in force here about long enough."

Mr. Boniface, who operates a soft drink place in connection with his hotel, says he knows of no reason why the agents should desire to search his place of business.

Officers Thompson and Benson met with a second warm reception when they attempted to force Henry Martin, a licensed drayman, into revealing the identity of the owner of a certain automobile he had delivered in the morning, which the officers said they thought contained liquor.

"It is none of my business what is contained in the grips that I handle," said Mr. Martin, "and they'll search my head from my body before I'll tell them."

NO FRAUD RULING HAS BEEN UPHELD

Michigan Supreme Court Affirms Decision in Mining Case.

Fort Yates, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Full citizenship may be bestowed on the Indians on the Standing Rock reservation, Col. James McLaughlin, the Indian inspector, and E. A. Thackeray, another inspector, spent several days here making a special investigation under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior. Lane, who is planning to take advantage of the authority granted him under a former act of congress to bestow citizenship on the Indians when they seem competent.

This is the first reservation to be visited for that purpose. The inspectors were accompanied over the reservation by Supt. Coxey, who is an enthusiast over the proposition, and believes the Indians are now ready to be granted citizenship.

Time Considered Opportunity.—The time is regarded as especially opportune since there are 39,000 acres of inherited and non-competent Indian allotment lands to be sold May 3 and the remaining untaken reservation lands are to be thrown open for settlement. These facts, with the recent organization of the new county of Sioux on the reservation, makes it a natural thing for the government to first test out the plan at this place.

It is understood that as a result of the investigations a favorable report will be made on the matter to the secretary.

PLEADS FOR WORK ABROAD

Former M. E. Bishop of Asia Talks to District Ministerial Association.

Tells of Semi-Civilized Conditions—Addresses Women's Society.

Rev. W. F. Oldham, D. D., of New York, secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist church and former bishop of Asia, gave an address on "The Way of Foreign Missions" at the annual meeting of the Duluth District Ministerial association last night. The meeting was held at the Leister Park M. E. church. In giving the reasons for the need of foreign missions, Dr. Oldham did not present them as a contrast or opposed to home missions, but merely made a strong plea for the development of the work abroad. He declared that the whole spirit of the Christian movement was to make all life accord with the ideals of Christ.

As one of the strongest points in his plea for further recognition of the splendid work being done by missionaries in semi-civilized countries, Dr. Oldham compared the status of the women in non-Christian nations with that of women in Christian nations.

Rev. C. H. S. Koch of Brainerd, Minn., who recently returned from several years work among the natives of India, also took part in the evening's program. Rev. Carl W. R. Warming of the Swedish M. E. church, Duluth, gave a vocal selection. Dr. John Hoffman of the First M. E. church presided.

Meeting for Women. In the afternoon members of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church assembled in the church parlors to hear a talk by Dr. Oldham on "Women's Work From the Christian Point of View." Eighty persons heard the address, including several clergymen of the city.

The hostesses were Mrs. W. C. Brundage, Mrs. S. R. Lewis, Mrs. Frank Spurbeck and Mrs. W. S. Moore. They were assisted by Mrs. E. R. Forward and Mrs. A. D. Jacobs at the tea table, and Miss Dorothy Moore and Miss Caroline Moore.

The morning's session, the second of the conference, began at 10 o'clock with the sacrament of the holy communion. Dr. M. P. Burns was in charge.

GERMAN CRUISER WILL BE INTERNED

Commander of Kronprinz Wilhelm So Notices Collector of Customs.

Newport News, Va., April 27.—The German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, which put into Hampton Roads on April 11, after a notable commerce-destruction cruise, has been interned for the war at the Norfolk navy yard near her sister raider, the Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

Lieut.-Capt. Thierfelder of the Wilhelm notified Collector Hamilton late yesterday of his intention to intern in this laconic message:

"Herewith I have to officially inform you that I intern."

No explanation accompanied the communication, but later the German commander said he had intended to attempt a dash past the allied warships off the Virginia capes, but that the illness of more than sixty of his sailors would make that impossible. He was before expiration of the time that the United States government granted to make his escape seaworthy. It was understood the limit on that time was midnight of April 30.

No Prospect of Early Recovery.

The commander told Collector Hamilton that his surgeons had informed him that there was no prospect for the early recovery of the sailors, and added that his ship could not be manned properly with so many of her crew incapacitated.

The United States government will maintain a naval and military patrol around the Wilhelm until she is taken to Norfolk.

It was said last night the cruiser would probably not be moved before Wednesday.

Commander Thierfelder's notice came unexpectedly. Early in the day the Wilhelm was towed to a pier and began loading several thousand tons of coal. That, together with reports that she had been granted sufficient provisions to carry her to the nearest German port, caused the belief in some quarters that the ship was about to sail. Coaling was continued after the commander's notice had been received.

On April 30, the ship will be filled before late today.

The Wilhelm, in her raids, destroyed thirteen merchant vessels of the allies, and one neutral vessel, a Norwegian bark. The commander claimed the bark carried contraband.

Lieut.-Capt. Thierfelder of the Wilhelm notified Collector Hamilton late yesterday of his intention to intern in this laconic message:

"Herewith I have to officially inform you that I intern."

No explanation accompanied the communication, but later the German commander said he had intended to attempt a dash past the allied warships off the Virginia capes, but that the illness of more than sixty of his sailors would make that impossible. He was before expiration of the time that the United States government granted to make his escape seaworthy. It was understood the limit on that time was midnight of April 30.

No Prospect of Early Recovery.

The commander told Collector Hamilton that his surgeons had informed him that there was no prospect for the early recovery of the sailors, and added that his ship could not be manned properly with so many of her crew incapacitated.

The United States government will maintain a naval and military patrol around the Wilhelm until she is taken to Norfolk.

It was said last night the cruiser would probably not be moved before Wednesday.

Commander Thierfelder's notice came unexpectedly. Early in the day the Wilhelm was towed to a pier and began loading several thousand tons of coal. That, together with reports that she had been granted sufficient provisions to carry her to the nearest German port, caused the belief in some quarters that the ship was about to sail. Coaling was continued after the commander's notice had been received.

HEALTH TALKS

The Ebstein System

THIS is a "made in Germany" treatment for obesity. It is based on the fact that animal as well as carbohydrate food is capable of being converted into fat. Ebstein argues that starches and sugars are rapidly burned up in the body, supplying immediately available energy and sparing the combustion of albuminates, which are consequently stored up in the form of subcutaneous tissue. Ebstein holds that fatty food does not promote corpulence, and he recommends its use in the diet to produce satiety. When the appetite is quickly satisfied, as it is by fats, there is less craving for sugars, starches and other food and drink.

Sugars, starches and all forms of farinaceous food are excluded, especially potatoes. Three and one-half ounces of bread are allowed daily. Fat meat, cream, butter and rich soups are permitted, as are peas, beans, asparagus, cabbage and spinach. A moderate amount of meat of the patient's choice is allowed. Three meals a day are prescribed, and fluids are restricted so far as possible and only water is drunk.

Here is the Ebstein bill of fare:

BREAKFAST.

One cup of black tea without sugar or milk. Two ounces of buttered toast.

DINNER.

Soup or broth. Four to six ounces fat beef with gravy, not thickened. One or two fresh vegetables. Salad, or fresh or dried fruits.

SUPPER.

Tea as before. A soft boiled or poached egg. Fish, ham or cold meat (fat). An ounce of thin bread and butter or toast. Fresh fruit.

Questions and Answers.

and send a stamped addressed envelope. Remember, your personal troubles do not interest the general public, be asked: Please tell me what kind of doctor book is best for everything and where I can get it.

REPLY.

We know of no all-around doctor book. If you are interested in any particular subjects, however, we will gladly suggest authoritative books.

On the Water Wagon: Please give your readers information about water drinking. Is half a gallon a day too much, beginning with a quart before breakfast?

REPLY.

Two quarts a day would be all right, but spread it out. You'd hate to be forced to take a quart before breakfast, much as we love old Adam's ale.

Salt Not Injurious for Boys and Girls: I have taken great interest in your daily Health Talk and would like to know if you think it injurious for boys and girls to eat much salt in their food?

REPLY.

No, it is healthful to eat all the salt you want.

Constipation: Will you kindly give some of your sane advice upon the subject of chronic constipation?

REPLY.

Surely. Send stamped addressed envelope for personal letter. No room here.

Bitting the Nails: Is there any cure for the habit of biting the nails?

REPLY.

Some unknown reader suggested that this habit is psychic in origin, and that frequent manicuring keeps the nails so clean and smooth that the temptation to bite them disappears.

STANDARDIZE PAVEMENTS

Farrell Insists That Proper Materials Be Chosen or None at All.

Commonwealth Ave. Owners Were Agreed on Concrete Base.

Because he proposes to establish a standard pavement for all business streets improved from now on, Commissioner Farrell, head of the public works division, will order one-half of Commonwealth avenue through Gary paved with brick this summer and the remainder of the improvement completed during 1916. Standard pavements for business streets will include such materials as brick, creosote blocks or sandstone.

Mr. Farrell made this announcement after a warm clash with A. W. Kuehn, now, president of the Gary Land company, at the board meeting yesterday afternoon, when the latter appeared to protest against a brick pavement at this time. Mr. Kuehn declared that a brick pavement would be a detriment to the property owners of the fact that there are no street improvements in the entire avenue and the result would be that the city will have to tear up the pavement every time gas or water mains are installed. He said that all of the property owners were agreed that the city have the street paved with a concrete base.

But this is not the time to build a brick thoroughfare. A good concrete base will be guaranteed and after several years the city will be able to pay for a brick surface which will be placed right on top of the concrete base. In this way the city will be compelled to tear up only the base, instead of the pavement, when gas or water mains are installed.

Commissioner Farrell objected to any such program and declared that he will not support a plan for the paving of Commonwealth avenue with concrete.

Would Have to Be Relaid.

"A concrete base," said Mr. Farrell, "will not stand the wear of the heavy traffic that will come over the street and the result will be that at the end of several years, the city will have to relaid it all over again, saving the cost of a brick surface. Such a plan will have to be paid for by the property owners and may also establish a precedent, that I don't want in this city."

DULUTH RATE IS FIXED AT 21 CENTS UNDER THE RATE TO THE TWIN CITIES

Railroads Prevented From Putting Into Effect 28 Cent Spread.

Full Text of Interstate Commerce Commission Decision Not Known.

But Barnes and Hall See Confirmation of Former Victory.

Washington, April 28.—The so-called 23-cent scale of class rates from points east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers to St. Paul and Minneapolis, was found reasonable today by the interstate commerce commission and a 30-cent scale proposed by railroads serving that territory was found not justified.

The railroads were ordered to maintain the 23-cent scale for two years and required also to maintain rail, lake and rail class rates on the same sort of traffic, which shall not exceed or be lower than their present 21-cent scale of differentials over the rates contemporaneously in effect at Duluth, Minn. A proposed 25-cent scale of differentials to the Twin Cities over the Duluth rates was found unduly discriminatory against the Twin Cities.

The Washington dispatch given above is meager as to details and does not indicate just to what extent the decision of the interstate commerce commission goes.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, who with Julius H. Barnes, now in New York, has led the fight on Duluth's part, says that until he sees a fuller account of the decision he would not like to venture an opinion. Mr. Hall this morning received from Mr. Barnes, after the decision was announced, a telegram to the effect that Mr. Barnes believes that Duluth has won a victory in the C. E. A. matter, which will readjust the rates to this point and the Twin Cities from the rate on the trunk line territory, including Pittsburgh and such other points as Mr. Hall believes the same as Mr. Barnes does and declares that if this is the fact, a very important victory has been won for Duluth—much greater in extent than any heretofore. Mr. Hall's statement of the C. E. A. territory matters would also settle the Duluth rates.

PEACE IN OHIO COAL STRIKE NEAR AT HAND

Believed Settlement Will Be Effected at Second Conference.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—With the opening of the second conference of miners and owners and joint committee in the Ohio coal strike here, both sides expressed the belief that peace was near at hand. The start of the conference yesterday, it was expected, that the peace would be realized before the end of the week.

700-POUND GIRL DELAYS TRAFFIC

Oil City's Fat Damsel Starts on Way to Join Circus.

Oil City, Pa., April 28.—Traffic on the New York Central lines was delayed twenty minutes when Andrew Chilton, Oil City's fat girl, weighing more than 700 pounds, departed to join a circus.

Half a dozen men transported her in a specially-made wheel chair to the baggage car and when a transfer was made at Andover the car was detached and shifted to the freight depot.

Later the baggage car of the second train was shifted to the depot and the 700 pounds of circus girl placed in it. The train was held until the crew made the transfer.

MINISTER'S SALARY LESS THAN $800

Average for Congregationalists in Northern States, Says Secretary.

Chicago, April 28.—Ministers in the Congregational churches of the northern states receive, as an average, an annual salary of less than $800, Rev. Francis L. Hayes, Western secretary of the annuity fund for Congregational ministers, asserted today before the annual convention of the board of conference of ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church. The convention was being held in the interest of a $10,000,000 fund for retired ministers.

The Rev. Hayes said that less than 2 per cent of the Congregational churches pay ministers an annual salary of $3,000 and upwards; more than half not over $2,000 and one-quarter not more than $800.

The underlying reason why every member of the Grand Army of the Republic receives a pension with the general approval of the people is the nation's sense of obligation. It is time that the church's sense of obligation should rise to same level, the speaker said.

ESCAPED FROM EMDEN AND COMMANDS OCEAN RAIDER

LIEUT. VON MUCKE.

Though the German raider Emden has been sunk the members of her crew who escaped capture at the time are adding from time to time to the romance of the ship. Under the leadership of Lieut. Von Mucke a landing party went ashore on Cocos Island and when the Sydney sank the Emden, Lieut. Von Mucke and his men escaped from the island on the schooner Aysia, on which some Maxim guns were mounted and the vessel began roaming the seas.

CONSPIRACY IS CHARGED

One Hundred Labor Union Officials and Contractors Indicted.

Violation of Sherman Anti-Trust Laws Is Alleged.

Chicago, April 28.—The eighteen officials of labor unions, eighty-two contractors or contracting firms and two alleged trusts named in indictments returned in the United States district court yesterday, charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and interstate commerce law, were expected to appear today to give bond in the sum of $10,000 for each indictment in which they have been named.

If the indicted men do not respond within a few days, it was announced by the court, seizures will be issued. The charges in each of the eight indictments are conspiracy to restrain trade, combination in restraint of trade, interfering with interstate commerce. The labor leaders were charged with having prevented union workmen from unloading or handling goods which had been shipped from outside the state, because of alleged disputes with the warehouse to which the goods were billed.

The indictments charge that association of the labor leaders to which the goods were billed.

Side of the Dardanelles.

Paris, April 28.—French troops have occupied the village of Kumkaleh on the Asiatic side of the entrance to the Dardanelles. This announcement was made officially last night.

"During the disembarkation Sunday of the allied forces at the Dardanelles," the official communication says, "the French troops comprising infantry and artillery had been designated particularly for operations at Kumkaleh on the Asiatic side. This mission was completely and successfully fulfilled.

"Added by the cannon of the French fleet and under fire of the enemy, our troops succeeded in occupying the village and have continued its occupation, despite seven counter-attacks at night, supported by heavy artillery.

"We took 500 prisoners and the losses to the enemy appear to have been considerable.

"The general disembarkation of the allied forces continues under good conditions."

MILLIONS OF SHELLS BEING MADE IN CANADA

Ottawa, Ont., April 28.—The business of manufacturing shells is assuming very large proportions in Canada. Minister of Militia Hughes stated last night that 200 factories in the Dominion were engaged in this work.

The orders are placed through a central committee and now amount to $175,000,000. Arrangements have been completed at Sydney, Nova Scotia and at Sault Ste. Marie for refining copper and zinc and the manufacture of brass for shells. Heretofore the materials have been obtained from the United States.

Attempt Made to Discredit
Testimony on Campaign Contributions.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 28.—The cross-examination of Theodore Roosevelt was concluded today after he had been asked questions about speeches and the salary and traveling expenses he received while president of the United States.

Before court opened, attorneys for both Col. Roosevelt and M. Barnes went to the chambers of Justice Andrews for a conference, which, it was said, had to do with the admission of the evidence.

When Justice Andrews ascended the bench he warned the jury against reading the newspaper making a speech at Hudson Falls in 1913.

"Where is Hudson Falls?" asked the colonel.

Mr. Barnes replied: "I have never been governor and consequently I have never been all over the state."

The speech at Hudson Falls was read in it Col. Roosevelt was a man as saying that Mr. Barnes was a menace to the state of New York and that if he was a menace before election he was a menace yet."

John M. Barnes, Col. Roosevelt's chief counsel, objected. Mr. Barnes explained to the court that the colonel's old speeches were not being introduced with an idea of compounding the alleged libel, but of showing the colonel's state of mind. The objection was overruled.

In another speech Col. Roosevelt was quoted as saying, and he said he was incorrectly quoted, that Mr. B. and Mr. M. should be in the same party. The speech was delivered in Saratoga.

MYSTERY CASE FOR BALTIMORE POLICE

Stenographer Has Her Skull
Fractured in Three Places.

Baltimore, Md., April 28.—The local police face a mystery in the case of Miss Ida Robins, 22 years old, a stenographer, who was assaulted with a hammer last Monday afternoon in the office of her employer, Philip Undermeyer, dealer in printers' ink.

Miss Robins, with her skull fractured in three places, is in a hospital not expected to recover. Before her coming unconscious she said she had been attacked by a negro who demanded money. Later developments read the police to believe that a white man or a white woman may have been her assailant. Why a woman should be in the case was not explained.

BIG CRUISER IS TORPEDOED

Berlin News Agency Reports Sinking of French Ship By Submarine.

Leon Gambetta Victim of Austrian Submersible;
Part of Crew Saved.

Berlin, April 28, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta has been torpedoed by an Austrian submarine, according to news received by the Overseas News agency. Part of the crew of the French warship was saved.

The Leon Gambetta displaced 12,416 tons and carried a crew of from 700 to 800 officers and men. The cruiser was built at Brest in 1903. She was 486 feet long, 70 1/2 feet beam and had a mean draft of 26 1/2 feet. She carried four 7.6 inch guns, sixteen 6.6 inch guns and twenty-four 3-pounders, and was equipped with five 18-inch torpedo tubes. She cost $3,890,000.

Report Verified.

Paris, April 28.—A communication from the ministry of marine reciting the torpedoing of the French cruiser Leon Gambetta was given out this afternoon. It is textually as follows:

"The armored cruiser Leon Gambetta, cruising at the entrance of the Otranto canal, was torpedoed the night of April 26-27 and went to the bottom in ten minutes. All the officers on board perished at their posts. One hundred and thirty-six members of the crew, including eleven under-officers, were rescued by vessels sent out promptly to their help by the Italian authorities.

The list of survivors has not yet been received at the ministry of marine."

FLOOD CONDITIONS IMPROVE STEADILY

Rain Ceases in Texas and
Some of Rivers Are Slowly Receding.

Houston, Tex., April 28.—Central and South Texas flood conditions improved steadily last night and today, strengthening the belief that the worst is over, although all trans-state streams are out of banks at many points and damage is continuing. No rain, however, has fallen along the lower reaches of the river in more than forty-eight hours and the waters are receding slowly.

Crests of North Texas floods will not arrive for several days and by that time it is believed the Southern rivers will have fallen enough to enable the water to pass into the Gulf without trouble.

Government official reiterates the warning that the chief center of disturbance is along the lower sweep of the Colorado river.

GASES CAUSE MANY DEATHS

Poisonous Fumes From Bombs Put Canadians
Out of Battle.

Medical Examination Shows Them More Effective Than Wounds.

London, April 28.—The British war office in a statement last night supplementing its previous charges that the Germans in their fighting are using noxious gases, says:

"Medical evidence shows that Canadian soldiers have lost their lives in the recent fighting, not from wounds, but from poisoning by gases employed by the enemy."

The war office has issued an invitation to the heads of British households to make supplies of the simple respirators which are required by the troops at the front as a protection against asphyxiating gases.

The respirator is made of gauze or fine wire and is worn over the nose and mouth. Such devices are frequently used by laborers who are compelled to work in smoke or dust.

Canadians' Famous Charge.

London, April 28.—A member of the Canadian Scottish who has just been received in a hospital with a bullet wound in his arm, gave a correspondent a graphic description of the now famous charge by the Canadians which led to their recapturing their four lost guns.

"For nearly an hour last Thursday," (Continued on page 11, third column.)

ADDITIONAL LIST OF CANADIANS KILLED

Names Received From Lon-

in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., April 28.—Five officers killed, one reported killed, two wounded and missing and twenty-two wounded are included in a casualty list issued last night by Maj.-Gen. Hughes, who received the list from the Canadian record office in London by private cables. Capt. Clark Kennedy of Montreal, who was reported killed, is now reported alive and well.

No information has yet been received confirming the report from Berlin that 1,000 Canadians have been captured.

The total casualties among Canadian officers is now upward of 130.

Last night's list gives the following killed:

Maj. G. W. Bennett, Peterboro, Ont.; Capt. W. Lockhart-Gordon, Toronto; Lieut. Herbert A. Klotz, Toronto; Lieut. C. W. Day, Kingston, Ont.; Lieut. W. J. Dossie, Campbellford, Ont.

Reported killed: Lieut. W. Fitzpatrick, Pipestone, Man.

KILLED QUICKLY IN PRESENCE OF WIFE

Chicago Italian Clubbed With Baseball Bat and Throat Cut.

Chicago, April 28.—Joseph de Francisco, an Italian laborer, was clubbed with a baseball bat and his throat cut with a razor in the presence of his wife here early today.

Mrs. de Francisco is a midwife and when she received a professional call from a woman who was in labor, her husband accompanied her as an escort. As they were passing an alley running into Desplains street three men attacked de Francisco. The first struck him, blow with the bat was broken, but the second man quickly drew a razor across the prostrate victim's throat. It was all over so quickly, Mrs. de Francisco told the police, that she had scarcely time to scream before the men disappeared.

de Francisco died instantly, probably from the blow of the club.

de Francisco previously had told his wife that he had a fight with some Italians in a saloon last Saturday night, and she said he armed himself with a revolver. Two Italians with what appeared to be the police to be fresh blood stains on their clothing were picked up in the street, and the men taken to the police station to be questioned. The bat and the razor were found near the scene of the crime.

BRITISH ADMIRAL WHO SEEN LONG SERVICE

ADMIRAL A. H. CHRISTIAN.

Admiral Arthur Henry Christian of the British navy has been in the service for thirty-five years. After service as a midshipman he was made a lieutenant in 1885. In 1896 he was specially promoted to commander for services on the coast of Africa. He is one of the prominent figures in the present naval operations.

Fortifications Taken From French Held Against Counter-Attacks.

Berlin, April 28, via London, 3:40 p. m.—The German army headquarters staff today gave out the following official statement:

"In the western theater: The English attempt yesterday to recapture the territory which they had lost in Flanders. In the afternoon they commenced an attack on both sides of the Ypres-Ritket high road, but the attack broke down completely 200 meters in front of our positions.

"A second advance further to the east during the evening and the same result. Here also the enemy suffered heavy losses. The enemy did not attack on the western bank of the canal.

"In the Champagne district an extensive French group of fortifications was taken by us by storm during the night, north of Le Mesnil, and successfully defended and maintained against several counter-attacks. The enemy again suffered heavy losses, sixty unrounded Frenchmen, four machine guns and thirteen mine throwers falling into our hands.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle only fierce artillery battles took place. A strong French night attack in Le Preire wood was repulsed with sanguinary losses.

"After their unsuccessful advances of April 26, the French have made no more fresh attempts to attack our positions on Hartmanns-Werkkopf.

"At Altkirch, one of our aviators brought down a French aeroplane.

"In the eastern theater: We took possession of Russian positions extending over a front of twenty kilometers (twelve miles) to the northeast and east of Suwalki.

"To the north of Przasnysz (northern Poland), two officers and 410 Russians were taken prisoners yesterday and three machine guns were captured."

ATTEMPT TO TURN BRITISH FLANK FAILS

Believed German Drive Is Preparatory to More Important Move.

Artillery Fire Is Lessening
Somewhat on the Belgian Front.

Great Struggle Is for Mastery of Territory Near Yser Canal.

A British correspondent in Northern France telegraphs that the German effort to turn the left British flank near Ypres has failed and that the Germans have been checked definitely, although French military authorities are cautious of accepting the theory that the plan of the Germans is to break through to the English channel, but they regard it as a patent that such a huge concentration of troops on a limited front means that the present drive is preparatory to some more important undertaking. An official Belgian statement indicates that the German attack is lessening in force. It is said the artillery fire against the Belgian front has largely died away.

Russian and Austrian official statements indicate that fighting in the Carpathians is becoming more intense. Each side claims to have defeated the attacks of the other, but it is apparent that gradually the activity is spreading along greater sections of the battle line. Military observers at Petrograd say that more decisive operations than have occurred hitherto are expected shortly.

The situation at the Dardanelles remains obscure, although it is apparent that the French and British have made some headway with their landing operations. The Paris war office has announced the capture of Kumkaleh on the Asiatic side. The Turkish government, although reporting the recapture of the landing forces at Focch, does not claim that in every instance the war has been able to drive them back.

Italy is still debating the question whether she shall intervene in the war. The Italian ambassador in France, one of our best informed sources, says that with the government, has had a long conference with the king concerning international affairs.

Military operations of critical importance are being carried on in the Balkans. (Continued on page 11, second column.)

FIFTH DAY OF BATTLE

Fighting in the Carpathian Mountains Shows No Sign of Diminishing.

Austro-German Troops Are Being Reinforced
Daily.

Petrograd, April 28, via London.—The battle of the Rusa and Austro-German armies in the vicinity of Stry in the Carpathian mountains, has entered its fifth day with no signs of diminishing and with the outcome still undecided.

Fighting is progressing in the narrow mountain defiles and there is little opportunity for the carrying out of maneuvers.

The exceedingly strong Austro-German force, according to the meager reports received here, is daily receiving reinforcements.

New German Attack.

London, April 28.—A new German attack on a large scale has been inaugurated in Russian Poland, marking the resumption of active hostilities after a long lull. The official Berlin statement of today says the Germans conquered Russian positions in the vicinity of Suwalki, near the East Prussian frontier, over a front of twelve miles. There is again a sharp disparity between German and French accounts of what is happening in Flanders. The official Berlin report says British efforts to recover the lost ground failed.

The Paris announcement asserts that further progress was made in the Ypres district. It is said heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans and that more than 800 bodies of their dead were counted at one point.

The French announcement of yesterday that Hartmanns-Werkkopf, the long-contested mountain height, which the Germans recently captured, had been regained, is denied in Berlin. It is said this position is still held by the Germans and that the French have made no new attacks on it.

On the heights of the Meuse a stubborn battle continues. The Paris statement says the French added two-thirds of a mile. The Germans announce the capture of French positions north of Lomenil, and the defeat of French attacks at other points.

DULUTH RATE IS FIXED AT 21 CENTS UNDER THE RATE TO THE TWIN CITIES

Railroads Prevented From Putting Into Effect 28 Cent Spread.

Full Text of Interstate Commerce Commission Decision Not Known.

But Barnes and Hall See Confirmation of Former Victory.

Washington, April 28.—The so-called 28-cent rate of Duluth from points east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Tennessee rivers to St. Paul and Minneapolis was found reasonable today by the interstate commerce commission and a 50-cent rate proposed by railroads serving that territory was found not justified.

The railroads were ordered to maintain the 28-cent rate for two years and required also to maintain full lake and rail rates on the same route of traffic, which shall not exceed or be lower than their present 21-cent rate of differentials over the rates contemporaneously in effect at Duluth, Minn. A proposed 25-cent rate of differentials to the Twin Cities over the Duluth rates was found unduly discriminatory against the Twin cities.

The Washington dispatch given above is issued as definitely and does not indicate just to what extent the decision of the interstate commerce commission goes.

It is known that the Duluth rate of 21 cents is a full rate and that it is not until it sees a full account of the decision that it will be able to make any estimate of the effect of the decision on its business.

Mr. Hall, vice president of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce, who has been in New York, says that until he sees a full account of the decision he will be unable to make any estimate of the effect of the decision on its business.

ESCAPED FROM EMDEN AND COMMANDS OCEAN RAIDER

LIEUT. VON MUCKE.

Though the German raider Emden has been sunk the members of her crew who escaped capture at the time are doing from time to time to the romance of the ship. Under the leadership of Lieut. von Mucke a landing party went ashore on Cook Island and when the Sydney sank the Emden, Lieut. von Mucke and his men escaped from the island on the schooner Aysling, on which some Maxim guns were mounted and the vessel began roaming the seas.

CONSPIRACY IS CHARGED

One Hundred Labor Union Officials and Contractors Indicted.

Violation of Sherman Anti-Trust Laws Is Alleged.

Chicago, April 28.—The eighteen officials of labor unions, eighty-two contractors or contracting firms and two alleged trusts named in indictments returned in the United States district court yesterday, charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and interstate commerce law, were expected to appear today to give bond in the sum of $10,000 for each indictment in which they were named.

If the indicted men do not respond within a few days, it was announced by the court, capias will be issued.

The charges in each of the eight indictments are conspiracy to restrain trade, combination in restraint of trade, and violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The labor leaders were charged with having prevented union workers from unloading or handling goods which had been shipped from outside sources because of alleged disputes with the concerns to which the goods were billed.

The indictments charge that association of the labor leaders with the contractors and the concerns to which the goods were billed.

700-POUND GIRL DELAYS TRAFFIC

Oil City's Fat Damsel Starts on Way to Join Circus.

Oil City, Pa., April 28.—Traffic on the New York Central line was delayed twenty minutes when Anna Chilton, Oil City's fat girl, weighing more than 700 pounds, departed to join a circus.

Chilton is shown when transported her in a specially-made wheel chair to the baggage car and when a transfer was made to the car, the car was detached and shifted to the freight depot.

After the baggage car of the second train was shifted to the depot and the 700 pounds of fat girl placed in it, the train was held until the crew made the transfer.

MINISTER'S SALARY LESS THAN $900

Average for Congregationalists in Northern States, Says Secretary.

Chicago, April 28.—Ministers in the Congregational churches of the northern states receive, as an average, an annual salary of less than $900, Rev. Francis L. Hayes, Western secretary of the annuity fund for Congregational ministers, asserted today before the national convention of the board of conference chairmen of the Methodist Episcopal church. The convention is being held in the interest of a $10,000,000 fund for retired ministers.

The last survey of the board of conference chairmen of the Methodist Episcopal church has shown that half not over $1,000 and one-quarter not more than $900.

The underlying reason why every member of the Grand Army of the Republic receives at $1000 with the general approval of the people is the nation's sense of obligation. It is time that the church's sense of obligation should rise to same level, the speaker said.

FRENCH TROOPS TAKE A TURKISH VILLAGE

Occupy Kumkaleh on Asiatic Side of the Dardanelles.

Paris, April 28.—French troops have occupied the village of Kumkaleh on the Asiatic side of the entrance to the Dardanelles. This announcement was made officially last night.

"During the discomfiting Sunday of the allied forces at the Dardanelles," the official communication says, "the French troops compelling infantry and artillery have been operating particularly for operations at Kumkaleh on the Asiatic side. This mission was completely and successfully fulfilled."

"Aided by the cannon of the French fleet and under fire of the enemy, our troops succeeded in occupying the village and have continued its occupation, despite seven counter-attacks at night, losses to the enemy appear to have been considerable."

"The general disembarkation of the allied forces continues under good conditions."

MILLIONS OF SHELLS BEING MADE IN CANADA

Ottawa, Ont., April 28.—The business of manufacturing shells is assuming very large proportions in Canada. Minister of Militia Hughes stated last night that 200 factories in the Dominion were engaged in this work.

The shells are being produced through a central committee and now amount to $175,000,000. Arrangements have been completed at Sydney, Nova Scotia, with the Atsugi Steel Works for the manufacture of brass for shells. Hereafter the refined materials have been obtained from the United States.

BISHOP IN CHARGE OF INCINERATOR PLANT

James H. Bishop, former deputy state boiler inspector, has been appointed by Health Director Fahey to take charge of the city incinerator plant on May 2.

Dr. Fahey announced the appointment this morning. Mr. Bishop will succeed Peter Hanson, who has been in charge of the plant for the last two years.

Mr. Bishop has been a resident of Duluth for the last twenty-eight years and is very well known throughout the city.

WEATHER—Fair and cooler to night and Thursday.

FAILED TO MARK GRAVE; FATHER SUES

Iron Company Charged With Negligence in Removing Bodies.

Five years ago when the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company purchased a Catholic burying ground near Negaunee, Mich., it was engaged for several months in removing bodies interred there. After the bodies had been removed the cemetery was converted into an iron mine.

In district court today, Michael Scanlon of Negaunee started suit against the company charging that in removing the bodies from the cemetery, the company had failed to give him proper notice of the removal of the remains of his 4-year-old daughter who had been buried there in June, 1906.

Scanlon alleges that the child's body was taken from its resting place and consigned to an unmarked grave, and that the company has failed to reveal its whereabouts.

As a result, Scanlon claims, his nervous system has been shattered and constant worry has impaired his health. He is seeking a $3,000 bail.

CRUELTY CHARGED BY HUSBAND AND WIFE

John Charrier and Spouse at Loggerheads; Former Up for Contempt.

No matter who is at fault in their domestic troubles, John Charrier, 42, had best keep his distance from his wife, Mrs. Mary Charrier, 27, if he values his liberty.

The Charriers are at loggerheads in a divorce suit. Both are charging cruelty.

On April 26, Mrs. Charrier secured an order from the district court for bidding Charrier from coming into their home and interfering with her. Later Charrier violated both the letter and the spirit of the mandate. It is said, and today he was held before Judge Foster to answer to a charge of contempt.

The court admonished Charrier to pay proper respect to court orders and warned him if he molested his wife again, he would go to jail.

The Charriers were married July 20, 1899, and are parents of two children, Wilfred, 11, and Edward, 6.

Mrs. Charrier accuses her husband of cruelty and drunkenness. She alleges that he has mistreated her on several occasions. Two years ago, he actually attempted suicide by hanging himself, she declares in her complaint.

just to frighten her and the children. Charrier in his answer denies the charges made against him. In a cross bill, in which he is seeking a decree, he says that she has an ungovernable temper and often flies into a rage and breaks dishes.

He claims that not only has he provided for the support of her and their two children, but he also has been obliged to take care of her father.

The case may be tried at the May term of court.

WILL ALLOW GAS LAMPS TO REMAIN

Council Will Not Install Electric Lights Along Kent Road.

All the gas standards on Kent road will be permitted to remain, the property owners having agreed to pay the additional cost of gas over electricity charged against the city.

After a trip to Kent road this morning, the commissioners declared that no electric poles will be installed on that thoroughfare and that the property owners will be granted their request.

At the council meeting Monday, the Kent road owners presented a plan to the commissioners, whereby all the gas standards will remain in use and no new electric poles installed at this time.

He has suggested that the city purchase the gas standards from the Welsbach company and that in this way the city would save the rental of $1.10 a month, bringing the cost of gas far below the $15 charge for electric lights as provided for in the 8-cent ordinance adopted last January.

NEW PRESIDENT OF THE DULUTH COMMERCIAL CLUB

JOSEPH B. COTTON.

Joseph B. Cotton was this afternoon elected president of the Duluth Commercial club, when the new board of directors met at the club and organized for the ensuing year. The other officers elected were as follows:

First vice president—J. R. McGiffert. Second vice president—J. B. Crane. Treasurer—Hubert V. Eva.

The election of Mr. Cotton as head of the club is taken as forecasting the club's history. To be president of the Duluth Commercial club is no slight; in fact, it is looked upon as very much the reverse, necessitating much hard work and responsibility.

The selection of Mr. Cotton is taken, as meaning that the directors are expecting a big year for the club, for they carefully cast about to secure a man well endowed with aggressiveness and business ability, and one who would be willing to give a large share of his time to the work.

The position of president of the club, properly looked after, takes a great deal of the time of the incumbent, and it is understood that Mr. Cotton has consented to give the club a large part of his attention for the term, and that he will endeavor to make his year as president a standard to go by in the future.

During the last few years Mr. Cotton has not been active in civic affairs, but the directors secured his promise to take a live interest in club work, and they are well satisfied that this promise means just what it says.

The retiring officers are: President, David Williams; first vice president, Weston S. Moore; second vice president, A. Miller McDougall; treasurer, J. W. Lyder; secretary, H. V. Eva.

The new board of directors consists of the following: J. B. Crane, D. R. McDonald, J. R. McGiffert, John A. Stepping, David Williams, W. N. Hart, J. B. Cotton, H. J. Atwood, W. H. Strachan and Dr. E. L. Tuohy.

SUES CITY AND RETAIL MERCHANTS

Father of Child Killed By Explosives Alleges Negligence.

Childish curiosity prompted Charles M. Brown, 14-year-old son of Oliver Brown, to meddle and experiment with unexploded caps and fireworks which he picked up on Aug. 4, last, on the city playground at Thirtieth avenue east and London road. Explosives which the boy had tucked in his pockets became ignited and as a result he was seriously burned. He died sixteen days later.

Today in district court, the boy's father, as special administrator of his estate, instituted suit against the city of Duluth and the Duluth Retail Merchants' association to recover $7,500 on a cause of action for alleged wrongful death.

On the evening of Aug. 3, 1914, the city and the retail merchants' association joined in giving a fireworks exhibition and display on the London road playgrounds. The boy, with other children, the next day, picked up some of the explosives which had been left. He took them home with him and while playing with them received the injury which proved fatal. The parents hold the city and the merchants' association liable on the grounds of negligence.

"WERE NOT INVITED," SAY COMMISSIONERS

Resent Criticism for Not Attending Advisory Committee Meeting.

Mayor Prince and Commissioners Farrell and Merritt declared this morning that they had not been invited to the advisory committee meeting at the Commercial club last night, resenting the attitude taken by those who criticized them for being absent from the gathering.

"I had received no invitation to attend the meeting," declared the mayor this morning, "and only today did I learn that word had been left with Commissioners Voss and Silberstein to inform the other members of the council of the proposed meeting. They failed to reach us and as a result were the only members present at the meeting."

The other commissioners and myself are heartily in favor of an advisory committee and I for one would have gladly attended the meeting last night, had I known about it beforehand.

Both Commissioners Farrell and Merritt voiced the same opinions this morning.

GASOLINE IN HIS KEROSENE

House Burned Down and Frank Burgstaler Wants $1,050.

Because Matt Vidas, Blwabik merchant, sold him a mixture of kerosene and gasoline when he called only for kerosene, Frank Burgstaler started suit against the Standard Oil company and Vidas today to recover the loss which he sustained when he attempted to kindle a fire with the stuff in his home.

Burgstaler poured the oil on the kindling and when he touched a match to it it exploded setting fire to his house. Before the blaze could be checked it burned the place down. He is asking that the Standard Oil make good his loss, which he estimates at $1,050.

Awaits Darby's Call.

Brainerd, Minn., April 28.—Richard Bush, tried out by Darby O'Brien, manager of the Duluth Docks, has returned to Brainerd. Darby gave him the "once over" and the young pitcher's name has been put on the waiting list. He will keep in shape to respond to a call from the Head of the Lakes.

JITNEY FINES GROWING.

Police Court Judges More Severe With Offending Drivers.

It was speeding continues, drivers will pay heavier fines in municipal court, and less leniency will be exercised, judging from court action in a case against George Jackisch this morning.

Jackisch, who lives at 1501 Commonwealth avenue, pleaded guilty to speeding along West Superior street with a jitney and was fined $12.50 or sentenced to ten days at the workhouse. He paid the fine.

Municipal Officer Norton watched Jackisch's progress along the street, and decided that he was going too fast, so he picked him up when the driver returned west on his next trip to the outskirts.

FINISHED ARGUMENT IN JAIL.

Disputants Stopped Pedestrians to Substantiate Their Claims.

A little friendly visit to the "growler," just "between friends," furnished amusement to Zeb T. Reau, 31, and Hugh Quigley, last night, for an hour or so, but landed them both in jail later.

Reau, who is a householder, got into an argument with Quigley, who is a papermaker, and insisted on stopping pedestrians, some of them women, to substantiate his side of the case. Patrolman Ricketts was called upon finally and took both men to headquarters.

The argument took place at the corner of Fourth avenue east and Fourth street. Both men will be given a hearing in court today.

QUITS BURGLAR CHASE WHEN CRIMINAL FIRES

Grand Forks, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Lavallee chased a burglar in his night apparel after having discovered the prowler in his room, but abandoned the chase when the burglar turned on him and fired a shot. The burglar missed but Lavallee didn't think his $25 watch, stolen by the burglar, was worth risking the chase further.

N. P. REFUSES LIGHT TRAIN

Service to West Duluth and Steel Plant Incurs Loss.

Commercial Club May Put Matter Before State Commission.

The Northern Pacific railroad refuses to restore the evening passenger service between West Duluth and the Minnesota Steel plant because of the excess cost of maintaining such a train, over the returns to be obtained from the service. The railroad committee of the West Duluth Commercial club, who have been seeking to have the service restored, have been notified to this effect.

Officials of the railroad say that to restore this train each evening between New Duluth and West Duluth costs the company $48. There are about 140 men at the plant who would use the service, and at commutation rates amounting to $1.50 per fifty ride ticket, the company claims that it will lose a substantial sum daily.

In the meantime a number of men living in West Duluth, whose work ceases at 4:45 p. m. every day at the plant, are compelled either to walk or depend on getting a "hitch" on some convenience if they wish to get home before 7:45 o'clock in the evening. The late train leaves the plant about 7:15 p. m. and is due to arrive at the West Duluth station at 7:35. It is planned to ask the residents of New Duluth and Fond du Lac if the present late train cannot be changed so as to follow it to return to the city on the schedule on which it was operated a few years ago. It is expected that this will raise a storm of protest from the residents of New Duluth.

S. B. Sheldon, superintendent of the Minnesota Steel plant, is said to have taken the matter up with the Northern Pacific railroad in behalf of the employees of the plant. A committee of employees asked Mr. Sheldon to take the subject up with the company.

According to members of the railroad committee, they do not intend to allow the matter to rest. It is intended to bring the subject before the railroad commissioners of the state.

The committee is now paying 15 cents each evening to ride home in a bus. The bus cannot be depended upon to make the trip every evening because of bad weather and the condition of the roads.

Card of Thanks.

TWO HELD AS SUSPECTS.

Police Investigate Death of Peter Humcheck, a Farmer.

John Benrud and Michael Pekok were arrested yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having caused the death of Peter Humcheck, the Denham farm owner, who was found dead in the Tower Bay slip Saturday. The two men were held in custody at the same room with the farmer the night before his body was found and to have been in his possession. Humcheck is said to have got up about midnight for the purpose of watering a cow, which he had purchased Friday, and the two men were found shortly afterwards and are believed to have followed him. The police are conducting an investigation.

FIRST LICENSES REVOKED.

Violators of Sunday Liquor Laws Are Punished.

The saloon licenses of Emil Van Wagon, 1212 North Tenth street, and the Gelande saloon at 1823 Third street, have been revoked by the city commissioners in Superior. The former was ordered canceled following a hearing yesterday afternoon, and the latter was ordered revoked this morning. Both proprietors were found to have violated the Sunday closing law. These licenses are the first to be revoked in Superior in many years. Their revocation followed an order issued recently by Mayor J. S. Konkki that all saloons must live up to the letter of the law. Both saloons are said to have been doing a thriving business on Sunday, April 18, when the places were invaded by the police.

ORDER MILE AND HALF OF NEW SIDEWALK

More than a mile and a half of new sidewalk was ordered built by the city commission in Superior at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The walks will be of large, modern type. The valuation placed on the proposed sidewalk is $18,000. The work will be done by the city engineer's office.

Many New Buildings.

Home building has taken a lively spurt in Superior. Yesterday ten permits were issued for the construction of residences, most of which will be of large, modern type. The valuation placed on the proposed buildings is $18,000. The work will be done by the city engineer's office.

RAILROADS STEEL TRAINS ARE ORDERED

Will Be Placed on Twin City-Duluth Route in Short Time.

Local Agent Says New Cars Are Best on the Market.

All-steel trains on the limited and night runs of the Northern Pacific Twin City-Duluth route will be placed in service some time during the next few weeks. The new steel cars have already been ordered, and the first consignment to be received by the Northern Pacific is expected within the next two weeks.

According to J. I. Thomas, general agent of the Northern Pacific at Duluth, the new cars will be the last word in up-to-date car construction.

The officials of the Northern Pacific waited until experiments with steel cars had been made and then profiting by the mistakes of the others, have had cars constructed that are expected to be the best on the market," said Mr. Thomas.

"The cars will be insulated and equipped with asbestos material in such a manner that, unlike some of the steel cars that are in use on other roads of the country, they will neither be cold in the winter nor hot in the summer."

"Officials of the car construction department of the road, have been studying the question of steel car construction for years, and as a consequence, when all-steel trains are placed on the afternoon and night run between here

WIDOW WANTS AN ACCOUNTING

Claims Husband's Former Partner Is Taking Saloon Profits.

Prior to his death on Jan. 25, last, Thomas Lantry of this city was engaged in the saloon business at 1 East Superior street in partnership with John S. Matthews.

Mrs. Lennie Lantry, his widow, today started suit in district court to have the partnership dissolved and a receiver appointed to wind up the affairs. She alleges that since her husband's death, Matthews has been assuming all of the profits of the partnership.

"Andy" Thompson III.

News was received here today in railroad circles that "Andy" Thompson, traveling passenger agent of the Erie, is very seriously ill. It is said that his chances for recovery are very slim. Mr. Thompson was stricken with a fever some time ago and recently his illness took an alarming turn for the worse.

Mr. Thompson is widely known in railroad circles of the Northwest and had an especially large number of friends and acquaintances in the head of the Lakes, having traveled in this territory for years.

TO THE PUBLIC

We are advised that Mr. Furniss each evening is running a slide in his theaters ostensibly for the purpose of informing his patrons of the unfairness of the picketing of his theaters by the Motion Picture Operators' union.

His real purpose in this is evidently to prejudice the minds of the public by leading them to believe that the pickets are employed by but two theaters, the Zelda and Savoy, owned by one man with whom Mr. Furniss is in competition.

Let it be known by the public that pickets who perform duty before the Rex and Lyric theaters are not all employed in the two picture houses mentioned. The members of the Motion Picture Operators' union and the Stage Employees' union each take their allotted turn at doing picket work and are employed in every theater in Duluth that employs union men.

For the further information of the public, let us state that three former employees of Mr. Furniss are now employed in other theaters and drawing weekly salaries in excess of what Mr. Furniss paid them.

Henry Gauthier, a favorite operator of Mr. Furniss, who never received over $16 per week in the Rex theater, is now working as relief man at the Zelda theater for 50 cents per hour, which is the union scale.

Walter Quick, who received the wage of $14 at the Rex theater, is now employed at the Bijou theater in the West end at $18 per week, the union scale.

Arthur Johnson received $12 per week from Mr. Furniss, is now working for $22.50 per week at the New Grand theater, the union scale.

Kindly take these facts into consideration before judging the operators in their strike at the Rex and Lyric theaters.

STREET ADS STIR FARRELL

Paper Receptacles Placed on Downtown Streets
Block Traffic.

Commissioner Will Take Steps to Cancel Contract
If Possible.

Objection by Duluth business men against the paper receptacles placed on the street corners this morning, has aroused Commissioner Farrell, head of the public works division, and he is planning to rescind the resolution passed by the council last February, authorizing a contract with Spindler Bros., a local advertising firm.

Bright and early this morning the boxes, covered with gaudy advertisements, were placed on the principal downtown street corners, where many pedestrians found their way blocked in a sudden dash for a street car or trolley. No one had expected the boxes on such corners as Third avenue west and they greatly interfered with traffic.

Later in the morning several police officers reported the presence of these boxes on such important corners, and Commissioner Farrell declared that he would take the matter up at once with the city attorney and learn just how binding this contract is. If permits are necessary, he said, he will refuse to grant any.

"I am opposed to these boxes on the downtown corners," declared Mr. Farrell this morning, "and from the many complaints made to me by prominent business men, the resolution was adopted by the old council without the public knowledge. Commissioner Farrell is also opposed to these boxes, but he was out of the city when the resolution was adopted. If possible, I will endeavor to rescind the resolution at the council meeting next Monday."

"In the first place, these boxes will interfere with traffic on our principal corners and secondly, we want to get away from the idea of permitting advertisements on our streets, when we are making a fight for clean billboard advertising. Prominent members of the Commercial and Rotary clubs have appealed to me to prohibit these boxes, and if it is within my power, I shall do so at once."

"These boxes will never be used as paper and refuse are all picked up by street cleaners. The boxes will merely prove an advertising sign, bringing the owners more than $12,000 a year."

The old council passed the resolution introduced by Former Commissioner Marchand, authorizing him to enter into a contract with the Spindler Brothers advertising service, the latter agreeing to furnish about 100 boxes free of charge, on condition that the city permit the use of street corners. Large advertising cards are placed on all four sides of the boxes. Merchants say they will put out a sign that chronicles on the sidewalk the time by the police, but space is given on the busiest corners and without cost to these signs.

APPEARS AGAINST HIS ASSAILANT

Oscar Sandstrom Tells of Gory Battle With Iver Johnson.

Wearing a large bandage and showing the effects of a three weeks' visit in a local hospital, Oscar Sandstrom, 115 North Nineteenth avenue west, appeared in municipal court this morning against Iver Johnson.

Johnson, who has been out on $300 bail since April 8, and who is charged with second degree assault, tried to "settle the case out of court," according to Sandstrom, but refused when Sandstrom said $500 would be enough bail.

Witnesses stated that Sandstrom and Johnson met at the corner of Nineteenth avenue west and Superior street April 8, and that after an argument, Johnson attacked his companion, Sandstrom, who was thrown to the ground. Johnson then followed Sandstrom home and bounced a large rock on his head.

"Do you want any more?" Johnson is alleged to have said, after the decision how was made. Sandstrom, who evidently had enough, for he went to his room, with blood streaming down his face.

Johnson was bound over to await grand jury action and a lengthy hearing, in which County Attorney Warren E. Greene and Attorney George Silvestri had several clashes.

FAGAN FUNERAL SERVICE.

Pioneer Mining Operator Will Be Buried Thursday.

Funeral services for Richard H. Fagan, wealthy mining and timber operator who committed suicide in his office in the Manhattan building Monday, will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. Interment will be at Calvary cemetery.

Only relatives and immediate friends of Mr. Fagan will be present at the services, because of the illness of Mrs. Fagan, who has been prostrated since the shooting.

John F. Fagan of Cloquet, a brother, and Mrs. Daniel Hishon of Waukegan, Wis., a sister, are in Duluth.

Chicago Judge to Speak.
Grand Juror, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.) Judge Marcus Kavanaugh of the superior court at Chicago will be the chief speaker for the annual meeting of the North Dakota Academy of Science, which will be held here Thursday and Friday. About fifty members from all sections of the state will attend, the organization including college and high school men in its membership.

One of the strong features will be an "open house" for the display of engineering of the North Dakota university.

SAFETY ZONES ARE PLANNED

Will Be Established When "Near Side" Stops
Are Made.

Hoped They Will Aid in Solving Duluth's Traffic Problems.

Safety zones, known as "allent policemen," will be established as soon as the near-corner stop is ordered into effect by Manager Herbert Warren of the street railway lines.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, said this morning the plan adopted in Minneapolis will be followed out in this city and that the safety zones will be marked within the next few days. These zones will be on the near corners between Sixth avenue west and Third avenue east and will protect all persons alighting from or boarding street cars.

According to the tentative plan outlined by Commissioner Silberstein, the safety zones will be marked by two standards a distance of about four feet from the car tracks and connected with a heavy rope. No vehicle may pass in front of this zone and persons waiting for street cars will be safe there. A zone will be about ten feet long.

In addition, no vehicle will be allowed to stop alongside a safety zone, so that moving vehicles will have no trouble in passing. In this way automobiles will not be tied up when ever a street car stops to take on or discharge passengers, as they will be able to go right past the zone.

Manager Warren is now arranging for a change in the street corner signs and he expects to issue the order within a few days. It is probable that he will first conduct an advertising campaign, so that the public will be acquainted with the proposed change.

The near-corner stop and the safety zones are the first steps of Commissioner Silberstein to regulate the heavy traffic on Superior street.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Charley's Aunt."

NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.

WEST END BLISS—Photoplay.

"Six more performances and then I will be through, and will head for the woods," said Homer.

WILL TAKE LONG or Barton last evening.

Mr. Barton has been with the company since last summer, and previous to that had played 102 consecutive weeks in stock, so that for nearly three years he has been playing a new role every week. He and Miss Doris Olsson will be seen in but five more performances of "Charley's Aunt" at the Lyceum, tonight, Thursday and Friday nights, and Saturday matinee and night.

Miss Anne Bronaugh, Hardy L. Minn, and Mark Elliston, the new leading woman, the new leading man and the new "heavy," respectively, have arrived in the city and begun rehearsals of "The Blue Bird" in which they will make their first appearance in Duluth next Sunday afternoon.

Among the many good things offered on the Orpheum bill this week is a comedy sketch entitled "It Doesn't Happen."

Those who seek the uplift will be pleased with the high moral tenor of the problem, and those who seek merely to be amused will be satisfied to sit and watch the classic features, the graceful carriage and to listen to the musical voices while those who care only for surprises get full measure in the unusual twist the plot takes at the fall of the curtain.

Madam Bessie is looked upon as one of the foremost dramatic stars in vaudeville at the present time. She is one of the few actresses with a well-established reputation in the legitimate field who have "made good" in the two-a-day.

The present popular bill at the New Grand, headed by Jack Hawkins and his associate players, will associate CHANGE of close with today's performance. Mr. Hawkins' latest offering is a comedy skit, "His Sister."

which tells a pretty story of domestic misunderstandings which develops into a comedy of the situation.

Bruce Morgan and Betty, in a piano and character specialty, "A Merry Little Bunch," in a series of new songs, clever dialogue and graceful dances, and Gordon and Day, comedy pantomime bicyclists, are other acts on the bill.

The photoplay feature, "A Dandy Hat," in three reels, tells a thrilling story of love and intrigue. "The Polynesian Picnic," a "Hawaiian" comedy, a Western play and an educational film complete the bill.

Tomorrow the new bill for the week-end will be headed by the Three Hawaiian Girls in singing, dancing and piano and character specialties.

Smilette Brothers and Mora, comedy bare artists, and Sunfield, Hall and Lorraine, in a comedy playlet, "A Merry Mixup," are among the other vaudeville offerings.

The Heart-Soft news of events and the usual excellent picture program will complete the program.

"When We Were Twenty-One," Nat Goodwin's former starring vehicle, at "WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE."

The full worth of the production will be appreciated by those who enjoy a good play. It will appeal to thoughtful men of middle age, to young people and particularly to women of all ages.

William Elliott, as young Richard Audain, is true to the freshness and immaturity of the role. He discloses the frankness and clean-heartedness of one who, though engaged in sowing his wild oats, is still a gentleman.

Charles Waldron, co-star in the big stage success, "Deadly Long Legs," interprets the generous old bachelor and makes the simple part a work of art.

MISS LORETTA CARROLL, Times and John Roy Higgins, were married this morning at 8 o'clock by Bishop James McGillick in his private chapel, Miss Marie Tins, sister of the bride, and Ray W. Higgins, brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

The bride wore a pongee coat suit with leghorn hat in natural shade, trimmed with pink. The bridesmaid wore a white suit and lavender hat. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Tins, 314 East Third street. The decorations were in pink and white.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bridegroom's father and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Higgins, and his brothers, William and Frank Higgins, all of Palisade, Minn.

The bride's going-away suit was of blue with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins left for a trip to Minneapolis and Chicago before going to St. Louis, where they will make their home.

Ebening Will Close Class.

Social Meeting Will Close the Season's Work.

At the meeting of the Evening drama class held last evening at the Holland hotel the first and second acts of Percy Mackaye's "Tomorrow" were read under the leadership of Miss Anna Mark. The other readers were Miss Edna Brockle, Miss Bessie Markowitz, Miss Mae Rocklin, Miss Annie McEwen and Hannah Strand.

The reading of "Tomorrow" will be completed at the next meeting, to be held May 10, and two-minute talks will be given by Miss Helen Gery, Miss Anna Boncher, Miss Fannie Nishbaum, Miss E. Pearl Preston, Miss Helen Anderson and Miss Adeline Bohlke. French drama will be studied next.

The class has decided to close its season with a social meeting, the date to be announced later.

Duluth Musicians Will Go to Cloquet

The educational and philanthropic committee of the Matinee Musicals has arranged for a program to be given by members of the Matinee Musicals at Cloquet, Friday evening, May 7, before the women's club of that town. Those who will be on the program are Mrs. Walter K. Jones, piano; Miss Helen Elizabeth Maddox, violinist; Miss Julia Hunter, pianist; and Mrs. John A. Stenstrom, accompanist.

The regular year's work of the Matinee Musicals will be given to fulfill a promise made to the Cloquet club earlier in the season.

Superior Woman Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Verica of 1221 Thirteenth street, Superior, were surprised last evening by a number of friends. Mrs. Verica was formerly Miss Anna Leahy of Duluth. The guests were:

Mrs. Sadie Royce, Emma Baker, Lillian Lieberman, Anna Anderson, Hazel Johnson, Beatrice Young, Frances Beale, Lida Dethwell, Mattie Dahl, Katherine Lunt, Catherine Thiede.

Mrs. Sellwood Elected President of Ladies' Literature Class

Thirty-first Year of Club Is Completed. Dr. Gebauer Talks on "Faust."

The thirty-first year of the Ladies' Literature class was brought to a close at the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Walker, 2103 East First street. The following officers were elected for next year: Mrs. Richard Sellwood, president; Mrs. Wade Clark, first vice president; Mrs. A. J. Braden, second vice president; Mrs. Dore Porter, secretary, and Mrs. David Davis, treasurer.

Mrs. C. E. Spring, the retiring president, addressed the club, and Rev. George R. Gebauer, who has been the leader of the class, lectured on the second part of "Faust," the first part having been the subject for the class study this season. Dr. Gebauer will be the leader of the class next year, when "Faust and Goethe" will be traced through the versions of Tennyson, Arnold, Swinburne and the Rhinegold. "The Valkyries," "Siegfried" and "Götterdämmerung" will be studied and there will be a lecture on "Faust."

Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, an honorary member, is the only charter member of the club.

History of Class. Mrs. Spring said in part: "The Ladies' Literature class was a pioneer in the intellectual life of the women of Duluth. We today owe a debt of gratitude to the earliest founders, and I doubt not that the testimonial of those who have been members of the class in the past would be to the effect that among the greatest and best influences of their lives was the work done here."

As year after year goes by, and we members of this class meet to study together, what does it mean to us? It is merely a selfish intellectual gratification, or is it the satisfying of an appetite for more knowledge; a gratification of a desire for greater culture? Let us watch and take heed that our labors are not all to selfish ends. The desire to progress and to make the most of one's self, to seek culture, is noble. But let me leave with you the words of Goethe: 'Culture alone has the power to realize the relation of his accomplishments, whatever they be, to the larger life of which he forms a part; whose aim in heightening his own personality is only to make it better fitted for service to the community.'

Summary of "Faust." Summing up this trustful chapter, he expressed the thought that too much blame has been put upon the character Faust. Faust's long life many changes have taken place, he was not a perfect man. If he had been a youthful ambition after absolute knowledge, how barren mere intellectualism is. It is not speculative but pragmatic, in the best sense of the word. And as he looks back upon his life, he needs must see, that he has constantly failed, because he largely lost sight of this main object. If he were realized what really was the true end of life, which he but dimly perceived during all his wanderings, it was due, after all, to just these failures. His errors—his sins, even. They all served the grand purpose of opening his inner eyes to the inward truth of things.

"The man who strives after the good as he understands it, though he misunderstands it, is not beyond salvation; he is not a child of the devil. The class idea—a very comforting doctrine, certainly."

The lesson of Faust is that of the deepest and highest optimism: It does not belittle evil, but makes it a part of the economy of love. It preaches to every man and woman to be a better man, to be a better woman, to be a better citizen, never look back upon an evil past; let the dead bury the dead; strive to make the best of every day, and in spite of sin, 'yes perhaps through error, we shall find the truth which shall give you eternal life.'

The maid of honor, the bridesmaids and the groomsmen were: Mrs. E. D. Krebs, 3805 West Sixth street.

Wooden Heels Used on Many Shoes for Women.

Washington Star: The word "shoes" naturally tends to remind "leather," but there are made nowadays great numbers of women's slippers, pumps and shoes designed for house and for dress wear which are made with uppers of silk, satin, velvet and cloth, as well as of kid, calf and various fine leathers, and which have wooden heels.

These wooden heels cost less to make than leather heels, but they are put on the heel as well as the sole of the shoe because they are lighter than leather heels of the same size, because they are easier to make, and especially in the high, narrow-necked French heels, they stand up better under weight, and because, being rigid, the covering on them remains smooth and perfect.

These wooden heels are made of hard maple. First a block is grooved, put in a machine that cuts in that part of it that faces the sole of the shoe under the instep, the little incurving sweep that gives the heel grace there, and then the block goes into a molding machine which cuts it into its heel shape and which can be adjusted to cut heels in any desired shape.

The knives in this machine work very rapidly and very smoothly and as the heel now comes out it may seem perfectly smooth and finished, and ready to be used, as it is. It is the material to be used in the covering is comparatively thick, but if the heel is an extension in front under the instep it goes to a scouring machine to be scraped off and then the heel is put to a perfect silky smoothness. The heel is bored and plugged to reinforce and strengthen it, and then, finished in the wood, is ready to be covered.

Many materials are used in covering wooden heels, and they may be used in an almost endless variety of colors.

Wooden Heels Used on Many Shoes for Women

Washington Star: The word "shoes" naturally brings to mind "leather," but there are made nowadays great numbers of women's slippers, pumps and shoes designed for house and for dress wear which are made with uppers of silk, satin, velvet and cloth, as well as of kid, calf and various leathers, and which have wooden heels.

The wooden heels cost less to make than leather heels, but they are put on the finest as well as the less expensive shoes because they are lighter than leather heels of the same size, because in the tall, slender shapes, and especially in the high, narrow-necked French heels, they stand up better under weight and because, being rigid, the covering on them remains smooth and perfect.

These wooden heels are made of hard maple. First a block is grooved out in a machine that cuts in that part of it that faces the sole of the shoe under the instep. The little incuring sweep that gives the heel grace there, and then the block goes into a molding machine which cuts it into its heel shape and which can be adjusted to cut heels in any desired shape.

The knives in this machine work very rapidly and very smoothly and as the heel now comes out it may seem perfectly smooth and finished, and the material to be used in the covering is comparatively thin and if the heel has an extension in front under the instep it goes to a scoring machine which further finishes and extends the part, and if it is to be covered with silk or satin, very thin material, the entire heel is polished on a buffer to a perfect silky smoothness. The material is then plugged to reinforce and strengthen it, and then, finished in the wood, is ready to be used.

Many materials are used in covering wooden heels, and they may be used in an almost endless variety of colors.

or shades. Some shoe manufacturers buy the wooden heels and cover them in their own factories; some have wooden heel manufacturers cover and finish the heels completely, sending to him the covering materials, cut or not cut, as the case may be and receiving from him heels ready to go on the shoe. And wooden heels are common in many styles and of many shapes, with the fashions always changing.

Fashion Notes.
Brooklyn Eagle: The Quakerish style of shoes promises to be of the season. It must have broad collars and cuffs to be chic.

A simple white blouse is plaited straight from the neck and minus a collar, but cordons of black impart a touch of originality and interest.

Skirts are no longer required to hang even around the bottom. Indeed, the latest fancy is for skirts to scallop.

Many of the dresses of sheer material have skirts trimmed with a wide band of embroidery which divides the skirt in half.

Make the little girl's white dress to hang from the shoulders with a slight flare. Cut the neck square and finish it with a band of embroidery. Around the bottom put a band of the same embroidery, but wider.

Almost all the new suits and coats have abundant pockets.

The silk skirt is not absolutely taboo—on a few evening gowns it still appears.

When tulle is used for evening frocks have large flowered effects the frocks are of the simplest in design.

Evening dresses are given a touch of the picturesque by placing one or two roses on the skirt.

Once in a while a kimono sleeve appears on an evening gown.

A coat of jet worn over a white tulle foundation is extremely chic.

Little children's socks are striped both up and down and horizontally.

Palet peach pink organza makes a bewitching blouse.

Odd and pretty is the skirt trimmed with tub-like rolls of self material around the bottom.

LOST MONEY IN STUDIO

Photographer Is Arrested
When Complaints Against Him Are Numerous.

Police Trap Fails; Charge Ridiculous, Says Frederick B. Johnson.

Sums ranging from 60 cents to $2, aggregating about $15, have been stolen from eight young women who recently have patronized the studio of Frederick B. Johnson, photographer, according to complaints made to police yesterday. The studio is situated at 228 East Superior street.

After an investigation, and a test case in which five marked $1 bills were given Miss Esther Holstensen by Chief of Police C. H. Troyer, Mr. Johnson was arrested and charged with petty larceny.

Kleptomaniacs have been advanced by police as the possible explanation of the thefts, as Mr. Johnson is of a well-known Duluth family and son of a former collector of customs for this port. The money has been stolen at various times during the last three weeks.

The eight young women who made the complaint are members of a musical organization and were having photographs made for a musical directory. They missed small sums after a trip to the photographer, but thought nothing of it until they compared notes and discovered that each one had lost money while at the studio.

Lieut. N. U. G. Terry accompanied Miss Holstensen to the studio yesterday and stood at the entrance while she was sitting for her photograph. When she left the room she reported that two of the five $1 bills given her were missing. The officer returned and searched the premises, as well as the photographer, but failed to locate the money.

Miss Holstensen stated that while she was before the camera Johnson went to the women's dressing room and returned with her purse, which he handed to her, saying:

"You'd better keep this with you. There has been some money lost around here recently and I want to take every precaution."

When taken before Judge F. H. Cutting yesterday, Johnson branded the charge as ridiculous and refused to discuss the affair.

To The Herald he stated that the arrest dummied him. The detective, he said, found but 20 cents in his pocket and he stated that if any money was missing it must have been taken by a chance visitor to the studio, as the pocketbook was left carelessly exposed. The hearing was set for May 1.

MARINE NOBLE'S LOSS ANNIVERSARY

Heaviest Storm of 1914 Occurred One Year Ago.

Twenty Lives the Toll—Heavy Damage in This Harbor.

One year ago today the steamer Ben-jamin J. Noble disappeared with all hands near Duluth in the heaviest storm that occurred on Lake Superior during last year. While stormy weather was quite general on the Great Lakes that day, Lake Superior, and especially this end of it, got the worst of the gale. A wind of fifty miles an hour prevailed for a considerable period, and the storm lasted from about midnight Monday until late on Wednesday, old Lake Superior doing her best to raise a sea of magnificent but ominous proportions.

The most serious result of the storm was the loss of the Noble. Twenty lives were snuffed out when she sank. It is believed that she went down like a plummet, simply took a plunge to the bottom. She was loaded with steel rails, for the handling of which she was especially built, being of steel construction and sturdy. Since the wreck, the Capital Transportation company of Detroit, Mich., the vessel's owner, has been sued by relatives of the men lost on her.

Wreck Location Mystery.
Just where the Noble went down is still a mooted question. It is believed that she sank off Knife Island, this side of Two Harbors. A view of the fact that her steel rail cargo should have been a steady one to the sea, that was running, some believe that her hatches were torn off by the waves, and others believe that she struck bottom and slid off into deep water. Lifeboats, portions of hatch covers and other wreckage were found on Minnesota Point on the following day.

Officers on the steamer Morrill say that they saw the Noble off Knife Island during the storm, and that while they were watching her, her lights disappeared.

Damage to Harbor.
During the storm, much damage was done in the harbor. The 600-foot steel loading bridge for the Cleveland company was blown down and the structure at the time, was so badly damaged by this collapse that she had to go into drydock for extensive repairs. All the crew, anticipating trouble, had left the vessel five minutes before the crash, which probably avoided loss of life.

The next big storm of the season was on May 26. It centered about the Head of the Lakes and the Northwestern coal dock No. 1 was blown down and fell on the steamer. The wind blew sixty miles an hour, and among other capers, it rooted the steel roof of the Northwestern elevators and carried pieces of steel from the roof more than a block, causing them to pierce the roof of the Lehigh Valley shed. It also blew down the roof of the Great Northern flour sheds on the other side of the bay, and injured several men.

STRAW HATS AND LOW SHOES MAY BE WORN ON MAY 1

Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye!
Mayor Prince has issued a proclamation sanctioning straw hats and low shoes after May 1—a month earlier than usual.

"Our weather is exactly one month ahead of time," declared the mayor this morning, "and I feel absolutely justified in proclaiming that straw hats and low shoes can be worn after May 1 without fear of bodily attack or arrest."

It has been the custom in the past to proclaim straw-hat day as June 1, but the extremely warm weather during this entire month makes it safe for mere man to follow in the footsteps of his mate, who has been wearing low shoes and summer hats these last four weeks.

"So bring ye out your last year's hats and shoes and be merry. May 1 is herewith proclaimed straw-hat day."

Know ye then by these presents that straw and oxfords are permissible next Saturday, when Duluthians will see the real spring parade of tropical gear. Men, who have been freighted down for months with the heavy habiliments of winter, may now go forth jauntily along the boulevards, bobbing their straw hats and flaunting their ankles to the warm winds of the season. Of course, with the coming of low shoes, giddy socks will again blossom forth.

HOUSTON TO VISIT NATIONAL FORESTS.

Washington, April 28.—Secretary Houston started west today to visit national forests to observe to what extent their timber, forage, grazing and water power resources are being developed for the public under present methods and to make a study of the administrative problems of the forest service. In order to have time to reach places off the beaten tracks of travel, where the actual problems of forest administration are being worked out, he will for the most part avoid stops at important cities.

EXTREME CRUELTY IS THE CHARGE

Mrs. Amelia Nordton Asks Divorce From Husband—Unusual Allegations.

Charges which, if proven true, stigmatize Perry Nordton as a heartless and unnatural father, form the basis for a suit for divorce just filed in district court by Mrs. Amelia Nordton, age 35 years. Her husband, the complaint alleges, is three years her senior. During the married life of the pair, seven children have been born to them, five of whom are still living. Mrs. Nordton alleges that her husband has been, for years, brutal and cruel to her and that on several occasions he struck her. She claims that he frequented saloons and was often drunk. On one occasion, while they were living in West Duluth, in 1904, the complaint alleges, Nordton, in a rage, tore their marriage certificate from the wall, ripped it into shreds and then declared that they were no longer man and wife. One of the worst parts of the complaint is that the defendant is alleged to have been cruel to the children who died while she and the father, it is alleged, appeared to be pleased, and expressed to his wife gratification over the death of the child. Mrs. Nordton alleges that when she was sick in September last year, her husband told her that if she died he would bury her in a pile of offal. That was the finish; she left him as soon as she got well enough.

Wants Money Back.

Gustav Platen, Duluth musician, is a defendant in an action started today in district court by Perry J. Simpson of Virginia, who purchased a violin from Mr. Platen in December, 1912, for $150 and who is now dissatisfied with the deal. Simpson alleges that he traded in a violin worth $65 and paid $85 cash with the understanding that if the instrument did not prove satisfactory he could have his money back. The violin, he now claims, was not satisfactory and he is suing to have the transaction set aside and his money paid back. Simpson also declares that when the deal was consummated he was a minor and that he did not reach his majority until July 2, 1914.

CONCRETE IS SELECTED

One-Course Pavement Will Be Laid on Woodland Avenue.

Low Bidders on Sixth Street Contract Are Announced.

Woodland avenue, from Fourth street to Kent road, will be paved with one-course concrete and a trap rock surface, the contract to be awarded to A. N. Nelson on his low bid of $17,789.20.

Commissioner Farrell, head of the public works division, announced this morning that he will introduce a resolution at the council meeting next Monday awarding the contract to Mr. Nelson. Active work will start the latter part of next week.

In addition, Mr. Farrell announced the low bidder for the Sixth street pavement, from Twenty-first to Twenty-fifth avenues, but is not yet ready to select the material. He intimated, however, that it will be class B macadam, the low bid on which was made by J. W. Preston. The latter's proposal is $12,166.85.

The bidders and the various materials for the West Sixth street pavement follow: Class B macadam—Rogers & McLean, $15,537.00; Olson & Johnson, $15,537.00; J. W. Preston, $12,166.85. MANY PROVISIONS IN JITNEY MEASURE

May Stop Persons Sitting in the Laps of Other Sex.

Duluth's jitney ordinance may include, in addition to the tentative draft reported in The Herald last evening, provisions prohibiting persons from sitting in the laps of the other sex, badges for drivers, left rear door fastened so that passengers can leave or enter only on the right side, the stopping within a certain distance from corners and no driving in public parks.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, said this morning that the ordinance is being re-drafted and that it will include a number of new provisions. He said that he would have it ready for the council meeting next Monday evening.

It is planned to prohibit routes in public parks and to require that passengers be compelled to take on or discharge passengers at the entrances. Special provisions, however, may be made regarding the boulevard drive.

Drivers will be compelled to have a light in the rear, whenever the top is down, and special lights in the front showing the exact route to be taken by the automobile.

Solicitation of passengers will also be prohibited by the ordinance.

WILL APPEAL FROM DISTRICT COURT VERDICT

Fred E. Granow, assistant fire chief, and his chauffeur, Gerald A. Black, against whom a verdict for $700 was returned in district court in favor of Leander Hubert, whose 6-year-old daughter was run down and killed by a car in which the two men were riding, will appeal to the supreme court from an order of Judge Englen denying them a new trial.

The extent of the case shows that the accident occurred on West Third street where the assistant chief was returning to his home at West Third and was hurrying to answer another call at Hermantown. The child was struck as she was crossing the street.

BIG TRAFFIC LOOKED FOR

Railroads Expect Decided Increase in Movement of Freight.

While the volume of traffic has not actually increased to any extent as yet, gratification is expressed by Duluth railroad officials over the general prospects for the season.

Traffic men are preparing for the distribution of merchandise due to arrive here early next week with the incoming of the first package freight steamers from the lower lakes ports.

The unloading of a large tonnage of heavy staples is looked for, and with the season thus regularly opened, general labor and traffic conditions are expected to show steady improvement.

"Our people are feeling very hopeful over the season's prospects," said John L. Thomas, general agent of the Northern Pacific, today. "Reports regarding seeding and soil conditions over our territory are perfect. The acreage under crop will undoubtedly be largely increased, and with every likelihood of good prices next fall, farmers are very hopeful. There has been a good influx of settlers into the Northwest so far this spring, and the impetus of that will be felt later."

Many Settlers Coming. A Soo line official advised that settlers had been routed in fair numbers through this gateway to districts opened by the extension of the line to points on its new line in Montana. The movement in mixed car freights from the Head of the Lakes is good, and shipments of building materials to the district towns are increasing. Ore traffic from the Cuyuna range to the docks at Superior has been limited, but good activity is expected in it within the next few weeks in view of arrangements having been made by some of the mining companies to initiate work for the season. The iron and steel industry here is expected to complete an extension last year is considered likely to be a good producer from now on.

A local official of the Omaha who had just returned from a trip over his road, said that the leading business interests at the points he dropped off at appeared to be long on confidence, in so far as the promise for the summer and fall months is concerned. The demand for labor he found to be growing better, so that the unemployment problem is gradually righting itself.

Car Shortage Probable. "Roads in all sections of the country will have to give serious consideration to the equipment problem," he remarked. "Even if traffic should be only normal next fall, I venture to say that a serious car shortage will develop. The trouble is that with the uncertainty regarding freight rates, freethroats as a whole did not keep their rolling stock up during the last three years, and some of the systems are now seriously short of cars."

ALL REPORTS ENCOURAGING

Steel Operations Expanding With Prices Going Upward.

All the news from the iron and steel plant centers this week is encouraging. It is conceded that operations are on a more extended scale, and that with recent advances in quotations in numbers of lines, the various companies are now earning fair profits.

Practically every steel mill in the Mahoning valley is said to be running at 90 per cent of maximum capacity. It is predicted that thousands more men will soon be employed in finishing departments, and that hundreds of additional laborers will be required when the ore movement starts on the Great Lakes about May 15.

Cleaning Up Ore Docks. The steel companies are now making efforts to clear up the Lake Erie docks in preparation for the reception of fresh supplies from the Lake Superior districts. The Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, for example, is engaged in moving from 900 to 1,000 cars of ore from Conneaut harbor on Lake Erie to the Pittsburgh district.

The Jones & Laughlin company is reported to be operating thirty-three mills at Woodlawn, Pa. The steel plant is operating at about 75 per cent of capacity, and it is expected that within a short time all departments will be running at full capacity.

Operations are brisk at the American Bridge company's plant at Ambridge, Pa., the company having several large orders on hand for material to be used in building additional locks along the Panama canal. The Standard Gauge Steel company of Beaver Falls is said to have sufficient orders on its books to operate day and night for some time, and the Keystone Driller company, one of the largest concerns in the Beaver valley, is running at full capacity.

"FRONT" WILL BE ABSENT. No Bellboys Will Answer Summons on May 7.

On May 7 the bellboys of Duluth are going to give a ball.

On the evening in question it is feared that the guests of the various hotels that employ bellboys will have a tale of hand and assist in carrying the ice water and anything else that goes up stairs. In bellhop circles the dance has been the one subject of conversation for the last two weeks. If some of the boys are to be believed, the ball is going to be "some ball."

"Take it from me," said one of the hops of the St. Louis, "We are going to have some quave there."

There is a rumor afloat that one ambitious bellboy has rented a dress suit for the occasion. However, this is merely rumor.

NEWS OF THE NORTH WEST

YOUNG WHEAT IN SPROUTING

Minnesota Red River Valley Grain Gets Remarkably Early Start.

Never Such Large Acreage Was Sown This Early in the Season.

Crookston, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Reports of crop conditions in the ten counties in the Minnesota Red River valley were never more favorable this early in the year than now. While it is possible that as large an acreage had been sown before the first of May, without question there never was a time in the history of the state when such a large acreage had been sown before the first of May under such favorable conditions. There have been several local rains and one general rain which has practically covered the entire valley, and as a result the grain sown is peeping above the soil. There is one significant feature in connection with present conditions throughout the ten counties, as reached by your correspondent, which is the splendid preparation of the ground before wheat was sown. Wheat seeding is practically finished in the valley and under the best circumstances and conditions that wheat was ever put in the ground.

Other Grains Sown.
In addition, a large acreage of oats have been sown and preparations have been made for a larger acreage than usual of barley, corn, potatoes, etc., alfalfa and clover. The explanation necessary is that there has been so many new comers who have settled on new land, who have started breaking the virgin soil with the exception of a favorable crop the first year of their residence. The increased acreage in other crops is explained by the fact that whereas in recent years a great many farmers have summer fallowed a certain portion of their land, during the past few years they have recognized the fallacy of this procedure and are now planting an increased acreage of corn, potatoes, alfalfa and clover instead of summer fallowing.

Many New Settlers.
Figures are not yet available in connection with the number of new settlers in this section, but without question there are at least an increase this year of 25 per cent throughout the entire territory. Before the corn harvest has arrived it is very probable that the ratio increased will be very close to 50 per cent.

The exact nature of general business conditions throughout this section of the present favorable rains, etc., are already being felt and a certain portion of the stock is in pasture. Plenty of moisture. No farm help needed at present.

MINNESOTA CROP OUTLOOK IS FINE

Reports From Eight Counties Show Favorable Spring Conditions.
St. Paul, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Reports from eight counties in Minnesota, just received by Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration, are very favorable, as follows:
Pipestone—Seeding began about April 15 and is about three-fourths done. Grass is looking fine. Some of the stock is out in pasture. Plenty of moisture. No farm help needed at present.

CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK CHILDREN NEED "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

A Coated Tongue Means Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Listen Mother!

Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if your child is not suffering from a coated tongue, a feverish, red, cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't sleep or eat naturally, has sour stomach, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills. Give a teapresent. Lots of new farmers coming in here this year.

Swift—Wheat is up and doing fine. Oats seedling about 50 per cent done. Ground in good condition, with plenty of moisture. Grass has a good start. Spring is late, but on account of good weather, things look as though they would be on time. No farm help needed just now. A large number of new farmers coming in.

MEKER—Seeding began about April 10 and is all done. Ground is in good condition for seeding, but the heavy rain on the 23rd made low places a little wet. Wheat in most places is up from two to three inches. General conditions good. About twenty-two to thirty families moved in here recently.
Todd—Seeding began here about April 5 and is all done. Ground is in good condition. Had a fine rain on April 10 and 11. Some new families coming in here.

ALLEGED HORSE THEIF CAPTURED

Grand, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A horse stolen in Grand county was located near here and Jack Lumtre, a transient laborer, is under arrest. He was employed on the Plattke farm near here arriving there some weeks ago with the horse, which he later traded to A. P. Otto for a riding pony. A description of the stolen animal fell into the hands of Sheriff Haugen, who began a new investigation which led to the arrest of Lumtre.

NOTES NOT COLLECTABLE.

North Dakota Judicial Ruling Hits Innocent Purchasers.

Schafer, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Innocent purchasers of fraudulent station notes cannot collect in this state, according to a decision by Judge Risk of this district. There is a special law regarding notes of this character which require that they be stamped showing the purpose for which they were made. An out-of-state firm sold an animal to a number of farmers in this district, and then disposed of the notes to a Kansas City firm. The notes were not properly stamped and the court held them void, as they had been fraudulently obtained. The horse not being as represented. An attempt has been made to have the notes voided by the state to make fraudulent notes of all kinds uncollectable. The court held that innocent purchasers of otherwise, but it has not succeeded.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experiences of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understanding how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes one childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SPORT GOSSIP DONE OVER IN THE TABLOID DRAMA FORM

BY BRUCE.
It is said that a St. Louis legal firm wants to buy the St. Louis Feds. Maybe they want to use them as incriminating evidence.

Again, What Is a Name?
Asheville, N. C., has a baseball player named Bomb. Some day the manager of the team will get mad and forget to call him by his first name.

How Will He Prove It?
Fred Toucy is pitching for Cincinnati this season, trying to prove that he is a real big leaguer. But how will he ever prove it with Cincinnati?

There Is Nothing to It.
The Methodists are going to endeavor to raise $100,000. It is foolish to talk of hard times.

An Example of Exaggeration.
Upon learning that Johnny Evers is out of the game with injuries, the umpires of the National League sent him a beautiful floral horseshoe, expressing the hope that the Trojan would be back in the game shortly.

A Fellow Feeling.
Duluth automobile drivers learning the new traffic rules will have some sympathy with the layman attempting to take an intelligent interest in football.

Wouldn't Be Surprised.
It is believed that Marty O'Toole is responsible for legislation against wild cat investments.

He Should Become Converted.
Hobby Wallace has played baseball in St. Louis for nearly eighteen years. Maybe Wallace believes that we receive our reward in a future life.

Maybe It Is Really So.
Ban Johnson has been quiet for several days, which has led some of the followers of baseball to believe that he is actually working.

Will Tie Up a Lot of Money.
If peace is declared between organized baseball and the Federal league, the circulation of money will be seriously retarded.

Maybe That Is Why.
John Burnister declares that the judge who granted the injunction against the Northern league does not understand baseball. Maybe that is why he granted it.

It Is Hard on the Boys.
Every time the Athletics lose a game it is said Chief Bender, Eddie Plank and John Wesley Coombs have paroxysms of regret and shed several vials of tears.

The Pitchers Are With Him.
It is said the pitchers of the American league are expressing sympathy with Connie Mack in his effort to keep J. Franklin Baker out of baseball.

The Hidden Hand of Yale.
Harvard students are considerably incensed because the legislature has passed a law forbidding the carrying of red banners in a public demonstration. It is believed that Yale men had something to do with it.

Times Are Picking Up.
A bunch of English professional golf players is coming to the United States this summer. That is a sure indication that money is going to loosen up over here.

A Boost for Boxing.
The fact that Dr. Roller was knocked out makes it look like boxing is conducted on the level.

The Habit Is Immutable.
The English have decided to keep up cricket despite the war. Tea drinking seems thoroughly established in England.

This Shows True Loyalty.
The very fact that Darby O'Brien went down to Cleveland to see some baseball games shows how true he is to his home team.

Reds Shut Out.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 28.—Cincinnati could not hit a ball and as a result, Chicago shut out the locals 6 to 0 yesterday. Ames, who started for Cincinnati, was hit hard and often and retired in the eighth inning to allow Evers to hit for him. Williams started at the bat.

Score: R. H. E.
Chicago 010000130-6 13 1
Cincinnati 000000000-0 0 0
Batteries—Lynch and Evers; Schaner; Ames, Dale and Wingo.

Phillies 5; Brooklyn 2.
Philadelphia, April 28.—Both teams hit hard in yesterday's game, but twice Brooklyn's rallies were stopped by double plays started by Bancroft and Philadelphia won 5 to 2. Cravath's home run, Chalmers' double and Whitely's single drove in the home team's runs.

Score: R. H. E.
Brooklyn 00200 000-2 12 3
Philadelphia 010200208-5 11 3
Batteries—Lynch, Appleton and Miller; Chalmers and Miller.

Cardinals 3; Pirates 0.
St. Louis, Mo., April 28.—Long's single to center scored Griner and Huggett in the third inning of yesterday's game, and another in the eighth inning gave St. Louis the victory over Pittsburgh 3 to 0.

Batteries—Mannix, McQuillen, Killy and Gibson; Chang, Griner and Snyder.

Champs 12; Ex-Champs 5.
New York, April 28.—The Boston Nationals made their first appearance in Manhattan since winning their world's championship last fall and easily defeated New York 12 to 5. The visitors hit both Fritts and Ritter hard. Schupp, McGraw's third pitcher, was finally able to stop the Boston batting. Rudolph was very effective early in the game, but eased up with an ill-run lead. Schmidt and J. Smith each hit a home run, double and single.

Score: R. H. E.
Boston 023030400-12 16 2

Tigers Win Close Game.

Detroit, Mich., April 28.—Eight snappy double plays figured in yesterday's game which Detroit won from St. Louis 3 to 2. The game was won in the sixth when the Tigers scored two runs on a pass to Fuller, Cobb's triple, and Crawford's single. Three Detroiters struck out, but every play required at least one assist and one play called for three. Cobb was struck on the left

THE NEW YORK HIGHLANDERS ARE GOING SOME

To date the showing of the New York Americans has been the talk of the American league. Wild Bill Donovan sure has his athletics going at top speed. The question as to whether the Kilites can last, is also important. The lineup of the men is as follows:
Top row—left to right—Truesdale, Peckinpaugh, Brown, Pich, Caldwell, Sweeney, Keating, Cook.
Second row—from top—Duggan (trainer), Cree, Fisher, Schwartz, Pipp, Cole, Kelly, Lewis, McHale.
Third row—Daley, Warhop, Maisel, Hartzell, Farrell (coach), Donovan (manager), Kelly (scout), Aragon, King, Pickering, High.
Bottom row—Nunamaker, Mullin, Tamm, Boone, Baumann.

forearm by a pitched ball in the fourth inning, but escaped serious injury. The lineup of the men is as follows:

Bottom row—Nunamaker, Mullin, Tamm, Boone, Baumann.

Yankees 2; Red Sox 0.
Boston, Mass., April 28.—Ray Keating held the Red Sox to two hits yesterday and notwithstanding six bases on balls which he gave, New York won a shut-out victory with two runs.

Chicago's Sixth Straight.
Chicago, April 28.—The Chicago American league club won its sixth straight game yesterday, defeating Cleveland 7 to 4. In the eighth, with the White Sox two behind, Eddie Collins and Fournier tripled, Fournier scoring on a long fly. Two more singles, a base on balls, an error and a wild pitch clinched the game for the locals.

Renneo and Cardinal Given the Gate—Rain Halts Practice.

The routine of the day, Renneo, with Proctor last year, and Cardinal, were the main features of the day. Renneo, with Proctor last year, and Cardinal, were the main features of the day. Renneo, with Proctor last year, and Cardinal, were the main features of the day.

There is a lad here at the present time negotiating with O'Brien, each endeavoring to look at a certain number of dollars in the same way.

There is a rumor that one of the present candidates for the outfield may be given the sack before long. Catcher Blannell is expected to play part of the time in the garden and it was announced today by Herr Blume that but eleven men would be carried along with the addition of the Dook.

Darby Likes Pitchers.
Cadeau, Jones and Posten look good to the Dook. The former is an Indian and is said to look nice, working an overhead delivery in effective manner. Jones and Posten are the best looking of the recruits. Murray, another pitcher, was let go by Green Bay last season, but he may show some real goods under the alert and watchful instruction of Darby O'Brien, the speedy second baseman.

Backs Bryant was working out in Chicago before leaving for Duluth and has the same kind of affliction that smote Handsome Clarence Grina at the tail end of last season. The hurling arm of the former hurler of the '14 league is reported to be in bad shape and the Dook is somewhat worried as to whether his royal nibs will be able to start the season.

With the release of several of the pitching candidates and possibly an outfield candidate, the squad will be cut down to the size made necessary by the reduced salary limit.

The Training Table at the Boat Club Will Start on Monday—Jim Ten Eyck Delivers a Talk on Foods—The New Coaching Launch Expected to Arrive About May 1.

BY BRUCE.

Aspiring members of Jimmy Ten Eyck's band of oarsmen will climb onto the pure food act today morning. At that time the training table will open for an early breakfast. Three cheers for rare roast beef.

No more fudge and a strict censorship on ice cream sodas. Gee girls—pardon boys, it is just terrible to be an athlete!

Also on Sunday the members of the Ten Eyck rowing band will start banking on the downy cots provided by the boat club. Some of the downy cots will be in the large room of the clubhouse, while others of said downy cots will be set up in houses seized by the club war department for that purpose.

Have you entered training? It is a grim and forbidding proposition. Mocha and Java are cut out in most instances—and as for those liquids that have called down the wrath of temperance persons, a man might as well cut off his right arm. Cigars and the pernicious cigarettes are banished from even contemplation. Cake, pie, salads and other condiments that sailed in the league that Tom Moore called into being when he said "As we journey through life let us live as the gods."

Mr. James Ten Eyck gave a talk on the scientific side of eating to the boys last evening. Jimmy is a scientific trainer as well as a scientific coach. He prescribes food for the stomach as well as for the back, arms and wrist motion. A soggy pudding, James believes, will cut eight seconds off the mile and a half trial. In the little pure food talk James dwelt eloquently on the evils that are contained in soggy puddings, rich salads and too superlative evils following in the wake of cigars. Boys! Please, never!

First, there is the Northwestern International Rowing association, the regatta of this association will be competed on the Duluth course this year. Then there is the National at Springfield, Mass., and the hoped for world's championship events that will be competed on the Pacific coast.

If Jim Ten Eyck's boys take in all of these events there will be a busy season ahead of the members of the rowing squad. Right at the present time the boys hope and expect to compete in three big state events.

The Launch Due Soon.
The new coaching launch is expected here on or shortly after the first of May. This new craft is built on the order of a gunhouse detective. It is designed to knock right up to the wale of a shell without causing any splash or commotion. In the new boat James can come right up alongside of the toiling athlete, and fixing his stern and indomitable eye on some offending member of the boat, open up: Keep your hands down in your lap, George. Don't let me tell you that again. Keep your eyes in the boat, Steve. You know this is not a pleasure excursion. Come down some afternoon and look at the scenery. I know it is nice, but you know we have to row now. Is your back weak, Eddie, or have you curvature of the spine? You look like part of the figure eight, Eddie. Brace up, old man, and put some zip into your heave. Angus, for the love of Mike, shoot your hands. Keep your blade off the water. You are throwing a wash into the eyes of the man behind you. Shoot it away fast; snap it out—now, that's better. Let 'er run!

The new launch will enable James Ten Eyck to keep in intimate touch with the boys. He can order Bill Neville to run right up alongside of the shell and then shoot some sharp advice.

Things are progressing nicely. Some of the seniors may have to be yanked out of the singles and sent plodding back to the sweeps, but the crews are going to be some crews, if present indications are a criterion to judge from.

Cambridge, Mass., April 28.—Harvard obtained only one hit off Moore, the Bates pitcher, yesterday, and Bates won 3 to 2.

WOULD TAX ALL SPORTS

Illinois Boxing Bill Includes Revenue From All Athletics.

Chicago, April 28.—The suggestion of Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara to tax all professional sports in the state and give an athletic commission supervision, meets with approval from those mainly affected.

Most of those interested in professional sports would like to know what is back of it all and whether the inclusion of baseball, athletics and kindred events in the bill was not done in order to help out the boxing promoters.

Old Roman Demure.

President Conkley of the White Sox asserted today that he could stand an additional tax as well as anybody, perhaps, but at the same time he raised the query whether or not the taxes, license and other things taken from sportsmen, would be a fair share, but if they insist on keeping more I suppose I have to stand for it. It looks to me as if the whole thing hinged on the boxing bill, and that they are trying to solve that through the legislature by including a lot of other sports.

"I don't know what to think of it," said President Weechman of the Chicago Federals. "I am willing to go as far as any other fellow, but I will contribute my share."

Hurdles to Overcome.

"It might be a good thing," said President Gilmore of the Federal League, "if such a bill could be made equitable. However, there would be many hurdles to overcome, and I question the supervision of baseball, for instance. Boxing may need it, but I don't think baseball does."

MOTOR CYCLISTS TO HOLD A RACE

Road Contest Over Boulevard Planned for Decoration Day.

At a meeting of the members of the Twin Ports Motorcycle club, held last evening, plans were made for the holding of a 50-mile contest, which it is planned to hold on the Boulevard on Decoration day.

The first run of the club members will be held Sunday. The run will be made to Pike lake and return and all of the members of the club are requested to take part.

There will be another meeting of the club on May 11, when a committee will be appointed to take charge of the road race.

Transfer Sanctioned.

Auburn, N. Y., April 28.—The following decision was handed down by the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues yesterday, relating to minor league baseball. The players of the Martinsville Monarchs club in the Wisconsin-Illinois league, conference were transferred to the St. Boniface club in the Northern League.

How to Hold the Head, Hands and Feet

WHERE in the world will you see more vigorous, graceful, well set up bodies than those of the cadets at the United States Military academy, West Point. Certain points of carriage are thoroughly impressed on the raw young "pinks" during his first months in camp, and he learns finally to carry himself like an officer and a gentleman—and you can pick the West Pointer out of a crowd.

"Draw in your chin, sir," you will hear the upper classman growl at the point pike. And the pike fairly humps himself. He assumes an exaggerated posture indeed, with palms forward, shoulders back, chest up and chin in. It is hard work for him at first, but in time the muscles respond to the demand and he learns to carry himself like a man. Chin in, that's the principal thing. So many individuals try to stick the chin up in the air, and in so doing throw the whole body out of poise. The imitation soldier in the movies makes his chin so prominent that it overshadows the rest of the action.

Posture Affects Health.
The position in which one habitually carries the body has a great deal to do with health—a lot more than you might imagine. Many backaches are due to bad carriage alone. Many headaches come from a high chin. And lack of knowledge about the proper way to hold the feet causes a lot of unnecessary suffering from weak feet and flat feet.

How should the feet be held? Pointing straight ahead on a wet title pike, you-toed, to be frank about it. The strong, unshod foot turns in a little in walking. If your shoes are built with the obvious intention of forcing you to turn the toes outward when you walk, give them to the rag man and get yourself a pair of shoes built to help you walk straight ahead—shoes with a straight inside sole line and no outward veering of the forward part of the last.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe or make diagnosis or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

OUTDOOR WORK FOR ATHLETES

Track Men Show Up Well in First Workout of Season.

Central May Send Squad to Participate in State Meet.

A squad of Central high school athletes had their first taste of real outdoor work yesterday, when Coach Glyer put them through a brisk workout. Following the close of school, the track enthusiasts met and discussed the plans for an active season. It was decided to begin work immediately, and as a result several men put on suits and listened to some good advice from the coach. Some of the men trained indoors yesterday because of the poor weather, but nearly all of the men who will figure in the dashes were out "looming up" stiff joints. Capt. Hrutford has practically recovered from the injury to his knee some time ago, and he will assist Coach Glyer in drilling the squad. Hrutford was out yesterday and looked good, despite his knee.

It was decided yesterday that "D" track men would not be allowed to participate in the event in which they won their emblem in the interclass meet. They could, however, enter in any other event. The juniors appeared to have much the advantage in the class affair, as the seniors' track stars are from the third-year class. Capt. Hrutford is a junior. The junior indoor team easily won the interclass indoor meet held some time ago. The outdoor interclass meet will be held May 14. On the following Friday, May 21, the first interscholastic meet will be held, when the Central representatives meet the Denfeld club stars. On Saturday, June 5, the Central high school track teams of Duluth and Superior will clash in their annual meet. The Superior club men have been training for some time, and are expecting to come out winners in the affair this year. Last season the Duluth team won with ease.

May Funder at Meet.
It is practically a certainty that a squad of Central track men will be sent down to the state meet at Minneapolis this year. This will be held on May 29. The students' track meet, from all over the state will be at this meet. It is expected, however, that several Central men would be placed in the affair if they did not get first. Skull Hrutford, the local leader, would undoubtedly make some trouble for other stars in the dashes, hurdles, swimming and other events. Several other Central men who could work with him for places. Bob Faine's mark of 5 feet 2 inches in the high jump would cause a stir in this event. Faine could also be in the hurdles. Lewis, a sophomore and an all-around man, may be sent, and could be used in several events. To complete the squad, which would probably be composed of about six men, there are a great many exceptionally good students who would come in for consideration.

The members of the Central team have been doing considerable practice since the last game, and improvement in the play is expected to be shown.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke is genuine pipe-joy plumb full of smoke happiness and that means flavor and fragrance and dream stuff. But the one thing that puts P. A. in solid is the famous patented process that has sent the tongue-torture kinds back to the hills. The patented process that makes P. A. so friendly is controlled exclusively by us. That's why we say there never can be another tobacco as biteless as P. A.

Prince Albert is sold at all smoke stations. The tidy red tin, 10c; the tippy red bag, 5c; also, pound and half-pound tin humidors.

Here's a hunch. We sure do recommend to our friends the 16-oz. crystal-glass humidur with this sponge in the top that keeps P. A. in fine condition. One home, one at the office, always assures some smoke!

MAJOR LEAGUE BOWLING

Big Duluths Win Pennant By Defeating Park Hotels—Firestone Wins Individual Average Contest.

Last evening the final game in the Major Bowling league was played, the Big Duluths diving into the water and Park Hotels and pulling down the league pennant.

During the last part of the season the two teams have been tied and the winner in the games of last evening topped the flag.

Firestone, who has made a strong finish to the season, ran into first place in the individual score contest, finishing the season with a mark of 232. Whitney was second, Deller third and Otterson fourth.

Some of the finest seen were estimated to weigh four pounds or more.

UNGLAUB CUTTING DOWN HIS LIST
About Dozen Set Adrift From Fargo Ball Team.

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Col. Bob Unglaub's regiment of future greats is being reduced in number. About a dozen of the thirty-two players under contract have already been let go. Some of them are being placed with independent teams and are subject to recall. Those who showed the least promise have been released outright.

Of the present squad there is considerable promising material with two places in the field, second string catcher and two places in the outfield subject to a change at any time. Smith of last year's Tri-State appears to have a cinch on the first string catcher's job. Winfield Campbell and Flick still remain with the team, but Flick is showing better than the others and seems to have the second catcher's job safe.

The team appears strongest in the box. Dunnett, who was last year's best bet, will undoubtedly be the leading hurler. Bell, the Winona star of 1913 and last year with St. Joe, will probably be the second best twirler and the only southpaw. Wahlstrom and Palt, well known in this league and recently with Minneapolis, are both going strong. Palt has a rather inflated idea of his ability and Wahlstrom some difficulty in locating the plate. Of the newcomers Ellis and Delburn are promising. Jack Brown, with the team a part of last year, is also throwing well.

Unglaub will handle first and Hooper, a Tri-State star, will be at short. The other two positions are in doubt. Schuler may be replaced at second by Fremmer because of the latter's hitting, or Fremmer may be placed in right field and used as a sub infielder, in which case Schuler will be on second. Otherwise Schuler, Dries and Stanley will contest for third.

Pedone, a little Italian from last year's Tri-State, seriously sprained his ankle in a practice game and will be out for three weeks, but if he recovers he is certain to be in center field. Fremmer will have first call on right field, unless he is played at second, in which case Barrett is likely to land that garden. For left field Jack Doyle is having a hot time with Thirwell, a recruit from Wyoming, and if Fremmer goes to right Barrett will also receive consideration. Brown is also trying for an outfield job.

Marshall Lends in Chess.
New York, April 28.—While Jose R. Capablanca had his hands full with A. Kupchik, the New York state champion, and adjourned his game after forty-five moves, Frank J. Marshall, the United States champion, forged ahead into the lead in the chess master's tournament yesterday by disposing of E. M. Tredway.

Two laws of special interest to grocers, which were passed at the recent session of the state legislature, will be explained to the members of the Duluth Retail Grocers' association at their regular meeting to be held at the Commercial club this evening. In addition plans will be made for the annual picnic and the state convention this summer.

During the session of the legislature the amendment law was revised, although no material changes were made.

In the past all grocers were compelled to pay from 50 cents to $1.50 for the inspection of their weights and measures by the state department, but from now on this expense will be borne by the state, a special appropriation having been made by the legislature for the inspections of weights and measures during the next two years. The meeting this evening will start at 8 o'clock.

TWO HARBORS AUTO CLUB HAS BANQUET

First Formal Affair Held By New Organization of Auto Owners.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Two Harbors Automobile club members, which was recently organized, held its first banquet last evening at the Commercial hotel, which was a grand success and proved that a great interest is being taken in the organization and that it has come to this city to stay.

The banquet commenced at 8 p. m. and was followed by a series of talks by various members. John Dwan who was the chief speaker discussed the wonderful and rapid progress automobile manufacturers have made in late years toward the perfecting of motor driven vehicles, stating the construction of the first one and sketching the progress up to the present day of the automobile. He also spoke of the wonderful influence the automobiles have for good roads, and of the manner in which the roads in Lake county have been improved since automobiles have come to this city.

About thirty-five automobile owners attended the banquet last evening. The total number of charter members of the club was raised to thirty-nine last night, the treasurer being kept busy the greater part of the evening accepting dues for the coming year.

Getting Ready for Meeting of Federated Clubs May 25 and 26.

Chisholm, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The federated clubs of the Eighth congressional district will meet here in annual convention on May 25 and 26.

The members of the Women's club are already making plans for the entertainment of the guests during the convention days. Miss Nellie Z. Peterson is president of the local club.

SENIORS RANK HIGH

Eveleth Class Again Does Well During Month.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senior class of the high school has again received the highest monthly average. The average was somewhat lower this month than the month before. The number of failures in the high school was large owing to the poor grades of lower classes. Scholastic records of the freshman class had the highest individual average.

The seniors have established a good record since they entered high school. Out of the thirty-eight months they have held the highest monthly class average.

The class averages for the month were as follows: Juniors, 88.4; seniors, 87.4; sophomores, 85.4; freshmen, 85.5.

The number of failures for each class were: Freshmen, 40; sophomores, 12; juniors, 3; seniors, 1.

The highest individual averages for each class were: Freshmen, Scholastic, 95.2; sophomores, Arthur Lamp, 93.4; juniors, Sigurd Nien, 94.7; seniors, Monica Kents, 93.4-5.

CLAIM CHAUFFEUR CAUSED ACCIDENT

Action Being Tried in Virginia Involving Man at Wheel.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eddy livery in this city is defendant in a suit to recover $5,000 that is being tried in district court here today before Judge Hughes and a jury. The plaintiff is Stella A. Thomas, administratrix of the estate of Louis Paddon, the deceased husband of her sister, who was killed the result of a collision between an Eddy auto bus and a Duluth Winthrop & Pacific logging train at a crossing on the Mountain road, near Olcott park in this city.

Hibbing Experiencing Difficulty in Getting Location.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—City officials are encountering difficulty in getting a lease or a permit for the use of an incinerator site. The city has been negotiating with the owners of a suitable location, but as yet has not been able to perfect a deal.

HIBBING AND VIRGINIA TO PLAY ON FRIDAY

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Manager Brady of the local ball team announces that the team will meet the Virginia Northern league team here again next Friday in the first of a series of ball games of the season played here.

Jimmy Withers, pitcher, will cover first base, owing to the absence of Dave Williams, who went to Tucson, Ariz., to become chief of police.

Judge Brady has not yet decided whom he will put in the box Friday. Although Nello Tedesco said today that his arm is better, it is not believed it will be in condition this week for a hard game. Cy Reiger pitched at Virginia last Sunday and may be given a trial. William Wilson has been showing form and may be used.

VIRGINIA ELKS WILL HAVE GREAT NIGHT

FOUR ORCHESTRAS TO BE COMBINED

Virginia, Buhl, Gilbert and Eveleth Musicians in Joint Concert.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The range high school orchestra concert will be given here at the Auditorium Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Four orchestras and two soloists will take part. The orchestras are those of Virginia, Buhl, Gilbert and Eveleth, and the soloists are: Abbanat, cornetist, and Robert Schenck, trombonist, both of Aurora.

The purpose of this concert is to arouse the pupils' interest in music. It is no money-making scheme, since only small admission prices will be charged to help to pay for the expenses of the concert.

A feature of the program will be the final number, which will be played by all the visiting orchestras. Owing to the large membership of the Eveleth orchestra, it cannot take part in the concert, because of lack of stage room.

CHISHOLM BAND CONCERT.

If Weather Permits First One of Season Is Promised.

Chisholm, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the weather is favorable the Commercial band will give its first concert of the season this evening on Lake street. The band has been practicing several new and up-to-date airs and will undoubtedly rely upon having nothing but the best. The band consists of over thirty members, every one of whom is in his particular line. Erwin Kleffman is the leader this year.

EVELETH PEOPLE MUST CLEAN THEIR PROPERTY

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city health department issued a final notice to property owners and renters that their property must be cleaned up by May 10. City teams are at work cleaning up the alleys, and will haul all refuse and garbage into the city dump.

ANOTHER VIRGINIA NINE IS PLANNED

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—Virginia will have a strong independent baseball team in addition to its Northern league team. The plan is to have a team of local baseball enthusiasts materialize.

It is proposed to pick players from the Virginia & Buhl Lake, Oakland and other amateur clubs for the new team. Fred Anthony and McCulloch will both be in the lineup. Candidates for the team are already working out.

Lady Macbeth's Dance.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ladies of the Modern Macbeths will entertain at a card party and dance Thursday evening, May 13, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Ryan. The orchestra will furnish the music and there will be refreshments.

Mrs. Benjamin Ryan, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Cohen, for a month, left yesterday for Duluth to visit friends before leaving for her home in Iron.

Experienced Women Advise Mother's Friend

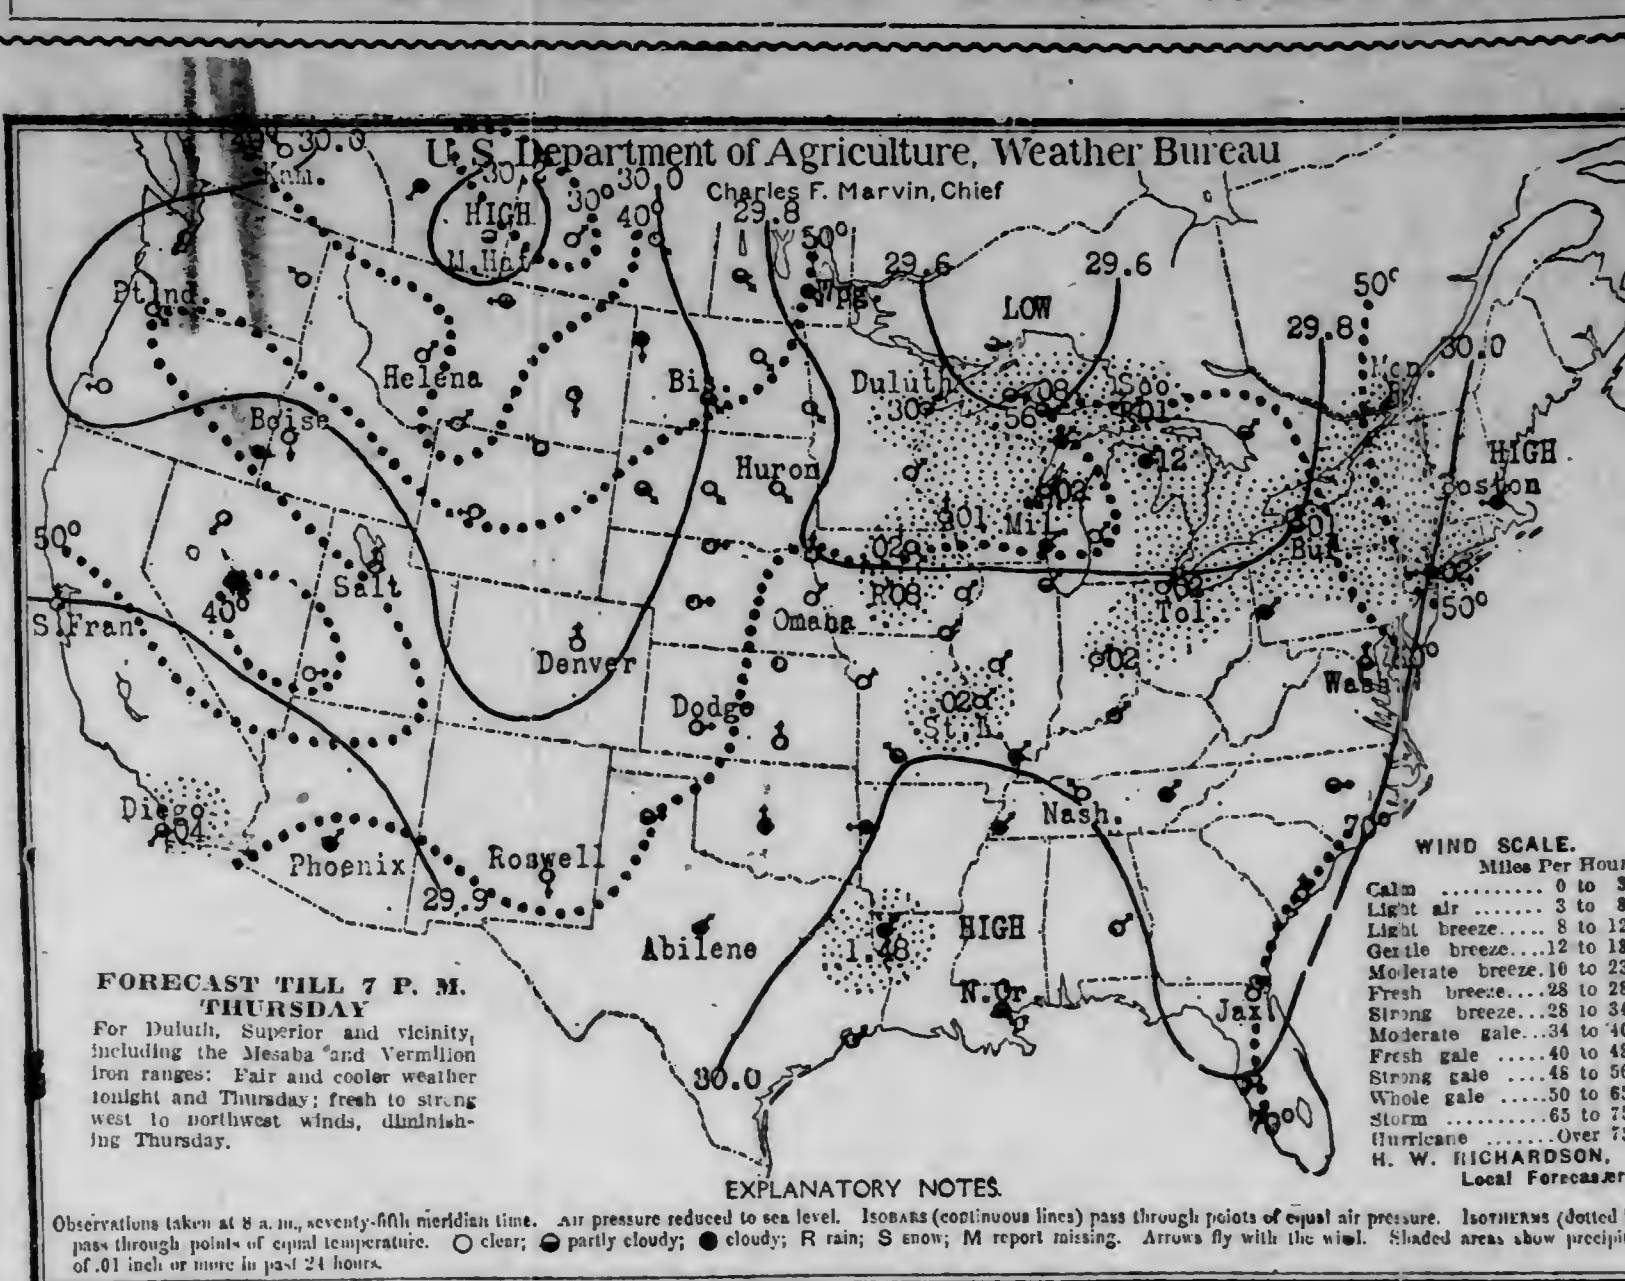

Because it is so perfectly safe to use and has been of such great help to a host of expectant mothers, experienced in this most happy period, advise the use of "Mother's Friend."

Applied externally to the abdominal muscles its purpose is to relieve the undue tension upon the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion. Beneath the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and the gentle, soothing embrocation, "Mother's Friend," is designed to lubricate the muscular fibres as to avoid the unnecessary and continuous nagging upon this period of nerves. Applied to the breast it affords the proper massage to prevent engorgement.

There is scarcely a well-stocked drug store anywhere but what you can easily obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" and in nearly every town and village is a grandma who herself used it in earlier years. Expectant mothers are urged to try this splendid assistant.

"Mother's Friend" has been prepared by Bradfield Regulator Co., 310 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga., for over half a century. Send for valuable little book to expectant mothers.

ESCAPED COUPLE TAKEN AT STAPLES

One of Pair Who Broke From St. Cloud Reformatory Fatally Shot.

Staples, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Middleton and Evans, two inmates of the St. Cloud reformatory, were rounded up here yesterday.

One was shot while trying to escape from the officers and may die. The other got a bullet in his foot and is in jail awaiting the arrival of an officer from the reformatory.

Policeman Cunniff discovered one yesterday morning eating in Barkley's restaurant and the other made his escape through the back way and the alley. Cunniff gave chase and hit him five times with his baton.

The two were traced as far as Duluth Lake pumping station, where they obtained gasoline for the injured foot. The railroad policeman found their hiding place yesterday afternoon, and succeeded in handcuffing the injured one. The other resisted even when the policeman's revolver was pressed against him, the gun going off at close range.

Let passing through his stomach. He was taken at once to the doctor, where all aid possible was given him, but he is not expected to survive.

STORM WARNINGS POSTED; FROST DUE

Forty-Mile Gale Predicted By Weather Bureau—Protect Plants.

Storm warnings were posted at 10 o'clock this morning by Weather Forecaster Richardson, who says that a 40-mile-an-hour gale is expected, and small craft, at least, had better get under cover for the wind and sea might step on their toes. The warnings are for all Lake Superior points.

At 11 o'clock this morning the wind was blowing at 30 miles an hour, with gusts of higher velocity, and this, Mr. Richardson predicts, will increase until the 40-mile variety will appear. The wind began in the west, but is expected to shift to the northwest, and cooler weather will prevail.

In this connection Mr. Richardson warns people who have plants and flowers out of doors to protect them against frost tomorrow and tomorrow night.

"With a high wind, we will have no frost tonight," he explained this morning; "but there is freezing weather in Western Alberta, and it is likely to arrive here by tomorrow night."

of which he has been a member nearly thirty years.

At a meeting a banquet was served in the Noonan hotel with plates held for eighty guests. U. A. McLaughlin was toastmaster and toasts were responded to by C. S. Christensen, Dr. J. C. Curry and Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin.

PAST TWO YEARS OF LIFE BLANK

Otherwise Man Suffering Mental Lapse Recalls Everything.

Kenosha, Wis., April 28.—Two small vertebrae in the neck of a man who had forgotten who he was, were snapped into place yesterday by a physician. Within an hour the man had recalled his past life with the exception of the last two years. The lapse resulted from an injury received in a fall.

The man was Frank Van Wie, 27 years old. He told physicians that he was married in Milwaukee May 7, 1912, by falling from the roof of a building at 1077 Twentieth street. What had happened here on June 12, 1913, he became a blank. He even had forgotten, he said, his arrival in Kenosha last Friday when he appealed to the police to discover his identity.

An X-ray here last night for Milwaukee, saying he was going to seek a girl to whom he was engaged to be married. His past life was recalled by the last two years. The lapse resulted from an injury received in a fall.

When Van Wie met his mother-in-law he kissed her and asked for Clara, then a pink life was recalled. He learned details of the events of the past two years. It developed that he was married here on June 12, 1913. He was told his wife, Clara Halse, together with her 1-year-old son, was with his mother on a farm near Medford, Wis.

"My mother is living in Chicago, so my wife could not be up on a Wisconsin farm with her. I don't believe that Clara is married to me. I must see her and the baby first."

He said that his father-in-law's home last night and his wife was sent for today.

DEATH NEAR KELLIFER DUE TO HEART FAILURE

Remidj, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coroner Akerberg was called to Kellifer to investigate the death of William Brennan, a farm laborer, who died Tuesday and pronounced death due to heart failure.

Little Girl Slightly Burned. Mankato, Minn., April 28.—Anna Andring, a 4-year-old daughter of Peter Andring, a farmer living across the river, is suffering from burns that may prove fatal. In playing with a match she set her dress on fire. Her screams brought members of the family to her rescue and the flames were smothered with coats.

TRADING IN WIDE RANGE

Wheat Closes Strong on Export Demand After Sharp Break Early.

Flaxseed Advances, With Good Inquiry From Crushers; Offerings Light.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 28.—The market was strong around the close, with good support. May wheat closed 1 1/2c up at 75c 1/2c on July 25c up and September 1 1/2c up. Oats closed 1c up at 33 1/2c for on the track; rye unchanged at 1 1/2c; barley 2c up at 67c 7/8c, and corn 2c up at 76c.

At Minneapolis July wheat closed at 1 1/2c and calls at 1 1/2c.

Trading in wheat was a nervous proposition today, the market showing a wide range during the session.

After opening weak and declining 2 1/2c, quotations took a rebound under the impetus of export buying at the seaboard and at Winnipeg, and the market was lifted to 1/2c above yesterday's close.

As a Duluth operator said today, this has been the experience all along during the present crop year. Foreigners have been buying at the market up beyond a certain point and then they have invariably come in on the break.

As is now operators are chary in making fresh commitments in old crop wheat, in view of its tight market position, and the possibility of a squeeze developing later. A substantial volume of business is, however, being put through daily in the July and September new crop futures.

It is reported that in view of the present prospects for a bumper crop, selling of the new crop futures by Southwest growers has become quite prominent.

All the news around the opening today was on the bearish order. July wheat was lower, and experts now coveting the winter wheat territory with the growing conditions up to the present have been almost ideal. Later in the season some intimations came to hand of the possibility of check bugs committing damages in a few districts.

That allied with a strong demand for oats and heavy shipments of them abroad helped to create a bullish sentiment in the market.

Clearances were heavy today, amounting to 1,024,000 bu. of wheat and flour, and 1,159,000 bu. of oats.

May wheat opened 1/2c off at 75c, declined to 1 1/2c, and then recovered to 1 1/2c. At the noon-hour the quotation was 1/2c off at 75c, and advanced 1/2c, September opened 1/2c off at 75c, and gained 1/2c. Trading in durum was light. May opened 1c off at 71c, and recovered to 71c 1/2c.

Flaxseed stronger. Flaxseed showed moderate trading during the session, the appearance of better inquiry from crushers and light offerings.

Lined oil demand is reported to be showing improvement, and the market more freely for supplies. The delay in Argentina shipments at the time of the board is said to be causing some anxiety.

May flax opened unchanged at 1 1/2c, and closed 1/2c up at 1 1/2c. July opened unchanged at 1 1/2c, and closed 1/2c up at 1 1/2c.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1/2c up at 1 1/2c, and closed 1/2c up at 1 1/2c. At Buenos Aires flaxseed closed unchanged at 1 1/2c, and at London 1 1/2c up at 1 1/2c.

George G. Barnum has returned from a two weeks' tour of the Pacific coast. He expressed himself enthusiastically regarding crop prospects in the Northwest, on the basis of trade this morning. "I stopped off at Fargo, N. D., on my way back, and grain crops there were never more brilliant for a bumper crop of spring wheat next fall than they are at present," he said.

Weather and an enormously increased acreage has been secured. Spring wheat is now practically all in the ground.

B. W. Snow says: "The lack of seasonable moisture during April, and accompanying warm weather noticeably east of the Mississippi river, is giving meadow a poor start and a dry season forecast. A short hay crop, grain crops are not apt to be permanently affected, by moderately dry weather."

weather in April if May brings sufficient moisture, but early drought permanently impairs the hay crop, and from that standpoint the dry weather this spring in the Ohio Valley and Lake region holds serious possibilities.

Minneapolis cash demand was very good. Market was steady to strong. No. 1 northern wheat added 1/2c over May, and velvet chaff at 2 1/2c over May. There were fair four sales.

Cash No. 1 northern wheat added 1/2c at from 1 1/2c to 1 1/2c, and No. 2 northern at from 1 1/2c to 1 1/2c. Stocks of wheat in Minneapolis elevators decreased 300,000 bu. in four days.

Iowa weekly crop bulletin for the week ending April 26 was as follows: "Ideal conditions continued during the week for farm operations and growth of vegetation. Considerable corn was planted in the southern part of the state. A good soaking rain is needed to insure a bountiful harvest."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Weakness in America yesterday proved to increase offers of American and Canadian crop advice served to the market. Inquiry with winter wheat lower and flat. George G. Barnum has returned from a two weeks' tour of the Pacific coast. He expressed himself enthusiastically regarding crop prospects in the Northwest, on the basis of trade this morning. "I stopped off at Fargo, N. D., on my way back, and grain crops there were never more brilliant for a bumper crop of spring wheat next fall than they are at present," he said.

Weather and an enormously increased acreage has been secured. Spring wheat is now practically all in the ground.

B. W. Snow says: "The lack of seasonable moisture during April, and accompanying warm weather noticeably east of the Mississippi river, is giving meadow a poor start and a dry season forecast. A short hay crop, grain crops are not apt to be permanently affected, by moderately dry weather."

CHAS. E. LEWIS & CO. STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN.

Joseph F. McCarthy, Manager. 201 BOARD OF TRADE, DULUTH.

Bullish conditions prevail in the grain markets. May oats and corn well supported. World's wheat situation strongest in many years.

Stocks and bonds gradually seeking a higher level.
